CROPS ARE CONSUMED VERY LARGELY AT HOME

AGGREGATE VALUE AND PURCHASING POWER OF 1920 SHOWS DECREASE

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 1—Recent estimates of the volume and value of farm products in Alabama for the year 1920, including the probable amount of surplus above farm needs when compared with those for the previous year did not make a very flattering showing, indicating as they did a loss of $148,000,000 in aggregate value, and $85,000,000 in purchasing power. When compared to years further back in our farm history, however, the story presents itself in a different light and takes on a new interest, according to some facts presented by F. W. Gist, agricultural statistician for Alabama, in reviewing the result of the years work on the farm.

Leaving cotton entirely out of the consideration, and referring only to food and feed crops, it is found that 75 per cent of the production of 1920 was for home consumption. For this purpose it makes little or no difference what the commodities are worth their consumption value is just as great as if their sale value were on an equal to that of 12 months ago. The food and feed crops produced last year constituted 74 per cent of the value of all crops, while in 1909 they constituted only 34 per cent. The surplus of these crops which will be available for purchase by the non-producer from the 1920 production is worth $43,750,000, while the surplus sold from the 1909 crops was worth only $1,745,000 and constituted less than 4 per cent of the total production.

In 1909 there were more farmers in Alabama, and more farm laborers than in 1920. Yet in the former year about 7 and one-half million acres of land were actually cultivated to all crops, while last year nine and a quarter million acres were tilled, to say nothing of the more than three million acres which had duplicate or intertilled crops grown thereon. In ten years the Alabama farmer has learned to make his labor more efficient by so distributing his acreage, by using improveld implements, by making his land worth double, and by more intelligent use of his working force, to the end that his productive capacity has advanced in volume as well as in value.

Most of this improvement has taken place since 1914, rather than over the full ten-year period. In that year of our last big cotton crop, we had not begun to take account in a statistical way of several of our important minor crops, so that comparisons may be made for only eight of the 14 principal field crops now grown. For our million and three-quarter bales of cotton produced in 1914 we received $66,677,000. Last year we made but little more than one third as much cotton, and if we sold it now it would bring within five millions of the big crop. We grew one million acres to corn last year than in 1914, produced 12,000,000 bushels more, and it is worth $23,000,000 more. The surplus hay for sale of last year's harvest is 40 per cent greater in volume than the entire cutting of 1914, and the total crop of last year is worth $23,000,000 more than the crop of 1914. We produced twice as many spuds from twice as many acres, and they were worth eight times the crop of the former year. We are selling this year three-fourths as many sweets as we produced in 1914 and the value of the sales is more than the entire crop of that year. Our syrup production is easily twice what it was then and our sales now bring as much as the entire crop then was worth. Peanuts in that year were not a commercial crop; the probable sales from the last crop are worth$4,000,000 and we will graze and feed 6,000,000 more. Velvet beans were barely known in the state in 1914; last year the feeding, grazing and sale value of that crop was $4,000,000.

Following the big cotton crop of 1914 we had to buy much of the stuff that now lies in our barns, smokehouses and corn cribs. There were thousands of store accounts which had never been balanced since the names went on the books; since that time red lines have been drawn at the bottom of the page, and many of the names have been transferred to the bank ledgers, where quite a few are found on the credit side. It is true that we lost money on the last cotton crop, several million dollars of it; but so we did on the 1914 crops, also several millions of it. The difference is that we have now the products of 2,500,000 acres of eatables and feedables and sellables that did not exist then. And the story will not be complete until we have cast up the live stock accounts.

MASS MEETING

At the Court House, is Called for To-night (Thursday) at 7, p.m. to Organize a Chamber of Commerce.

This meeting has been called by fifty of the leading business men and citizens of the city. Such an organization is of mutual interest to all concerned. Not only will it help others, but it will help YOU individually if you are a merchant, professional man, or even an employee. There is nothing that will help to build up the business interests of a community as will this kind of an organization. It not only offers inducements for new industries, but helps to get the merchants together in many different ways. Clanton has a bright future before it, if its citizens will pull together and forget the past. Its central location, electric power supply, good water, and good sites are in themselves fine recommendations.

The gum trees in the swamps for a box factory, and clay for brick, are also good possibilities. Sales Days, County Fairs, and other propositions of that nature can best be accomplished through such an organization. A nominal membership fee to be determined can pay the running expenses of such an organization, which will more than repay itself by the increase of business and other benefits received.

As a PROGRESSIVE CITIZEN WE URGE YOU TO BE PRESENT TO NIGHT.

P. G. CARTER.

PEANUT PLANTERS PLEAD FOR PROTECTION.

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 3—Declaring that the present tariff on peanuts was entirely inadequate, the National Peanut Association in session here recently, passed resolutinons favoring a tariff sufficient to equalize the cost of production in the United States with that of the orient, where there is an abundance of cheap labor.

STATE GOVERNMENT HAS MANY CHANGES

PAST YEAR HAS BROUGHT NEW DIRECTORS IN EXECUTIVE BRANCHES.

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 1—During 1920 a number of important changes took place in the organization of the State's most necessary basic departments. Probably the most notable among these changes was the shift that took place when W. D. Nesbitt resigned as chairman of the state board of control and economy. Immediately after Mr. Nesbitt's resignation had been submitted, Governor Kilby appointed C. B. Rogers, then warden general, to fill the vacancy created by Mr. Nesbitt's retirement, at the same time naming W. F. Feagin, former State Superintendent of Education, as warden general to succeed Mr. Rogers.

A considerable change was also wrought in the personnell of the Attorney General's office, through the successive appointment of assistant attorneys general, these appointments being ocasioned by vacancies brought about from time to time by resignations. The first assistant Attorney General to tender his resignation was Horace C. Wilkinson, who retired from the service of the State when he was appointed to a position on the circuit court bench of Jefferson county. Judge Wilkinson, who was elected to the same position later, resigned to enter the practice of law. Judge Wilkinson was succeeded in the attorney general's office by Lamar Field, a prominent attorney of Montgomery. R. V. Evins, also assistant attorney general, was also appointed to a judgeship in Jefferson county, to which office he has recently been elected. He was succeeded by Harwell G. Davis, who following the recent extra session of the legislature, was appointed to the position of state fuel administrator by the governor. Lawrence E. Brown was the next assistant to resign. Mr. Brown is now engaged in the practice of law. He was succeeded by Henry P. White of Marion, Ala.

The death of Dr. Thos. M. Owen, former director of the state departmentof archives and history, who was universally loved and esteemed by all citizens, made necessary the selection of a successor. Mrs. Thos. M. Owen, Dr. Owen's widow, was some time later elected to this position by unanimous vote of the board of trustees of the department.

Another important departmental change was occasioned by the resignation of Dr. Spright Dowell, then state superintendent of education, to accept the presidency of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, to which responsible and important post he was elected by the Auburn board of trustees. Dr. Dowell was succeeded by Dr. John W. Abercrombie, former congressman-at-large from Alabama, and acting U. S. Secretary of Labor, one of the most widely known and successful educators in the state.

There has been a change also in the personnell of the adjutant general's department, Captain Luther H. Waller of Montgomery, having recently been appointed assistant adjutant general, to succeed Captain H. W. Thompson, who resigned to enter the hotel business in Alabama City.

It was during the latter part of the year 1920 also that Miss Margaret Mashburn of Montgomery was appointed secretary of the Alabama Court of Appeals to succeed Douglas Clark, who resigned to accept a position with the Alabama Power Co.

FARMERS URGE SUPPORT OF EMERGENCY TARIFF BILL

Austin, Texas., Jan. 3—At its recent meeting here, the Executive committee of the Texas Farmers League passed resolutions urging Representantives in Congress to vote for the Emergency Tariff Bill now pending. The resolution further declares that unless relief is obtained the gricultural interests of the United States will be reduced to a condition of beggary as a result of being forced to compete in the home markets with the products of the cheap labor of Europe.

Miss Lurline Harper returned to Munford Sunday, where she is engaged as teacher. She was accompanied by Mrs. D. B. Harris of Munford who was her guest in Clanton during the holidays.

CAPITOL CHAT

BEGAN AS A NEWSBOY

Washington, Jan. 4—Among the self-made men who will come to Congress for the first time as a result of the recent election will be John G. Gorman of Chicago, Ill., who won the Sixth Congressional District to the Republican party after that District had been represented in Congress by a Democrat for a great many years. Gorman started his business career as a newsboy, which occupation he pursued while gaining a common school education. He then worked as a night clerk in the post office while getting a business college education and held a day clerkship in the postal service while studying law at nights; for a number of years he has been a representative of various committees and organizations of government employes and is now an attorney for the Association of Postal Employes. He is a practicing attorney in Chicago and comes to Congress with a very thorough knowledge of all the problems confronting men and women in government service.

A FRIEND TO AGRICULTURE

For many years the Seventeenth Congressional District of Ohio has been represented by a Democrat in the United States House of Representatives. For the past fourteen years that seat in Congress has been occupied by William A. Armstrong whose prestige in his District was thought to make him invincible. But in the recent election he was defeated by W. M. Morgan, a Republican whose record as a business man and a leader in the industrial affairs of the community commended him to the people of that Congressional District. For a great many years he has been in the wool, grain and implement business, but is also interested in manufacturing and owns and lives on a farm. From practical knowledge he will be qualified to speak for almost every industrial interest of his State.

A HARD FIGHT UPWARD

Delivering milk nights and mornings, and later finding employment as a grocery clerk, Honorable Carroll L. Beedy of Portland, Maine, began the career which has recently won him an election to the House of Representatives. During his work just mentioned Mr. Beedy saved money which took him through school. He was a member of the debating team at Yale when the teams from that institution defeated Colby, Trinity, and Harvard. He was a member of the Yale teams in the Yale-Harvard and Yale-Princeton debates of 1903 and 1904 in which contests both Yale teams were victorious. Since 1907 he has been practicing law at Portland, Maine, has served with eminent success as county attorney, breaking all records in his jurisdiction in the proportion of State cases won in the trial and Supreme Courts. It is needless to say, in view of his record, that he is a hard worker.

RECALLING SPILMAN'S CHARGE

Nearly two years ago quite a stir was created in the Department of Agriculture by the resignation of W. J. Spillman as head of the Bureau of Farm Management after a disagreement with Secretary of Agriculture Houston. At that time Spillman made the direct charge before congressional committees that Secretary Houston was opposed to the gathering and dissemination of reliable information concerning the cost of production of farm products. He pictured Secretary Houston as opposed to the best interests of the farmers. Now that Mr. Houston is Secretary of the Treasury and has taken a view of finances at variance with those generally held by the farmers, there are many who are recalling Mr. Spillman's charges and crediting the theory that throughout the Wilson administration the real interests of the agricultural producers have been given secondary consideraion.

TELEPHONE MEETING MONDAY

A thoroughly representative and interesting meeting of the stockholders of the Peoples Telephone Company was held in Clanton on Monday. The meeting in the morning was at the court house. The principal business transacted was the election of officers for the ensuing year which resulted as follows: President, W. M. Wyatt; Vice-President, M. D. Foshee; Secretary and Treasurer, J. N. Dennis; Board of Directors, J. M. Robinson, W. S. Cox, A. R. Cooper, G. W. Willis, and W. B. Cooper.

In the afternoon the meeting reassembled at the Odd Fellows Hall for the transaction of further business. The matter of assessment of central fees was taken up and after much discussion from various angles a motion was made by Mr. W. W. Fox that the fees for the next year be made three dollars per phone for people outside of the Town of Clanton, and five dollars per phone for people inside the Town of Clanton; also providing that in addition to the payment of three dollars central fee the phone holders outside of the town should keep up their lines to the corporate limits of the town; and that in consideration of the five dollars per phone paid by people in the town, the board of directors should look after the upkeep of all lines inside the corporate limits of the town and pay for same out of the funds accruing to the treasury of the company. This motion was seconded and carried after some discussion.

Another motion was then made by Mr. W. S. Cox providing that all persons who have two or more phones on the same line shall be required to pay only one central fee of three or five dollars as the case may be. The motion was duly seconded and adopted by vote of the body after brief discussion.

There was much interest manifest among the people at the meeting, and sentiment seemed to be running high for an improvement in the service.

FRIENDSHIP BAPTIST CHURCH

The Friendshrip Church and community is still on the move, and upward move, of course. Sunday school is lively, well attended and enjoyable to a great extent. Prayer service is still going, in spite of the inclement weather which often prevails.

On the last preaching day, which was the fourth Sunday, eight new members were united to the church by letter. They were the two Mr. Hand and their families, who have just bought land in this community. We are sure glad to have these people here with us both in the church and in the community.

There was prayer service last Sunday night, and a good crowd was reported.

We have Sunday school every Sunday at 10 o'clock. Next Sunday afternoon the Singing Society meets at 2:00 o'clock, and there will be no prayer service at night.

DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION, JANUARY 9

On January 9, 1921, we will hold a District Sunday School Convention at Minooka.. We hope to have every school in District One, which is Beats 12 and 13, represented. We are going to have a very interesting program, and are sure that everyone who attends will be benefitted. Don't forget the time and place—Minooka, on January 9, next Sunday.

33 PERSONS OWN 2 PER CENT OF WEALTH

MANAGING DIRECTOR OF FARMERS NATIONAL COUNCIL MAKES PUBLIC FIGURES

Washington, Jan. 1—Thirty-three individuals own 2 percent of the entire American national wealth, according to George P. Hampton, managing director of the Farmers National Council. He pointed out this remarkable fact in connection with a statement that federal tax upon estates, that is upon the capital value of property, is essential to compel the wealthiest classes to pay what he believes to be their just share of the cost of the war.

"In 1918," Mr. Hampton states, "22,696 millionaires were estimated by the eminent publicist, Richard Spillane, to own 27.2 per cent of the national wealth, or more than $68,000,000,000, while the 33 richest Americans owned property worth about $4,837,000,000 or roughly 2 per cent of the national wealth.

"In 1918 the national wealth was estimated to be $250,000,000,000. It is now estimated to be $500,000,000,000. Our 23,000 millionaires probably are worth now about $136,000,000,000 and the 33 richest Americans about $9,675,000,000.

"If we estimate the net return on this property at only 5 per cent, the average income from the property of these 23,000 millionaires is nearly $300,000,000. Of course many of them are invested largely in tax exempt bonds and own a considerable portion of the $40,000,000,000 of such tax exempt bonds.

"While a constitutional amendment would enable the government to tax the incomes of these individuals, it will take some time to adopt such an amendment.

"A direct tax, however, upon capital values, could be promptly levied, and should be levied by Congress, instead of seeking some method of placing additional burdens of taxation through a retail sales tax and other consumption tax upon other hundreds of thousands of families who today are receiving several hundred dollars less than they need to maintain the necesary standard of living.

"It will be noted," Mr. Hampton concludes, "that the 23,000 millionaires are worth nearly ten times as much as our total national debt, exclusive of loans to the nations with which we are associated during the war."

BOARD OF DIRECTORS WILL MEET NEXT SATURDAY.

The Board of Directors of the Peoples Telephone Company will meet at the Court House in Clanton on next Saturday at ten o'clock for the purpose of receiving bids for the operation of the central for the next year; also bids for the work of maintaining and keeping up of the lines within the town of Clanton for the next year. All bids for both propositions should be made out in writing and delivered to the Secretary and Treasurer, Mr. J. N. Dennis, before the meeting next Saturday.

The Directors are anxious to find some means of improving the service of the system during this year, and will welcome any suggestions that anyone has to offer to this end.

The resolution reviving the War Finance Corporation became a law on Tuesday, with its readaption by the House over President Wilson's veto. The Senate adopted it over his veto Monday. The purpose of reviving the corporation is intended to extend the aid of the United States Treasury for farm relief.

County Commissioners A. P. Vinson and W. T. Herrod were in Clanton Tuesday and Wednesday attending Commissioners Court. This was the last court they will sit in, as their terms of office expire on the 11th of this month. They have been good officials, and we are sorry they are to retire. But their successors, Messrs. Littlejohn and Walker are good men, and we feel sure they will measure up to the standard of their predecessors.

OUR COMMERCIAL CLUB

We want to take this chance to issue a final appeal to the business men of Clanton to attend the meeting at the Court House to-night (Thursday) at which time the matter of organizing our Commercial Club will be taken up and determined. About fifty of our business men have signed the call for the meeting, and we hope there will be at least another fifty present at the meeting in addition to the signers.

It is an undisputed fact that the greatest commercial need of Clanton is an organization of our business men for the promotion of our commercial and business interests. Such an organization will be the means of drawing enterprises to our town and county that we can't ever hope to get unless we pull together.

A team of horses cannot pull unless they are properly harnessed and of one mind and intention to move in the same direction. Likewise the business men of Clanton must be harnessed with an adequate organization, and have the same intentions in order to bring the things to our town that we deserve to have here.

The proper effort put forth by our busines men can secure a brick manufacturing plant for Clanton possibly the quickest of any other one industry. The added building advantages of a brickyard to our own town will be enough to pay us for the effort it will take to get such an enterprise in operatioin here.

There are numerous other enterprises we could get after, and there is somebody somewhere with the cash and other factors ready to begin the work here. But we can't find them nor make them find us without a commercial organization.

Remember the meeting to-night. Come and bring your chin music. We must get it started right now with the beginning of the new year.

THE METHODISTS RISE UP

The Public Morals Board of the Methodist Episcopal Church announced Tuesday that it would inaugurate "a campaign to stop the contemptous treatment of the Protestant Ministry by some cartoonists, writers and actors."

"On the stage and in motion pictures," said the Board's announcement, "the Protestant Minister is seldom represented except as an effiminate fool. The members of the Protestant churches are exhorted to be liberal, to take humor as humor, and be slow to wrath. But the members of the Roman Cotholic Church do not tolerate such treatment of their priesthood, which is always represented on the stage and elsewhere in a most favorable way, and whose religion is treated with consideration. The Catholics are to be commended. The time has come also when Protestants also should not tolerate any other than courteous treatment of their religion and ministry."

The Board added that the matter was being called to the attention of ministers of all denominations, and their congregations, with a request that "any violations of the ordinary courtesy" will be reported to the board, which would make them public.

It may be correct to place the blame for this "contemptous" treatment of protestant ministers on the playwrights and actors alone, but we expect the Catholics will be smiling at our deception when we do so. We are of the opinion that really and truly the whole scheme is one into which the Catholics themselves have combined with these other agencies to ridicule the protestants.

It is a truth easy of observat on that the Catholics hold no quarter or the protestant faith, nor for the followers of the protestant doctrines. Catholics are militantly aggressive in their opposition to protestantism and it may well be expected to find them doing anything and working all sorts of ruses to make the Methodist and the Baptist preachers look contemptuous and ridiculous in the eyes of the public. At the same time you will find them holding their priesthood up in the public eye as spotless as the angels.

If the Catholics want to demand courteous treatment of their clergy, that is all right. We expect nothing less of them. It is a paramount fact that they always insist on such recognition, and they always get it too.

The Protestants might well take a lesson from the Catholics in their solidarity of organization and uiversal insistence upon recognition and respect of their dogma.

But when they combine their efforts, as we believe they have, with such ridiculous agencies as the stage and screen to bring humiliation and burlesque down upon the heads of the Protestants, we cannot see any means of praise for them in demanding that their own priests be called spotless.

It would doubtless be found that those agencies which the Methodist Board are condemning for reproaching Protestant ministers are themselves either of the Catholic faith, or else hirelings of the Catholic high priests and propagandists; they are very likely "sentiment" agencies the Catholics have in their employe to go abroad in the country and make the "innocent" public believe the very things they are trying to portray as characteristic of the Catholic and Protestant ministry respectively.

We commend the Methodist Board for their step as announced in the quotations from their report at the beginning of this article. But we would admonish them to beware of the crafty designs of the Catholics for it must be kept in mind always, that the Catholics are Catholics first, and their program is to make America Catholic in spite of everything else. If it takes ridiculing Protestant ministers they will not hesitate to apply the ridicule. If it takes hiring all the stage actors, and buying all the moving picture manufacturing enterprises, they will buy them (if they have not already bought them.) If it takes subtle craftiness and deception, they can and will produce it of the most subtle and crafty variety. They will do anything to make America Catholic.

Of all agencies that ever operated in this country of ours, the least to be trusted is the Roman Catholic Church.

JUSTIFIABLE IF PARTISAN

Washington, Jan. 4—"Members of the Senate having indicated their intention to reject nominations recently made by President Wilson, and others which he is likely to make, the Democratic press has seized upon this as an occasion to raise the cry of 'partisanship'," says the Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "It must be admitted that the facts give a sufficient color to the charge to require careful consideration. It will be remembered that when the Democrats came into control eight years ago the Republican nominations were held up until President Wilson had an opportunity to make nominations to fill the positions. The Republicans charged 'partisanship' and it is pertinent to inquire whether the circumstances are the same today as they were then.

"The election of 1912 was not a Democratic victory nor a Republican defeat. The fact is that there was a split in the Republican party, a portion of the Republican party vote being recorded for the Progressive candidates with the result that the Democrats won by a plurality, although by a minority. The Democrats had no such overwhelming endorsement of the people as that which the Republicans have today.

"During Republican administrations when a law required bi-partisan representation on commissions, Republicans observed both the letter and the spirit of the law, appointing men who were Democrats in reality when they were selected as representatives of the Democratic party. In almost every instance where President Wilson has been compelled to appoint a Republican he has chosen one who has been a Wilson supporter. His compliance with the law has been purely technical and violative of its spirit.

"But it is not in the policies pursued by the Democrats that the Republicans find full justification for their rejection of President Wilson's nominations. Throughout the eight years of his regime President Wilson has selected men of inexperience and incompetency for positions of the highest importance. With one or two exceptions his cabinet appointees have been extremely unsatisfactory to the country. Nevertheless, the Republicans confirmed these without question. In almost every instance where the President selected for appointments on bi-partisan boards men who were not fairly representative of the Republican party, the Republicans laid aside their partisan feelings in order that the administration might have the assistance of the type of men they desired. It will scarcely be disputed by anyone, whether Republican or Democrat, that public service has suffered in the extreme because of the character of appointments that President Wilson has made. In view of the record it is but natural for the people to look with suspicion upon any nomination that may come from President Wilson's hand.

"Moreover, for many months past the president has neglected to fill vacancies. Positions on boards of utmost importance have gone unfilled until the closing days of the administration. If appointments shall be made and confirmed now, the appointees would hold through practically all of the Republican administration. President Wilson has apparently attempted to gain partisan advantage by leaving positions vacant until near the close of his term. That was the beginning of a species of partisanship which the Republicans are under obligations to defeat. If the filling of public positions had proceeded in a normal manner it might be argued that confirmations should proceed in the regular manner now. But since there is an immense accumulation of appointments it is manifestly the duty of the Republicas to withhold confirmation until President Harding shall have opportunity to consider the men and their qualifications. The cry of 'partisanship' from the Democratic press will find no sympathy among the millions of citizens who voted to throw out the entire Democratic administration. The people voted for a change and they will uphold the Republicans in carrying out the popular will."

WHERE IS IT COMING FROM?

Republican leaders of the Senate are emphatic in their disapproval of the suggestion of a billion dollar loan to Germany. The Secretary of the Treasury has appeared before the Finance Committee and expressed himself officially as opposed to it. The German emissaries have a brilliant plan that has found favor with certain interests. It is to spend all of the credit they hope to obtain for raw materials in this country, including foodstuffs, for which the American farmers are so urgently in need of a market. One of the provisions of the proposed loan is that its payment shall take priority over all allied reparation claims. One would think that the chance of obtaining the consent of the allies, particularly of France, to such a priority, is very slight. But the opposition of the Senate is sufficient to defeat the German proposal.

GIN NOTICE

After January 8th I will gin only on Friday and Saturday, and for two weeks only. J. A. MADDOX.

NO IMMEDIATE RESULTS

American farmers will be wise not to count too much on the immediate benefits from the emergency tariff law, if enacted. The great damage was done before the law could be enacted. The injury suffered by the farmers was due largely to the Wilson-Underwood tariff law of 1913, still on the statute books. Under the provisions of that law, foreign products are admitted to American markets at rates which permit of ruinous competition. For months the Republican press of the country has been calling attention to the increased imports of farm products, but with a Democratic free-trade president in the white house, there was no possibility of securing remedial legislation. With the Democratic law still on the statute books, Canada, Argentina, Australia, Denmark and other countries, have been shipping their surplus products to the United States thus supplying the market which should belong to the American farmer first. The foreign products have come in, and they are now in the American market. A law enacted now cannot shut them out. But protective legislation now will help next year and in subsequent years, and that is much to be desired. To count on immediate results from the emergency tariff law is to lay the foundation for disappointment. A large part of the 1920 crops have been marketed already.

PEDAGOGUES AND POLITICS

"Let us have done with professional tax systems" urges the Manufacturers Record. And it might well have added the same advice concerning government by professors in general. Professors are all right in their place—which is in the educational field. But the practical affairs of the world must be conducted by men who have had experience in practical affairs. We have just finished nearly eight years of federal administration by a college professor, and that will do us for a while.

GRADY REYNOLDS ELECTED COUNTY TREASURER AGAIN.

At the meeting of the Commissioners Court this week, Grady Reynolds was elected County Treasurer for the next year.

The following bids were offered for the position:

T. J. Littlejohn offered to take the office for $900 and the county pay for his bond, or for $1,000 and he to pay for his bond.

J. Bice offered to take the office for $900 and he furnish the bond.

M. F. Lett offered to take the office for $875 and the county furnish his bond.

Grady Reynolds offered to take the office for $840, and he to make his own bond.

The cost of the bond that is required for the Treasurer is $125 for a year.

The bid of Grady Reynolds, being the lowest, was accepted by the court and he was elected to fill the office for the next year. He has been the Treasurer of the county funds for the past two years.

STOCK LAW DEFEATED

The Court issued an order for another election to be held in Beat 12, in the near future.

REV. T. G. JONES GOES TO OPP, TO TAKE UP PASTORAL DUTIES

Union Springs, Ala., Dec. 28.—Rev. Thos. G. Jones, who has been pastor of the Methodist Church here for the past year, left Tuesday morning with his family, for his new field, Opp, Ala. The large congregation which heard him deliver his last sermon was an evidence of the esteem in which he is held by the people of Union Springs He made many friends while here.

MOORE INVITED TO DRAINAGE MEETING

J. M. Moore, director of the State pure food Bureau, received an invitation from the farmers of Fayette County Monday to attend a meeting held in Fayetteville on January 15, when organization of the farmers to carry on the Fayette-Lamar Drainage project will be perfected.

This district comprises over 22,000 acres of land that will be tillable as a result of the draining. A government engineer is now making a preliminary survey of the tract.

Mr. George Mims of Thorsby was at the Clanton Infirmary for an operation last Saturday.

"SHORTY" MINER.

A. N. Miner, alias Andrew Miner, alias "Shorty" Miner, alias Mister Miner, or otherwise known to the grand jury; he will answer to any of these names, and we don't know how many more might be applied to him. Anyway, he has changed jobs. He is no longer with Mr. Tom Kemp, but hereafter will be found doing duty behind the countr at the place of Tom Taylor and Jesse Baker, which may sometimes be called the Clanton Produce Company. Shorty is one of the most popular fellows who ever stood behind a counter, and he has many friends who will be glad to find him at his new location.

The Clanton Produce, along with the addition of "Shorty" to the force has changed the location of their chicken and produce house to the building formerlyl occupied by the Duncan Garage, and have added a feed store to same. Tom Taylor and Jeff Ruffin will ni future look after the produce and feed business at the Duncan building, and Jess Baker and "Shorty" will take care of the store up on main street.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

DIZZINESS CAUSES FALL— HEAD INJURED.

"A year ago my stomach bloated so badly with gas that I fell unconscious and cut my head badly on the corner of a door. I had suffered from stomach trouble for several years and no medicine helped me to speak of. A druggist patched up my head and advised me to use Mayr's Wonderful Remedy for my stomach trouble. The results have been really wonderful. I have never had any signs of my formr symptoms since." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the mucous from the intestinal tract and allays the inflamation that causes practically ll the stomch, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by Alred Drug Co., Clanton, and druggists everywhere.

STATE OF ALABAMA
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Montgomery, Alabama,
November 22, 1920.

A PROCLAMATION:

WHEREAS, The Legislature of Alabama, at a Special Session held in the year 1920, proposed a certain amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which is herein set forth, to be submitted to the qualified electors of the State, at a Special Election ordered by the Legislature to be held on Tuesday, February 8, 1921.

AND, WHEREAS, Notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment, is requird by law to be given by proclamation of the Governor;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Thomas E. Kilby, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby give notice, direct and proclaim that a Special Election will be held on February 8, 1921, for the vote of the qualified electors of Alabama, in the manner, form and places required by law, upon the following proposed amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, viz:

"A person to be entitled to register or vote must in addition to the qualifications already prescrbed, be of good character and must understand the duties and obligations of citizenship under a republican form of government."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 22nd day of November, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty.

(SEAL)

By The Governor:
Wm. P. COBB,
Secretary of State.

At the time this goes to press we understand that Mr. Goodgame's mill will be in operation again. This is good news and we wish for him a prosperous year. The machinery he has installed is up to date in every respect, and has considerable improvements over that which was burned recently.

Now that the new year is upon us let us all become boosters for our home town. Your town is exactly what you make it. If you want to let the weeds grow they will surely do it, but if you want to keep the town clean, healthy and attractive and see it grow and prosper, it will take the united work of all to make it such. Citizen, Thorsby calls on you. Will you answer?

The Christmas and New Year holidays were spent in and around Thorsby in a very peaceable manner. No disturbance whatever was reported. Friends visited with friends, crowds attended various churches at various functions, and through it all the true holiday spirit prevailed.

Thorsby Institute commenced its second semester on last Tuesday, the boarding students having, most of them, returned from their holiday vacations. The increased activity in the town is very noticeable when the school starts, and it is a great pleasure to see the students go and come to and from the school building each day of the week. The present term of school promises to be very active, considering also the new building now under course of construction on the school grounds.

The Directors of the Chamber of Commerce met on last Monday evening in short session, making arrangements for the hanging of the Chamber of Commerce sign, which is to be suspended across the highway at some central point on main street.

We are sorry to hear that Waldemar Lefstead has been confined to the bed, but are also glad to hear that he is now a great deal better.

On Tuesday night, Jan. 4 Mrs. M. J. Soberg entertained a number of young people honoring her son, Mr. Ed Soberg, who has been at home for the holidays.

On Monday night a crowd of popular young people of Thorsby enjoyed a possum hunt. They reported that they caught two real possums, and had quite a lively time. They enjoyed a weiner roast besides other good things to eat; but they didn't roast the possums as they wanted those to carry home as evidence. The crowd was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Bentley.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Howard had as their guests last week, Mr. and Mrs. Early and son of Birmingham.

Mr. Earnest of the U. S. Navy has been spending the holidays with his parents. He returned to Virginia on Tuesday morning.

STRAWBERRY PLANTS — For Sale. L. E. DIEFENDERFER, at Thorsby, Ala. 12-30-tf.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Langville and family of Ensley, Ala., spent a few days with Mrs. Langville's mother, last week. They returned to Ensley Sunday.

666 is a prescription for Colds, Fever and LaGrippe. It's the most speedy remedy we know.

A Tonic For Women

"I was hardly able to drag, I was so weakened," writes Mrs. W. F. Ray, of Easley, S. C. "The doctor treated me for about two months, still I didn't get any better. I had a large family and felt I surely must do something to enable me to take care of my little ones. I had heard of

CARDUI
The Woman's Tonic

"I decided to try it," continues Mrs. Ray . . . "I took eight bottles in all . . . I regained my strength and have had no more trouble with womanly weakness. I have ten children and am able to do all my housework and a lot outdoors . . . I can sure recommend Cardui."

Take Cardui today. It may be just what you need.

Heart-Breaking Smiles

There are thousands of kinds of smiles, but it would be mighty hard to picture even in the mind's eye smiles more poignantly tragic than those here seen. Two years of life have held little save misery for these Vienna youngsters, yet, even though the result is painful, they smile. They are victims of rickets, the offspring of near-starvation, and that countless others in stricken Europe may not have to share their fate eight American relief organizations, under the name of the European Relief Council, are making a joint appeal for the conscience of America to complete relief work which this winter faces its crisis. These agencies are the American Relief Administration, the American Red Cross, the American Friends' Service Committee (Quakers), the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, the Knights of Columbus, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

WEST CHILTON

The happy yuletide passed off very quietly here. All seemed to enjoy the Christmas season. The noisy serenades made the welkin ring on the frosty midnight air.

Mr. W. N. Bush became violently ill on the 24th. Two physicians were called, also his family from Equality. He suffered for several days and was carried to Montgomery for treatment. We hope for his speedy recovery.

B. G. Glass, Isaac Waldrup and Robert Smith have returned from a visit to relatives near Aliceville.

Miss Vic Martin of Woodlawn visited here during the holidays.

Rev. Bayley of Minooka failed to fill his appointment at Union Springs the 26th of December.

Rev. Freeman of Randolph came out to Macedonia Sunday.

On the 12th of December, Mr. Bradford, a business man of Birmingham, delivered two interesting lectures at Union Springs Chapel. The first was on the stringency of the times, showing the cause was selfishness, and the real remedy the Redeemer's approaching kingdom. The second lecture was on the ministry of angels. He is a fluent speaker of fine learning, and apparently a Christian gentleman.

Mr. Bush of South Alabama visited his brother here last week. He was accompanied by Mr. Benton of Evergreen.

Mrs. Kincaid of Birmingham visited her father, Mr. Hodgens, here during the holidays.

Dewey Pate of Gorgas, came home for Christmas.

Farmers and merchants here are all dull spirited.

We appreciate the work of our retiring county officials. We believe they have had the proper interests at heart.

GET IT AND READ IT

Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey recently delivered an address on the reconstruction problem before the incoming administration that should be read by every citizen of the country. He outlined the stupendous task before the government in the four years ahead of us, in a way that should be impressed upon us all. Send to him for a copy of his speech.

—To Bring MUSIC Into Every American Home!

The great secret of Thomas A. Edison's genius is his wish to serve mankind. This is the noble ambition which has kept his wonderful creative brain tirelessly at work through a long lifetime of marvelous achievement. Edison invented the phonograph, and spent years perfecting it, for a definite purpose—to bring music into the homes and daily lives of his fellow-men.

That is why Edison dealers are pledged to carry out the spirit of Edison's expressed wish in offering you

EDISON'S NEW DIAMOND

AMBEROLA

We want to make it as easy as possible for you to own an Amberola phonograph. No matter how little you feel you can afford to pay, we will arrange most convenient terms of payment, that will surprise you.

We will let nothing stand in the way of your having music in your home—real music, such as only Edison's own phonographs can give you.

Edison's Amberola is not to be confused with ordinary phonographs and "talking machines." It is the world's greatest phonograph value—the "master product of a master mind." After listening to the shrill, metallic sound of ordinary phonographs, the pure tone of the Amberola is a revelation! So is the genuine Diamond Point Reproducer (no needles to change). So are the Amberol Records, which outlast ordinary, fragile records for years and years!

We want you to come to our store and listen to Edison's Amberola at your earliest convenience—today, tomorrow, soon. You will be welcome any time—so come without fail.

FARMERS LOSE HALF BILLION DOLLARS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 3—Vegetable oils imported into the United States and sold in competition with Southern cottonseed oil increased from 235 million pounds in 1914 to 770 million pounds in 1920, according to figures made public by the department of Foreign Commerce here to-day. Chinese oils produced by coolie labor at approximately seven cents per day constituted the bulk of the 1920 importations and total nearly 200 million pounds.

These importations, according to reliable estimates, caused a loss to the Southern cotton farmers of approximately $500,000,000.00 during the past year.

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

Pepto-Mangan Will Help to Fight Colds

MAKE UP YOUR MIND TO KEEP FREE FROM COLDS. GET YOUR BLOOD IN GOOD CONDITION.

START TAKING PEPTO-MANGAN

Now is the Time to Build Up. You Will Be Strong This Winter.

Every house has a supply of fuel for winter. People know cold weather is coming. They get ready forit.

How many people get their own bodies ready for winter? Most of us go around all summer in the intense heat burning up energy, working hard all day and sometimes lying awake at nights sleepless in the heat.

Winter comes along. It catches a great many people totally unprepared physically. Few of us take stock of our health. Whether we will be well, healthy and strong, we often leave too much to chance.

But not everybody. Nowadays the people are learning. They know the matter of enjoying good health is a thing they can help control. If you live right, eat right, get plenty of sleep, breathe fresh air and keep the blood in good condition, you will be all right.

It is so simple. If you feel a little off in health—perhaps worn out and pale—don't take chances. There's no need of it. Buy some Pepto-Mangan of your druggist. Begin taking it today. You can get it in lipuid or tablet form. Tell your druggist which you prefer. But to be certain that you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan; ask for it by the full name—"Gude's Pepto-Mangan." Look for the name "Gude's" on the package.—Adv.

SARAH LUCKIE HAS ACCIDENT; LEG BROKEN IN TWO PLACES.

Last Friday a number of small children were playing around the home of Mr. John Armstrong, and in the course of the game one of the little Hester boys planned to jump out of a window of a building and thereby make a quick return to the home base before Sarah could "spy" him. When he leaped from the window, he landed right a-top of Sarah, and the result was that one of her legs was broken in two places. The boy who jumped on her was not hurt.

Immediately after the accident Sarah was carried to the Clanton Infirmary, where an X-Ray by Dr. Gragg definitely determined the extent of her injuries. She has responded to the treatment very readily, and is now reported well on the way to recovery.

NOTICE TO DOCTORS AND MIDWIVES.

We trust that this matter will be given the attention of all concerned, and that you will save yourselves any inconvenience.

WATCHING DIPPING VATS

The men who were deputized for guarding dipping vats in Chilton county last year during the dynamite epidemic, met the Commissioners on Tuesday to make an effort to get pay for their services. After going into the law governing such matters it was determined that it is the duty of the Sheriff to report his actions to the Governor. Then the Governor in turn may, if the action of the Sheriff is approved, authorize the Commissioners to pay the men for their services. It was agreed by the men who went before the court that $3 per day would be satisfactory pay for their time.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

Considering the threatening aspect of the weather we were well pleased with the attendance at Sunday school last Sunday, there being 103 present. The morning congregation was not large in numbers, but there was a good spirit and a nice attendance at the ordinance of the Lord's Supper. The many expressions from those present testified that the morning service was enjoyed by all. No service was held at night, to unite with the Methodist brethren in welcoming the new pastor to our midst. A very pleasant service was enjoyed by all at the Methodist church in which both the pastors had a substantial part. We are pleased with the prospects of a more united effort on the part of both churches to work together in unity and co-operation for the spiritual and religious interests of Clanton. Both the pastors are united in this worthy desire. It now remains for the people of the two churches to help their pastors carry out their plans.

Services will be held next Sunday as usual, morning at 11 A. M., and evening at 7:15 P. M. Sunday school at 10 A. M.,Sunbeam Bands at 2 P. M. Juniors at 3 P. M. Seniors at 6:30 P. M.

We cordially invite everyone of the community to be present at our services. We are here to serve and mutually help one another. May each member of the church be able to say with the Psalmist, "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go unto the house of the Lord."

THE CAUSE OF WAR.

Hurrah for the women! They threaten political death to Congressmen working for "militant" ends. In other words for militarism. At the city of Washington Dec. 25th, in a "Christmastide" speech, Mrs. Robt. M. LaFollette said: "On the issue of militarism we women hold the balance of power. We vow to use our votes to defeat Senators and Representatives in Congress who stand for war and militarism, and to elect Senators and Representatives who stand for peace and disarmament.

"Away with armaments, and away with them now, while all the horrors and mistakes of the world war are still fresh, while all of its burdens and awful consequences are still a part of our daily life and experience. Now is the time for action. Now is the time for disarmament.

"We women of the United States demand that the billions Congress proposed to spend on the army and navy and military training—for purposes of killing and race destruction—more money than for all the other purposes of government put together shall be spent for human betterment; for food, for health, for education, for eradicating fear, prejudice and hate, the basic causes of war."

Stating that the bureau of standards estimates that of every $100 spent by the national government $92 are used for war, Mrs. Charles E. Russell declared, "It is criminal lunacy to appropriate 92 per cent of the total revenues for destructive purposes and one per cent for all other constructive purposes."

Such sentiments show that the hearts of the women are right, but a little study will show that they have been misled as to the "basic causes" of war. Lack of food, health, education; fear prejudice and hate are results of the cause of war.

Attention to statements appearing in two other articles published in the same issue of The Montgomery Journal (Dec. 26) from which the above quotations are taken, will prove this.

In an article entitled, "America Logical Center for Trade of World Now, Says Commerce Expert," appears the following: "Analyses show, he said, the reason for the rise of nations that sucecssfully dominate the world's commerce to be that they were situated at the cross roads of transportation (at any given period) that they developed their merchant marine, AND A NAVY TO PROTECT IT."

"We are spread out across the path of the westerly movement in the destiny of commerce," Director MacElwee said. But the price we have already paid, which is but a small installment of the final total, is staggering to the thoughtful mind, when one follows the problem to its final conclusion, for supporting this monster called commerce. And the fact that no consideration, either human or divine, will check the rapacity of the powers which nourish this serpent, being fully aware of the suffering and devastation it leaves in its trail, shows the utter folly of permitting unbridled greed to go unchecked." In another article under the caption, "British Navy to Yield First Place to U.S.A." the following appears:

"Great Britain is preparing to give up the command of the seas to the United States without a struggle. British statesmen are rejecting all proposed policies based upon Anglo-American naval rivalry. British public opinion is now being gradually moulded into acceptance of this doctrine."

Notice how the vehicles for moulding public opinion, such as the daily press, politicians, etc., are used.

Note the following statement carefully: "Nothing would be more likely to bring about eventually an Anglo-American war than naval rivalry between the two nations."

But who is to be our naval rival, and why? First a few more words of the attitude of Great Britain on this proposition. The world war practically bankrupted England, along with the rest of Europe. Ten billion dollars was loaned to England and France out of the United States Treasury during the war as part of our contribution to liberty. That the bondholders recognize the inability of England to pay even the interest on these bonds, the suggestion has several times been made in the daily press, that we humanely relieve those overburdened people of this load. Thus they are "moulding public opinion" knowing that their chance of collecting the interest on the bonds from us—the American people—are much brighter. In this case you will observe that "liberty" will mean the taking of this extra load upon our backs. Also to show that England knows that she cannot afford to fight the United States, she tamely permitted the U. S. coal barons to sell almost a million tons of coal to French dealers in the month of November, for $14 a ton, which was less than English operators across the channel could sell for. Why? For two reasons. First, the British miners are thoroughly organized and their scale of wages holds up production costs; while the tax payers of Alabama are contributing $4,000 per day to enable the coal operators of this state to employ cheap "scab" labor, to enable them to undersell England. The consumers of coal in Alabama are also helping the operators in another way to play this game. They are paying $15 to $18 per ton for coal in some Alabama towns on the contracts that were made before the new law went into effect.

Thus foreign markets mean the following things to us: We must have the largest army and navy; we must deplete our own country of its natural wealth, whether of farm or mine; and we must lower the standard of living to the point where we can produce for less and thus undersell competing nations. To illustrate the point that goods are produced where labor is cheapest, regardless of any patriotic consideration, the following item from the Dearbon Independent is enlightening: "Wool stored in the Louisville warehouses will be sent to Austria, where the mills are closed down for lack f raw material. The finished cloth will then be returned to this country to be placed on sale. It is thought that the tariff and transportation cost will be nullified by the cheap labor in Austria. This movement will be undertaken by the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federatin. About 600,000 pounds of raw wool can be disposed of in this manner." There has been no market for wool in this country because merchants have been unable to sell goods on hand, and could not order more from the mills which had closed down. The starving Austrians, willing to jump at any chance to keep body and soul together, will work for a pittance.

When these finished goods begin to come back to this country, they will be used as a club to beat down the price of labor here, to enable our factory owners to undersell the Kentucky Farm Bureau, which had the cloth made in Austria; thus lessening the ability of our factory workers to buy farm products (proper health-sustaining foods) and other things needed to make living worth while. Could anything better illustrate the absolute necessity for co-operation between factory workers and producers of raw materials, by owning the machinery. We have been asked to feed and clothe 3,500,000 starving Austrians. We could easily do so if we would make ourselves prosperous by creating a profitable home market as explained in our article of last week, and it would be better than to do such stunts as these. That our working people will finally be reduced to the level of Chinamen if they continue to sit in this game, will be plainly shown in another article.

The profiteers would be as helpless as new-born babes but for the assistance of instrumentalities (some of it given unintentionally by being misled) employed to mould public opinion, that is the press, the public platform, "patriotic" songs, etc. The preachers like Dr. James I. Vance are better than gold mines for the profiteers. They chloroform the people with dope like the following, while the profiteers pick their pockets. Listen to this message of "peace on earth:" "What we need is not to be made immune from struggle. There is something better than exemption. No one with the spirit of a soldier in his blood has any respect for exemption papers. Real life means struggle. The battlefield is everywhere. * * * Always we are buffeted by circumstances. Poverty is the common lot. There are losses and reverses. There are heavy burdens that must be carried, etc."

The people of the United States are carrying as a side line 14 billions of dollars worth of tax-free bonds to support the profiteer's theory of depending on "world markets" to consume what the people who pruded them actually need.

Blessed (by the profiteers) are the peacemakers, like Vance and Wilson, who support militarism and universal military training (the sure forerunners of war) and all other paraphernalia required by the profiteering machine, meantime dispensing flowery phrases to soothe the populace. One gets a fat job writing the syndicate articles for the daily press; the other secures the Nobel peace prize worth $40,000 a year for "keeping us out of war" we presume.

There is abundance of evidence to show that plans were made in 1914 for the U. S. to go into the war, and 25 million dollars was paid to certain newspapers to mould public opinion. Henry Ford, himself a millionaire, published evidence to establish this fact in his magazine, the Dearbon Independent.

Poverty the common lot, indeed. It is all artificially induced and maintained to satisfy greed. There is no lack of good things which modern genius, working with the natural wealth which a loving father has supplied, cannot supply in abundance for all. The very keynote of nature is opulence. Enormous stores of natural wealth have been scattered with a lavish hand from one end of the earth to the other. And God the father is forever inspiring mankind with ideas for making available for use the good things stored in the bosom of mother earth. A combination of available knowledge with the use that can readily be made with modern tools (machinery) and power, if intelligently applied to production, can many times more than lavishly supply the needs of all the people. Intelligent co-operation will make them available for the use of all worthy people. And worthiness is largely a matter of education and environment. All these things (or at least means for providing them abundantly) are now tricked away from the majority of the people by the devices of the profiteers, who keep the people poor by needlessly shifting goods about, back and forth, from one end of the country to the other, and from one country to another, and so making the selling price so much more than workers get for the labor and raw material that life, for the average person, becomes a struggle to provide even the cheapest necessities for an existence.

The remedy is explained in our article of last week. SUBSCRIBER.

A LETTER FROM MR. F. A. GULLEDGE

Verbena, Ala., Jan. 4, 1920.

Editor Union-Banner:

On Dec. 23rd I left for Southwest Florida and Southeast Alabama, Orange Beach, Baldwin County, Ala., on Perdedo Bay, being my objective, which place is in the jungles, except a nice little village of only a few houses and a store, together with a natural and beautiful beach of half a mile front. The citizenship is a few natives and the balance are refugees from Massachusetts, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, Iowa, and other States of the far north, coming south to escape the northern blizzards mainly, and incidentally to fish and bask in the warm southern climate.

On reaching there I was rushed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hays of Clinton, Ill., whom I met in 1919, and who later visited me. They extended to me then and since by letter, a warm invitation to visit them at Orange Beach, Ala. They served a bounteous meal at 6 o'clock. Then we went to a Christmas tree at the village church-school house where I was honored by being introduced to the entire citizenship of the village and surrounding section. And strange as it may seem, (yet true), I was the recipient of nice gifts from I don't know who. Later each villager took me in to full fellowship, and each night thereafter we had a social entertainment where games were played, recitations made and refreshments served. Mrs. George Hays was the clown, Mrs. Henry Kenfield and your humble scribe being the "end men," we being the same age. The rear was brought up and fully maintained by Mrs. Emma S. Drath of Mobile, Ala., who was also a visitor. She is a famous violinist, a graduate domestic and trained nurse, of German birth, raised and educated in Michigan and Illinois, coming to Baldwin County 12 years ago, where she owns nice property in Fair Hope and other places. She is a full fledged southerner, besides an accomplished and beautiful widow of around forty. So, after all, I could have, at any time during my six days stay it Orange Beach said in the language of the good Methodist at the revival, "It is good to be here."

In Orange Beach, of the northerners, were a school "marm" and a minister, so while I never saw a buggy nor auto, we went back as far as 50 to 60 years and saw acted the scenes of our young days by songs such as "Old Black Joe, "Kentucky Home," and others of the days of yore. We played "cross questions," "heavy hangs over your head," (leaving out the kissing; at any rate, I got very few.)

Finally I feasted constantly on grape fruit, oranges and other fruit I picked fresh, went fishing, and regretfully departed with an invitation to visit them there or elsewhere, and with the assurance that to-day there is no North, no South, but a re-united people and country.

Each villager, except two or three saw me off on the boat. Mainly I suppose, on account of the company leaving with me.

Staggered About Like Drunk Man

WAS DIZZY, NERVOUS, BACK WAS LAME, STOMACH FULL OF GAS, AND BOWELS CONSTIPATED. GETS THE USUAL RESULTS FROM DRECO.

Dreco does its curative work in a simple, straightforward way, feeding the tired worn out nervous tract, filling the arteries with rich new blood, and building up the body for its fight against disease. Read what Mr. T. B. Menefee of 114 South Cedar St., Mobile, Ala., says:

"For some time I have suffered a nervous pain in my back and limbs, especially the joints. It struck me first in the hips, then the knees got painful; then the shoulders and the elbows. My back gave me a great deal of trouble, especially when I got up in the morning, and also when I would make a quick move or bend. I was also troubled with constipation, headaches, nervousness, so I did not sleep well, and my appetite was all gone. I was attracted by the statements I read in the papers about the things Dreco had done for so many other people, and decided to try it, with the result that by the time I had finished one-half of the first bottle, my pains had left and the stiffness was wearing away. I can now jump right out of bed without the slightest pain at all; can stoop about and climb stairs without any pain. The constipation is entirely gone. I never have a headache and I have an enormous appetite.

"I feel perfectly well now, but I am going to keep it up until I take another bottle just to meke sure."

All druggists now sell Dreco, and it is being especially introduced in Clanton by Upchurch Drug Co.

CIVIC SPONSORS FUND FOR SAVE A CHILD CAMPAIGN

The Civic League appointed Mrs. Hugh Jones and Mrs. H. F. Downs chairman on a committee to accept funds for the "Save a Child Fund," at the meeting with Mrs. Fox on Friday afternoon.

Will you give $10 to save a starving child? Will you stand by and let their pleadings go in vain? Clanton is a generous town. Its citizenship relieves suffering whenever possible. Let Clanton and Chilton county contribute its share and more to save its part of the 10,000 children for which Alabama is responsible.

Leave a donation at The Union-Banner office, with Mr. Hugh Jones, or the Downs Hardware Store, and it will be promptly forwarded.

RECOUNT IS BEGUN

What is

MOTHER'S FRIEND

Simply and tersely stated, MOTHER'S FRIEND is just exactly what the name implies—a friend and help to mothers.

It has been made and sold for more than half a century. If it did not possess the value claimed for it, MOTHER'S FRIEND could not possibly have remained on the market. For only that which is really worth while and beneficial can survive.

The mothers who appreciate MOTHER'S FRIEND the most, and who are loudest in their praise of it, are those who unfortunately did not use it with their first baby, and who, through its use with the second one, were able to fully realize the relief it gave them.

DIDN'T EVEN NEED THE DOCTOR

"Dear Sirs: I am willing and anxious to tell any mother about MOTHER'S FRIEND. It did me so much good that I wouldn't be without it if it cost $5.00 a bottle. With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I only had a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick and only sick about ten or fifteen minutes.

"Any mother can write me and I will only be too glad to give her advice. Yours truly."

THE PROGRESSIVES ARE READY FOR THE BATTLE

NOTICE OF INTENTION TOFIGHT REACTIONARIES IS GIVEN IN SENATE

Washington, Jan. 10—Senate progressives today served notice of their intention to continue fight on the reactionaries. Following the statement issued by Senator Hiram Johnson of California, the Senators composing the progressive group warned that though political leaders may have forgotten progressiveism, it is still cherished by "the great inarticulate masses."

Senator Johnson's statement, tho it did not refer by name or in detail to any particular person or measure, was the warning of progressives to reactionary forces that the progressives will not permit their opponents to control the Harding administration unchallenged nor to pass reactionary laws unhampered.

The statement clearly indicated a determination of the progressives to fire the opening gun of their campaign when the Senate takes up the motion to reconsider the Poindexter anti-strike bill. Senator LaFollette was to call up that motion today, he announced, unless prevented by Senate business.

Progressiveism Still Lives

"I have read much lately," said Johnson, "of the passing of progressiveism. Progressiveism has not passed. Certain progressives have. The limelight progressives, who were more interested in office than in policies, have wanted their horrible past to be forgotten, and have endeavored to atone by out-regularing regularity."

This was interpreted as a slap at Poindexter, author of the anti-strike bill, who was once one of the leading western progressives, but who of late years in the Senate has voted and has spoken many times in opposition to the views of the progressives.

"But progressiveism," continued Johnson, "though forgotten by many so-called leaders, is still cherished by the great inarticulate mass, is yet enshrined in the hearts of millions."

"Reaction is on today, reaction against the human advance of the last quarter of a century and against the political rights with such difficulty won by the people. Reaction always shows itself first in attack upon the rights of the electorate to choose for itself its candidates for office, and today we witness the assault all along the line upon the direct primary.

"If this succeeds there is little that exploiting privilege has to fear from public officials. With the primary destroyed, officials generally will answer as in former days, not to all of the people, but to the powerful few.

"The bitter concerted movement against labor by which the splendid gains of humanity are imepriled and jeopordized, is the accompaniment of the endeavor to take from all the voters the right of nomination of their public servants. To prevent the elimination of the direct primary, of the right of selection of public officials by all the men and women voters and the destruction and modification of that which has been added to the common welfare and enabled common humanity to have a juster measure of life's opportunities and enjoyment, is the work ahead for progressiveism, and this work will be done by the rank and file without, and if necessary in spite of progressiveism's former leaders."

HE WON'T DROP DEAD ANY MORE

"My husband suffered terribly from stomach and liver trouble, which caused such bloating of gas as to seriously affect his heart. Doctors warned him that he might drop dead at any time from his trouble. A friend in Cleveland advised him to take Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and since taking it, four months ago, he is feeling like a young man again. All his friends are surprised at his appearance." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince, or money refunded. For sale by Alred Drug Co., Clanton, Ala., and Druggists everywhere.

PROPOSED TO BUILD A ROAD FROM CLANTON TO RUSHTON

Some agitation has been begun in Clanton for the construction of a road from here to the site of the new dam proposed by the Alabama Power Co., at Duncan's Riffles on Coosa River below Rushton. The proposition of the road building was given a definite form at a meeting of road enthusiasts at the Court House on last Thursday night.

Mr. W. W. Fox was named chairman of the meeting, and W. M. Wyatt acted as Secretary.

After some discussion of the possibilities and prospects of the proposition by C. Reese Mullins, Dr. Gowan, Dr. Gragg, Mr. Atkinson, Mr. Fox, and others, it was ordered by the meeting that a committee be secured to look into the different phases of the question, such as securing right of way for the road from here to the dam site, plan methods of financing the scheme, see what assistance may be had from the county, the town, and to generally supervise the details incident to getting the project on foot and carrying it out successfully. The following were chosen for this committee: Dr. J. Earle Gowan, Chairman, Grady Broadhead, J. Monroe Parrish, E. H. Mims, W. W. Fox, and W. M. Wyatt, Secretary and Treasurer.

The meeting adjourned, awaiting the action of the committee in whose hands the matter was left.

Several of the men present made short talks concerning the advantages and possibilities of such an organization of the business men in our town, and a bright future was painted for the organization. Much enthusiasm was evident.

A move was put before the house and carried, authorizing the Chairman to appoint a committee of five to make nominations for officers of the Club. The committee is as follows: M. D. Foshee, C. R. Mullins, T. H. Neighbors, J. P. Lawrence, and P. G. Carter. Rev. Carter was made a member of this committee by motion before the house and vote of those present.

3. P. G. Carter
4. W. M. Adams

ELECTORS MEET TO CANVASS THE VOTE

HARDING AND COOLIDGE TO BE OFFICIALLY DECLARED ELECTED

Washington, Jan. 10—Warren G. Harding and Calvin Coolidge today were elected President and Vice-President of the United States for the term beginning March 4, 1921.

At that time Ohio's new governor took his office and Harding was to resign his seat in the Senate and let the new governor appoint Frank B. Willis to the vacancy.

The election of Harding and Coolidge was made official by the electoral college, the machinery provided by the constitution. The electors as chosen on Nov. 2 voted today in their respective states, and the result of the balloting will be forwarded at once to the Secretary of State in Washington who will transmit it to the Senate.

As soon as the electors finish voting, the race which occurs every four years will begin, runners being dispatched to Washington with the official result of the vote. The race is to see which state reports first. In the old days the messengers traveled by river boat, stagecoach or horseback. Later they went by train. This year it is expected that some of them will drop into Washington via the air plane route.

The action taken by the electors today will be canvassed, checked and officially announced to the country by the Senate and House in joint session Feb. 9.

Until today Harding has not been strictly President-elect. He has been "President-designate." It took formal action by the electors today to make him President-elect.

SUCCESSFUL TEACHERS.

CLANTON COMMERCIAL CLUB

Those who prophesy that a Commercial Club in Clanton will not amount to anything, basing that prophecy upon the fact that it has been tried in the past and failed, should stop a moment and consider further before following such a line of reasoning.

It is true that a Commercial Club has been organized here in the past, and failed. It died of dry rot, superinduced by several causes. Uppermost of these causes was that those who enlisted in the move could not actually see anything for the organization to do. And it is a fact that might be added parenthetically right here that compared with what we can do now, our opportunities then were practically as nothing.

Then too Clanton has a record of being divided in sentiment and unable to develop team work. There is nobody in the world as quick to resign to this "record" as the very men who are themselves charged with being unwilling to hitch up in the team.

At the present time it does not require a visionary nor a dreamer to see the opportunities for a Commercial Club here. There are things all around us that such an organization could join in to great advantage, and the least observant among us can see these things. Verily, opportunities have been thrown all about us, as if by luck; they have been actually thrust upon us, when we did not even have a man to speak with authority to thank our benefactors.

Now, honest John, we ought to be ashamed of ourselves, walking as we are in our own light, disregarding the opportunities we have, and not putting forth and organized effort to take care of our interests and gather in our harvest. We have no need to stand back and say that we have tried here and failed. It is foolish to say it is no use because there is nothing we can do.

We are pleading for a Comemrcial Club in Clanton with every business and professional man enrolled and ready to fight for what's coming to Clanton. We know we can have this Commercial Club, just the same as other towns have theirs. It's all wrong about Clanton not being able to put up the team work. Come on and let's prove it by getting in the Commercial Club to-night and start things moving.

"COME OUT OF THE CRACK."

There were many prominent business and professional men of Clanton who were conspicuous by their absence at the Commercial Club meeting on last Thursday night.

Don't be so conspicuous tonight, now fellows. Oh, we don't care if you are conspicuous in the club meeting, but we want it to be some other manner besides your absence. Come to-night and let's make an honest endeavor to do some good for our town and community.

Now, of course we know why you were not there last Thursday night. We have been around here too long to misunderstand you. You doubtless have plenty of excuse and reason for wondering if there would really be anything to the movement.

You would feel right funny if you should go on and stay out of the thing on that kind of a theory and then at some time right away come to yourself and find that we have a live and thriving Commercial Club here, and yourself not in it at all.

We don't want anybody left out. Accept our urging now, men, everyone of you, and come and let's do it right. We can do it. We ought to do it; and if we don't do it, let's just send word to Thorsby that we are all dead, so they may come on down here and get the Court House and the whole works and take it up to their town where they have got some use for such things.

Somebody sent the editor of the Poketown Gazette a few bottles of home brew. The same day he received for publication a wedding announcement and a notice of an auction sale. Here are the results as he published it:

"William Smith and Miss Lucy Anderson were disposed of at public auction at my farm one mile east of a beautiful cluster of roses on her breast and two white calves, before a background of farm implements too numerous to mention, in the presence of about seventy guests, including two milch cows, six mules and one bob sled. Rev. Jackson tied the nuptial knot with 200 feet of hay rope and the bridal couple left on one good John Deere gang plow for an extended trip with terms to suit purchasers. They will be at home to their friends with one good baby buggy and a few kitchen utensils after ten months from date of sale to responsible parties and some fifty odd chickens."—Pittsburg Chronicle.

You will find a complete line of Winter Underwear at ELMORE'S January Clearance Sale, and priced to compare with 15 cent cotton.

A QUITTER'S COUNSEL

Washington, Jan. 12—"The quality of statesmanship which has characterized the Wilson administration is fairly well illustrated by the interview given to the press recently by William G. (Quitter) McAdoo, relative to the effect of deflation upon the agricultural interests of the country," says the Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "Says Mr. McAdoo, 'As I see the situation the country can not look with indifference upon the distressing situation in which the farmers find themselves.' Mr. McAdoo's inference that the country is looking with indifference upon the distressing situation is neither complimentary to the country nor to himself. The country has not looked with indifference and Mr. McAdoo convicts himself of being out of touch with public affairs when he indicates the opinion that such indifference has existed.

"He also says, 'I am frank to say that I think that the policies thus far pursued with respect to credits have been too drastic.' All of the policies which have been pursued were adopted and put into operation before the November elections. In fact, those policies had done the greater part of their distressing work long before the close of the campaign, yet Mr. McAdoo was out on the stump prior to the election urging an endorsement of the present administration by the retention in power in both the legislative and the executive branch of the government of that party which had brought about the deplorable conditions which now exist.

"Mr. McAdoo was formerly Secretary of the Treasury, and by virtue of that position head of the Federal Reserve System, which was very chiefly instrumental in determining the character of deflation the country has experienced. It was largely under Mr. McAdoo's administration that the inflation process was conducted. It was under his administration that a large portion of the paper money was put into circulation. It was due largely to his encouragement that costs of production were increased and prices inflated. After this had been accomplished with his connivance he suddenly resigned his position as Secretary of the Terasury and head of the Federal Reserve System and left the problems of reconstruction to others. His only excuse for deserting his high position at a critical period was that he desired to make more money.

"Mr. McAdoo now presumes to disagree with the policies that have been pursued by his successor. By that disagreement he convicts himself of deserting his country in the time of need and permitting to be inflicted upon the agricultural interests the destructive policies which have been adopted. It is estimated that the losses of the farmers have aggregated $3,500,000,000. There is no means of knowing how much money Mr. McAdoo has been able to make since he quit the office of Secretary of the Treasury, but it must have been considerable if Mr. McAdoo can consider it an adequate recompense for the tremendous losses the farmers have sustained by reason of the adoption of the policies of his successors rather than the continuance of those he would have pursued if he had continued at his post.

"We do not say that Mr. McAdoo would have governed more wisely than have his successors. Mr. McAdoo says this for himself when he criticizes the policies his successors have adopted. It is unnecessary to attempt to convict him of subjecting the country to the losses which have followed the unwise policies of the present incumbents of the Treasury Department, for Mr. McAdoo convicts himself when he criticizes the manner in which they have performed the duties of the office he deserted."

PAY DUES BY FEB. 1.

The Board of Directors of the Peoples Telephone Company at the meeting last Saturday, set Feb. 1 as the time limit for paying telephone central dues. The fee is $3 for people on the lines out in the country and $5 for those on the lines inside the Town of Clanton.

Mrs. Plier has given up the position of operator of the Central of the Peoples Telephone Company, and has been succeeded by Mr. A. W. Powell who was elected by the Board of Directors last Saturday. Mr. Powell is moving his family into the building this week and will be ready by next Monday to begin his work on the lines in Clanton. His family will take care of the central. We hope right away to be able to show some improvement in the telephone service.

Mr. J. M. Grant came to our office Wednesday, and we were surprised to learn that he had been at home since Christmas day sick with a severe case of the flu. He was taken ill while at his work guarding at Roebuck Mines in Shelby County, and reached his home here with considerable difficulty, arriving on Christmas day. He took his bed and is just now able to be out again.

CUT COTTON COST BY MAKING FOOD

Southern Farm Prosperity Absolutely Dependent on Cutting Production Cost Through Food-Making and Saving.

Atlanta, Ga.—(Special.)—"A right-about-face movement in 1921 is necessary if the farmers of the South are to get on safe, firm ground again," said H. G. Hastings, President of the great Southeastern Fair.

"It looks as if we all went cotton crazy last spring, despite all the danger signals flying and the disregard of plain facts as to costs of cotton production. We have repeated our follies of 1911 and 1914 and piled up debts based on costly food and grain to be paid for by cotton that is now below cost of production.

"With few exceptions those items of food and grain could and should have been produced on home acres at one-third to one-half what the supply merchant charges for them.

"Cotton is the one best money crop for the South, and probably always will be. The time of war prices is over and the problem from now on is to lower cost of production and at the same time afford the cotton grower a fair profit.

"Cost of making cotton is primarily the cost of food, grain and forage for the farmer, his family, his laborers or tenants, and his work stock. Cutting food, grain and forage costs by home production will reduce cotton costs from one-third to one-half.

"Plant for an abundance of food, grain and forage, thus cutting down store bills, and the lower prices for cotton will not hurt so much. We cannot, with European countries so thoroughly disorganized, reasonably expect high prices for cotton for several years and we must make cotton at lower cost, or else quit cotton growing.

"Most of us cannot quit cotton, hence the absolute necessity of food, grain and forage planting in 1921—the making on home acres of every pound of food and grain needed to see us through.

"In this food production program, take the home vegetable garden seriously. Give the home garden a square deal and it will surprise you in the amount of healthful food produced. It takes the least ground, can be planted the earliest, brings quick returns and if kept replanted and worked will stay by you all the season through."

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

Mrs. J. M. Soberg returned from Birmingham Monday night after a visit of a few days to her daughter, Mrs. Walter Morgan.

Miss Alma Lefstead who has been at home for the holidays left Friday night for Thomasville, Ala. where she is teaching.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Hanson entertained the F. C. Club at their home on Saturday night. Cards were played until a late hour when delicious refreshments were served. As the weather was bad not all the members were present. Those enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Hanson were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reagan, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Howard, Miss Naemi Turnquist and Mrs. James E. Biggs. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all present.

On Saturday night a private dance was given by Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Wood. The victrola furnished splendid music for the occasion. Friends of Dr. and Mrs. Wood from both Clanton and Jemison enjoyed their hospitality.

Business picked up around the L. & N. depot Monday morning as the Superintendent's special car came through. The little agent had everything "spic and span." Wouldn't it be nice to have the superintendent to visit us every morning?

Misses Bertha and Versa Littleton spent the week-end in Birmingham doing their spring shopping.

Mr. Edwin Soberg returned Wednesday morning to Sheboygan, Wis., after spending several days in Thorsby with his friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morgan of Ensley announce to their many friends in Thorsby the birth of a baby boy Monday, Jan. 3, whom they have named Walter Morgan, Jr.

Mrs. A. E. Reagan entertained a few friends at tea on Thursday afternoon. Those who called during the afternoon were Mrs. Ernie Hanson, Mrs. James Bosworth, Mrs. Headley, Mrs. Diefenderfer, Mrs. G. Berlin, Mrs. J. E. Biggs, Miss Alma Lefstead, Mrs. C. R. Foss, and Miss Naemi Turnquist.

BANK OFFICERS MEET

The annual stockholders meeting of the Bank of Thorsby was held on last Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, at which directors for this year were elected.

Those elected were A. M. Grimsley, Chas. E. Lucas, J. R. Martin, E. W. Butler, Felix Eiland, Robt. Johnson, and Carl C. Peterson.

A general spirit of good feeling was in evidence among the stockholders, as the bank has closed its first year very successfully.

It has been proven that a bank is needed at Thorsby, and that the citizens are behind the institution with their support.

The annual meeting of the Thorsby Fruit and Truck Growers Association was held on last Saturday afternoon, when the following officers for the year were elected:

President, M. J. Soberg; Vice-President, T. J. Martin; Secretary and Manager, L. E. Diefenderfer; Treasurer, C. H. Thomsen; Shipping Board, G. S. Burnett, Carl C. Peterson, E. R. Piper, C. A. Peterson, and Conrad Carlson.

Reports for the past season were made and general plans for the coming season were taken up. This association has, for a number of years, been a great factor in the upbuilding of the community, and it is to the interest of every farmer in and near Thorsby, who realizes the necessity of diversification, to become a member of this organization.

Mr. G. Berlin spent the week-end with his family in Thorsby. His home in Birmingham is nearing completion, and we regret to hear that he and his family will soon leave our little city to reside there.

The Congregational Church at Thorsby held their annual meeting on Wednesday evening the 5th inst. Reports were presented by the Trustees, Clerk, Pastor, Treasurer, Sunday School Superintendent, Primary Department, Christian Endeavor Society and the Ladies Aid Society. Every report noted improvement in all departments, with all bills paid and a comfortable balance in the treasury. Previous to the meeting for business upwards of a hundred members and friends of the church enjoyed a social hour and bountiful supper provided by the ladies of the church in conformity with their annual custom. In the report of the Trustees it was announced that interior decoration of the church building and the securing of a parsonage are projected for the near future.

Mr. James E. Biggs went to St. Louis, last Thursday on a business trip.

Mrs. Robert Johnson entertained a number of friends at a dinner party on Sunday.

Miss Emily Ellsworth, Miss Marjorie Fox, and Mrs. Ethel Wright Loveland, teachers in Thorsby Institute, report a very enjoyable trip to Montgomery and other cities further south. They are very appreciative of courtesies extended them by the people whom they met as strangers, particularly a Montgomery corner policeman and the custodian of Confederate relics at the State House in the city of Montgomery, who both gave them much prized information. They are also wondering how folks could tell so quickly they were from the north.

The Chamber of Commerce of Thorsby, at its regular meeting appointed a committee consisting of Rev. J. M. Graham, Prof. C. M. Williams, Mr. C. A. Petersen, Mrs. Hattie M. Gerald, and Miss Bertha Littleton, representing the Chamber of Commerce and the Parent-Teachers Association, and instructed their secretary to notify the local board of education that they were ready to cooperate in any manner that will further the project of providing a new public school building for Thorsby.

An interesting social event of the last week was the party given by Mr. Ed Soberg at the home of his parents. Games and cards were played until quite late when sandwiches, cake and hot coffee was served. The guests of Mr. Soberg were Misses Agnes Leary, Nellie Shannon, Clara Petersen, Anna and Inga Erdahl, Beatrice Johnson, Nellie Werness and Naemi Turnquist. Messrs. Walter Johnson, Walter Parnell, Martin Nelson, Olaf Larsen, Harry Petersen, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Biggs, and Mr. Knut.

Mrs. Anna Villadsen left for Birmingham on Wednesday.

The Congregational Ladies Aid met last week at Mrs. J. H. Goddard's for its annual business meeting.

The Sweedish Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs. Conrad Carlson on Thursday, January 14. As new officers will be elected for the year, every member is urged to be present also all friends of the members.

Miss Helen C. Jenkins, Principal of Thorsby Institute, returned Tuesday from a visit to her perents at Demorest, Ga.

Thorsby Institute opened on Tuesday after the holidays with most of the students returned. The regular quarterly meeting of the Board of Trustees will be held at Bates Hall Thursday, January 13, when it is expected that important matters concerning the future plans in the interest of the school will be considered.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Thomsen returned Tuesday from Memphis, Tenn. where they went to spend the holidays with their daughter, Mrs. Lewis Gouthe.

Miss May Parnell has just returned from Tuscaloosa where she has been spending a few days visiting her friends.

Children at the Bread Kitchens

Three and a half million children in eastern and central Europe wait, gaunt and pinched like these, at the American kitchens for the hot soup and bread that mean life to them. In the winters since the Armistice, America has been the one friend that had food to give them. It is a common sight in Europe today to see a child five or six years old whose head has not healed. With a healthy well fed baby the skull should close before two years. America must see these children through the rigors of another winter, and to that end eight great relief organizations have combined into the European Relief Council. They seek to raise $33,000,000 to save this generation of Europe from death by starvation and the diseases that come with under-feeding.

True Caution.

"What is William crying about?" asked Mrs. Smith of the new nurse.

"Well, ma'am, he wanted to go to Tommy Brown's."

"Why didn't you let him go?"

"They were having charades, he said, ma'am, and I wasn't sure as he'd had 'em yet!"—Harper's Monthly.

WEAK, NERVOUS, ALL RUN-DOWN

Missouri Lady Suffered Until She Tried Cardui.—Says "Result Was Surprising."—Got Along Fine, Became Normal and Healthy.

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 6, this place. "I kept getting headaches and having to go to bed," continues Mrs. Williams describing the troubles from which she obtained relief through the use of Cardui. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me.

"I saw after taking some Cardui . . . that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person.

"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me . . . My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments.

SOCIETY AND PERSONALS

MRS. R. E. LUCKIE, Editor.

Childrens Party Enjoyed.

Miss Clara Mae Popwell was a lovely little hostess on Saturday evening at the home of her parents celebrating her ninth birthday. The house was artistically decorated with ferns and seasonable flowers. The dining table was attractive with a birthday cake holding nine lighted candles. Here the happy crowd was served delicious jello and cake. Afterwards they contested to see who could blow out the most candles. Arthur Johnson, Jr., and Miss Amise Cowart proved the successful ones, each receiving a box of home-made candy as a prize.

Tuesday Card Club Meets.

The members of the Tuesday evening card club enjoyed an unusually interesting game with Mrs. Harvey Chandler, hostess.

After a series of games the hostess served delicious charlotte and black fruit cake to Mrs. Carrie Mullins, Mrs. Eric Hart, Mrs. Hosea Downs, Mrs. Guy Higgins, Mrs. Grady Reynolds, Mrs. Sam Johnson, and Miss Bettie Mullins.

Mrs. Armstrong Entertains.

Mrs. John Armstrong delightfully entertained the members of the Pollyanna Club last Wednesday evening.

The evening was spent playing rook. Christmas colors were used in the adorning of the apartments, also in the refreshments.

After the games a lovely salad plate was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Luckie and Mrs. M. L. White.

Those sharing the hospitality of the evening were Mrs. Upchurch, Mrs. Hinkle, Mrs. White, Mrs. Clyde Jones, Mrs. Latham, Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Mrs. Elbert Littlejohn, Mrs. Luckie, Mrs. J. C. Jones, Miss Mabel Thomas.

Rook Party Enjoyed.

Mrs. W. D. Spigener entertained at a delightful rook party last Saturday night in compliment to the Grammar School teachers.

The decorations for the occasion were lovely ferns and Christmas greens. After a series of games lovely refreshments were served to Miss Mary Timmerman, Miss Selman, Miss Nix, Miss Williams, Messrs. Jim Rasberry, David Vines, J. L. Johnson, and Curry Thomas.

Miss Nellie Barnes of Shades Mountain has returned to her home after a visit to Mrs. Ed Plier in Clanton during the past week.

Mrs. Shepard Hostess.

One of the prettiest entertainments of the early spring was given by Mrs. Jake Shepard at the handsome home of Mrs. J. C. Jones, celebrating the fifth birthday of her little daughter, Ruth. The apartments in a color scheme of pink and white, were never lovelier.

Upon the arrival of the little guests they were received by Mrs. J. C. Jones and ushered into the drawing room where in a most pleasing manner she accepted the many useful and dainty gifts from her little friends. After spending the greater part of the afternoon in games and the hearing of mother goose rhymes, the little tots were invited into the dining room where the prettily embossed cake was placed. The luncheon cloth was spread over pink satin and in the center the cake holding five lighted candles. Each place of the little folks was marked with pink and white balloons, these being presented as a memento of the occasion. Delicious jello and cake were served.

An interesting feature of the evening was several fancy dances given by Miss Hilda Hart and recitations by Joe Moore. Miss Alice Stanfield rendered several piano selections.

About thirty of the youngest set called during the evening.

Wednesday Card Club Meets.

The members or the Wednesday Card Club were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Victor Heard on Wednesday. The Club will meet with Mrs. McSwain next Wednesday.

After the game the members were served a lovely salad plate.

Mrs. S. A. Goodwyn of Montgomery arrived in Clanton last Saturday and is the guest of Mrs. Luckie.

Dinner Party Given.

Last Thursday Mrs. Gilvey McKee proved a most gracious hostess when she entertained a few of her friends at a dinner party. The home was prettily decorated with the Christmas colors. An elaborate turkey dinner with accessories was served at the noon hour. The central table ornament was a pretty potted plant. Covers were laid for Mrs. Lula Powell, Mrs. Clyde Jones, Mr. Jim Rasberry, Mr. Tom Littlejohn, Mr. G. O. McKee and the hostess.

Mrs. Hugh Jones Hostess.

One of the most enjoyable social functions of the recent holiday season was given by Mrs. Hugh Jones when she entertained the Embroidery Club on last Thursday. The home was elaborately decorated, the holiday colors of red and green being used. Cut flowers and potted plants transformed the entire reception room into a tropical garden.

Upon the arrival of the guests they were invited into the dining room, where a four course turkey dinner was served. In the dining room a table spread with red satin and a cover of maderia with the center a tiny Christmas tree was arranged, and the scene lighted with red tapers, at each end of the table burning in silver chandeliers. Covers were laid for ten and the evening was spent in fancy needle craft.

Mr. Eugene Roy returned from Birmingham Sunday where he underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Pretty Childrens Party.

On last Friday night at the attractive home of Mrs. Ed Plier was the scene of much merriment when she entertained the members of her Sunday School class with several extra guests. The home was prettily decorated in ferns and cut flowers and music was enjoyed throughout the entire evening. Many games and a contest were enjoyed till a late hour when delicious hot chocolate and cake was served to about twenty guests.

One big lot of Ladies and Childrens Shoes will be sold at ELMORE'S January Clearance Sale at half price.

The reading of Act V, Taming of the Shrew, Discussion led by Mrs. Van Derveer. Historical Influence of Whittier, Mrs. Hayes. The Norsemen by Mrs. Hart.

After which a delicious salad plate was served. Among the visitors were Mrs. Richards of Mississippi, Mrs. Bridges, Mrs. Downs and Mrs. Pitts.

Mr. Macy Jones, who has been at work in Birmingham for some time, returned home last Saturday.

The NEW EDISON

At last you can learn

What Edison Did during the War

YOU wondered—everybody wondered, and practically nobody knew how Edison "did his bit." At last the official announcement is out! Come in and get your copy of the bulletin: "What Did Edison Do During the War?"—or write, if you can't call.

It tells what Edison did while Chairman of the Naval Consulting Board—how he spent months at sea, experimenting and inventing devices for foiling the German submarines.

The bulletin also tells how Edison stood the gaff and kept the price of the New Edison down to bed-rock during the era of high costs and soaring prices. The New Edison has increased in price less than 15% since 1914—part of this increase is war tax. The bulletin also tells Mr. Edison's views on our Budget Plan which makes the New Edison easy to buy.

WE CAN USE THAT TEN BILLION

Washington, Jan. 11—What the Ten Billion Dollar foreign debt means to the peeople of the United States is set forth by the Republican Publicity Association, through its president, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., as follows:

"A number of newspapers have been calling attention, recently, to some of the uses the United States could make of the $10,000,000,000 this country has loaned to European nations, and which, eventually, we hope to have repaid. A number of those who have commented on this subject have pointed out at an average cost of $25,000 a mile the ten billion dollars woulud construct 400,000 miles of hard surfaced highway—enough to give the United States the best highways in the world. Suggestions along this line are evidently made, not with the view of advising what should be done with the money, but what might be done with it—the purpose being to illustrate in a concrete way what ten billion dollars actually means.

"The fact of the matter is that few people are able to grasp the immensity of valuation expressed with a dollar sign, a figure "1" and ten ciphers. All of us can recognize a dollar when it looks like forty cents. Many of us can remember when a dollar looked as big as a wagon wheel and some of us can visualize a thousand dollars, and we presume there are a lot of people who really understand what a million dollars means.

"But ten billions is beyond the power of any human mind to grasp, unless it is translated into some concrete form with which we are more familiar and which we can stretch our imaginations to comprehend. Therefore, when some newspepers translated our foreign loans into miles of hard surface highway, they rendered a real public service, for they helped the people of the United States to understand exactly what is proposed by those visionaries who advocate the cancellation of the European debts to the United States.

"There are other good and useful things the United States can and will do with that ten billions when we get it back. In the first place the United States owes some $24,000,000,000 on which it is paying interest. The interest charge goes far to swell the taxes the American people are called upon to pay each year. A considerable part of that ten billions could be applied to the liquidation of the debts owed by the United States, thus stopping the interest charge.

"Moreover, if a considerable part of that ten billions were applied to the payment of outstanding Liberty Bonds, those bonds, which are now worth about 85 cents on the dollar, would advance in market value, and perhaps reach par. People who loaned their money to the government on the assurance that the loan would be a safe investment, but who have witnessed a 15 per cent decline in the value of their security, will scarcely favor a cancellation of the ten billion dollar debt when it could be applied to the payment of the obligations the government owes them.

"Cancellation of the ten billion dollar debt would be a relief to the people of the European nations to that extent, but it would be in effect, an additional burden upon the American people to a similar extent. Cancellation of the debt would postpone the time when the United States will be able to pay its own bonds, would extend the period during which American taxpayers must raise money to pay interest, and would delay the time when Liberty Bonds will be restored to par.

"As remarked before, if we do not use that ten billion dollars to build roads, we can find other good and useful purposes to which it can be applied."

ABOUT ROAD LAWS.

Editor Union-Banner:

There is being a great deal said in regard to what kind of a road law we need, and I have been asked the question "What kind of a road law are you in favor of?"

May I say that we might have all the law that might be thought of and unless it is put in force we will not have any roads. We might have all the money we want, and unless it is applied to the roads, we can't have any roads.

I can't say what kind of a road law I am in favor of without having an "if" in it.

I am in favor of working the roads by taxation, if the money could be rightly applied. I think taxation is the fairest way of working roads. The roads are largely worked by men and boys who don't own even a wheelbarrow. I think the ones who put the wear and tear on the roads should be the ones to keep them up

I am in favor of anyone carrying a ton and upwards over the public roads paying a special road tax.

If anyone has a better plan, let's have it, for I think Chilton County needs some good roads.

Yours truly,
C. T. WALKER

Lawley, Ala., Jan. 10, 1921.

In the absence of the Pastor next Sunday night there will be a community Sing at the Clanton Baptist Church. The old familiar hymns will be sung, and an enjoyable program will be arranged. Everybody is invited to this occasion. A choir will help lead the isnging.—P. G. Carter.

I Felt Myself Growing Stronger

ARE THE WORDS OF A HUNTSVILLE LADY AFTER TAKING DRECO FOR ONE WEEK.

Built Up Her Run Down System, increased Her Strength, Relieved the Constipation and Kidney Trouble.

"I can walk a long distance now, and it does not tire me down like it used to before I took the great remedy, Dreco," says Mrs. Mattie Walker of Washington St., Huntsville, Alabama.

"Every day I could almost feel myself getting stronger; my appetite began to increase, and I'd sleep so much better, there is no wonder I had more strength, then too Dreco soon relieved the constipation, which has been such a continual worry to me. It is remarkable how soon it overcame that trouble.

"The dull aching pains in my back also disappeared, and I have not had one dizzy spell recently. My stomach no longer feels swollen up with gas for my food digests and gives me strength. I'll tell you I am happy over what Dreco did for me, and I urge every person to try this great remedy, for it won't disappoint them in my opinion."

Dreco is composed of the juices and extracts of many different roots herbs, leaves, whic act on the stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels, and and purify the blood. It relieves the constipation, prevents gas forming in the stomach, increases the appetite, induces sound refreshing sleep, banishes catarrh of the head, and takes the pain out of rheumatic joints.

All druggists sell Dreco, and it is being especially introduced in Clanton by Upchurch Drug Co.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

Last Sunday was a bad day for the churches, indeed we are beginning to wonder when the next good Sunday will really come. We miss the people and the church is suffering, but we are planning for a good and representative gathering next Sunday morning when all the church is asked to be present, and cast their vote to begin work on the new church by April the 1st. Numbers have said they are anxious to begin and ready to pay their pledge when a start is made. The cause is suffering greatly for want of the new building. Our Sunday School could be doubled with the proper equipment. Our congregations would be much larger, as the people would feel more like attending church with a good building that will help to inspire our worship. The money with which to build it has all been pledged. It is a legal as well as a moral obligation. Almost everyone that has made a pledge can pay that pledge now or secure the money with which to pay it. The site will soon be cleared of the house, and with the prospects of good weather from April on, there is no real reason why a start should not be made. When the building is once commenced, there will be no stopping it. Never started, never accomplished. All Baptists who love the cause, and all who are good citizens cannot afford to stand back or try to block the forward step of this great, needy and worthy enterprise.

The morning hour from 11 to 12 on next Sunday will be given to the decision of this matter. Therefore, whether rain or shine, hot or cold, be present next Sunday morning to register your vote to commence the new building not later than April 1st.

The pastor expects to preach at Thorsby next Sunday night. We are hoping for a good Sunday School attendance next Sunday morning and also the various B. Y. P. U. and Sunbeam organizations.

Everybody is cordially invited to our services. If we can serve you, call on us.

"The Baptist Advocate," our new Church Parish paper, will be mailed or delivered to every home in Clanton free of charge. Its publication is made possible through the kindness of our advertisers. It is being distributed to every home in Clanton, and about 100 homes in Thorsby to give it an advertising value. We hope you will read it and support the advertisers.—P. G. CARTER, Pastor.

S. S. CONVENTION.

Our county officers came home from the S. S. Convention at Minooka last Sunday very much encouraged, although it was a very cold and rainy day. Many of the good people showed much interest. We were all given a very warm welcome, and the very best attention was given while our speakers addressed them.

Mr. W. M. Aldridge, Calera, Ala., was made President; Miss Addie Horsley, Jemison, Ala., Secretary. As a Secretary Miss Horsley can never be beat, and we feel sure that under the new officers District No. 1 will surely reach the gold star standard.

MOLDING PUBLIC OPINION

"Bright Outlook Seen by Local Business Men; Depression is Purely Mental." So runs the headlines in a daily paper. Why should we, ostrich like, hide our heads in the sands of delusion, instead of looking at facts, and being guided by them?

Cotton is the main profit-producing crop of the South. Millions of bales of this year's crop are yet unsold. There is no prospect of a profitable market for it. To show how little the money, or credit, of the people who formerly bought more than one-half of the crop is worth, the following is quoted from the "Country Gentleman," (found in an article discussing the woollen market, now dead for the same reason as the cotton market.) "The other day a German who used to have large business relations with London, came back to England for the first time since August, 1914. He went to his old London tailors and had a suit made. It was the first decent piece of cloth, he said, he had seen for a long time. 'But,' he remarked ruefully, 'this will have to last me a long time. Considering the present exchange rate, this suit is costing me £150.' That is $750 in American money. So low has the mark fallen in world exchange!" So you will see that even cotton is obliged to be a luxury to them. This consequently lessened demand for it can be supplied by Egypt, India, Japan, South America, etc., where labor is very cheap.

In fact, by reason of cheap labor and cheap water transportation great quantities of cotton seed oil is shipped from Japan and sold in America. Made into artificial compound substitutes for lard and butter, they directly compete with the products of dairymen, hog raisers and cotton growers. Selling associations as proposed, cannot remedy such thing, where some other country can supply the demand. This is proved by the experience of the California raisin growers, and the wheat growers in the northwest. For several years the raisin growers secured satisfactory returns through co-operative marketing associations. Now 14,000,000 pounds of raisins have been laid down in New York, freight and duty paid, at 10 to 12 cents per pound, from Australia, South America and Europe. California growers have all been holding for 20 cents, a living price, considering production costs.

While the U. S. wheat growers are holding for $3 per bushel, Canada is supplying our needs at the prevailing market price, less than $2 per bushel.

South America is proving to be well adapted to cotton production. Cheap labor and cheap water transportation will shortly make it possible for the wholesalers of Montgomery or Birmingham to buy cotton cloth made in South America for much less than they can buy cloth made in Massachusetts out of cotton grown in Alabama.

The world is now so closely bound together by telegraph (or cable) and water transportation that no part of the world is dependent upon any one country for staple articles of food or clothing. To illustrate how cheap water transportation and cheap oriental labor (Japanese and Chinese) directly affects us, the following is quoted from a communication to the Birmingham News by G. T. McElderry, of Talladega:

"I called the Public Service Commission's attention to the fact that the rate of $11 per ton on peanuts from Ozark to Talladega (both in Alabama) was higher than the rate from oriental points (Japan and China) to San Francisco. The President of the Commission replied sarcastically that the rates on peanuts from Japan to San Francisco are not filed with the Commission."

Is it now plain to you how Swift & Co., or some other big manufacturer, can furnish compound lard or artificial butter made of cotton seed oil from China, Japan or South America, to the trade in America, put the American market for cotton seed on an oriental basis? Either take their prices or keep your seed. It is the same with cotton. No combination of growers can determine what they shall get for their crop. The big selling exchange in the big cities (who keep posted on supply and demand all over the world) make or accept bids to satisfy demands of customers. The country or representative dealer who will agree to furnish enough goods on any certain date to satisfy the demand—and the lowest price—is the one that closes the trade. No question of sentiment regarding standards of living or any other human consideration is given a second's thought; only the dollar talks. Put up or shut up.

You can organize and say you will sell only to the mills direct, and hold till you get your price. But mill owners will buy where they can get raw material the cheapest. And it must be low enough so they can sell cloth in competition with cloth made by the cheapest labor on earth No trouble to hold cotton seed and peanuts without any organization, because Japs and Chinamen are supplying the demand for oils, the finished product made from them. The same will hold true of cotton, regardless of selling organizations, so long as we sit in the game called world commerce.

We must create our own home market through co-operation and manufacturing; and our customers will be near at hand, able and willing to consume the product.

The people of Denmark are sending a million pounds of butter a week to America. It is now selling at 52 cents per pound wholesale, because it is a standard product of uniform quality. Our farmers are getting about 25 cents per pound for a miscellaneous product, when they could as well get 55 cents for fresh butter made by an expert in a co-operative creamery. Chilton county is admirably adapted to dairying.

Bring your market near home and they would get 80 cents, the retail price in the cities.

An Associated Press dispatch of Dec. 31 states that the 21 cotton mills in Spartanburg County, S. C., with a capitalization of $8,909,900.00 paid dividends of $8,242,049.00 for the past year. This same year farmers get less than cost of production for cotton. This means that the growers not only work for the enrichment of the factory owners and railroads, etc., without pay, but actually pay them for the privilege of working for them. They virtually gave the factory owners over 8 million dollars (almost the full amount of their investment) which could have been kept for themselves, had they been enterprising enough to replace privately owned factories with factories co-operatively owned by themselves. The raw material, the means and men with the ability to put it through are at hand. The men must arouse and think first; then act.

TWO PRINCIPLES AS A BASIS FOR PEACE

Washington, Jan. 12.—Advocating a combination of the Knox principle and the Monroe Doctrine as a basis for peace, the Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., declares:

"Since the death of Charlemagne in 814 Europe has been the cockpit of the human race. In the course of eleven centuries that continent has experienced not a decade of unalloyed peace. The unwise division of Charlemagne's empire in 843 by the Treaty of Verdun, on the basis of natural frontiers, instead of racial boundaries, as held by historians to be chiefly responsible for the ages of combat and land-grabbing which have written the history of Europe in the blood of millions.

"'In the careers of Greece and Rome,' says Horne, 'we saw exemplified the results of two sharply opposing tendencies of the Aryan mind, the one toward individualism and separation, the other toward self-subordination and union. In the time of Charlemagne's splendid successes it appeared settled that the second of these tendencies was to guide the Teutonic Aryans, that the Europe of the future was to be a single empire, ever pushing out its borders as Rome had done, ever subduing its weaker neighbors, until the 'Teutonic peace' should be substituted for the shattered 'Roman peace,' soldiers should be needed only for the duties of police, and a whole civilized world obey again the rule of a single man. Instead of this, the race has since followed a destiny of separation. Europe is divided into many countries, each of them a vast camp bristling with armies and arsenals. Civilization has continued hag-ridden by war even to our own day.'

"The scheme of the Big Five at Versailles was to substitute for the rule of a single man the rule of a corporate entity to be known as the league of nations into which the United States was to be fastened to serve as a reservoir for men, munitions and money by the owner of which a war trust was to decree the destinies of mankind. The experience of eleven hundred years during which the inherent individualism of the Aryan mind had incessantly asserted itself was utterly ignored. Racial antipathies were flouted and self-determination was made a farce. The Caucasian and the Mongolian, the Christian and the Turk, the Anglo-Saxon and the Hottentot were to be fused in a crucible and hardened in a mold, to be fuxated or fashioned as the league saw fit. Individualism was to be effaced, nationalism was to be canceled. Internationalism as interpreted by the league was to be the new order. Of course such an insane scheme could not succeed, nor can it ever succeed, because as mankind interprets success it must always be achieved at the expense of some other individual or state. Just as soon as the league got together its members began to jockey and quarrel for position, and only by evading issues did the league adjourn, bent but not broken.

"Argentina had the good sense to get out of the diplomatic mess into which she saw Europe being forced by the age-old spirit of intrigue. We had the good sense never to get in. Chile and other Latin American countries have not been favorably impressed by the determination of Europeon diplomats to boss the league and the world. They found European diplomacy unregenerate.

"This leads to the query as to whether out of two enunciations of principle some basis may not be established by which the Western Hemisphere can do something to abate war. The first is the Monroe Doctrine. The second was suggested by Senator Knox, to wit: 'If a situation should arise in which any pawer or cambination of powers should, directly or indirectly menace the freedom and the peace of Europe, the Unted States would regard such situation with a grave concern as a menace to its own freedom and peace and would consult with other powers affected with a view to cencerted action for the removal of such menace.' Europe is not qualified to police the world, but the nations of North and South America can take steps to insure peace in this hemisphere if they will get together on two such principles as these. It is worth considering."

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

"Felt Like Eating"

Man and Wife, All Run-Down from Farm Work, Were Greatly Helped by Ziron.

"MY WIFE and I, after a hard spring on the farm, were tired and run-down," says Mr. E. B. Mulkey, of Route 1, Acworth, Ga. "We neither felt well. I knew my blood was bad, as I had little boils on the back of my neck.

"We felt we needed a builder. We had heard of Ziron and thought it must be what we needed. It certainly was. We took it faithfully, and after a week or such a matter we began to feel better. My wife felt like cooking, and I sure felt like eating.

"Ziron sure did us good. It made us both feel stronger and better for the fall work, which everyone knows is 'some work' on a farm. My boils began to dry up, though just at first they seemed worse.

"We are much better and can highly recommend Ziron, and gladly do so for it sure did us good."

Ziron is a safe, reliable, tonic medicine, good for men, women and children, when an iron tonic is indicated. It is easy to take and contains no habit-forming drugs.

CAPITOL CHAT

FATHER OF ALL HOUSES

Washington, Jan. 11—"Uncle Joe" Cannon Congressman from Illinois, now holds the record for length of service in the House of Representatives. The late Senator Morrill of Vermont served in the House and the Senate for a total of 43 years, 9 months and 24 days. On December 28, Mr. Cannon completed a like period of service, and, as he has been re-elected for the term ending March 4, 1923, there is no reason why he should not exceed by several years the Morrill record; in fact his age and health alone appear to interfere with his ambition to exceed the Gladstone record of 53 years in the British House of Commons. Mr. Cannon will be 85 years old next May, and his hope is to reach the ripe old age of 100.

DISCUSSING NAVAL HOLIDAY

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations has held a meeting for the special consideration of the resolution recently introduced by Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, requesting the President to institute negotiations with other nations looking to a reduction of armaments. The resolution is especially aimed to reduce naval construction among the leading countries, such as the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

KINKAID O. K.

Congressman Moses P. Kinkaid of Nebraska was a vigorous supporter of the tariff bill recently passed by the House for the protection of agricultural products. He contended the farmers are not prepared to protect their interests, and have not the organizations possessed by manufacturers and other industries for that purpose. "All of the products listed in this bill," declared Mr. Kinkaid, "have been since the war and are now coming into the United States from foreign countries and sold in our markets in competition with our own products. Is it fair to give the foreign producer a financial advantage over the American producer in the American market? The pending bill is intended to right this manifest wrong. It is a patriotic bill, because it stands for America and American producers."

KNOWS GOVERNMENT NEEDS.

Under appointment by President McKinley, Congressman William E. Andrews of Nebraska served for 18 years as auditor for the Treasury department until he entered the House in the present Congress. During that long period of Federal service he acquired a knowledge of the operations of the administrative departments of the government that makes his views on the pending bill for their reorganization of special value. He is convinced that substantial economies can be realized through the elimination of duplication of work in the various Federal bureaus. Thru a central accounting system which could list expenditures for duplicated services from the vouchers on which such payments are made, Mr. Andrews believes a joint committee of the two Houses of Congress could locate such duplications, measure the scope of same, and make suitable provision for their elimination.

St. Louis Times—Mr. Gompers does not realize that part of that 7,500,000 Harding plurality was a rebuke of his autocratic attitude.

You will find a complete line of Piece Goods to select from at ELMORE'S January Clearance Sale.

DEMOCRATS HAVE EXCUSE

In consistency with their platform pledges, the Democrats in the Senate can heartily support the agricultural tariff bill which is now pending in that body. It is true that they are opposed to a protective tariff and could not consistently support the measure because of its protective features, but the Democratic platform of 1920 contained this declaration on the subject of the tariff:

"We affirm the traditional policy of the Democratic party in favor of a tariff for revenue only."

The present Democratic tariff is yielding an everage ad valorem revenue of a little more than 6 per cent. The ordinary Republican tariff law yielded an average of 18 per cent. Of course the Republican law provided a considerable measure of protection, but if we look at it entirely from the viewpoint of the Democratic principle of revenue it was a law superior to that which the Democrats enacted in its stead. The Democratic tariff law is producing an annual revenue from customs of about $360,000,000. If the rates of import duty were increased to the Republican standard there could quite likely be derived through the customs houses a national revenue of nearly a billion dollars. The measure now pending in the Senate is not a complete tariff law, and was hastily drawn, so that it should be considered emergency legislation. It applies almost entirely to agricultural products, but it is a step in the direction of increased revenue thru the customs houses and, because of that feature of it, the Democrats can properly give it their support. The fact that the law will afford some protection for the producers of agricultural products in his state ought not be given as an excuse by any Democrat for his failure to support the bill.

CHANCE FOR TRANSFER

If there is any foundation for an understanding which is common in financial circles, Great Britain, and France and other European countries which are creditors of the United States, are holders of securities of Governments and municipalities in countries that were not directly involved in the European War. Those securities are absolutely good, are selling approximately at par, and are not likely to be depreciated by an excessive tax burden. This should not be lost sight of by those representatives of the United States Government who are charged with the responsibility of conducting negotiations for the refunding of the debt owed by Great Britain and other European nations to the United States.

If those countries are sincerely desirous of liquidating their obligations to the United States they might make a beginning by turning over to the United States some of the securities they own from other nations in the Western Hemisphere and elsewhere outside the war zone.

WHAT AN AWFUL RECORD

Secretary Baker tells Congress he has incurred a deficit in his department during the current year of $76,000,000. That means that he has spent that sum in excess of the amount allotted to the War Department in the appropriations for the fiscal year 1921. The chief item in that deficit is for pay of the army. The current appropriation bill limited the size of the army to 175,000 men, but Mr. Baker has recruited it up to about 220,000 men and is still advertising for more. One Congressman, when asked if he was going to impeach Baker for his contempt of the law, replied, "What's the use? He is to go out in two months anyway, and an impeachment would only advertise Baker and seriously impede the passage of necessary legislation."

PASTORS AND WORKERS CONFERENCE.

A meeting of the Ministers and Workers of the Chilton County and Unity Baptist Associations was held at the Clanton Baptist Church on Monday, Jan. 10th, for the purpose of reorganizing the conference for these two Associations. There was a very fair attendance present. Rev. D. D. Head, of Marbury, was elected President, Rev. W. P. Lowery of Thorsby, Vice-President, and Rev. P. G. Carter, Secretary and Treasurer. The following were appointed as program committee for the next year: P. G. Carter, W. A. Goss, W. P. Lowery, W. T. Johnson.

The following brethren gave report of their various fields for the past month, and their prospective outlook for the next year: E. A. Norris, J. D. Hughes, W. A. Goss, W. P. Lowery, P. G. Carter, B. C. Hughes, D. D. Head, J. T. Deason, and Judson Strock for Verbena.

By motion and vote of the brethren it was agreed that the regular meetings be held on Monday after the Second Sunday of each month, to meet quarterly at Clanton, and the other months at the different churches of the Associations. The next of the meetings will be held at the Thorsby Baptist Church, and the following meeting in March, at the Chestnut Creek Church, Coopers.

After a good discussion by the brethren it was agreed that both the Chilton County and the Unity Associations unite in one good Baptist Sunday School Convention which is to be organized in the Spring.

The meeting then adjourned.—P. G. Carter, Secretary.

Gov. Harding Optimistic Over Nation's Finances

SAYS WHATEVER DANGER OF CRISIS THERE HAS BEEN IS PASSED— FUTURE IS BRIGHT.

New York, Jan. 17—Both long term credits and investments in European securities are called for the present situation supplement ordinary economic and financial rehabilitation of foreign countries, Governor Harding of the federal reserve board declared in an address here tonight before a group meeting of New York State Bankers association.

Speaking on "Working back to Normal," Governor Harding asserted that whatever danger of crisis there may have been is passed and that a bright future is ahead to be attained through hard and intelligent work.

Production must continue if the crountry is to prosper, the governor said, but surplus production must be disposed of by sale to foreign countries. Under present conditions, he continued, many countries cannot pay for goods in the usual manner and "it is necessary that we should devise new means of financing our foreign trade."

Continuance of trade with Europe is vital, Governor Harding declared, and the maintenance of the trade relationships of other countries with Europe is scarcely less important.

"Otherwise there will be a constant tendency," the governor explained, "toward the accumulation here of goods, principally raw materials, from those countries which have been in the habit of selling to Europe, but which now, on account of Europe's inability to pay and their own inability to extend credit, are shipping to the United States in order to sell for cash.

Refering to the unsettled exchange situation, he said that in the "present circumstances it would be vain to expect to finance our exports to Europe by means of short time bankers' credits."

"The war finance corporation has has been revived," he added, "and subject to the act creating it, it is authorized to extend credits in export transactions, but it is evident that new agencies must be resorted to in order to furnish Europe with long time credit, which is so essential for her rehabilitation and for her continance as a potential buyer in the world's markets."

Foreign trade financing companies incorporated under the Edge act are already in operation under the federal supervision, Governor Harding said, and should their operations prove successful, the formation of others is to be expected.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

The services last Sunday were well attended both morning and evening. More than 130 were present in Sunday School, and the church was three parts or more full at the preaching hour when the members met to decide the beginning of the new building. From the very first a strong spirit was manifest that it was the unanimous wish of the church that the building enterprise proceed without further delay, even if it meant some sacrifice on the part of the people to build it.

After some discussion the motion put by Mr. T. A. Curry that the church request the building committee to proceed at once with the erection of the new building, was carried by a large representative body of the church.

The community sing Sunday night proved to be a very popular event as the church was filled with people who came to enjoy a good hour of song, while the Pastor was absent at Thorsby preaching to a crowded house.

Not only did the other churches of Thorsby dismiss their services, but people came from three miles distant to attend the services. The large audience was much appreciated.

The Ladies Aid meeting on Monday was a fine inspiration when 24 were present. The report on the payment of the pledges to the 75 million campaign was very creditable and showed that they were not very far behind in paying up to date. None of the interests of the kingdom would suffer if everyone paid their pledges as our ladies are doing. All honor to them!

The services will be held next Sunday as usual, morning at 11 and the evening at 7:15. The subject in the morning will be "What is Your Life?" At the night service the Pastor will begin a series of illustrated sermons on different periods of the Life of Christ. Beautiful coloed pictures will be shown with a good lantern and powerful light.

This will be a very interesting series of six sermons and you are cordially invited to them.

With the pospects of the new church let us pull together and work together for the good of the cause to which we belong, in unity, love and fellowship with each other.—P. G. Carter, Pastor.

ARTHUR FRIDAY ARRESTED FOR FORGING CHECK ON BEAN.

Arthur Friday, son of Joe Friday of the western part of this county was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Sheriff Gore after he had secured cash from Bean Bros. to the amount of $37.48 for what later proved to be a worthless check on the Birmingham News.

The young man entered the store of Bean Brothers in Clanton and after purchasing some shirts, presented the check to be cashed. The clerk paid him the money, and when Mr. Bean, who was out at the time returned to the store he became suspicious of the transaction. Upon calling up the Birmingham News he ascertained that the whole matter was a forgery pure and simple.

A warrant was secured for his arrest, and Sheriff Gore set out in pursuit of the man. He was found at Thorsby where he was endeavoring to get another check cashed at the store of Pate Brothers.

After his arrest it was found that he is a traveling crook whose business seems to be that of operating a general scheme of forgery. The Sheriff found in his possession the following checks which he had written with the intent of passing them on whoever he could.

Check on Ellis Drug Co., for $27.34 payable to James Mc-Clain, check on Floyd Scott, payable to Jas. Williams, for $34.17; check on B. M. Gay for $19.40, payable to W. J. Jones check on The Birmingham News for $37.48, payable to Samuel McNeill; check on Dickinson Grocery Co., for $25.45, payable to Roy Scott; another check on Dickinson Grocery Co., for $25.33, payable to Frank Russell. These checks which were filled out, were drawn on the First National Bank of Birmingham, and the American Trust & Savings Bank of Birmingham. He also carried check books of these two banks.

When arrested he carried a pistol, and from his pocket the Sheriff took the picture of a pretty girl supposed to be his sweetheart somewhere. The young man had been in Birmingham for the past two years. He was raised in the western part of this county and only last year was mixed up in a forgery case over in Mississippi.

There is no doubt from all evidence that when Sheriff Gore got this fellow he latched on to a professional crook whose business it is and has been to go about the country practicing his swindling game generally.

The name under which he secured the money from Bean Brothers was Samuel McNeill. But when arrested he gave his real name as Arthur Friday. He was recognized by Mr. Bean who had known him as a school boy in the past; also by Deputy Culp who remembered him from the trouble he was in in Mississippi last year.

REV. BONE VERY ILL.

Rev. W. S. Cox was a visitor to Clanton Monday. He brought the information to the Banner that Rev. W. J. Bone has been seriously ill for the past few days and is not expected to live much longer. Rev. Bone is one of the oldest preacheers in this county, and he has hosts of friends who regret that he has reached the parting of the ways, marking the point at which his activities and usefulness among the men of the earth must give way to the exigencies of time and old age. But if he goes now, his memory will for years and years, be fresh and warm in the hearts of his brethren throughout the county.

VICE PRESIDENT-ELECT COOLIDGE COMING SOUTH

Boston, Jan. 17—Plans of Vice-President-elect, Coolidge for his trip south include, in addition to his appearance before the southern tariff conference in Atlanta in the last days of this month, a stay of two weeks in some place where he and Mrs . Coolidge may have a quiet vacation. The place has not yet been selected.

During the session of the tariff conference, it is understood that Mr. Coolidge will be entertained at a formal luncheon by Governor Dorsey and that Mrs. Coolidge will be the guest of Mrs. Dorsey at another social affair,. Henry Long, Secretary to Mr. Coolidge, said to-day that other invitations were coming daily, and that some of them doubtless would be accepted, but that after the stay in Atlanta it was the desire of both Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge that they be unhampered by social engagements.

Three Stills Raided in Chilton Co. Last Week

Sheriff's Forces Active in Pursuit of Moonshiners—Law Breakers are Urged to Quit or Get Caught.

Last week was an active one for the force of Sheriff Gore in the raiding of moonshine whiskey plants in the western part of the county. The net that was spread over the whole of the western section of the county, when it was drawn in had three of the alleged violators of the prohibition law in its meshes.

Irby Wyatt, who lives two miles northeast of Stanton was arrested on Thursday, charged with making of whiskey. The officers say they found his complete plant and one-half gallon of whiskey about sixty yards from his house. The officers making this raid were special Federal agent, D. B. Borden, Sheriff J. L. Gore, and Deputies Culp and Curlee. Wyatt was arrested and brought to jail in Clanton. He made a $1,000 bond Saturday and was released to await his trial in the County Court before Judge Reynolds on Feb. 7.

Last Tuesday a raid was made on Ernest Ratliff by Sheriff Gore and Deputies Culp and Curlee. A sixty gallon barrel of beer was found in his smoke house, and the officers say that evidences showed that he had been making whiskey on a furnace which was in the smoke house also. There was no still there. Ratliff was placed in jail, but later made $500 bond. He will be tried Feb. 7, by County Court.

Nelson Atchinson, who lives near Maplesville was arrested on Monday of this week. His place was raided last week by the Sheriff of Bibb County and special agent D. B. Borden. The case was turned over to Sheriff Gore for disposal in the courts of this county. The raid resulted in finding of a complete still near his house, and two barrels of beer in his yard. Atchison was placed in jail, and has made $1000 bond. Trial will be Feb. 7, in county court.

Sheriff Gore is open in his declaration that he will make all efforts possible to bring vilators of the law to the bar of justice and his challenge is, "Quit your meaness, or you will get caught." There is one thing certain, if he gets them all, the jail will not be big enough to hold them.

Go to it Johnny. It will make a man out of you if you can stand it. It is a great life if you dont weaken.

IN MEMORY.

On January 11th the monster of death placed his cold hands upon Vester Willingham, wife of Primus Willingham, and separated her spirit and body, at the age of nineteen. She leaves a husband, an infant daughter, parents, four brothers, three sisters, and a host of relatives and friends to mourn her departure. She was a member of the Church of God in Christ at the Temple. Her last expression of words were: "Don't worry about me, mother, I am going to Heaven." Her remains were placed in Marble City Cemetery at Sylacauga to await the resurrection.

Will DeShazo of Mulberry was a visitor to The Union-Banner office on last Saturday. He brought us a subscription for one of his neighbors over there. All of our readers are invited to follow Will's example. We ought to have twice as many subscribers to the paper in the county as we have. It would enable us to make the paper just twice as good.

Our friends and present subscribers can help us increase our list of readers if they will do a little missionary work for us among their neighbors. Try it, please. We will appreciate it, and so will the neighbors after they have received one or two copies of the paper.

"THE BAPTIST ADVOCATE."

"The Baptist Advocate," is the title of a new monthly magazine that has made its appearance in Clanton with the first number dated January, 1921. Its purpose is stated as the fostering of the interests of the Baptist churches of Clanton and Thorsby.

The new venture is the plan of the Rev. P. G. Carter, pastor of the Clanton Baptist Church, to advertise the work of his church, and to arouse a greater degree of interest in the various aspects of the Baptist field in Clanton and Chilton County.

The Advocate is a neat little magazine of twelve pages, containing a diversity of local reading matter in regard to the work of Clanton Baptists; it contains the advertisements of a number of the merchants and the business men of Clanton and Thorsby, and some syndicated reading matter of general interest.

The plans and purposes of the promoters of the Advocate are good, and if managed in the right way will be the means of adding harvest to the fields of the Baptist workers in our County, as well as the immediate vicinity of the Clanton and Thorsby Churches.

Anyone in the county who is interested in the work and progress of the Baptist denomination would find the Baptist Advocate both interesting and instructive.

THE TRAGEDY AT JASPER

Most regrettable indeed is the awful tragedy that was enacted at Jasper, in Walker County, on last Thursday night, when a young miner by the name of Beard was taken from the county jail by a band of masked men and shot to death a few miles from the outskirts of the city.

This trouble was the climax of a series of disturbances which had been transpiring in the county for several weeks as an outgrowth of the miners strike situation and the policing of the neighborhood by the state mlitia.

Beard's father-in-law, a preacher, by the name of Northcutt, was killed by a soldier named Morris. Following the killing of Rev. Northcutt, Beard shot and killed Private Morris. These two incidents seemed to strain the relations between the miners and the soldiers to the breaking point, which was reached when Beard was taken from the county jail, where he had been placed for the killing of Morris, and himself killed by a band of masked men in the late hours of the night.

Evidence has been produced by the authorities in charge of the situation that implicates ten soldiers, companions of and members of the same company as Private Morris, in the lynching of Beard, and they are now under arrest awaiting the findings of the special grand jury.

The whole tragedy of crime and dissatisfaction that has been prevalent in the district for the past few months is indeed most regrettable. Things as bad as those which have happened are bound to leave their scars upon the communities, the counties and the states in which they occur.

ANDREW MINER'S HOGS.

This winter Andrew Miner (alias Shorty) has made a record of fattening hogs to produce his own meat, which he thinks will settle the argument that some people make that it does not pay to raise your own meat. Following are the figures of Shorty's whole transaction:

Initial cost of three hogs and the whole expense of feeding them was $110.15. When dressed these three hogs produced 774 pounds of meat. The total cost of the meat per pound was therefore a fraction over 14c. And besides this, just think of the liver, chitlins, and souse and crackling bread and other minor things that are so ticklish to the appetite at hog killing time.

Of course it took some of Shorty's time attending to these hogs, but if he hadn't been fooling with the hogs, he very likely would have been wasting that time at something that would have been wort hnothing.

You will find lots of items at ELMORE'S January Clearance Sale cut to the bottom, and in some instances the price is cut more than half.

GETTING A GOOD START EVERY DAY.

RED BLOODED MEN AND WOMEN ARE UP AND DOING BRIGHT AND EARLY.

FREE YOUR BLOOD OF POISON

Take Pepto-Mangan, the Famous Blood Tonic Prescribed by Physicians for 30 Years.

Sluggish blood clogged with poisons makes you lazy. Yeu never feel like getting up in the morning. And when you do get up, you miss that feeling of refreshing rest. You feel more tired than when you went to bed. After a good night sleep you should getup with a spring, feeling alive, renewed and refreshed.

And you would, too, if your blood were full of red corpuscles. Your complexion would look fresh, your eyes bright and clear; you would feel the warm tingle of good health.

Look to your blood if you have that lazy, heavy feeling in the morning. Begin taking Pepto-Mangan—the ideal tonic. It has blood building properties that pick you up and give you strength.

Pepto-Mangan is widely and heartily endorsed by physicians. It is effective and easy to take. It is prepared in both liquid and tablet form. Both have the same medicinal properties.

Sold at any drug store. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's" Ask for it by the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on the package. —Adv.

REYNOLDS ISSUES WARNING ON PROPOSED AMENDMENT

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me space in your paper to say a few words to the people of this county.

We are to have an election Feb. 8 on a proposed amendment to the constitution of our state as to the qualifications of voters. It seems to me that we already have too many "regulations" on voting, as it is so complicated now that an ordinary man can not keep straight and within the law. Following is a part of the proposed amendment to our constitution which was passed by the 1920 legislature, in regard to the qualifications of a voter:

"A person to be entitled to register and vote must, in addition to the qualifications already prescribed, be of good character and must understand the duties and obligations of citizenship under a Republican form of government."

I want to ask in the first place, what is the necessity of this amendment? What condition exists to demand such a change in the qualifications of voters? What does it mean to leave it to the Registrars and election managers to say whether every voter has a good character or not? As a rule, all Registrars are Democrats, and we know when politics is at fever heat how men of different political parties regard each other. Then I would ask if every voter must understand the duties and obligations of citizenship under our republican form of government before they register or vote, how many Republicans could get by a Democratic registration board if they wanted to turn them down?

It also seems to me that it is dangerous to permit the Managers of an election to have the right to question the right of any voter who has qualified under the laws, because the duty of Managers of an election always come at a time when politics is at the very highest pitch.

The proposed amendment, if adopted, will permit the managers of an election and the Registrars to pass on the qualifications of each voter just to suit their own ideas, and I wonder how many Registrars and Managers understand the duties and obligations of citizens under our republican form of government.

It cannot be said that the proposed amendment is to disfranchise the negro, for under our present law negros cannot register and the proposed change must be to effect the white men and women.

I hope all the ladies and men will pay their poll tax so they can vote. Remember if you pay this year it must be done before Feb. 1st.

I also want to call the attention of the Road Apportioners and Road Overseers to the meeting which will be held at the court house Feb. 14th. The Commissioners will expect a report from all apportioners, and will appoint Apportioners for the next term at this meeting.

Yours very truly,
L. H. REYNOLDS,
Clanton, Ala., Jan. 19, 1921.

LYCEUM COURSE

The next number of the Lyceum Course, will appear here next Wednesday night Jan. 26th.

This number will be the Ward Waters Company, composed of two ladies and Mr. Waters, who is in charge of the organization. They will give us a musical program.

Mr. Waters heads one of Lyceum's Most popular companies This young artist when almost in his 'teens began his Lyceum and stage career. He studied hard, and has taken his art seriously. He had made a big success of platform work. He is entitled to his success.

As a character make-up artist Ward Waters ranks high among the foremost platform entertainers af the day. He brings to the Lyceum family not only talent, but an originality and a newness that are most refreshing.

The company is versatile. For instance Mr. and Mrs. Waters give whistling duets, and the program includes a playlet which gives ample opportunity for their talents. Their dramatic work is praticularly good as both have had extensive stock company as well as Lyceum, experience.

Miss Mable Whitley, the vocalist is a gifted young singer with a beautiful voice of clarity, flexibility and sympathetic quality.

The Ward Waters program is one you will remember long for its all round cleverness.

We hope that we will have a large attendence.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Thorsby Chamber of Commerce met last Monday evening in open forum meeting, with one of the largest crowds in attendance since they have been organized.

At this meeting flashlight pictures of the members were taken. These pictures are to be used in connection with the publication of a booklet to advertise the town and this vicinity.

Questions concerning the work of the organization and the welfare of the town were taken up.

The membership, of this organization now numbers forty members, all members who are men intensely interested in the progress of the town of thorsby, and who are determined to give to Thorsby the opportunities, that come our way, and have heretofore passed us by.

If the good men of Thorsby who are not yet members of this organization, will but come to our next open forum meeting when we will promise you something good to think about, and see that the deliberations of this body are serious and specific, in all matters pertaining to the welfare of the town, that Thorsby with its splended location, has advantages that cannot be over looked by the prospective homeseeker, or the man who wants to locate in a good town.

Thorsby Chamber of Commerce, is so to speak the clearing house, of ideas, of the citizens of the town, and it is there that you can present your ideas to a body of men,who are determined to put through all good things for the welfare of this town, if it is possible to do so.

The next meeting will be advertised, and we hope that we may then enroll as many members as we did at the last meeting.

When will Thorsby take pride in having their cemetery cleaned and fenced? It is now a year and a half since it was cleaned. The other day it was found that cattle had been in the cemetery and walking over several of the graves. It is a shame on Thorsby.

Miss Nolia Robinson spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Robinson.

Miss Marjorie Fox, teacher of the Thorsby Institute, spent Saturday in Birmingham.

SUCCESS IS REWARD OF YEARS OF HARD EFFORT

Ward Waters Has Become Platform Star Thru Sincere Application in Development of His Art.

Ward Warters, who appears in Thorsby at the head of his own company of entertainers on Wednesday evening Jan. 26th. ranks among the foremost character artists on the stage today and that despite the handicaps of youth.

He was scarcely out of his teens when he began stage career of a distinguished kind and while others of his age were content to play juvenile he was studying the art of make up that he might become, not a mere puppet, but an artistic creator of the stage. As the result he is known widely for his character representations, and has brought from the stage to the lyceum something that is new and refreshing in dramatic art.

With him Mrs. Waters, formerly a well known dramatic actress who, by the way, joins her husband in interesting whistling duets as an unusual feature of their program, and Miss Mable Whitley, a singer of remarkable voice.

The drammatic sketches offered by the Ward Waters Company were written especially for the use of Mr. Waters and his talented assistants. The company offers many original features in addition to the dramatic sketch work and musical efforts. it has won for itself an enviable reputation with the public. Be sure and come.

Mrs. John Johnson is in Birmingham visiting with relatives and friends.

A very interesting sermon was delivered Sunday night at the Baptist Church, by Rev. P. G. Carter of the Clanton Baptist Church. An unusually large crowd gathered to hear him, and he had to admit that he had to come to Thorsby to get a large congregation.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Peterson will be glad to learn that they have come to Thorsby to make their home. Mr. Peterson, who has been employed by the L. & N. Railroad at Marbury, will now be at Coopers, but has chosen Thorsby as his home. We welcome them to our little city.

On Sunday afternoon a large number of friends gave a surprise for Mr. and Mrs. Larsen of this city. A very pleasant time was enjoyed by all. Victrola music was furnished, and delightful refreshments were served at a late hour in the afternoon. Several nice presents were presented to the newly married couple.

Stomach Troubles Made Him Feel Sick at Meal Times, But Now Always Enjoys His Meals.

DO YOU enjoy your meals? Eat without the dread of the after effects?

Lack of appetite, and a disgreeable, sick-at-the-stomach feeling after meals, usually indicate that your digestive organs are not working properly. As a result, you will feel weak, lose weight and lack the energy that is to be derived from well-digested food.

A valuable help in correcting such conditions is mentioned by the Rev. E. K. McKenzie, of Route 1, Section, Ala., who writes: "I had stomach trouble. When I would go to eat, I would turn sick. I took one bottle of Ziron, and it cured me. Am always ready for my meals and enjoy them. I think it is a fine medicine."

If your food hurts you, if your appetite is poor, if you are pale, weak and run-down, and have other symptoms that indicate your system needs help, try Ziron. It will put iron into your blood and help build you up. Take it according to directions, and if not benefited by the first bottle, the money-back guarantee will protect you.

TEN PER CENT PENALTY ON TAX ASSESSMENTS.

Tax payers will please take notice that after the first Monday in February there will be ten per cent added as a penalty on all assessments made after that date. Therefore, if you have not already made your assessment, and care to save ten cents on each dollar's tax you pay, you will have to make your assessment before the above date.

Under the present law it is the duty of every person to make and file an assessment, whether you have anything taxable or not.

The Assessor's office will be open for business each day in January, and will be glad to have as many escape the above penalty as will come in and make their assessments.

WOMEN MUST PAY POLL TAX.

All doubt has been cleared up in regard to the payment of poll tax this year by the women. The result has been a decision by the state Supreme Court which says they must pay in order to hold their franchies under the Eighteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution.

Tax Collector J. D. Collins has been notified of the decision in a letter from the state Auditor authorizing him to collect poll taxes from women voters under the same regulations govering poll taxes of men voters.

The women are urged to take note of the fact that February the first is the last day for the payment of this poll tax in order to retain their qualifications for voting in the coming year.

MOVING THE OLD SMITH HOUSE

Mr W. L. Popwell is engaged this week in moving the old Patty Smith house off the lot where the new Baptist Church is proposed to be built. This house is one of the old landmarks of Clanton, and things are going to look rather odd fr a time after it is gone.

But we hope the vacancy created by the remmoval of the old landmark will soon be replaced with another which will prove even more enduring and substantial, namely, a handsome new Church building.

SUCCESS WITH TURNIPS.

Uncle Joe Popwell of Fairview community was a vistor to Clanton Tuesday. He reports to the Union-Banner again this year on his success with his turnip crop, and brought us a fine specimen of the Southern Prize winter turnip which weighed 2½ lbs. Mr. Popwell states that his crop this winter has not been altogether as good as it was last, but even this time he has been successful enough to grow an ample amount for his own use and some to sell. And then too you know the style in the country, to divide with the neighbors. We are sure that Uncle Joe's neighbors have been getting some good turnips and greens in this manner.

Mr. Popwell has experimented with many varieties of turnips and he recomends this Southern Prize as being the best winter turnip.

He secured the seed from Alred Drug Company.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

What Edison did during the War

THE official announcement is out. Ask us for your copy of "What Edison Did During the War." Write for it, if you can't call.

It tells how Edison left his home and business and went to sea, how Edison's "Yankee magic" foiled the German submarines.

The bulletin tells many other things Edison did while Chairman of the Naval Consulting Board. It explains how Edison kept the price of his phonograph at bed rock during an era of high costs and soaring prices. Since 1914 the New Edison has advanced in price less than 15%—and part of this is war tax.

This bulletin also describes the Budget Plan, which makes it possible for every home to enjoy the benefits of good music without feeling the financial outlay.

ATKIKSON STANDS CLOSE TO NATIONAL LEADERS

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENT OF AGE-HERALD WRITES OF CHANCES OF ALABAMA REPUBLICANS

Washington, January 18.—(Special While it is reported here that leading republicans of Alabama have about agreed on the fortunate individuals to be beneficiaries of the "plum tree" which will be shaken shortly after march 4, it is understood that the aforesaid leaders are considerably embarrassed. For none of them supported President-elect Harding prior to the ballot on which he was nominated. And even on that ballot, the vote of the delegation was not solid. The leaders, in other words, were slow to observe the trend of the tide.
to observethe trend of the tide.

Should Mr. Harding incline his heart to that Alabamian who actually rendered him service rather than to those who strenuously tried by every possible means to encompass his defeat in the convention, he would perforce give first consideration to J. B. Atkinson of Clanton.

After the Plums.

Mr. Atkinson voted for Harding on the first ballot, the other votes having been cast for those who then appeared more certain of victory — General Wood, Governor Lwden and Senator Johnson. Mr. Atkinson did not remain steadfast to his first love, however, for after several ballots he was found mingling with the stronger factions. It is possible, however, that he will be able to vindicate himself on the plea that he was overpersuaded by the "leaders," which plea, incidentally would further embarrass the leaders.

Mr. Harding has let it be understood that he wanted to name the best republicans to office rather than those considered by 'leaders' worthy of office. He will listen to referees, of course, because he is a party man, and a party man who believes in machine operations. Yet he is hopeful that he will not be forced to name unworthy appointees or honor men simply because they have heretofore shared the fat spoils of political office and in so doing acquired a considerable hold on the 'affection of the republicans as well as an insatiable appetite for the aforesaid spoils.

Nevertheless, it is reasonable to suppose that in the end the men chosen by the republican referees in Alabama will be commissioned. Pope M. Long of Jasper, as chairman of the republican executive committee in Alabama, and O. D. Street of Guntersville, as a member of the national committee, will naturally be the power behind the throne, unless Mr. Harding should happen to remember that neither of these gentlemen thought that he should be nominated in Chicago over either General Wood or Senator Johnson. If Harding should remember, the 'slate' might be fractured in several important parts.

Atkinson's Advantage.

It is reported in Washington that both Mr. Long andMr. Street will ask for office; that Mr. Long would be United States marshal, a very neat job and Mr. Street, district attorney, a position which is regarded as one of considerable desirability. As indicative of the "home" strength of these gentlemen, no rumor disturbs as to any opposition on the part of other Alabama republicans to the outstanding master minds. For the office of internal revenue collector, however, the applicants, or tentative applicants, are as numerous as the sands of the ebbing sea. Among these are mentioned Col. T. H. Aldrich, known to fame and song and story; Will B. Ford who is broken to the harness of federal office; H. Gordon Ashley, who has previously basked under the smile of administrative favor; Sim T. Wright, who knows the sweetness of the federal plum; Henery Irwin, former assistant-postmaster at Montgomery; Fontaine Little, who chants the praise of Muscle Shoals through various newspapers, and N. A. Freeman.

For the marshalship of the middle district , W. B. Cox is said to be the stronger candidate, though Maj. Dallas Smith, who served his country in time of war, and General Wood in time of peace, is preparing, according to report, to contest with all the vigor of his manhood. Mr. Atkinson, the only Alabama delegate who had the foresight to consider Harding in the light of a winner, and the only one in the begining who regarded Harding as preferable to the various others who wanted to save their country, is said to be slated for the attorneyship of the middle district.

The "Dry" Slate.

For the southern district, no slate exists as far as can be learned. It is said that the republicans, when in power, regard the southern section of the state as the exclusive territory of Maj. P. D. Baker, the elderly politican of Mobile. It is whispered that he would be willing to accept the position collector of the port. If he does not take the job, himself, he will award it to the man of his choice, it is generally admitted.

To enforce prohibition in Alabama, the republicans are considering two men, it is said.The one is Judge A. P. Lngshore of Shelby County, who recently made a brilliant race against Representative Fred L. Blackmon, a democrat, and Charles Kennamer, whose lance is bright as result of sensational tilting in the Seventh district. Of course, should the republicans in Congress award Mr. Kennamer a seat in the House, for which he has filed a contest, the race for the task of making prohibition effective in Alabama would be opened to Longshore.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

The funeral services of Mr. Oce Foshee were held at Liberty Hill on Thursday, Jan. 20th, and were conducted by Rev. P. G. Carter.

Mr. Foshee, at the time of his death was engaged as a warden at Spigener, and was ill only a few days with spinal meningitis and other complications. A number of the wardens accompanied the remains to Clanton, acting as pall bearers. Beautiful floral offerings were contributed as a token of their friendship and respect. A large number of friends of the deceased gathered at the church where he had been a member for many years to pay their last respects to him. He was 39 years old.

It makes no difference what your standing or circumstances may be todoy.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

Two fine congregations were present at both services last Sunday. The sermon in the morning on "What is your life" said by many who heard it to be very practical and helpful, and one of the best delivered during the present pastorate. The sermon on Judas at night also much appreciated. We had a good Sunday School with 113 present. Not quite as many as the previous Sunday, but an unusual number for the Clanton Baptists.

The moving of the dwelling house from the new site is causing a great deal of interest among the people, and the forerunner of an early start on the building. The appeal will be sent out this week to those whose first note is due on their pledges, and to others who may be willing to make a special effort to make future payments on their pledges. The Lord Loveth a cheerful giver, and always repays in cash or kind that which we give to him. Not only for the sake of the cause to which we belong which is the primary purpose but also as a good investment it pays to contribute to the Lords work, and pay our vows and pledges unto him. The new building will pay for itself with increased interest in the work that will be the natural result. Faith and work together can soon erect the building.

The next issue of the Babtist Advocate will be out about the second week in February. Thanks to our advertisers we are assured of a circulation of 500 at least for the next three issues and possibly by some adjustments we may get a thousand in the near future. We appreciate the patronage of our advertisers, and the many expressions of commendation received for the splended paper we are producing. By pulling together and using these various methods there are still better days before the Baptist of Clanton, and indirectly for all the religious interests of the community.

The pastor preaches next Sunday morning at Corinth being the Fifth Sunday Meeting there, but will preach in Clanton at night. We are hopeing that State Secretary Bro. D. F. Greens will speak for us Sunday Morning. Welcome to our services.

P. G. Carter, Pastor.

FRIENDSHIP CHURCH

Last Sunday, morning and evening, were the regular times for preaching at this place. Rev. W. P. Lowery of Thorsby preachced at both services, two excellent sermons were rendered. Good attendance was given the pastor at both services.

According to the custom, Sunday School was held at 10 o'clock, and the weather being so pleasant, quite a crowd was in attendance. The lesson was thoroughly discussed by the teachers, and much interest was manifest by all the students.

This being time for the regular singing, the people met back about 2:30 o'clock and sung for some two or three hours. The new 1921 books were used part of the time and the choir books of the church part of the time. Several good leaders were present, and a general good time was had by everybody. Singing is held here the afternoons of every second and fourth Sundays. We always welcome visitors to our services.

Sunday School next Sunday at 10 o'clock, and prayer meeting Sunday night at 6:30. All invited.

PLAY AT HIGH SCHOOL

The Autauga County High School, of Prattville, will present "A Strenuous Life" at the High School auditorium Friday evening, Jan. 28th. We hope that the people of Clanton will give these people a splendid audience and show them that they are welcome in our midst. The play will be presented by the Senior Class of the Autauga County High School. It has met with splendid success wherever it has been shown, and we believe that a splendid treat is held in store for us. Be there promptly at 8:00 Friday night. S. E. ALVERSON.

H. L. FOSHEE WANTS AMENDMENT DEFEATED.

Editor Union-Banner:

I desire to say just a word to the registered women voters, and the men as well, if they have not paid their poll tax, to urge them to pay their poll tax before Feb. 1st. If you do not seize this opportuniy it will mean that your name will be dropped from the list of qualified voters for this year and you will not be allowed to vote in any electioin during the year. Nor next year unless you become reinstated.

Remember that poll tax is cumulative, that is, if you fail to pay for any number of years, before you can become eligible again you must pay up all back poll taxes.

Then all poll tax goes entirely to the pubic schools of the county and we should be willing to help the schools that much.

On Feb. 8th two amendments will be voted on, and one of these I am especially interested in seeing defeated. It would give the Registrar the right to pass upon the qualifications of a voter.

The amendment is as follows:

"A person to be entitled to register and vote must, in addition to the qualifications already prescribed, be of good character and must understand the duties and obligations of citizenship under a republican form of government."

If this amendment passes the registrars would have the right to refuse to register anyone that they desired to refuse since the terms stated in the amendment are so obscure in meaning that they might construe it in a way to keep almost anyone from registering.

I do not advocate that bad people should be allowed to vote, but I protest that the registrars and election officials should be made the sole judges as to whether a citizen is good or bad. The constitution provides adequate safeguards for the ballot in the educational and property qualifications already without this amendment.

If this proposed amendment passes it will permit a small group of politicians to practically control the electorate of the state, if they so desire.

Now, if you appreciate your vote and the freedom it gives you, pay up your poll tax before Feb. 1st, and on Feb. 8th go to the polls and vote 'no' against this amendment. Don't fail to vote.

HOWARD L. FOSHEE.
Clanton, Ala., Jan. 26, 1921.

MR. J. M. POTTS DIED SUNDAY

After an illness of several weeks, Mr. J. M. Potts died at his residence in Clanton about three o'clock on Sunday afternoon. Some three or four months ago Mr. Potts was forced by ill health to give up his active business career. Since that time he has been in a Birmingham infirmary part of the time, and under the care of physicians in Clanton. But his worn out constitutional condition was not capable of repair, and he kept going down constantly to the end.

For several years past Mr. Potts has been prominent in the business life of Clanton. He has been a very active man all his life, looking after his business affairs with zeal and integrity. He winds up his career on earth with the friendship and admiration of all his associates, the love of whom goes with him to the grave, and whose sympathy will continue to abide with his mourning relatives and family.

The funeral was held at the Clanton Methodist Church, of which he was a member, on Tuesday, and burial was made in the Clanton cemetery.

SAFEGUARDING FINANCES OF CHILTON COUNTY.

In order to cut down the expenses of the county to the very lowest possible level, the Court of County Commissioners on January 4th, passed the following order:

"Whereas, Chilton County, Alabama has reached its debt limit, and

"Whereas, the financial condition of the county is in such a conditiion that the Commissioners Court of said county deems it to be to the best interest of said County that the following order be, and the same is hereby passed:

"It is ordered and decreed by the Commissioners Court of Chilton county, Alabama, that no County Official, no Road Apportioner, nor any other person make any debt against said Chilton County, until approved by or having obtained order from said Commissioners Court or a member thereof."

The above order was passed by the Commissioners Court January 4, 1921.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate.

PLEASANT GROVE—JEMISON

I, as secretary of our Singing Society, will report the meeting held Sunday. The weather being so beautiful, we made an attempt to have a singing. It was very good. We sang in the new Showalter book. This new book is like all other books of this company—full of very sweet songs. They are well composed by people whose souls are enthused by music, and if rightly sung, will fill our lives with cheer, and will tend to draw us nearer to our Creator.

The songs were conducted by Prof. James Franklin and Mr. George Spivey. Mrs. Eddie Childress was organist.

We will meet again next Sunday p.m. to sing, and would be pleased to have people from elsewhere meet with us and assist us.

Rev. J. D. Deason filled his place here as pastor Saturday and Sunday.

FROM COMMISSIONER WALKER.

Editor Union-Banner:

Please give me a little space to say to the people of the third district that they need not ask me for help from the county to build or gravel roads until the bridges are put in a safe condition. It is a proposition to get the right kind of lumber for the bridges. I will have bridges fixed as soon as possible.

If the people want to know, it is my intention to give them an itemized statement to whom and for what purpose their money is paid. If the people of the county want to know may I suggest that the other Commissioners do likewise.

If you want to know what is going on in the county, subscribe for The Union-Banner.

C. T. WALKER,
Commissioner Third District.

POLITICAL ROW IS ON IN COOSA COUNTY

LONGSHORE FIRES BATSON AND GIVES CHANCERY JOB TO HENRY POND.

Rockford, Ala., Jan. 19 —Special. Excitement ran high in Rockford when the friends of Jon. W. Batson, Democrat, was greeted with the supprising information that Judge W. L. Longshore, Jr., of Columbiana, Judge of the eighteenth judicial district, had officially notified Mr. Batson that he was appointing Henry W. Pond, Republican, as a successor to Mr. Batson as chancery clerk of Coosa county.

This is the first change to come in any office of the county as a result of the recent Republican victories. Judge Longshore, Republican, in notifying Mr. Batson of the appointment of Mr. Pond, said in his letter: "This action is not taken because you have not proven a competent official, but because of the doctrine enunciated by Andrew Jackson: 'To the victor belong the spoils.'"

The appointment of Mr. Pond as ordered by Judge Longshore, becomes effective January 20, and came as a direct shock to Mr. Batson and his party friends, because they claim such appointment is void in as much as the six-year term of Mr. Batson is yet unexpired by about two years.

Mr. Batson was first appointed to the office he now holds by Judge R. B. Kelley for the term 1899-1905. He never again applied for the office but was always recomended by the Judge over him to the next Judge coming into office and was appointed in this way without personal solicitation by the following Judges: Judge W. W. Whiteside, for the terms 1905-1911 and 1911-1917, and by Judge Brewer for the term 1917-1922 inclusive.

Mr. Batson expressed his intentions of allowing the courts to decide whether his appointment shall be terminated before his term is up.

We just had 77,000 Republicans in Alabama last November. That proposed amendment to the constitution that is to be voted on Feb. 8th will increase our number to at least one hundred thousand.

We don't see what in the deuce the Democrats in the legislature mean by trying to pull off such fool things as that amendment they have slated to vote on Feb. 8th. It is just another of their attempts to "make" the people vote the Democratic ticket. And it will result just like some of their previous efforts along the same line; it will drive more people out of the Democratic party than it drives into it. Watch the prediction.

If you should ask a Democrat what is the first duty of a citizen under the American government, his answer is mighty apt to be something like this: The first duty of an American citizen is to vote the Democratic ticket. If you should ask a Republican the same question, we imagine he would answer you along this fashion: The first duty of an American citizen is to vote the Republican ticket. With such widely divergent views as to the duties of citizenship, how can it be just to make one the judge of the other's privilege of voting, the test being based on that which is manifestly recognized as a difference between them? It's all wrong, Mabel!

Turn the thing around Mr. Democrat and look at the other side. If you were to face a Republican Board of Registrars and election officers who had the right to reject your vote if you didn't agree with them on the duties of citizenship under the American government, would you feel very safe under the proposed amendment? Republicans feel the same way about themselves when they go before a Democratic Board. Now what is the use to place such arbitrary powers in the hands of one set of politicians? Why not keep our voting privileges all on an equal where we can exercise the right of free suffrage which is supposed to be given us under our system of government?

That 77,000 Republican votes in Alabama last fall scared the Democrats out of their hides. Now here they come with a constitutional amendment that they hope will give them the right to throw out Republican votes by declaring the voter of bad character and not fit to vote. If you don't understand the duties of citizenship under the American government like the election officer or the registration officer, they would have it so he can say you are not capable of voting intelligently and therefore you will be turned down. And we hardly expect a Republican could get by a Democratic Registrar or a Democratic election manager on this test. There are mighty few Democrats and Republicans who will agree on all the fundamentals of citizenship under our government.

VOTE AGAINST IT.

We call the attention of the voters of Chilton county to what is said in this issue of the Union-Banner by Mr. Howard L. Foshee, and also the letter of Judge Reynolds on the same subject in last week's issue, and we urge you to take the advice of these two men and vote against the constitutional amendment on Feb. 8th.

It is nothing in the world but a scheme of the partisan Democrats in the Alabama legislature to try to disfranchise the Republicans of the state. It is an outrage upon us and we as Republicans should everyone, men and women vote against it. We know of many Democrats who do not approve of the thing; then how in the world can a Republican stand for it?

Let the men and women of Chilton county be true to the record of the past and put the solid strength of our Republican convictions against this deadly blow that is being attempted at us from the dark.

Republican Men and Women Attention:—You are interested in good Government, and it is essential that you and every Republican Male and Female, between the ages of 21 and45 years. pay their poll tax. Attend this at once. February 1st. is the last day to pay. But don't wait, do it at once. You cannot blame anyone but yourself, if you neglect this important duty and loose your right to vote in future elections.

There is grave danger ahead:—on February 8th. there will be a special election, on a proposed "Constitutional amendment." All republicans must be prepared to defeat this amendment. It is aimed at every Republican Man and Woman to deprive them of the right of political franchise by the southern democrats. We have them on the run and with your Co-operation and loyalty we will keep them running.

This amendment reads as follows: "A person to be entitled to register or vote, must in addition to the qualifications already prescribed, be of good character and must understand the duties and obligations of citizenship under a Republican form of Goverment."

The "Joker" or the "Trick" is the word "vote" in this amendment. It gives these registers and election managers the right to go behind your registration, and to ask questions as they see fit in order to judge of of your qualifation. How many election managers do you think would honestly administer this amendment? all of which are appointed by our tax raising Governor and have in but few cases any Judicial knowledge. This a frightful attempt to inject into our Constitution the right of the democratic party to absolutely perpetuate their rule in the future.

This amendment must be defeated and the Republican men and women must band together 100 per cent strong. See hat all republicans register pay your poll tax and vote against this amendment on February 8th. Don't procrastinate. Get to work and get this information to every republican man and woman at once. "Nuff said,"—get busy.

JUST SOME THOUGHTS.

Editor Union-Banner:

When people do well, and especially public officials, they earn and deserve the approbation of their employers; and I can speak from experience when I say that nothing you can do will go so far towards bringing out the best possible service in the average man as an appreciative word of commendation now and then.

In this connection, have you noticed what a marvelous improvement has been made in our water supply, sanitation, and especially our streets under our new municipal organization? They are certainly making an excellent record.

I for one feel like they richly deserve the comemndation, cooperation and encouragement of every citizen of the city.

My hat is off especially to Alderman Atkinson for his splendid handling of the street proposition. As we all know just a few brief weeks ago our streets were disgraceful to say the least. Now I imagine to the traveler by car or other conveyance, they have become almose "a thing of beauty and a joy forever."

The work has not only been done well but it has especially been done intelligently with the foresight and skill of a high class road engineer. The low places have been filled and drained, and these recurring "bog holes" are rapidly becoming an unpleasant memory of the past.

When you remember that Mr. Atkinson gives his time, talent and personal attention to this work without pay and without hope of reward, further than the satisfaction he must enjoy in viewing the valuable and pleasing results of a work well done, our appreciation of his services must manifestly increase.

If every citizen would cooperate with him and do a little fixing up and bautifying along their own fronts, Clanton would improve so much we would all be proud for strangers to come and look us over.

But the best thing about all of the extensive improvement of our streets comes last. I am reliably informed that all of this ditching, bridging and street work (and it covers almost every street in the city) has been done for a little less than $200.00. Think of it! Lumber, sewer pipe, nails, labor, tractor supplies, and all, for the small sum of $200.00. People, there is no profiteering in that job.

Wonder what Kilby, Steiner & Co. think about keeping a crowd of idle boys on the pay roll of the State and turning them loose in a wild and lawless section for months with nothing to do.

"An idle brain is the devil's workshop." OBSERVER.

YOU CAN'T DODGE IT

ONCE IN A WHILE YOUR BLOOD CLOGS AND YOUR VITALITY RUNS DOWN.

THEN TAKE PEPTO-MANGAN

You Will Pick Up Again Quickly with Plenty of Red Blood Corpuscles.

Physicians nowdays take a blood test when you are run down. They count the red corpuscels in your blood. If these are too few they give you a tonic for your blood. It happens right along. They are always on the lookout for indications of weak blood.

Why? Because they know when your blood is weak your resistance to disease is low. Your vitality and energy quickly run down.

You cant tell when your blood is weak. You look pale, feel tired. You are not ill, but you dont feel right. You dont want to do things. That is the time to take the well known tonic, Pepto-Mangan.

Pepto-Mangan builds red blood corpuscles. Physicans have prescribed it for thirty years.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in liquid and tablet form. The medicinal value is exactly the same. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Magan—"Gude's." The full name, Gude's Pepto-Magan," should be on the packape.

DANGEROUS ACCIDENT AT THE RAILROAD CROSSING.

What came very near proving to be one of the most disastrous accidents imaginable happened at the railroad crossing of Main Street in Clanton at noon on Wednesday.

As Fate and Walter Popwell were driving across the railroad in their automobile, a freight train pulling into the yards struck the car, driving it along ahead of the engine for a distance of several yards from the crossing down even with the depot. The car was not knocked aside by the engine nor turned over, remaining in front of the train and sliding along sidewise down the tracks.

Considerable damage was done to the car, and the glass being shattered from the windshield cut the occupants slightly.

It was a lucky escape from what came very near being one of the ugliest king of collisions. The fact that the train was slowing down to stop in the yards probably kept it from resulting in the instant death of the two men and the complete demolition of their car.

WORKING ON BUILDING AND FIRE CODE.

The Thorsby readers of The Union-Banner may have known something of the agitation in our midst concerning town laws regulations etc., in connection with buildings in the fire district of the town.

The culmination of agitations was reached last Thursday night in mutual council between the Directors of the Chamber of Commerce and the Mayor and Council of the Town, with our attorney present.

They thrashed out the legal points and all the matter up for discussion was looked upon in the same light, so that all were agreed that inasmuch as the building now under construction, which provoked the agitation, would measure up to all that could be asked, at the present, except that it would be of inflammable material, and inasmuch as other buildings of inflammable material had been built in town in other days in violation of fire regulations, it was decided that the only fair thing to do was to withdraw the objections to the continuation of construction on the building now going up.

However, in consideration of the mentioned agreement, of this meeting the Mayor and Council pledged themselves to adopt at the next meeting if possible, or as soon thereafter as is convenient, a competent and complete ordinance redefining the fire limits and embodying an equitable building code.

At this writing the Mayor and Council, as well as members of the Chamber of Commerce, have met twice in the working out of plans for the fire limits as well as the making of the code governing the buildings within this limit. It was impossible to have this work ready for the meeting of the council on last Monday night, but it is hoped that this work will be completed so that it may be presented at the next council meeting to be held within two weeks.

This is one of the duties of our Chamber of Commerce, to further and help any movement that will be of benefit to our town, and also to stop or protest against and if possible prevent any movement that will be detrimental to the future of the town.

At the next open forum meeting of the Chamber of Commerce which will be held on Feb. 21st, we expect to show moving pictures on subjects dealing with community development. It will be to the interest of all members to be present, and to bring with them at least one new member.

Something of the spirit of progress among Thorsby Institute trustees was manifest at a recent meeting of the Board where a building policy involving a budget of $550,000 and covering a period of five years was adopted without a dissenting vote. Crossing the campus to the Congregational Church, with about fifty resident members, and none of them wealthy, at a meeting of the officers of the church Wednesday night, it was unanimously voted to recommend to the church as a whole at the first opportunity, the purchase of a parsonage involving about $1500 and the adoption of a budget amounting to $1200. There is little doubt that both propositions will carry.

Dr. S. C. Wood has commenced the erection of a new home on Summit Avenue.

The next entertainment in the course put on by the Thorsby Lyceum and Entertainment Bureau will be held Wednesday night, Jan. 26th, at Bates Hall, when the Ward Waters Company of entertainers will appear for the first time in Thorsby.

The Chamber of Commerce held an open meeting last Monday night at which time a flashlight picture of something like forty members was taken. This picture will be used among the illustrations for a new booklet soon to be issued for the purpose of advertising the town and vicinity.

Pate Brothers will shortly move their store from the Masonic Building to larger quarters adjoining the Post office which are being fitted up.

Miss Nell Werness made a trip to Birmingham last week, and spent a few days with her sister who lives up there.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Foss and Miss Naemi Turnquist went to Birmingham last week to do shopping.

THORSBY SOCIETY NEWS

The Ladies Guild of Thorsby held their annual business meeting Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. James Bosworth. Reports of officers and committees showed progress in all departments. The Guild was organized in 1907 and has become one of the institutions of Thorsby. Its chief object is to aid Thorsby Institute in various ways, and to cultivate a spirit of sociability among the lady members of the community, regardless of church affiliations. Its popularity is manifested in the addition of sixteen new members during the past year, making a present membership of thirty-five. Among the activities of the year have been twelve sociables besides numerous business meetings. Affiliation with Thorsby Chamber of Commerce, completion of payment of $100 pledged for Thorsby Institute new dormitory, the making of several quilts for dormitory beds, a new dictionary, and $25 for current expenses for the school, a bazaar netting about $100 and closing the year with more money in the treasury than at the beginning. The retiring officers who have conducted the affairs of the Guild the past year are Mrs. S. E. Norton, President, Mrs. James Bosworth, Vice-President, Mrs. Ivey Horn, Secretary, Mrs. E. W. Butler, Treasurer. Officers elected for the ensuing year are Mrs. J. L. Winslow, President, Mrs. S. E. Norton, Vice-President, Mrs. Ivey Horn, Secretary, Mrs. J. H. Goddard, Treasurer. The January social meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Carl C. Peterson at 2:30 P. M., Thursday, January 27th.

Mr. Gust Berlin and family will move to Birmingham where Mr. Berlin has recently engaged in house decorating, a business he followed for many years in Chicago before coming to Thorsby eighteen years ago. They are a genial family and will be greatly missed among their friends in the Town of Thorsby. Their married daughter, Mrs. J. E. Biggs, with her husband, are looking for a residence in Atlanta where they expect to make their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reagan are spending the week in Selma visiting friends among whom they lived before coming to Thorsby.

Miss Clara Petersen is visiting her friends in Birmingham.

The young people and a few of the older folks of Thorsby certainly enjoyed the basket ball game between the town boys and the Institute boys on Saturday afternoon. The town boys did some wonderful work in both guarding and goal work in the second half, notwithstanding the fact they had not had any practice before hand. However the coaching that the Institute boys have had pulled the game over to their side and the game finished with the score standing 33 to 26 in favor of the Institute boys. But come on town boys! Let's show these school boys that this only the beginning, and that at the next game they certainly will have to do better work.

An oyster supper was given by the Thorsby Chapter of Eastern Stars, which was certainly enjoyed by all who were there. Certainly the quantities of oysters that were consumed by some folks was ample proof that the supper was delicius. A great number of people commented on the fact that an oyster supper would be both enjoyable and profitable every Saturday night for a while at least.

Miss Naemi Turnquist entertained on Monday night in a farewell party for Mrs. Biggs, who leaves for Birmingham with her mother Saturday afternoon. Refreshments were served after the guests had enjoyed cards. Those who were included in Miss Turnquist's hospitality were: Mrs. G. Berlin, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hanson, Walter Johnson, Beatrice Johnson, Mr. K. Lander, Walter Parnell and Mrs. Biggs.

The members of the Baptist B. Y. P. U. gave a farewell party for Willie Scott, a popular young man of the town, on Thursday night last, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E.R. Piper. Mr. Scott is soon to leave for the navy, therefore the young people wished to honor him by giving this party. All kinds of games were played besides music which consisted of piano and vocal selections were enjoyed. The double plate service was used in the serving of delicious refreshments, which proved very delightful to all. Wonderful fruit punch was served all during the evening. Mrs. S. C. Wood presided over the punch bowl.

Mrs. Stephen Pittman and her three children, who have been spending some time with Mrs. Pittman's parents, returned Sunday to Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Horn and son, Leroy, of Clanton spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Horn here.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Grinley returned Monday afternoon to New Jersey, after visiting with Mrs. Grinley's father for about a month. Miss Olga Grinley accompanied them to Birmingham.

Mr. G. Berlin of Birmingham spent the week-end in Thorsby.

Mrs. Biggs entertained just a few of her friends on last Wednesday night in a card game. Refreshments were served, and each and everyone had a very enjoyable tinme.

The Ladies Guild of Thorsby will meet next Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Carl Peterson.

STOP! LOOK! and LISTEN!

Like the familiar cross that bids us beware of the train all along life's way there are signs that warn us against the peril of improvidence.

Every old person destitute or dependent,
Every woman left helpless for want of funds,
Every young man asking the price of a meal,
Every case of distress due to need of money,
is to thinking people a danger signal that shouts,

PLAN! SAVE! AND DEPOSIT!

Trains do not stop for careless people who do not heed the safety sign. Life has no mercy for those who ignore its warninngs to save for the future. Save Safely in Famous Marcus Show of 1920 En Route From Pacific Coast to New York City.

The biggest musical attraction that has invaded this sectioin since prewar days is now en route from San Francisco and Los Angeles to New York. Theatre goers in this section will have an opportunity to see this attraction, the Marcus Show of 1920, during its engagement in Birmingham at the Jefferson Theater, two nights, commencing Feb. 1st, Wednesday matinee. This attraction comes direct from its record breaking engagement at the Tulane Theatre, New Orleans.

There are nearly one hundred persons engaged. Many of these are the famous Marcus Peaches. There is a special orchestra and it requires a special train of three baggage cars to an equal number of pullmans to transport the big organization.

Not in years has an attraction made such an unqualified hit on the Coast as that enjoyed by the Marcus Show. But few cities are being visited between the Coast and New York where the Marcus Show inaugurates its metropolitan engagement early in next month.

In commenting on the attraction, the San Francisco Examiner of Sept. 21 had the following to say:

"A musical revue with a sort of indoor circus tone and liveliness of action, the Marcus Show of 1920, won the approval of an audience that last night filled the Columbia.

"Girls, gorgeous costumes, and an agreeable comedy are the features, and though it seems to have been the intention of the producers to give an advance impression that the show might engage the attention of the censor, if such an official still be among us, there was nothing to seriously warrant objection.

"It must have cost the management a lot of money to bring this big organization of girls out from the East with the higher railroad rates now in force. Considerable has been saved by doing away with tights, but this item alone cannot offset the increased transportation charges. There must be sixty or seventy people in the company, being Klaw & Erlangered over the West.

"Really it is an astonishing show—that of Marcus, 1920.

"After all, the girls and costumes with the vivid and artistic lighting effects, and stage pictures, such as The Birth of Venus, are what lend importance to the show. The costumes certainly are daring, and the girls have to be to wear them."

THOUGHT ONE CLEAN SHIRT ALL HE NEEDED

"Ten years apo I was reduced to a mere shadow. I was yellow as a gold piece and would often be doubled up with most excruciating pains in my stomach. Physicians could only relieve me with morphine. I was advised to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and it helped me at once. What is more, I have been well ever since. A friend said he thought one clean shirt all I would wear." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causespractically all stomach, liver and intestinal aliments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

How many nurses could the county call into the field to combat the mortality always attending same? Compared with the number of citizens, the percentage will be alarming.

And all over the country, the figures are correspondingly low. The various nursing organizations report a shortage of nurses that is appalling, and a moyement has been started to remedy the evil immediately.

The American Nurses, Association, the League of Nursing Edueation, and the organization of public health nursing together with the American Red Cross, realizing the seriousness of the situation, have decided to take a hand in the enlisting of students in hospital training school.

They will send into every community qualified nurses whose duty it will be to organize committees to induce young women to become graduate nurses. These committees will distribute literature and information, and will endeavor to present the opportunities open both at home and abroad to young women who enter the nursing ranks.

Miss Zola Wesley will be chairman of this committee in Chilton County, and will be glad to give information about training Schools to any young lady interested.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

CAPITOL CHAT

Price Publicity for Coal.

Washington, Jan. 25—Senator W. M. Calder of New York, chairman of the special committee that has been investigating the coal situation, has introduced a bill designed to protect the public in the future against the extortionate prices charged by the coal dealers and isure an adequate supply of fuel. The measure provides for impartial publicity of receipts through Govermental agencies of the facts regarding the coal industry. To enforce the divulging of accurate statistics by the operators the bill proposes a licensing system. If any emergency threatens unreasonable prices or a shortage, the President is authorized to fix prices and revoke the licenses of any operator who charges a higher rate. The President is also authorized to deal in coal and control its production during the emergency. The measure does not set up any new Federal agency for carrying it into effect, but utilizes those already in existence, principally the Federal Trade Commission.

D. C. Representation.

Hearings are being held before the Judiciary Committee of the House on the resolution introduced by Congressman Sherman E. Burroughs of New Hampshire, proposing an amendment to the Constitution giving the District of Columbia representation in the Senate and House. Mr. Burroughs characterizes the form of government now prevailing in the District as a "despotism." Although it may be benevolent in form it is nevertheless a despotism, in his opinion, and is the only spot on the Western Hemisphere where such a con dition is found. There are seven States having a smaller population than the District of Columbia, each of which has two United States Senators and at least one Representative in the House. Mr. Burroughs sees no reason compatible with our form of democratic government which can deny simular representation to the citizens of the National Capital. Members of the Judiciary Committee showed strong sympathy with Congressman Burroughs arguments, and the chances for a favorable report on his resolution are good.

Good Spenders — Poor Collectors

The collection of the principal and interest of the foreign debt of $10,000,000,000 to the United States is exciting increased attention at the Capitol. Even the Democrats are disgusted at the apparent inability of the Treasury and State Departments to come to any understanding with the debtor countries. For about eighteen months no interest has been paid and there is no evidence of any more definite arrangements having made for meeting the principal. A Democratic Senator from Massachusettshas introduced a resolution calling opon the Secretaries of Treasury and State to stop all action regarding the loans until further authority is received from Congress. Another resolution by the same Senator directs both of those officials to forward to the Senate copies of all correspondence and reports of all oral conversations with representatives of foreign governments on the same subject.

Omaha Bee— Congress is going after the payroll in a fashion that indicates a reduction in the population figures of the District of Columbia.

Interesting But Not Important

Former Secretary of State Lansing has in course of publication his memoirs on the Versailleres peace conference, which will be offered for sale on march 5th, the day after Mr. Wilson retires to private life. It is understood it contains some very frank and fearless criticisms of the President in his conduct of the negotiations, particularly as they relate to the grant of Shantung to Japan, a concession that Mr. Lansing earnestly opposed. It has long been a well known fact that Mr. Lansing had no sympathy with the league of nations covenant as drawn by the President, and he has never denied the statement attributed to him to the effect that if the American people only knew what the league let them in for they would never stand for it. Probably more light will be shed on what actually tran.pired at Versailles in the printing of the comments of Mr. Lansing than has come from any other source. The league-treaty can not be made any deader than it is, whatever he may say, but his revelations will be eagerly read nevertheless.

Taking Snap Judgment

It is understood that Lord Chalmers is to arrange with American Treasury officialy for the conversion of the British war loan into long-time obligations. That loan amounts to about $4,200,000,000, almost half of the total amount of credit extended to the allies during the war. For eighteen months no interest has been paid, but during most of that time the Secretary of the Treasury says he has been trying to get England and the other allies to agree to a conversion of the obligation into negotiable long-time bonds.

It is something more than a coincidence that so soon before the inauguration of the Harding administraaion the British officials show an awakeing interest in their debt to America. Lord Chalmers is being sent over here in ample time to complete the negotiations before the Republican Secretary of the Treasury takes his office. Is it possible that the British think they can drive a better bargain with the Wilson administration than with the officials whom President Harding will appoint? There would seem to be some ground for that suspicion, particularly when we review the concern which Mr. Wilson has exhibited for the welfare of Europe from the beginning of his term in the White House.

Encourage Naturalization

In the promotion of the "America First" policy, it may be necessary for Americans to show some preference for immigrants who have taken out naturalization papers. It is poor economic policy to patronize a man who retains his foreign citizenship and is planning to go back to his native land taking his savings with him. There is no need to declare a boycott on the man who refuses to become an American, but it will do no harm to show appreciation of the course of some other man who does become an American in spirit and in law.

Wrong as Usual.

The Dayton News. owned by Jas. M. Cox, late Democratic nominee for President, says editorially that Argentina never joined the League of Nations. The U. S. Department of State says that Argentina did join in the League of Nations. Cox seems not to have improved his knowledge of foreign affairs in the course of his disastrous campaign.

Started Another One.

E. H. writes the "Bright Sayings of Children" department of the Chicago Tribune:

"Our aunt was extremely fond of her shepherd dog and missed him so much when he died that she adopted a little puppy. The next day Artie went over to visit her, and when he came home he announced: "Aunt Emma was so lonesome for shep that she's started another dog."

SCHOOL TEACHER NEEDED BRAINS.

"I never have had such a 'God-send' come o me as when I took the first dose of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I was afraid I would have to give up my school because of severe stomach, liver and bowel trouble, which caused such a pressure of gas that I could not use my brain at times and my heart would palpitate awfully. Since aking a treatment of the Mayr's Wonderful Remedy a year or more ago, all this has disappeared." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarhal mucus from the intestinal ract and allays he inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sold by Alred Drug Co., Clanton and druggists everywhere.—Adv.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

There was quite a fine congregation present at the evening service of the church, especially of young people, and good attention given to the sermon on "Memories," by the pastor. Owing to the pastor's absence attending a Fifty Sunday Meeting, there was no service in the morning.

The regular services of the church will be held next Sunday morning and evening, when the pastor will preach.

We would like to see more interest taken in our Senior B. Y. P. U., and a much larger attendance. Several of those who used to attend seem to have dropped out. We hope to see them back again soon.

Are you planning to meet your pledges on the new building? The building committee is anxious to go ahead. With material coming down and prospects of good weather before us this is a splendid time to plan for a beginning. Will you help us do it.

We are pleased to see visitors present at our services and extend a hearty invitation to the public to be present at all of our services.

LITTLE GIRL DEAD

The little five-year-old girl of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Calloway, died at their home in Clanton early last Friday morning of tonsilitis. The little remains were carried to Verbena for interment Saturday.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. J. M. Potts and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Nix wish to thank the people of Clanton for their kindness and sympathy shown the family during the illness and death of Mr. Potts.

MEETING OF DIRECTORS

The first meeting of the Directors of the Clanton Chamber of Commerce was held on Thursday, January 20th. Dr. Neighbors was appointed to fill the vacancy on the board as requested by the general meeting, and Rev. P. G. Carter was unanimously elected as Secretary. A proposed circular, setting forth the immediate things the Chamber of Commerce hopes to accomplish, to prepare the way for the canvass of members was then submitted, and by vote of the meeting the secretary was instructed to mail them to all the business men and prospective members of the organization. The following were appointed to serve on the Membership Committee:—J. P. Lawrence, W. M. Wyatt, Grady Broadhead, T.H. Neighbors and G.O. McKee. Publicity Committee: W. M. Wyatt was appointed as chairman of this committee, the other members to be added at the next meeting, as soon as it is known who will constitute the membership of the organization. Stationery Committee: P. G. Carter, W. W. Fox and W. M. Wyatt were appointed to draw up suitable stationery and have it printed for the club. The meeting then adjourned to meet again on Thursday, February 6th.

The future outlook for the Chamber of Commerce looks bright. Twenty five or thirty prospective names have been handed in, and it is fully expected that in a short time there will be from fifty to seventy-five members. With the fine business prospects before us, no progressive citizen, especially the merchant and professional man, can afford to withhold his membership. The fact that efforts in the past more than eight years ago have failed is no criterion that it will fail again. Therefore, as progressive citizens, let us pull together, and it will not be long before the influence of the Chamber of Commerce will be felt in many and various ways in which it functions. If they have not already done so a committee will wait upon you for your membership, and any citizen of good character can by paying the fees become a member of the same.

P. G. CARTER, Secretary.

HENRY POND HERE

Henry W. Pond of Rockford was a visitor to Clanton the first of this week. Mr. Pond is the man whom Judge Will Longshore appointed as Register in Chancery in Coosa County to succeed Jno. W. Batson. Henry says it is going to be a lively scrap over the legality of Judge Longshore's action. But he says he will be with them till it is finished.

ROAD BOND AMENDMENT

We do not think there is any danger in voting for the Road Bond Amendment on February 8th. The bonds have already been authorized by vote of the people, and this proposition now is only to change the vote of interest from 5 to 6 per cent in order that the bonds may become salable and put the money into action in road building.

The money that would be turned loose in Alabama by the sale of these bonds and the consequent construction of roads under federal aid, would help to give valuable financial relief to many people and employment to many ilde workmen.

We think it is all right to vote for the road bond amendment. But for the sake of everything that is fair and honest, be sure to vote against the other amendment regarding the abridgement of our voting privileges.

THE BIRMINGHAM POST

"The Birmingham Post," the new afternoon daily of the Magic City, is now a regular visitor to the desk of The Union-Banner. While the paper is new and not yet fully developed, we see in the announced policy of the publishers good prospects for the infant to grow into a sturdy and virile adult.

The Post is a Scripps-McRae newspaper, the twenty-third publication to be launched by that independent newspaper syndicate.

If the Post stays by its promise to the people of Birmingham and Alabama, we shall find it the fulfillment of that long-felt want of a truly independent newspaper. We hope and believe they will.

The subscription price of the new paper by mail is $5.00 a year.

THE CLANTON INFIRMARY

We do not intend to act as an advertising agent for any doctor or combination of doctors in Clanton in what we have said from time to time or may say in the future about the Clanton Infirmary. We do not care who you call or go to see when you get sick. In fact we do not believe you would make any mistake to grab the first medico you meet on the streets of Clanton and have him trot out a box of pills on the spot. We have the best set of doctors, taking all in all, that you can find in any town in the United States.

But it is an evident fact that those doctors who have essayed to conduct a hospital called the Clanton Infirmary, on the small scale that it has been, have made wonderful success of their practice, and we feel like it ought to impress the people of this county that it is possible to have right here at home just as good medical attention and hospital advantages as you can get in the larger cities.

Clanton ought to have a bigger hospital on a bigger and broader foundation. It ought to be a Chilton County institution, that could accommodate all those in the county who may at any time be in need of hospital treatment. We have the medical talent and training here at home, plety of it. The ability has been demonstrated. We need to find some body with the proper kind of business formula to use as a foundation and then put it through.

UNCLE PETE FOR IT

Uncle Pete Callen, veteran banker and expert manipulator of financial operations, says he hopes the people will vote for the road bond amendment on February 8th. He thinks it will be impossible ever to sell the state's bonds at 5 per cent, but says it may be possible right away to get some road work started if they can be legalized at 6 per cent by vote of the people for this proposed amendment.

A SORRY RECORD

Washington, Jan. 31—"The Democratic administration which is now nearing its close will long be memorable in the industrial history of the United States," declares the Republican Publicity Association. "After eight years of full control of the economic policies of the government that party will relinquish its management of affairs with finance and industry in a state of chaos. For their future guidance in determining their action at the polls it will be well if the people of the country keep in mind a few fundamental and important facts.

"During the past eight years the Wilson administration has been vested with power unprecedented in American history. The economic laws that it enacted are still on the statute books. It is still in full control of the administration of those laws. Statistics show that the present industrial depression was foreshadowed by a slump in stock market which began in November 1919 a full year before the election which determined the change of party administration. Statistics compiled by the same periodical show that the slump in the values of farm products began early in June 1920 before either of the political parties had held its national canvention and five months before the outcome of the election was certain. Not by any possibility, therefore, can it be argued that the change in party control is in any way responsible for the present industrial depression.

"Under the Democratic tariff law millions of bushels of Canadian wheat came into the American market early in the season supplying the immediate needs of American mills and depriving the American farmer of his alknownonationoseata.,t mbg vbg cm market. As a consequence, mills are not in the market to buy. The American farmer cannot sell his grain for a price that will cover the cost of production, and throughout the grain-growing section there is every indication that the planting for 1921 will be diminished in area. Neither oats nor corn will sell for enough to cover the cost of production, and according to reports the latter product is being used for fuel. The cotton and tobacco producers of the South are similarly embarassed and an extensive organization is under way for the purpose of restricting production of both of these agricultural products during 1921. There is reported to be a billion pounds of wool in American warehouses; there are millions upon millions of pounds of foreign wool here or on their way here and the American sheep-owner is unable to sell either his wool or sheep. Prices which farmers are able to obtain for other agricultural products are insufficient in a corresponding degree, with the result that maintenance of food production is seriously threatened at a time when nearly half the world is suffering for want of food. Moreover, through its control of the Federal Reserve System and its consequent control of credits and the manner of the exercise of that control, the administration has largely brought about the present depression in sales of agricultural products.

"During the war the Wilson administration had almost absolute control of every important line of industry. It fixed a maximum price for wheat and controlled the marketing of that product. Through the war trade board, exports of all commodities were under the control of the administration. The marketing of wool became a government function. Thru its control of transportation the marketing of various domestic prducts was regulated to suit the judgment or whim of the appointees of President Wilson.

"During the closing months of the war, eRpublicans in Congress proposed the creation of a commission on reconstruction to forecast and solve the problems which would confront the nation on the restoration of peace, but this commendable measure was defeated on orders from the White House. Through refusal to prepare for peace as it refused to prepare for war, the Wilson administration has made itself wholly responsible for the situation which exists today."

J. N. SCOTT WRITES

Irondale, Ala., Jan. 27, 1921.
Editor Union-Banner:

Here I come for a space in your good old paper, to say something in regard to the election to be held Feb. 8. I take it for granted that there is not much room in the Constitution for amendments, such as those proposed. All the free rights and privileges have already been almost taken away from the people of Alabama.

There is great room for it to be amended in the right way. If the people of the state wanted to do the right thing in the way of restoring back to the people their citizen rights and free privileges which belongs to every man and woman in the state. But their rights have been taken from them one by one until there is but few left. The Democrats must have got scared again. They went and disfranchised the negro to hold their jobs, and now since they gave the women the right to vote, they want to have the right to disfranchise all the white people that don't suit them and go their way.

I want to say, Mr. Farmer and Laboring man of Alabama, you had better stop these amendments and if possible, get laws made that will restore our freedom.

What is this administration doing for Alabama boys? They have got soldiers scattered all over the State who are prohibiting people from going to church, Masonic and Odd Fellows meetings, and every other kind of meeting in Pratt City and other little towns. I am told that one is not allowed to stop on the streets to talk to a friend, without being molested by some of these soldiers.

Any way, the tragedy done over in Walker County goes to prove what some of our law executives will do.—Kill a preacher for nothing, Take a man out of prison and mob him because he killed one of the law breakers while snapping a pistol in his face. Now, they have the violators. Let us see what our law executives do with them.

I want to say that we will never have any more freedom until we get men in office that will legislate good laws, that are to the interest of the poor as well as the rich, and then everybody stand by them and see that they are enforced. We should vote down such amendments. Be honest and vote for honest men to make our laws.

Yours fraternally,
J. N. SCOTT.

AND, WHEREAS, Notice of such election, together with the proposed amendment, is requird by law to be given by proclamation of the Governor;

HARDING RETAINS HIS POISE

Washington, Jan. 31.—"With unanimous acclaim, the American people will approve the action of Senator Harding in asking discontinuance of plans for an elaborate inauguration ceremony," declares the Republica Publicity Association through its President, Hon Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "Such a program would entail a waste of time and money, distract attention from the solution of serious national problems, impose discomfort and suffering upon soldiers and sailors transported and kept in waiting for an inaugural parade, and set up class distinctions not in harmony with popular government. Mr. Harding's timely plea for industry and thrift will not go unheeded. Doubly impressed upon the minds of the people by the occasion which called it forth, his appeal for immediate effort to solve the difficult problems of reconstruction will meet a hearty response. His action in a matter of relatively small importance in national affairs establishes a policy and sets a standard from which it would be difficult for any member of his administrative family to depart. The country may well feel confirmed in the conviction that by the coming administration it is to be served rather than ruled."

FACTS ABOUT COTTON

About 60 per cent of the world's supply of cotton is grown in America.

Cotton is indigenous to all tropical and semi-tropical countries.

Sea Islands, grown off the Atlantic coast of the United States are the finest cottons in the world.

Boll weevil has about destroyed the Sea Island cotton industry.

Boll weevil first appeared in the United States at Brownsville, Texas, in 1892.

A single pound of cotton has been spun into a single thread more than 1,000 miles in length.

The prospect is that there will be an unspun supply of American cotton at August 1, 1921 of 9,607,000 bales. Before the war the average amount of cotton on hand at that date was about 1,200,000 bales.

The "visible supply" of cotton, and the total supply on any given date are two entirely different things.

Manufacture of cotton goods is the very foundation of British wealth.

There is now enough unspun cotton in the world to last about two years.

The average price of middling cotton at ten leading cotton markets in the South Saturday was 14.02 cents.

The statistical year for cotton runs from August 1 to July 31.

The U. S. Census Bureau reports 12,016,000 bales ginned to Jan. 16. The next ginning report will be published March 20th.

Special program for B. Y. P. U. Sunday evening at 6:45 p.m. Every body come.

The January meeting of the W. M. U. was held at the home of Mrs. Ben Davenport, when a very interesting program on Foreign Missions was carried out. The program was followed by a business meeting, at which reports for the past year were read. They proved very gratifying, and encouraged us to undertake greater things during this year. It was decided to take up the social meetings again, the first one to be held at the home of Mrs. G. F. Harper Feb. 17. Everybody is invited to come.

Mrs. G. Berlin left Friday night for Birmingham to go into her new home, which has just been completed.

The Helen Keller Literary Society held its usual meeting Saturday night. Quite an interesting program was rendered and especially the vocal solos sung by Mrs. Male were enjoyed to the fullest extent. Mrs. Male's singing is certainly loved by the people of Thorsby and we hope that we might have the pleasure of hearing her again soon.

The usual service was held at the Congregational Church last Sunday. The pastor being absent the sermon was delivered by Rev. Rogers in the morning and Dr. Owens in the evening. Again special music was rendered by Mrs. Male.

The next meeting of the Lutheran Ladies Aid will be held at the home of Mrs. John Johnson on Thursday, Feb. 10. All friends are invited to be present.

Miss Naemi Turnquist and Mrs. J. E. Biggs left Sunday night for Birmingham where they attended the Schumann-Heink Concert, which was held at thte Jefferson Theatre Monday night.

The entertainment which was given last Wednesday night by the Ward Waters Co., a number of the Lyceum Course, was certainly a grand success. In spite of the unfavorable weather the auditorium was well packed with an appreciative audience.

On last Friday night the members and friends of the Luther League of the Lutheran Church enjoyed a Social at the home of John Johnson. Quite a number of interesting games were played, and delicious refreshments were served. A general good time was reported by all present.

Miss Marjorie Fox, left Friday night for Birmingham where she will spend a few days visiting with friends.

Mrs. Sarah E. Jenkins of Demorest, Ga., spent a few days in Thorsby last week visiting with her daughter, Miss Helen C. Jenkins, principal of the Thorsby Institute. She returned to her home last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Evan Parrish of this city were in Clanton last Friday night where they attended the play which was given at the high school.

The Ladies Guild of Thorsby met last week at the home of Mrs. Carl Peterson. A large number of members and friends were present. After the usual program, delightful refreshments were served. The Guild is growing rapidly, as there are several new members voted in at every meeting, so come on all you ladies that have not yet joined the Guild and get in with this splendid organization. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. R. Foss, and as this comes on the 22nd of February which is Washington's birthday, the members are asked to come in colonial costumes if possible.

The basket ball game which was played by Clanton and Thorsby last Thursday was greatly enjoyed by a large crowd. All the boys did some splendid playing making it a very close and indeed interesting game. In the first half of the game it looked like Clanton was going to run away with the whole game, but at the close of the first half they were tied, the score being 8 to 8. And in the last half the T. I. boys awakened to the fact that if they didn't do some tall playing they would get beat, so they got down to business and they won the game by five points.

Last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. C. R. Foss entertained a small number of friends at her home, complimenting Mrs. G. Berlin and Mrs. J. E. Biggs. A delightful social hour was enjoyed after which delicious refreshments were served to the following guests: Mrs. John Carlson, Mrs. Conrad Carlson, Mrs. Biggs, Mrs. Berlin, Mrs. Reagan, Mrs. Bosworth and Miss Naemi Turnquist. In the evening they all went to hear the Ward Waters Entertainment.

Mrs. Clara Male of Mobile, mother of Arthur Male of Thorsby Institute, spent a few days in Thorsby last week.

ROBINSON BOY HURT

Mrs. John Bridges Hostess.

The members of the Wednesday Evening Card Club spent a most enjoyable evening with Mrs. John M. Bridges at her home last Wednesday evening, when she was hostess.

In response to roll call the members answered with tree quotations.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

Ewel Robinson.

We are glad to have an additional teacher to our faculty. Miss Monroe of Meridianville, Ala., reported for duty Tuesday morning.

Rev. H. T. Crumpton of Brewton, conducted our chapel exercises last Monday morning. Mr. Crumpton gave us a splendid talk. We are glad to welcome visitors at any time.

Joe Higgins of the Senior Class has been out for several days on account of illness. We hope that he will soon be able to be with us again.

Chilton County High School again lost to Thorsby Institute in the second game of basket ball of the season by the close score of 19 to 16. The game was played in Thorsby Thursday afternoon. On the following day we played Montevallo on the home court. This was one of the prettiest games of the season. Chilton won by a score of 20 to 12.

Friday evening the Expression Department of the Autauga county High School gave a splendid play in the auditorium. This play was well attended. It was well rendered and bespeaks the progress being made in the county high school of Prattville.

CIRCUS at the IDEAL THEATER Friday and Saturday of this week.

One lot of Ladies Hats val. to $5 goes in this sale Friday, Saturday and Monday for $1.—Elmore's.

REPAIRING CENTRAL

The Board of Directors of the Peoples Telephone Company have employed an expert and experienced telephone man to overhaul and repair the switchboard at the central office and straighten out the many troubles that have been hindering the service for the past few months.

We hope in a week or two to have the thing corrected so that people will be able to get service.

We would remind the phone holders that all the trouble may not be at central every time. Most of the phones on our system have been in use for five or ten years. Many of them need repairing. Everyone should see that his phone is right, and see that those long heavy lines in the country are put up correctly. With these precautions taken and central repaired and cleared up, we can begin to expect improved service.

One lot of Dress Gingham in remnants, some pieces large enough for dresses, will be closed out at half price and less, at Elmore's.

MT. PLEASANT

Our school is doing fine.

Mrs. M. O. Culp, who has been real sick, is better now.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Foshee were recent visitors at L. O. Vickers.

Mrs. J. F. Lowery and children spent last Sunday with D. W. Lowery.

Mrs. Dassie Massey spent one day last week with Mrs. T. L. Lindsey.

Mrs. R. E. L. Ward was down to see her father at Liberty Hill, who has been sick, but is better now.

Let's not forget election day next Tuesday, and vote against the amendment, Febryary 8.

"Oh! What A Difference!"

That is what everyone says who comes to our store and hears the pure musical tone of Edison's Amberola Phonograph, after listening to shrill "talking machines" and the metallic sound of ordinary phonographs.

That is what you will say when this revelation of pure melody greets your ears. No wonder Edison's Amberola has proved its marked superiority over ordinary phonographs in great public tests.

EDISON'S NEW DIAMOND

is the world's greatest phonograph value—the "master product of Edison's master mind." Just consider its genuine Diamond Point Reproducer, which forever does away with the bother and expense of changing needles!

And Amberol Records are just as far superior to ordinary records. They are practically indestructible, and give years of enjoyment after ordinary records have broken and been thrown away.

When you consider that you can own Edison's Amberola on practically your own terms you must realize you owe it to yourself and your family to come to our store without delay and let us play the world's best music for you on this wonderful phonograph. Don't delay your visit—come today, tomorrow, as soon as possible—we will expect you. Bring all the family and your friends, too—they will all be welcome.

Indigestion

Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered occasionally with indigestion. The effects of a disordered stomach on the system are dangerous, and prompt treatment of indigestion is important. "The only medicine I have needed has been something to aid digestion and clean the liver," writes Mr. Fred Ashby, a McKinney, Texas, farmer. "My medicine is for indigestion and stomach trouble of any kind. I have never found anything that touches the spot, like Black-Draught. I take it in broken doses after meals. For a long time I tried pills, which griped and didn't give the good results. Black-Draught liver medicine is easy to take, easy to keep, inexpensive."

HALF YOUR LIVING WITHOUT MONEY COST

Cotton Production Costs Can Be Cut In Half By Food And Grain Making And Saving

Atlanta, Georgia.—(Special.)—"High prices for cotton, such as we had a year ago cannot reasonably be expected for a long time to come. European countries that normally use half our crop are so thoroughly disorganized and paralyzed in a business way that they will not be able to take the usual quantities and pay high prices for many years to come," said H. G. Hastings, President of the great Southeastern Fair.

"This situation which we cannot control, calls for lower costs of making cotton as well as reduction in cotton acreage. The quickest, safest and most effective way to reduce cotton making cost is to produce on one's own acres every pound of food, grain and forage needed for family, tenants and laborers and live stock.

"The situation requires chickens, hogs, milk cows and acres of corn oats, wheat, forage and miscellaneous crops from which to feed them. Last, but not least, in importance, is the home vegetable garden which is the quickest and cheapest source of food in the world.

"Most folks here in the South don't take the home garden seriously and thereby make a great mistake. There are too many of the 'lick and a promise' sort of gardens and mighty few of the real sure enough kind.

"We have been told repeatedly by those who plan and prepare for a real garden, plant it, tend it and keep it replanted through the season, that it furnishes half the family living at no money cost except the small amount spent for the seeds needed.

"The garden is, or rather should be, the earliest planted. It brings food the quickest. It starts cutting store bills for food the first week anything is ready to use. A little later, half or more needed for the table comes out of the garden.

"If rightly tended and replanted it supplies food all summer and fall, the surplus above daily needs goes into cans or is dried for winter use. Yes, the right kind of garden is a life-saver, and we all need a life-saver of this kind in 1921."

STOCK LAW ELECTION

State of Alabama, Chilton County.

A petition having been filed in the Commissioners Court of Chilton County, Alabama, on January, 3rd., 1921, with more than one fourth of the bona fide free holders in Precinct No. 12, in Chilton County, Alabama, asking for an election to be held in said precinct No. 12, to determine whether or not hogs, goats and sheep, of all kinds, shall be prohibited from running at large in said precinct No. 12.

It is therefore ordered by the Commissioners Court of Chilton County, Alabama, that an election be held on the twenty first day of February, 1921, in precinct number 12, in Chilton County, Alabama, at Robinson's store and Mineral Springs School House, the voting places in said precinct No. 12, for the porpose of determining whether or not hogs, goats, and sheep of all kinds, shall be prohibited from running at large in said precinct No. 12, in Chilton County, Alabama.

WOMEN, VOTE "NO" ON AMENDMENT.

On February 8, 1921, a special election will be held in Alabama at which the qualified electors of the state must pass on the following proposed amendment to the state constitution, which was passed by the state legislature in September, 1920.

"A person to be entitled to register or vote must, in addition to the qualifications already prescribed, be of good character and must understand the duties and obligations of citizenship under a republican form of government."

This amendment will be printed at the top of the ballot to be used on February 8th, and under it will appear the words "yes" and "no." If a majority of the votes cast in the election are "yes," the amendment will become a part of our state constitution, and cannot be changed until it is appealed.

Read the amendment carefully. You will see at once how much power is given the registrars and the election officials under it. These persons (who are sometimes very ignorant) are, by this amendment, given the power to pass on the character of any would-be voter, to say whether it is good or bad. We do not advocate that bad people should be allowed to vote, but we protest that the registrars and election officials should not be made the sole judges of whether a citizen is good or bad. Already our constitution provides adequate safeguards for the ballot in the educational and property qualifications. The adoption of the proposed amendment will permit a small group of politicians to practically control the electorate, if they so desire.

Women of Alabama, if you appreciate your vote, and the freedom it gives you, pay your poll tax before February 1st, and go to the polls on February 8th and vote "no" against this pernicious amendment. Don't fail to vote. Put a cross mark in front of the "no."

ALABAMA LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS.
Chairman,
LILLIAN R. BOWRON.

COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL ADDS ANOTHER TEACHER

An additional teacher, which has been needed in the high school for a long time was added to the faculty last Tuesday. Miss Elizabeth Monroe of Meredianville, Alabama has taken hold of this new work with much inthusiasm. Miss Monroe has been a student of the Athens Female College and the University of Alabama. She has had several years of successful experience as a teacher and promises to be a splendid addition to our faculty.

The large Freshman Class has been divided into two sections, and thus we are able to give students a great deal more of individual instruction.

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

Nix on the "Parley-Voo" stuff!

A FRIEND of mine.
WHO COULDN'T speak.
A WORD of French.
WENT TO Paris.
AND THE first time.
HE HAD to get.
A HAIRCUT and shave.
HE PRACTICED an hour.
MAKING SIGNS.
IN THE looking glass.
SO THE French barber.
WOULD UNDERSTAND him.
AND THEN he went in.
AND WIGGLED his fingers
THROUGH HIS hair.
AND STROKED his chin.
AND THE barber grinned.
AND FINISHED the job.
THEN MY friend thought.
HE'D BE polite.
SO HE gave the barber.
AN AMERICAN cigarette.
WHICH THE barber smoked.
AND MY friend pointed.
TO HIS mouth.
AND SAID "Likee voo."
AND THE barber roared.
AND SAID "You BET.
I USED to smoke 'em.
WHEN I worked.
IN INDIANAPOLIS.
AND BELIEVE me.
THEY SATISFY!"

HERE'S a smoke that talks in any language and needs no interpreter. Light up a Chesterfield, draw deep—and more plainly than words your smile will tell the world "They Satisfy". It's the blend that does it—and you can't get "Satisfy" anywhere except in Chesterfields, for that blend can't be copied!

INTERESTING PROGRAM BEING ARRANGED FOR GIRLS' SCHOOL

Montevallo, Ala., Feb. 4—Special. The twenty-fifth annual commencement of the Alabama Technical Institute and College for women will be held May 20 to 23, inclusive. The faculty and students are preparing to celebrate in a becoming manner this silver anniversary.

The full program is not yet ready for publication, but President Palmer announces today that the following speakers for the occasion have accepted:

Reverend Edgar Young Mullins, D. D., L.L. D., President Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, will preach the sermon.

Dr. J. C. Fant, President Mississippi State College for Women, Columbus, will deliver the baccalaureate address before the graduating class.

Mrs. John D. Elliott, Birmingham, President of the Women's Missionary Society, North Alabama Conference, will deliver an address before the Young Women's Christian Association Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Elliott is one of the most active Christian workers in Alabama, is a newspaper writer of great ability, and is a most pleasing speaker.

Hon. Sol D. Bloch, Camden, the author of the bill establishing this college, will give the Alumnae address. He will, no doubt, review in an interesting manner the general history of the college and of the alumnae society.

Dr. Edgar Y. Mullins has been president of the Southern Seminary since 1900. This is said to be the largest the ological seminary in the world. He is the author of many books of wide circulation, and is one of the greatest pulpit orators in the United States. He has recently made a trip around the world, and will bring to Montevallo a message that will be helpful and inspiring to the large audience that will hear him.

Dr. J. C. Fant was for many years one of the leading professors in the University of Mississippi. One year ago he was called to the presidency of the Mississippi State College for Women. This is the first college for women ever established, having been founded twelve years before the college at Montevallo.

AMOUNT OF DAMAGE TO UNSHELTERED COTTON BALES

The Bureau of Markets, United States Department of Agriculture, recently conducted a series of experiments to ascertain the "weather damage" of a bale of cotton placed out in the open. Bales of cotton were placed in the open flat on the ground, on edge, on end and also on timbers in the open. The losses ranged from 49 pounds to 370 pounds in eight months. A warehoused bale of cotton lost only one pound during the same time. Other tests that have been conducted along the same line from time to time corroborate these results and show the great importance of properly constructed, efficiently operated, bonded warehouses. The warehousing of the cotton crop in Texas would save millions of dollars every year. The fact of the business is the weather damage is sufficient every year to build the necessary warehouses in this State.

CITY MAIL DELIVERY

We notice in the papers from Prattville and other towns over the state that they are putting on the free delivery of mail. Why not the same thing in Clanton?

If they can have mail delivery in a village like Prattville, we surely can get it in a thriving city like Clanton.

We recommend that this be one of the very first things taken up by our Commercial Club.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

From 150 to 200 people greeted the pastor at both services last Sunday, and the attention given to the preaching showed the interest manifested by the people. We appreciate their presence and invite them to come back again. There was also a fine Sunday school with some 120 present, a splendid attendance for the kind of equipment we have.

The regular services will be held next Sunday. At the night service the pastor will begin a series of illustrated sermons on various phases of the life of Christ. Forty colored scenes by various artists will be placed upon the screen projected by a good stereopticon and strong electric light. The subject will be "Christ in the Wilderness." Confucius said, "What we hear we soon forget; but what we both see and hear we never forget." These pictures and the sermon will prove not only interesting to look at, but profitable to listen to. We predict a large congregation. The pictures will be shown regardless of the weather. Six alternate Sunday nights a different set of pictures will be shown and suitable sermons delivered. Tell your friends and fill the house.

We were pleased to see a number of visitors present last Sunday. We hope to see many more from time to time. May the Lord bless you and keep you; may the Lord lift up the light of His countenance upon you and give you peace.

The Sunday school will meet at 10 A. M. Sunbeam Band at 2 P. M. The Junior B. Y. P. U. at 3 P. M. and the Senior B. Y. P. U. at 6:30 P M.

Everyone cordially invited to our services. P. G. CARTER, Pastor.

MISTRIAL IS RESULT IN CASE OF LANCASTER.

Five of the Jurors Stood Out for a Sentence of Life Imprisonment.

Hamilton, Ala., Feb. 7—Unable to agree after 39 hours of weary deliberation, the jury in the case of Sergt. Robert Lancaster, charged with the murder of William Baird, a coal miner, was discharged this morning at 10:10 o'clock and a mistrial entered by Judge T. L. Sowell.

The jury on the final ballot stood five for life imprisonment, one for a lesser sentence, five for acquittal and one undecided.

No steps were taken regarding the second trial of Lancaster, but unofficial information was that it would be set immediately following that of Sergeant Glen L. Stephens, to begin next Monday.

Announcement that a mistrial would be entered was received without demonstration, either from the scattering spectators in the courtroom or from the prisoner.

The jury reported at nine o'clock that it was hopelessly deadlocked. Judge Sowell declared that it had sat through a fair and impartial trial and ordered them to return to the jury room and study the matter another hour. At the end of that time he accepted the mistrial.

Entering the mistrial marked the close of one of the most unusual and spectacular trials in Alabama jurisprudence. Lancaster was charged with having been a member of a group of soldiers who were charged with having taken William Baird, a coal miner held for the killing of National guardsman, Morris, from the jail at Jasper and shot him to death.

PRESIDENT TO GO INTO SECLUSION AFTER MARCH FOURTH.

Washington, February 7—President Wilson plans to go into virtual seclusion after the fourth of March.

Freed from the responsibilities of office which have weighed heavily upon him during his convalescence, Mr. Wilson, his friends say, will shut himself in for a period of intensive rest and quiet in the new home he has purchased here.

He will deny himself to all callers, except immediate members of his family, it is said, and a very few intimate friends with whom throughout his illness he has kept in contact.

No formal engagements of any character are expected to be made by the president until he shall have thoroughly adjusted himself to private life after some ten years in public service. Even the writing which he has planned to do upon his retirement from the White House will be postponed for several months, his friends say.

Mr. Wilson is understood to have declined a number of invitations to spend part of the summer out of the city of Washington, but because of his delight with the pleasant weather here last summer, the first which he had spent in this city, it is regarded as unlikely that he will accept any of these invitations.

For possibly six months, friends of the president believe, his life will be wholly taken up with writing. His chief diversion since his illness has been reading. He is said to have practically exhausted the field of detective stories, of which he has always been especially fond, and more recently has taken up novels and light stories. He also has given some time to reading poetry.

Since his resumption last week of his old custom of attending the theater, the president is expected to continue as his health improves, to find occasion more and more to avail himself of this form of recreation. He also is expected to continue his daily automobile rides.

ET TU, BRUTE!

Stabbed in the back by one of its pretended friends, is the recent experience of the Wilson administration. Here is the New York "World" quoting the statement that there has been a greater proportion of fatalities among prohibition enforcers than among the expeditionary forces, and then asking, "What is the matter? Are they drinking themselves to death or killing one another in quarrels over division of the graft?" Far be it from us to answer the question. They are going by one route or the other is of little moment. But if we were a Democrat and as ardent a worshipper at the Wilsonian shire as is the "World," we wouldn't take such a fling as that at a whole bunch of Wilson office holders who are supposed to be of an unusually high and virtuous type. What's the matter with the "World"?

American industry will be on a little safer basis after the anti-strike bill has been passed and interruption of interstate commerce is made a crime.

A BUSINESS LIKE POLICY

Dealing with other nations in a friendly but business like way—in a manner befitting a nation with self-respect, is the policy of President-elect Harding. In a speech at Kansas City, on October 8, he said, concerning the debts owed to the United States by European countries, "I know what I would try to do if I had the authority. I'd try to get some definite word on how and when it could be paid. I'd ask Europe in neighborly consideration if they didn't think we ought to figure out how and when they could pay—There should be a readjustment by a promise to pay in negotiable bonds of Europe. Offer these to Americans and get $10,000,000,000 that would go a long way in eliminating unnecessary war taxes with which we are now burdened.

Mr. Harding does not propose to go at our debtors in a brusque or offensive fashion, but in a "neighborly" way, just as individual neighbors would do who expect to remain on friendly terms. He would have a definite agreement, which is far less likely to lead to trouble than if matters are left in a vague and indefinite status resulting in misunderstanding. That is the only right way to proceed, and we can only regret that after the people voted for a change in national administration they could not get it early in December instead of early in March.

RESTORING THE FLAG

In 1821 almost 90 per cent of our ocean-borne foreign commerce was carried in ship under the American flag, the wages were paid to Americans, and the profits of the business went to American ship owners. In 1910, a little less than 9 per cent of our ocean-borne foreign commerce was carried in American ships. We are sending our money abroad to pay wages to foreign sailors and profits to foreign ship-owners. We are training men for foreign naval service. We are now in a fair way, as a result of the war, to get back somewhat near to our former standing as Ameri-time nation. Let us hope that nothing will prevent full attainment of our desires.

FINAL SETTLEMENT NOTICE

That an application has been made to and filed in this court to probate the last will and testament of J. M. Potts, deceased, and that the 1st day of March, 1921, has been fixed by order of this Court, made and entered, for the hearing of said application, at which time you may appear and contest the same if you think proper.

REAL PRESIDENTIAL MESSAGES

The nation is not especially concerned as to whether the next President reads his message to Congress or sends them to be read by Clerks of the legislative bodies. It will rejoice thoughtfull people, however, if Mr. Harding makes these communications real messages in the sense intended in the Constitution. The country is thoroughly convinced that eight years of presidential addressing of Congress oratorically, oracularly and for purposes of advancing personal opinions rather than describing the state of the Union and making recommendations based on recited facts, suffices.

A return to presidential use of state papers is needed. Mr. Wilson seldom sent such a document to Congress. His predecessors almost invariably did. The average citizen could read a presidential message up to a decade ago and obtain from it a good understanding of the "state of the nation"; could be acquainted with what the Government in its many departments was doing, what tasks lay ahead of it to be disposed of, and how they were to be discharged. Mr. Wilson's communications to Congress whether oral or written set forth his ideas, his ideals, his dogmatic assertions in support ideas and ideals, and his criticism of opposing views, but never giving the public the facts by which his conclusions could be tested.

The reports of departments heads, rendered at the close of every fiscal year, are so voluminous and so general in their discussions as to be unreadable by the average citizen—even if he could get hold of them. This has been a growing evil, and under Mr. Wilson's influence the Cabinet members have more and more made their reports what his messages were—presentations of personal views and arguments for their adoption. All the reports during the war were of that kind. Thus the country at large was left in increasing darkness as to what the Government was doing, how it was working, and what really needed to be done in the future.

Befogging the issues should be no part of any public official's activities. The President in particular needs to be exact, explicit, informative, throughly understandable in his official communications. If Mr. Harding will thus address Congress, he will be talking at the same time to all the nation, and will be enabling the people to comprehend governmental undertakings.—St. Louis Times.

BURGLARS

Lock 12 was somewhat disturbed Saturday night. At 11:30 o'clock a burglar went into the house of Mr. Joe Parrish, but nothing was missed. Mrs. Parrish was awakened, as some one came in the door. She, thinking it was her husband coming in from wark called to him, but no one answered. So she called again, but no reply was made. She heard the footsteps of some one going out at the back door. At this Mrs. Parrish was somewhat frightened, so she carried her boy with her and went out to her sister's.

Mr. Wood and Mr. Drake searched around the house, but could not find any one. Later Mr. Benziger with others searched the camp, but could not find any one. They must have been looking for money, for nothing else was missed. Joe says if he was hunting for money, "he came to a goat's house for wool."

The program opened with song and prayer as usual, then followed a reading on the subject, by Miss Bertha Littleton after which a special song was sung by the choir. After this the program was concluded with a mock wedding. Mr. Willie Scott performed the marriage ceremony. Miss Edith Robinson was the bride and Mr. Relious Franklin the groom. Mr. Earl Leary was the groom's best man, while Miss Alpha Bentley was the maid of honor. There were several other bridesmaids and grooms-men. Little Mary Sue Robinson and Marjorie Paramore were the flower girls. Mrs. E. N. Bentley played the wedding march It was indeed a very pretty affair and was enjoyed by a vast audience.

DRAMATIC INTERPRETER PLAYS ON EMOTIONS OF AUDIENCE AS MUSICIAN PLAYS ON STRINGS OF HARP.

There are dramatic interpreters of literature and there is Emma Dee Randle, artist, who comes to Thorsby on Wednesday night, Feb. 16th, in a program of interpretative recitals. Call her reader, entertainer, impersonator, what you will, no other word defines so well the work of Miss Randle as that often misbestowed title of artist.

Refined, smooth and well rounded, is her art. As responsive as a sculptor to the play of light and shadow, she has a sculptor's power of bringing out her characters in bold relief, yet in delicate shadings. Her magnetic throbbing voice is like the instrument of a skilled musician which throbs with, and echoes every delicate shade of emotion. Like a musician too, she awakens in the hearts of her hearers a warm response. Miss Randle possesses a repertoire of remarkable range, from Shakespeare to Pollyanna; from Browning's "In the Balcony" to the lightest humorous character fantasy; from the Book of Ruth to Enoch Arden.

Her recital here will prove to be one of the real treats of the local lyceum series. She is without doubt one of the most talented interpreters and readers now before the public, and she has that wonderful faculty of leaving a well defined trail of sunshine and happiness in her path.

Tickets 35 and 50 cents.

On last Saturday night a supper was given by the Fidelis Class of the Baptist Sunday School at J. G. Billingsley's store. The supper was served on the Cafeteria style. They had lots of good things to eat and a large crowd was there to enjoy them.

Last Thursday night a few young people of Thorsby held a meeting for the purpose of organizing a Music and Drama Club. Several plans were made and different questions discussed, after which the meeting adjourned to meet again next Friday night, at which meeting they will become thoroughly organized. We hope that this Club will be able to furnish some good entertainment in the near future.

Her Aim Bad

Mrs. Jarkinson was much perturbed to learn that her nine-year-old hopeful had been engaged in a pitched battle with the bad boy down the street. Therefore she summoned Horace for an accounting. "When," she demanded, "that awful boy threw stones at you, why didn't you come to me and tell me instead of throwing back at him? "Tell you, mother," said the boy with unfeigned astonishment. "Why, what good would that have done? You couldn't hit a barn door."

Miss Nolia Robinson spent Sunday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Rbinson in Thorsby.

The Thorsby Institute boys went to Montevallo last Saturday to play basket ball and they won the game by one point. Those who saw the game say that our boys did some wonderful playing and deserve a great deal of credit for winning this game, as they had all sorts of disadvantages over there. We ought to feel proud of our T. I. team for they have surely done some good playing this year.

RUB-MY-TISM Is a powerful Antiseptic and Pain Killer, cures infected cuts, old sores, tetter, etc. Relieves Sprains, Neuralgia, Rheumatism.

Mrs. John Johnson and Walter Johnson went to Birmingham Sunday night. While in the city they will attend a big Shriner's meeting.

Remember the Lyceum number on next Wednesday night, Feb. 16th, when the Lyceum presents Emma Dee Randle in interpretation.

The Best He Could Do.

The prison visitor was going her rounds. "Have you ever struggled against the consequences of temptation?" she asked of one ferocious looking fellow. "Yes, ma'am, I have," he answered. "Ah! I suppose if you had fought just a little harder you wouldn't be here today?" "Well ma'am said the prisoner, modestly, "Idid the best I could. It took five policemen to get meto the station."

Experienced Mothers know the wisdom of assisting nature before Baby's coming

IT is natural to think of the expectant mother's influence upon the unborn babe. Her food, her habits, her hygiene, and even the condition of her mind, all have a part in determining the well-being or ill-being of her infant before birth.

No woman awaiting the joys of coming motherhood should allow the days to pass without giving nature a helping hand—because the conditions of pending motherhood, existing as they do, over a protracted period of months, create almost a new state of being for a woman.

Just as she prepares herself for it, so will most favorable conditions prevail when her child is born.

MOTHER'S FRIEND is a balm for the nerves, an intensley penetrating lubricant that softens the muscles, relaxes tension of the delicate organism involved in maternity, and prepares the way for an easier, quicker and practical delivery.

REPUBLICANS URGED TO STAND BY THE REGULAR ORGANIZATION FOR MAKING RECOMMENDATIONS FOR APPOINTMENT

The political "plum tree" is going to be shaken right away. In anticipation of the mad rush that sometimes takes place among "favorite sons" and "deserving politicians" to get these "plums," a number of the leading Republicans of this county have taken steps to prevent this orgy of confusion. It is the purpose to place the claims of Chilton County's applicants for political appointments on a regular and systematic basis and eliminate the useless grabbing that sometimes accompanies such proceedings.

The idea of waiting for the action of the County Executive committee will give due recognition to the organization, and is absolutely fair to any and all men who may desire to make application for any apointment. It is the logical way to go about the matter.

Following is the letter addressed to the Republicans of the county, which goes into detail and explains the proposition fully. We commend the step to the consideration of all who would like to see Chilton county Republicans get some of these appointments and at the same time leave our fighting forces within the party here at home harmonious and fully united for future success.

To the Republicans of Chilton county:

By virtue of the successful accomplishments of the Republican party, and the ascendency of Republican ideals of government in the recent campaign throughout the country, and the change that will soon be effected among the office holders of the country by the return of the Republican party to power, it is an evident fact in the light of common practice of politics that there will be a great number of appointments of different kinds to be made in the state.

The past record of Chilton county in supporting the Republican party should give our people a good claim for consideration when the time is come to make these appointments. There are many offices to be filled which we should be entitled to have for our men who have stood by the party in the past.

We believe that there should be a strong united effort to present the claims of our men to the proper authorities of the Republican party at the proper time, and we further believe that it is unwise to set out by making endorsements without system and without regard to the regular county Republican organization. If we get the recognition we are entitled to, we must make our claims regularly and sincerely, and back them up by the solid and undivided support of the party in the county. Otherwise there is great danger of injuring our cause rather than advancing our opportunities.

Therefore, we now urge all Republicans in the county to take no steps in endorsing anybody for any appointment until the party organization has taken action and pointed the way. There will be ample time to handle the situation, and our Republican Executive Committee in public meeting will have an opportunity to consider all applications for appointments and take action thereon. In this way we shall all be able to ask for that which stands out as being for the best interests of our county, and our efforts will be harmonious and not be wasted by misapplied and conflicting efforts.

We hope to have the support of all Republicans of the county in this effort which we believe will result in the recognition of our past party loyalty by the reward of success that is sure to come always after persistent effort and honest endeavor.

AGAINST AMENDMENT

According to the result of the election on the Constitutional Amendment in Clanton Tuesday, this town must think that there are already enough "qualifications" placed upon and around the privilege of suffrage under the laws of Alabama. The result here was 349 against the Amendment and 30 for it. There were no reports from other parts of the county at the time we go to press.

Mr. E. H. Smith, of Siluria, was in Clanton to vote Tuesday.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

FRED L. BLACKMON DIED IN FLORIDA

Anniston, Ala., Feb. 8—Congressman Fred L. Blackmon of this city, Representative of the Fourth Alabama District in the House of Representatives of the United States Congress for the past 10 years, died suddenly in Bartow, Fla., last night. He succumbed to a sudden attack of heart trouble. He had gone to Florida a week ago to regain his health.

The deceased Congressman was elected to Congress six consecutive times, having been re-elected last November after a close race. With the completion of the 66th Congress he would have served 10 years as a representative of the Fourth District. Previous to entering Congress he was for 10 years a member of the State Senate.

Mr. Blackmon was 47 years old at his death. He was born in Georgia, from which state he moved with his parents to Alabama at an early age. He was admitted to the Anniston bar at 21 years of age.

Several times he was elected to Congress without opposition. He was instrumental in securing the location of Camp McClellan near Anniston in 1917 soon after the declaration of war with Germany.

Mr. Blackmon had announced he would retire from Congress after the completion of his next term. He had formed a law partnership here and intended to resume his profession at the conclusion of the 67th Congress.

Mrs. Hugh Jones Hostess.

Mrs. Hugh Jones entertained the members of the Tuesday Card Club at her home Tuesday morning. The pretty home was attractively decorated with yellow daffodils for the occasion. Progressive bridge was played. The prize was a lovely handkerchief, and fell to Mrs. Eric Hart. A plate luncheon served to the guests concluded the morning's pleasure.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since . . . I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too.

Smiles Come Again to Pretty Faces

The Charm of Good Health has its Source in Rich Red Blaad. Nothing on Earth is so Necessary for Beauty.

PEPTO-MANGAN BUILDS BLOOD

Restores the Quality of Your Blood, Brings Back Your Color and Renews Vitality.

Personal charm is like a light. It sheds its rays everywhere. Is the light of your personal charm hidden under the bushel of bad blood? Instead of habitual smiles do you wear a tired look—almost a scowl? Do you tire easily? Are you pale and lacking in vital energy and ambition?

You are not really ill. Your blood has become weak and sluggish. It is half starved. What you need is the blood-making qusilities of that splended tonic, Pepto-Mangan. After you have taken Pepto-Mangan a little while you will feel a big emprovement. The smiles will come back. People will see a difference in you. You will make friends again. You will have plenty of rich, red blood and feel stronger.

Pepto-Mangan has been building red blood for years. Physicians prescribe it right along. It has just the ingredients that starved blood needs. Sold in liquid and tablet form. Both have the same effect. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. Ask for "Gude's" and be sure that the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on the package. adv.

Reward for Starvation.

Little Willie had been told that he must always wait patiently until he was served at meals, and not to cry across the table nor grab for his food. One day while dining at a neighbor's with his mother the little fellow was accidentally overlooked. He was very patient for a timie, but at last he could bear the strain no longer seeing everybody feeding but himself. So, leaning quietly across to his mother, he said in a loud whisper: "Mother, do little boys who are starved to death go to heaven?"

666 is a prescription for Colds, Fever and LaGrippe. It's the most speedy remedy we know.

OFFICERS GET THREE STILLS AT ONE SHOT IN COOSA COUNTY

Sheriff J. L. Gore, deputy Jim Curlee, and Special Federal Agent, D. B. Borden, invaded the wild cat regions of Coosa County Tuesday and successfully pulled off one of the biggest raids ever known in these parts. The scene of the activity was just across the river below Lock 12 in the well known neighborhood of McSwain Branch. Three big stills were found within a quarter of a mile of each other, all about a quarter of a mile from the river. The largest one of the stills was a 250 gallon capacity box contraption with a copper bottom. About 1000 gallons of mash stood by ready to run. It was being operated by William Miner and Andie Cleckler, both of whom were taken by the officers. The outfit was demolished. Only a small quantity of whiskey was found as they had just fired up and got started to run off their large supply of "beer."

When the big sister had been done up in regular Volstead fashion, two trails were followed away from the scene a short distance leading the officers directly upon two more outfits of 100 gallons capacity each. There was 400 gallons of mash at one of these and 500 at the other. The two latter stills were not being operated when found, nor was there anyone in attendance upon them; but they were all set up and ready for action when the mash got ripe.

Both William Miner and Andie Cleckler live in Chilton County just on this side of the river from where they were operating the stills. Andie is the son of Hog Eye John Cleckler, and is a son in law of Miner. The two men will be taken to Montgomery on Thursday by Mr. Borden to answer their cases before the Federal Court.

Uncle Wiley Gore, father of Sheriff Gore was a spectator during the raid, having accompanied the officers on the trip.

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

IT MADE me sore.
TO GET all dolled up.
JUST TO go calling.
ON A pair of fish.
I NEVER could see.
BUT ORDERS is orders.
FROM FRIEND wife.
AND "GEE," I said.
"THIS IS a bum life."
THEN THE phone rang.
AND THE party was off.
I CLIMBED out quick.
FROM THE soup and fish.
INTO THE easy clothes.
AND SAT by the fire.
TOASTING MY toes.

AND WATCHING my wife.
QUIETLY KNITTING away.

Republicans to Make Fight for Vacant Seat Of Fourth District

PARTY WILL OFFER CANDIDATE FOR BLACKMON VACANCY, SAYS JUDGE REYNOLD'S IN RECENT INTERVIEW.

The daily papers of last Sunday and Monday carried the following statement from Judge L. H. Reynolds issued through an Associated Press dispatch from Montgomery, regarding the probable entry of a Republican candidate for the seat vacated by the death of Congressman Blackmon:

"The Republicans of the Fourth District expect to make a hard fight to elect the successor to the late Representative Fred L. Blackmon," a message received here from Judge L. H. Reynolds of Clanton, Ala., declares. "We believe that we can win, as the nation will have a national Republican administration for the next four years, and by electing a Republican from the fourth district we would have some influence with the administration."

In the same message Judge Reynolds declared he was giving serious consideration of offering as a candidate for the office, and expects to make a decision in the next few days. He was a candidate for the United Senate against Senator Oscar W. Underwood in the last general election, and polled 77,337 votes in the State.

Judge A. P. Longshore of Columbiana, Ala., a candidate against Representative Blackmon last November, in discussing the vacancy in the office and his possible candidacy again says:

"It is too soon after the death of Mr. Blackmon for me to make an announcement as to whether I will be a candidate to succeed him in this district. I am sure the Republicans of the district will nominate a candidate and will do so in convention."

WELLBORN PROPOSED.

Anniston, Ala., Feb. 14—Special. Alabama friends of M. B. Wellborn, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank in Atlanta, are urging him to enter the race in the Fourth congressional district for the seat made vacant by the death of Fred L. Blackmon.

Mr. Wellborn retains his citizenship in Alabama. He was for years president of the First National Bank in this city and is well known over the entire district. His friends say he would be the strongest man in the race if he will consent to enter.

If Mr. Wellborn gets into the race it may mean three Anniston men seeking the honor. Judge Hugh D. Merrill, Mr. Blackmon's law partner, is being importuned by friends over the district to make the race and is seriously considering the matter.

Major Lamar Jeffers, who opposed Mr. Blackmon in the last primary also is considered a probable candidate. Possible candidates are being mentioned daily in other counties in the district and it now appears that there may be half a dozen entries when the governor calls the special election to fill the vacancy.

FARMERS MEETING AT COURT HOUSE ON NEXT SATURDAY

In response to the urgings of several prominent farmers of the county, Messrs W. T. Bean, J. D. Collins, and W. S. Cox, have called a meeting of the farmers of the county to be at the court house next Saturday at 10 o'clock, a.m.

These gentlemen, in issuing the call for the meeting, make the following statement to the farmers:

To the Farmers of Chilton County:

As you people know, last fall you sent us (W. T. Bean, J. D. Collins and W. S. Cox) to the cotton growers conventiin at Montgomery, and we did the best we could for you while there. But to-day, everything looks gloomy. We have been asked to call a meeting at the court house for next Saturday (Feb. 19th) to discuss the cotton acreage question and crops to plant, also fertilizing prices and so on. We believe the people do not get together enough and discuss questions to their interest. So, let's all come together on next Saturday and have a heart to heart talk.

Yours for a crowd,
W. T. BEAN,
J. D. COLLINS,
W. S. COX.

We believe that the farmers ought to get together at this time of the year before planting heir crops and discuss the many important subjects that rlate to their interests. Much good can be accomplished by the right kind of a meeting, and we hope that there will be a large crowd present.

CASES IN COUNTY COURT MONDAY

The following cases were disposed of by Judge Reynolds in the County Court Monday. The cases were continued from the regular February term of the court last Monday, February 7th.

Ernest Ratliff, charged with having in possession spiritous, vinous or malt liquors; plead not guilty. Trial and fined $100 and costs. Appealed to circuit court; bond fixed at $500.

Nelson Atchison, charged with manufacturing liquor and having still in possession; plead not guilty. After hearing the evidence the court found probable cause for believing the defendant guilty. Bound over to grand jury.

Will McCormick, charged with manufacturing liquor and having still in possession; trial and found not guilty; defendant discharged.

Mose Ray, charged with failing to send children to school; nolle prossed.

Mr. J. M. Grant has returned from a visit of several days with his brother, Albert Grant, in Birmingham, who has been seriously sick for several days. He is reported as slightly improved now.

Squire Jno. S. Dennis of Cane Creek, Beat 11, was in town Monday.

RATS ARE COSTLY

100,000,000 Of Them in U. S. Destroy Average of $2.00 each Yearly.

Washington, Feb. 10.—It keeps 200,000 men working full time to support the nation's rat population. That assertion is made by the biological survey bureau in figures issued today, showing that there are as many "common brown rats" as humans in the United States, and each of the 100,000,000 or more destroyed $2 worth of foodstuffs a year. They also maintain an efficient transportation system for "Black Death" and other plague germs, the bureau adds, in urging a starve-and-slay campaign to check "a real hazard against American lives and prosperity."

FACTS ABOUT COTTON

Marlboro County, South Carolina, claims the distinction of averaging production of more cotton to the acre than any other county in the United States.

Ellis County, Texas, in the total number of bales produced, is the banner cotton growing county of the United States.

The per acre yield, average for the United States, has varied from 145 pounds of lint in 1871 to 224 pounds in 1914. The 10 year average is 182 pounds.

Egyptian yield of cotton averages 390 pounds, about, to the acre. Cotton production in Egypt is limited to irrigated acres along the Nile.

The area under cotton in India—about 25,000,000 acres, covers such a wide climatic range that at many seasons of the year planting and picking are going on in different parts of the country at the same time.

Cotton is grown in Asia as far north as the latitude of Chicago.

There is now enough cotton in the world, unspun, to last nearly two years.

The Civil War was fought in the cotton fields of the South, destroying, temporarily, the means of supply. The recent World War was fought in the great factory districts of the world.

There is now more cotton in the stocks of any one of half a dozen cotton markets in the South than was produced in all of the United States a hundred years ago.

More than three bales of cotton averaging 500 pounds in weight, have been grown on a single acre in South Carolina.

The estimated number of working cotton spindles in the United States is about 35,000,000 of which 15,000,000 are in cotton growing states.

The largest cotton crop ever planted in the United States was 37,458,000 acres in 1913, which yielded 14,156,436 balks, 500 pound equivalents of lint.

America's greatest crop of cotton 16,134,930 bales was grown on 36,832,000 acres.

The knowledge of cotton growing wild in islands of the West Indes is as old as the history of their discovery by the Spaniards in 1492.

Arkwright, Hargreaves and Compton, are great names connected with invention of cotton spinning machinery. They were Englishmen.

Eli Whitney, an American, invented the saw-gin. The original patent was March 14, 1794.

On account of the labor involved in separating the lint from the seed by hand, cotton was of unknown commercial importance prior to the invention of Whitney's gin.

CIRCUIT COURT

The Circuit Court of Chilton County is scheduled to open on March 14 for trial of the civil docket. On the same date the grand jury will convene.

The criminal docket will be taken up on April 4th for a session of one week.

BUNCH VELVET BEANS

Several farmers have asked me abut the Bunch Velvet Bean.

My experience is that they are not as good as the 90-day early speckled velvet bean. I also notice that the Experiment Station claims that all beans having vines are better than those without vines.

My advice to the farmers is to get their seed beans from South Alabama; because they never have any frost until all of their beans are ripe. And we wait until after frost to pick ours and we can't tell one matured from one that is not.

Let's all plant plenty of grain and feed crops, and as little cotton as possible this year.

I am for the farmers.

EVAN VINSON DIED IN BIRMINGHAM LAST WEEK

Evan W. Vinson, son of the late Isaac Vinson, died at Ensley last Thursday night as a result of injuries sustained in a smash-up between a street car and an automobile in which he was riding. Other occupants of the automobile were Kin W. Vinson, Sam Vinson, D. D. Lee and Lois Williams. Lee was killed instantly. The other three occupants were slightly injured. The men were all employed at Lubaco mines and had been over to Birmingham, and were returning home when the accident happened. The street car is said to have knocked the automobile about thirty feet, turning it over and pinning the occupants underneath the wreckage

They were all carried to the Ensley Infirmary where Evan Vinson died without regaining consciousness. His remains were brought to the home of his mother near Coopers Friday night and buried at Chestnut Creek Saturday.

The deceased leaves a wife, formerly Miss Minnie Donavan, and one child. He was a soldier in the late war, seeing service in France and other overseas operations.

Major Lamar Jeffers To be Candidate For Blackmon Vacancy

Death of Congressman Blackmon has Opened up an Unexpected Fight for Congressional Honors in This, the Fourth District.

Since the recent death of Congressman Fred L. Blackmon has created a vacancy in the United States Congress, there are quite a number of deserving sons of the Fourth District who are sprouting aspirations to fill his seat. Indications at present are that there will be a goodly number of hats in the ring, and by the time the election comes off there will be a sufficient variety of candidates in the race to give everybody a choice, no matter what may be the trend of his political ideas.

One of the foremost possibilities in the race will be Major Lamar Jeffers of Anniston, who opposed Mr. Blackmon in the Democratic primary of last May. In an interview given to the Union-Banner regarding his etry into the race Mr. Jeffers has the following to say:

Major Jeffers Letter.

"On account of the deplorable loss of our late Representative and esteemed citizen, Honorable Fred L. Blackmon, there is now a vacancy in Congress from our district.

"Out of respect for him I have not felt like rushing too hastily into plans for making the race for the place. However, I noticed in the Age-Herald of last Friday, February 11th, the definite announcement that Mr. McDonald, of Sylacauga, would be a candidate. I felt, too, that until the Democratic Executive Committee of the state had met and called an election or primary, a definite announcement of candidacy would be premature.

"But since others are openly priming themselves, I deem it wise to make a statement to the public as to what my feelings are in the matter.

"Less than a year ago I made the race for this same seat in Congress that is now vacant. While the loss of Mr. Blckmon is a blow to the district, and we all deeply regret his untimely death, the fact remains that the vacancy now exists. From the favorable reports that have come in during the past few days, I am of the opinion that it is in the minds of the people that I should be the next Representative of the district. We will pick right up where we left off on the 11th of last May, and, with the help this time of many who could not be with us before, we will push the job to a successful conclusion. We enter the contest anew this time with strong hope and greater confidence.

"My ambition is to go to Congress to represent the whole people of the district, and I will be ready with a formal announcement at the right time."

We are now facing that same old question that arises every spring—whether to plant a garden or to go fishing. A garden is all right but it interferes with our fishing more than any one thing we ever got into.

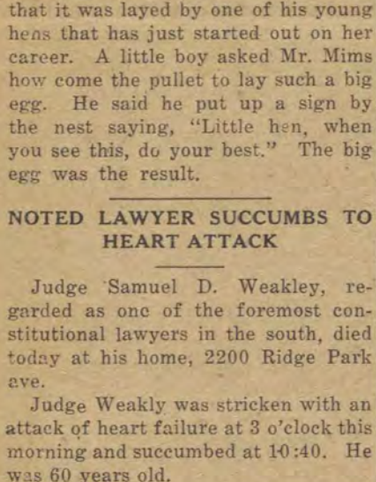
The Republicans of the Fourth Congressional District are now facing the best opportunity they have ever had or ever will have to send a man to represent the District in Congress. We hope they will get lined up and in shape to land the place that is vacant since the death of Mr. Fred L. Blackmon.

According to the result of the Constitutional Amendment in Clanton Tuesday, this town must think that there are already enough "qualifications" placed upon and around the privilege of suffrage under the laws of Alabama. The result here was 349 against the Amendment and 30 for it.

PULLET LAYED A GOOSE EGG

Did you ever hear of a pullet laying a goose egg? Well, if you have not, you never will. But Mr. E. H. Mims has a pullet that came the nearest to it that we have ever seen recorded. She layed an egg that is as big as a goose egg; it weighed four ounces. When Mr. Mims brought the egg to the Banner office Monday we first guessed it to be a goose egg; then we guessed to be a rooster egg; then in desperation we declared that it must be the egg of one of Mr. Mims's peafowls. But he insisted that it was layed by one of his young hens that has just started out on her career. A little boy asked Mr. Mims how come the pullet to lay such a big egg. He said he put up a sign by the nest saying, "Little hen, when you see this, do your best." The big egg was the result.

NOTED LAWYER SUCCUMBS TO HEART ATTACK



Judge Samuel D. Weakley, regarded as one of the foremost constitutional lawyers in the south, died today at his home, 2200 Ridge Park ave.

Judge Weakly was stricken with an attack of heart failure at 3 o'clock this morning and succumbed at 10:40. He was 60 years old.

He is suvived by his widow; two daughters, Mrs, N. E. Cross of Birmingham and Miss Louise Weakly, who is in school in Baltimore; two nephews, William and Joseph Mudd and his Brother John B. Weakley. Relatives and his partner, E. T. Rice, were with him when the end came.

VALUE OF COTTON SEED AS FERTILIZER

Seed for Fertilizers Not Economic, Says Authority.

Atlanta, Ga. — February. — It would be a mistake to use cotton seed as fertilizer, as some farmers are talking of doing, according to J. N. Harper, several years in experiment station work in the South, and now director of the Soil Improvement Committee. Continuing he says:

"It would be a mistake for two reasons: First, the South would be deprived of a great wealth producing substance—cottonseed oil; and second, cotton seed are not the best form of fertilizer to apply.

"On the first point, while it is unfortunate that the vegetable oil market is off and the oil miller cannot offer what the seed are really worth, it is better to accept what the miller can afford to give than to allow the oil to be destroyed when it is needed so much especially in starving Europe.

"To use cotton seed as a fertilizer is to throw away the oil of the seed for oil is not plant food; in fact, it is believed that it will retard plant growth.

"Cotton seed contain plant food, but when the seed are applied, it is not possible to scatter it so as to feed the crop properly. It puts the plant food on the land in lumps as represented by the seed.

"It takes the seed a long time to decay and become plant food. In fact no great amount of the plant food in cotton seed is ever actually used by the crop. As evidence of this, we cite Farmers' Bulletin 286 of the United States Department of Agriculture, page 8, from which we quote: 'The seeds are incased in hulls which must decay before the crop can utilize the plant food in them, and the kernels contain oil which is supposed to retard their decomposition, so that considerable moisture is required to decompose the seed and make available the plant food. In case of a very dry season it does not become available fast enough to supply the crop, and no doubt a portion of it fails to become available until after the crop matures.

"A table on page 9 of this bulletin shows that a difference of 303 lbs of seed cotton per acre in favor of cotton seed meal as compared with cotton seed, was obtained in a test where twice as much cotton seed was used as meal.

"South Carolina Experiment Station tests and tests of four other southern states show that a pound of a well balanced mixed fertilizer will produce a pound and more of seed cotton. A test in Alabama shows that it took 3 pounds of cotton seed to produce a pound of seed cotton.

"In other words, at present prices of cotton seed and complete fertilizers, there is no doubt that it will pay to sell the seed and buy the fertilizers.

"In exchanging cotton seed for cotton seed meal, it will be well to remember that if the plant food is to be taken into consideration, that a ton of meal contains three times more phosphoric acid than a ton of seed; two and one-half times more nitrogen and one and one-half times more potash than the seed contain."

FERTILIZER SITUATION

Extension of Credits Will Be Restricted—Large Yields Per Acre Keenly Needed for Overcoming Handicaps.

The fertilizer situation in the South is unusual. More than 75 per cent of the Southern farmers' fertilizer accounts that fell due in the fall of last year have come over into this year unpaid, according to authorities on the fertilizer business.

This means that the further extension of credit will necessarily be very much restricted to debtors until their accounts are paid. Many 1920 farmers' notes are still in the hands of local dealers and banks. This restricts the ability of these agencies to extend credit, thus increasing the difficulties of the situation.

Fertilizer manufacturers state that they are taking losses not only on bad accounts, but also on the materials that they bought at high prices. This, coupled with the unsatisfactory credit situation, is making the fertilizer manufacturers slow about pushing their goods on the market.

Though fertilizer prices have fallen they have not gone down as much as the price of crops. Nor have land values, taxes, farm equipment and labor been reduced in proportion to the price of crops. It follows that every effort must be made to produce the crops economically.

When crop prices are low it is necessary to get high yields per acre to make any profit at all. Low yields and low crop prices can mean only one thing, and that is loss. Therefore the Southern farmer must make every blow count in 1921. Each cultivated acre must be forced to do its best in producing economic high yields.

In order to do this, fertilizers must be used, as every cotton belt farmer realizes. Fertilizers are needed so as to get more for each day's work and keep down the cost per pound or bale or bushel of crops produced. It will, therefore, be unfortunate if any Southern farmer is financially unable to avail himself of the full benefits of fertilizers in producing a cheap crop in 1921. No one who is able will fail to do so if he understands this season's cropping problem.

Poor Blood Is Just Like Slow Poison

Makes you Feel Lazy and Discouraged. You get Nothing done.

PEPTO-MANGAN PURIFIES

Tune Up Your Blood with It. Notice The Difference with Rich Red Blood in Your Veins.

The man or woman or the child with a sickly-looking complexion, a pale wan face, has blood that is filled with poison. Instead of rich red blood coursing throught heir veins, they are trying to get along with blood that is weak and thin. It doesn's carry life-giving qualities through the body. You see those men and women every day. They are so tired. Their shoulders droop. They slouch. It is all they can do to get around.

As soon as you begin to feel that way take Pepto-Mangan, the well-known blood tonic. It will clear away the poisons and make your blood rich with red corpuscles.

Pepto-Mangan is prepared in both liquid and tablet form. One has the some medicinal value as the other. Take either kind you prefer. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's". The full name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," should be on the package. Advertisement.

The usual business program was carried out, after which a delightful social hour was spent and the most delicious refreshments were served. The meeting next month will be held at the home of Mrs. James Bosworth.

Mr. C. T. Butler of Montgomery spent a day in Thorsby last week with his parents, Mr. and Msr. E. W. Butler.

Mr. Carl C. Peterson has again taken up the position as clerk in the place of Mr. Parrish, at the station here.

PASTORS AND WORKERS CONFERENCE

The Pastors and Workers Conference of the Unity and Chilton County Baptist Association was held at the Baptist Church, Thorsby, Ala., on last Monday.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Rev. D. D. Head. The following pastors and workers were present: Revs. B. C. Hughes, J. D. Hughes, W. A. Goss, P. G. Carter, W. P. Lowery, Buford Lawrence. Other brethren, present were, Judson Strock, A. P. Horsley and S. M. Adams.

The following important subjects were discussed:

"How to Collect our Campaign Pledges," led by D. D. Head of Marbury, who suggested first that the pastors feel the responsibility that rests upon them and work to that end. Second, that we get the coperation of the enlisted to line up the un-enlisted with the campaign. Third, suggest to the brethren who have made pledges to turn loose sufficient of their produce on hand for this specific purpose, by selling some at present prices if necessary to pay the pledges due.

The next subject discussed, "How best to affect a Pastoral Alignment with churches and pastor," led by Rev. W. A. Goss, who suggested agitation and education of the peple on the subject. In the further discussin of it, it is suggested that the solution of the problem lay with the pastors and deacons by putting on a united front in pressing the benefits and necessities to their congregations.

The motion moved by Rev. P. G. Carter, was then accepted, that each pastor who has this problem to face set aside one service in a month to present the matter of pastoral alignment of the churches to their congregation.

The final subject, "How to get the Sunday School to attend the preaching service," was interestingly discussed by Rev. Buford Lawrence, who made the following sugegstions: That the teachers of the Sunday Schools attend the preaching service, and the Pastors attend the Sunday Schools. That the pastor in his visitation speak to the children about it. Let the parents teach it to their children and attend the service themselves.

The next meeting will be held at Chestnut Creek Church at Coopers on the Monday after the second time.

A splendid lunch was served by the ladies of the church, and for this we wish to express our sincere thanks. We regret that an opportunity was not given them to say something to us at this conference, and for this we beg their pardon, but promise to give them all the time they desire at the next conference and at each succeeding one.

Another meeting of the proposed "Thorsby Cooperative and Marketing Bureau," is called for 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Feb. 19th, to form a permanent organization.

This is something very much needed in Thorsby, to handle the other lines of farm products which are not handled by the Thorsby Fruit&Truck Growers Association.

It is hoped that all our farmers will rally to this meeting and become members in order that they may better be able to market their corn, water melons, hay, potatoes, etc.

The one thing needed for this section is more diversification, and this can be more easily accomplished, if there is some organization to aid the farmer in marketing his various products.

DRAMATIC CLUB.

A new organization has sprung up in our midst, that promises to give to Thorsby many interesting programs during the year. The name of this organization is, Thorsby Music and Drama Club. It has started with a membership of twenty-eight, and many others wishing to join.

The officers are: President, C. R. Foss; Vice-President, Orville Mastin; Secretary, Agnes Leary; Treasurer, Naemi Turnquist; Custodian of Properties, Walter Parnell.

A committee is now at work on the arrangement of an interesting entertainment to be given in the near future.

The purpose of this orgaization is to further and promote talent of the community along the lines of music and drama.

We hope that all those interested in our work will give their application to one of the above officers, and become members.

Mrs. Fred Larkins of Chicago, Ills., and her little daughter, Louise, are spending a few days with Mrs. C. L. Forsman, mother of Mrs. Larkins.

The Helen Kellar Literary Society of Thorsby Institute held its regular meeting at Bates Hall Saturday night, February 12. The usual interesting program aws carried out.

Last Friday afternoon the boys basket ball team of this city went over to Montevallo to show those boys how to play ball. We'll say they must need someone to show them how, as our boys beat them by 14 points, the score being 17 to 3. Hurrah for Thorsby. Our boys have not even had any practice. O boys, what would they do to our neighboring teams if they did practice up. We wonder.

Capt. and Mrs. J. B. Hutchinson of this city had as their guests Sunday Captain Henry F. Schoeder and Mrs. Schoeder, also Captain George M. Shelton of the U. S. Army Retired. These men are both congressional medal of honor men. They are at present located in Birmingham and are instructors at the Birmingham High School.

There will be service at the Baptist Church next Sunday morning and evening at the usual hour, the service to be conducted by the pastor, Rev W. P. Lowery. All friends are welcome.

Miss Anna Werness of Birmingham spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Martha Grothy.

Miss Ella Gerald spent Sunday in Clanton with Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Gerald.

Miss Jesse L. Marriner, State Director of Public Health Nursing and Child Hygiene, also vice-president of National organization of public health nursing, will be here Friday, Saturday and Monday, to visit schools, giving addresses on various phases of community health and sanitation.

It will be to the interest of all to hear her.

Mrs. C. S. Wood has as her guests this week her mother and sister of Selma, Ala

SOCIETY AND PERSONALS

MRS. R. E. LUCKIE, Editor.

Study Club Entertained.

Mrs. S. E. Johnson was hostess to the Study Club on last Friday afternoon.

Lovely decorations of hearts, crystal vases of red and white carnations, and narcissi were used in profusion thruout the rooms.

While such splendid work has been done by the other clubs for the European Relief Fund, it has also been of vital interest to the Study Club and a very liberal offering was donated.

The Federation of Womens Clubs has a clean-up contest on, and the Study Club, in conjunction with the Civic, is working toward that end to make Clanton the "City Beautiful." We want everyone to cooperate.

After a lengthy business session a most interesting program on "Home Economics" followed, with Mrs. V. J. Heard as leader for the afternoon.

Roll call: Something found from experience to have benefitted the home.

Paper: "The Greatest Industry in America—the Home," Mrs. Hester, whch was very interesting and inspiring.

Paper: "Play and Play Time for Grown Folks," Mrs. McDavid, which was very interesting.

Discussion:— What are Sensible clothes? Planning and serving deserts. Is the average American home awake to its opportunity? By Club members.

At the conclusion of the program a most tempting plate luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by her mother Mrs. Harper to about 20 club members and a number of guests who were Mesdames Spigener, Pearson, White, Hinkle, and Misses Emma and Mabel Thomas. Music on the Edison was enjoyed during the social hour.

Senior Class Entertained.

Miss Marzelle Mullins delightfully entertained the Senior Class of the Chilton County High School on last Friday evening.

The attractive home was beautifully decorated with hearts and red and white carnations, and was never more lovely than on this occasion.

The evening was pleasantly spent in playing games and contest appropriate to the occasion. Those winning prizes were Anice Kemp, Allie Crumpton and Rucker Sims.

At a late hour delicious cake and jello were served to about thirty guests.

Pretty Party Given.

One of the largest and most enjoyable of the week's social functions was a Bridge Party given at the home of Mrs. J. Watts Moore on last Wednesday evening when she and Mrs. R. E. Luckie entertained jointly. The entertainment was in the nature of a Valentine Party with decorations of red and white carnations and pot geraniums. The tables placed in the library, hall and dining room, were centered with red cupids, and at the close of the game the highest score at each table was presented with same.

After several hours spent in playing bridge the consolation prize was cut for and won by Mrs. Sam Johnson, this being a lovely bunch of carnations. Late in the afternoon a luncheon plate with iced tea was served to Mrs. Sam Johnson, Mrs. Grady Broadhead, Mrs. L. F. Gerald, Mrs. Guy Roberts, Mrs. Harvey Chandler, Mrs. V. J. Heard, Mrs. Guy Higgins, Mrs. Eric Hart, Mrs. John Armstrong Mrs. P. D. Here was a profusion of red carnations which lent their beauty and fragrance to the scene.

Mrs. McDavid Hostess.

After the business the class decided to clean the church on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All members especially invited. Late in the afternoon Mrs. McDavid served a lovely salad plate.

The Stamp Of Edison's Genius

is clear and unmistakable. It places Edison's Amberola so far above "talking machines" and ordinary phonographs that there is no comparison. You don't have to be a musical expert to realize that the Amberola is the world's greatest phonograph value. Anyone who likes music cannot fail to note the tremendous difference.

EDISON'S NEW DIAMOND AMBEROLA has such a pure, musical tone, that once you've heard it, no metallic sounding phonograph or shrill "talking machine" will ever please you again. The genuine Diamond Point Reproducer does away with needles. The practically indestructible Amberol Records outlast ordinary fragile records by many years!

Name your own terms and learn how surprisingly easy it is to own an Amberola, thanks to Mr. Edison. NOW—can you refuse to visit our store and listen to the Amberola? Come right away—don't forget—please.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

The smile of God's sunshine on the Sabbath day was a strong inducement for many to attend the services of our church last Sunday. There was a good Sunday School present, though not quite as large as sometimes is present. The morning service was well attended by an appreciative audience. The night service proved to be a very attractive one when the large audience that filled every availible space proved even to the most skeptical mind that the gospel has lost none of its charms when presented in an attractive manner. The first set of beautiful colored pictures setting forth the problems of Christ in the Wilderness were very impressive and instructive. Many people were present from the country as well as a large audience of the city folks. We were pleased to have them with us, and invite them to come back again to the remaining pictures which will be presented each alternate Sunday Evening for some weeks to come.

Next Sunday morning the Rev. C. J. Bentley will exchange pulpits with the pastor, who by kind invitation of the Verbena Church will preach for them. The regular service will be held at night when the pastor will preach.

The Sunbeam Band meets at 2 p.m.; the Junior B. Y. P. U. at 3 p.m. and the Senior B. Y. P U at 6:30 p.m.

Everyone is cordially invited to these services of the church. Come and bring a friend with you. If you are a Baptist living in Clanton we invite you in keeping with the Baptist Church Covenant, to unite with us, and help make the County Seat Church an influence and power for good to all the other churches in the county.

P. G. CARTER, Pastor.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

Quaker Minister Is Grateful to Tanlac

Rev. Parker Moon

Nearly everybody in Southwest Missouri either knows or has heard of the Rev. Parker Moon, who for a full half century has devoted his life and talents to Sunday School and organization work for the Society of Friends or Quakers.

"Uncle Parker," as he is more familiarly known, came from fine old rugged Quaker stock, and there is not a better known citizen or more highly respected citizen in that part of the state. In referring to his remarkable restoration to health by Tanlac, he said:

"About five years ago I suffered general breakdown. My principal trouble was nervous indigestion. My appetite was very poor and my food seldom agreed with me, and I had to live on a very restricted diet. I suffered a great deal from headaches and dizzy spells; I had severe pains across the small of my back and was badly constipated most of the time. In fact, I was so weak and rundown I was not able to attend to my duties.

"This condition made me very nervous and I could not sleep at night. Frequently I would lie awake most all night and was in that condition more or less for five years. My physician said he could not do anything for me and suggested a change of climate. I then moved to Texas and went back and forth three times, but did not get relief I had hoped for. Finally, I got so bad off I was not able to get around with any degree of comfort. I was also told I had heart trouble.

"I had read about Tanlac and, as it had been very highly recommended to me, I decided to try it. I got a bottle and had taken only a few doses until I could notice a marked improvement in my condition. I noticed especially that I was not troubled any more with sour stomach after eating, which was a great relief.

"I kept on taking Tanlac until I fully regained my health. My appetite is splendid; I enjoy my meals and I do not find it necessary now to take my laxative medicines of any kind. I can sleep much better and am not nearly so nervous.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Tanlac to anyone who needs a good system builder, or who suffers with stomach trouble. I have recommended Tanlac to a great many of my friends and am pleased to reach others by giving this statement for publication."

Tired

"I was weak and run-down," relates Mrs. Eula Burnett, of Dalton, Ga. "I was thin and just felt tired, all the time. I didn't rest well. I wasn't ever hungry. I knew, by this, I needed a tonic, and as there is none better than—

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

. . . I began using Cardui," continues Mrs. Burnett. "After my first bottle, I slept better and ate better. I took four bottles. Now I'm well, feel just fine, eat and sleep, my skin is clear and I have gained and sure feel that Cardui is the best tonic ever made."

Thousands of other women have found Cardui just as Mrs. Burnett did. It should help you.

DEATH OF LEE SARTOR

The family of Mr. W. H. Sartor was called upon to suffer bereavement in the death of their youngest son, Lee Sartor, who at nineteen years of age, passed away on Thursday, the 3rd of February in the infirmary in Montgomery. Being a member of the Baptist Church the Rev. P. G. Carter conducted the funeral and the Rev. D. M. Pearson as pastor of the Methodist Church, with whom the family worshipped, assisted in a beautiful spirit. Services were held at the house in the presence of a large company of sympathisers and friends. The service was brief but impressive, and a splendid quartette, under the direction of Miss Roberta Curry, rendered very appropriate music. The remains were laid to rest in the family burial ground in the Clanton Cemetery on Friday, and the grave covered with a lovely display of flowers as a token of the respect and esteem in which he was held by those who knew him. To the bereaved family we extend the sympathy of the community in this their added sorrow.

Last week was a record breaker for the officers of Chilton County in the successful raiding of moonshine stills. The above picture shows one of their prize catches which was put on exhibition in Clanton last Thursday. It is 150 gallons in capacity, was found in full operation three-quarters of a mile south of J. M. DuBose's place near the line of Chilton and Shelby in Stumps Hills section. The officers engaged in this raid were J. L. Gore, Sheriff of Chilton County, his deputy J. M. Curlee, and his father, Wiley Gore, assisted by Special Federal Agent, D. B. Borden, and Chief Deputy J. O. Moore from Sheriff Jackson's office in Shelby County, and two other Shelby Deputies, John Smith and Jap Roy.

The still was being operated by Ed Haynes, Charley DuBose and Ernest Evans, and was sheltered under a big tent in order that they might be able to run it, rain or shine. These operators did not have to wait for warm weather to ripen their mash either. They had their barrels arranged in a heating process of oil stoves. Something like 2,000 gallons of mash was standng at the still ready to be transformed into high powered lightning. Seven galons of whiskey that had just drained out of the thumper was taken by the officers.

The three men who were engaged in the operation of the plant were brought to Clanton and placed in jail. They have made bonds in the sum of $1,500 each to await trial in the courts.

This raid was the climax of a week of work for the officers that netted all told, the destruction of 5 stills, 4,500 gallons of mash, and the arrest of 5 men engaged in operating the stills at the time the officers caught them.

SPECIAL MAN FROM AUBURN IS TO BE HERE NEXT SATURDAY.

Prof. L. N. Duncan of the Experiment Station at Auburn, was in Clanton Monday. He was told about the meeting of farmers that is called for next Saturday and was invited to be here at the meeting. But he could not promise to come back himself, but did agree to send someone else in his place if he could not come.

On Wednesday morning The Union-Banner received a telegram from Prof. Duncan stating that District Agent E. E. Benford would be here Saturday to talk to the farmers on agricultural subjects.

Now we want to urge all the farmers to be here. Come and let's have a good old fireside talk wth one another all day. We believe there are many things of advantage that may be passed from one to the other in this way.

Don't come expecting to hear some silver tongued slick duck do all the talking. We don't want that kind of stuff. We don't think Mr. Benford is that kind of a man. If he is we will find something to do with him when we find him out. Come with an idea that you think will be valuable for your brother farmer to know, and you will have an opportunty to tell him yourself.

COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

(Ewell Robinson)

In response to the appeal for the suffering children of Europe the students of the high school have raised enough to save four lives. The Senior Class raised $9.50, the Junior Class $10,62; the Sophomore Class $12.00; and the Freshman Class $9.60; making a total of $41.72.

Interest continues to manifest itself in the Literary Societies. Interesting programs are held every Friday afternoon. The interest centers itself particularly about the debates. Quite a few are developing talents along that line.

The High School "wallopped" the Wetumpka Aggies in basket ball on last Saturday night. The game was played on the indoor court of the Wetumpka boys, and was won by the one-sided score of 30 to 4. Calloway starred for the high school, while the splendid work of her guards deserves no less praise.

The basket ball team will play the Montevallo High School Wednesday evening.

Prof. Alverson gave us some interesting figures regarding the work of the different classes for the term just passed. The Senior Class leads with the highest average. The Sophomore Class ranked second, followed very closely by the Junior Class, while the Freshman Class ranked very closely to the Juniors. He reported the average for the school to be very satisfactory.

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. Government Will Secure Statistics from Farmers In Chilton County, Ala.

REPRESENTATIVES OF DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE TO BE HERE IN MARCH.

The office of Farm Management of the United States Department of Agriculture, in assembling information concerning the profits and losses from different types of farming, will send special agents into Chilton County during the month of March to obtain from farmers here the data necessary for compiling the reports. About fifty or sixty farmers of Chilton County will be interviewed by the Department representatives.

When a government representative comes prying around the farmers for facts and figures about his business, it is often the case that said representative is given the cold shoulder by the farmer; and the reason is this: The farmer, of all people in the world is least affected with favor for the varied and sundry taxation schemes of the government. And the fear is prevalent that all agents of the government may be tax agents.

But such fears are misapplied in many instances, and the conclusions of the farmer, or other citizen possessing such horror of tax agents, are often too hastily drawn.

In order to smooth the way for the representatives of the Department of Agriculture, and relieve them from being suspected as tax inquirers, the Department assures us in advance that these records will be collected exclusively for the United States Department of Agriculture, and will have no reference whatever to taxation.

The editor of The Union-Banner is in receipt of the following letter from the Department of Agriculture covering the matter in detail, and briefly stating the course that will be pursued by the collection of this information from the fifty or sixty farmers of the county:

Washington, Feb. 17, 1921.

Mr. W. M. Wyatt, Editor of The Union-Banner, Clanton, Ala.

Dear Sir: For several years the office of Farm Management of the United States Department of Agriculture has been assembling information concerning the profits and losses from different types of farming. Studies have also been made for the purpose of obtaining production costs for different farm products. Special attention has been given to the cotton crop within the past two years. Approximately sixteen hundred reports were obtained from cotton farmers during the years 1918 and 1919. This work will be repeated during the months of February and March, 1921.

Chilton County, Alabama has been selected as one of the areas in which records will be taken this year. The Government representatives will arrive in Clanton on or about March 2 and will remain in Chilton County long enough to iterview from fifty to sixty farmers. These records will be collected exclusively for the United States Department of Agriculture and will have no reference whatever to taxation. The party assigned to this work includes Messrs. M. R. Cooper, R. S. Washburn, R. D. Jennings, A. P. Brodell, and Ray Bryant.

This work is being done primarily for the benefit of agriculture. We believe that cotton growers in particular, will obtain many helpful suggestioins from the results of the study. We will appreciate the favor if you will bring this work to the attention of your farm readers. Their earnest cooperation is solicited in connection with this study.

Thanking you in advance for giving this matter attention, I remain,

Very truly yours,
L. A. MOOREHOUSE,
Associate Farm Economist.

Chilton County is what we might call an average agricultural county of the South, and we feel that the Department has made a wise selection in which to obtain their information. Maybe they will not have much trouble convincing our farmers that they are not after raising their taxes, but purely on an agricultural mission.

The second day's session was opened at 10 A. M.,. with devotional service by E. B. Prickett. "Church Discipline," was discussed by T. J. Deason. "Sunday School Work," was the subject of a discussion by W H. Connell. "The Value of the Church to the World," was discussed by W. P. Lowery.

FROM MR. WALKER.

Editor Union-Banner:

To be a good County Commissioner one must have the cooperation of his people. Therefore I ask that all who are in my District, and throughout the county cooperate with me in the handling of the affairs of the county that come under my duties. The county has been and will continue to be what the people make it. I have come to the conclusion that carelessness, selfishness, non-christianity and grafting have just about ruined the whole government family.

Yours truly,
C. T. WALKER.

RELATION OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO THE FARMER

Inasmuch as a great many people are of the impression that the Chamber of Commerce is an organization exclusively for the interests of the merchants and professional men and fines its activities to the city only, it is well to state some of the valuable things that such an organization can do for the farmer, the county and the state, some of which we hope to carry into effect in the near future by our local organization.

Good Markets.

In these days of low priced cotton we are hearing much abont diversified farming. The principle is right, but for it to be successful the farmer must have a good market for his produce. Northern markets that are thoroughly reliable constitute the best markets, and it is part of the business of the Chamber of Commerce to get in touch with such markets in the interests of the farmer. When such has been secured by a Co-operative Farmers Association or a similar organization the farmer can always be assured of safe and sure market for all the diversified crops that he can raise, and thus make farming a profitable undertaking. Such an organization initiated by the Chamber of Commerce can also greatly assist the farmer in shipping marketable goods. It is useless for a farmer to expect the highest prices for his products unless they are properly packed, and the quality or grade is up to the mark.

Potato House.

A profitable crop to be well considered is the sweet potato crop, especially when properly stored and cured, and shipped at the right time, as regulated by the rise and fall of the market. It is the purpose of the local Chamber, as soon as possible, to initiate proper storage and so assist the farmer in the proper handling of this crop.

Dairying Industry.

Dairying is no experiment. It is known to be a good source of revenue when properly managed. Its chief objection is the amount of work attached to it. This however can be considerably lessened by the erection of a centrally located dairy to which the farmer can send his milk, have the cream separated therefrom, and the skim milk returned to him, with which to feed his hogs or other stock. By keeping a few cows at the end of each week he will receive a nice check that will add very materially to his income, and the labor and number of hours he has to work be very considerably reduced. With a little time and encouragement this is an industry that can soon become an accomplished fact through the instrumentality of the Chamber of Commerce.

A Farm Demonstrator.

To many farmers this sometimes proves a rather ticklish question, yet the fact remains that a man who is spending years in study on the subject of farming and devotes his whole time to that specific work is able to give valuable advice and render valuable assistance to the averge farmer, while at the same time conceding to the frmer the right to exercise his own judgment if he so desires. By the assistance of the government or State authorities such a man can be procured and easily maintained, and where the counties have cooperated with such a man, it has proved to be very beneficial and profitable to the individual farmer and to the county. All these things herein mentioned come under the supervision of the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce, whose business it is to initiate in any way possible these very desirable enterprises.

Good Roads.

The need of good roads in Chilton County cannot be denied by anyone. The farmer may produce good crops, but if it takes him all day to reach the market or the shipping point he will lose much of the profit that he ought to receive for his produce. Today time is money, and good roads therefore have much to do with the finances of the farmer. They are the highways of the county. They do as much sometimes more than anything else to increase the value of the farm. Therefore, every farmer should cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce which has a good roads committee to encourage and foster any movement for the building of good roads in the State and Chilton County.

A Protective Agency.

Many people of the North are looking southward where they can purchase land. The lands of the south are cheap, as compared with those of the north. The climatic conditions of the south are also very attractive. Severay thousands of the returned soldiers with an average financial rating of something like $4,800 are turning their attention to the south for location and settlement. Many people are dishonestly treated when purchasing such lands, with the result that Alabama or the section of the State where such treatment is accorded them receives a bad name, very much to the injury of the State or county. A well pleased customer is the best advertisement that one can have. It is therefore the purpose of the Chamber of Commerce to act as a protective agency to all prospective buyers in Chilton County. We do not make sales, but simply furnish advice and any assistance we can to get the prospective purchaser in touch with a straight honest dealer, and it is then up to the buyer and seller to close the contract. If you have lands for sale, or suitable industrial sites, we respectfully request that the same be listed with the Chamber of Commerce, who will render any assistance within keeping of the organization to any prospective purchasers. We expect to receive various enquiries from time to time for such properties, it will therefore be to the interest of the farmer to list his property if he has such a sale.

The Chamber of Commerce is the farmer's friend and earnestly solicits the farmers' co-operation, and the benefits accrued therefrom will be mutual to all. Every farmer is invited to join this organization. The dues are only $2 for initiation and $1 per month, which pays the running expenses of the organization.

For further information on all these matters, write or see Rev. P. G. Carter, Secretary Chamber of Commerce, Clanton, Ala.

LETTER FROM J. N. SCOTT.

Editor Union-Banner:

Since seeing the request of Governor Kilby to the people of the State to speak out in regard to the strike in the Birmingham District, I ask a space for a few thoughts to the public. First, I want to say that I admire very much the spirit that the Governor possesses at this time, and I am of the opinion that if he had possessed it at the beginning of the strike, and had used his influence and had asked the good people of the State for their influence in settling the strike, he would have been more able to settle the trouble that way than he has been by using the $100,000 per month of the peoples money and his school boy soldiers. I say school boy soldiers because some of them are of that age. I want to say right here that when we need soldiers to maintain order, we should have men who know how to respect a citizen of our country, men who are unbiased toward all men or sets of men. They should be men that desire to see that all men have a fair deal, and not one class tearing down another class. Give honor to whom honor is due and every citizen of the state ought to want peace. To get it and keep it we should live the Golden Rule, do unto others as you would like others to do unto you. I am sure that means to live and let live. I am sure no man desires to be killed, starved or treated roughly by his fellow man. No man liveth to himself alone, and when he respects other people he then has the assurance of being respected, for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

In regard to the strike, I am not able to say who is wrong. But one or both organizations are contending for something wrong. Neither one should want to crush the other out of existence. I believe a few representatives can get together and adjust every trouble better than a hundred, when all want to do the right thing. I believe in organization of all classes of men. If I did not I would not believe in the government or the church for they are organizations. It is not organization that cripples prosperity. It is the spirit in which we deal one with the other. I am sure that if the right spirit had existed with and among Governor Kilby's organized soldiers as it should they would not have killed any citizen. No one would have been carried to jail. There would have been none of the state's money spent in the many court proceedings that have arisen out of the big muddle of conditions. I wonder how much money has been given to Northcutt's widow and children and Beard's wife and children by those who have contributed to the fund to set the soldiers free. If they haven't they should give honor to whom honor is due, and then we all should be looking for the right side of the questions involved.

Respectfully,
J. N. SCOTT,

Irondale, Ala., Feb. 21, 1921.

Harding's Cabinet Now Is Practically Complete; Hughes, Sec'y of State

VIRTUAL SELECTION OF MICHIGAN MAN FOR CABINET IS SURPRISE TO ALL.

An Associated Press Dispatch from St. Augustine, Fla., the winter headquarters of President-elect Harding, says that the new Cabinet as selected by Mr. Harding will be:

Secretary of State—Charles Evans Hughes, of New York.

Secretary of War—John W. Weeks of Massachusetts.

Attorney General—Harry M. Daugherty, of Ohio.

Postmaster General—Will H. Hays, of Indiana.

Secretary of the Navy—Edwin Denby, of Michigan.

Secretary of the Interior—A. B. Fall, of New Mexico.

Secretary of Commerce—Herbert Hoover, of California.

Secretary of Agriculture—Henry C. Wallace of Iowa.

Secretary of Labor—James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania.

The same dispatch continues by saying that President-elect Harding completed his cabinet slate by a virtual selection of Edwin Denby, of Detroit, Michigan, as Secretary of the Navy.

The choice was the first big surprise among the cabinet selections, Mr. Denby's name having never appeared in newspaper speculations. He is an attorney and former member of Congress and has served as an enlisted man in wartime in both the navy and the marine corps.

It is understood a formal tender and acceptance are yet to be exchanged, but Mr. Denby is regarded by those close to Mr. Harding as practically certain to take the place.

There were also growing indications today that the virtual selections of Herbert Hoover of California to be secretary of commerce, and James D. Davis of Pennsylvania to be secretary of labor, soon would be definitely fixed, putting the complete cabinet in its final form.

Mr. Denby, who served three terms as a member of Congress from 1905 to 1911, is 50 years old, and is a veteran of both the Spanish-American and World Wars. In the former he was a gunner's mate on the U.S.S. Yosemite, and in the World War he was a sergeant and later a lieutenant in the Marine Corps. He was placed in the reserves with rank of major on Jan. 1, 1919.

A native of Evansville, Ind., Mr. Denby is the son of Charles Denby, former American minister to China. He was educated in the high schools at Evansville and went to China in 1885 with his father. Mr. Denby was in the Chinese imperial customs service for several years, returning to this country in 1894.

While in Congress Mr. Denby made a particular study of naval affairs, being a member of the naval committee of the House.

McDONALD FOR CONGRESS

The Union-Banner this week carries he announcement of Hon. S. P. McDonald of Sylacauga, the first formal entry into the race for the seat of the ate Fred L. Blackmon in Congress representing this the Fourth District. Mr. McDonald is a very popular man n his home town and county, as is shown by the send-off given him by he Sylacauga News, which is also reproduced elsewhere in this issue.

We do not know how many of his fellow Democrats will be in the race, but it is evident that Mr. McDonald s determined to give them a race for their money.

HIRAM JOHNSON PLEASED

Senator Hiram Johnson of California, says he is pleased with the selection of Mr. Hughes for Secretary of State in the Harding cabinet. This announcement is surprising to many who expected (and perhaps wanted) to see Hi throw a fit at the action of Harding in selecting Hughes. Maybe Johnson and Hughes have made up since 1916. Johnson has been charged with the defeat of Hughes for the Presidency in that memorable campaign in 1916 when the Old Guard and the Bull Moose tried to get back together and only lacked a small bit of doing so.

Senator Johnson's actions in that campaign were a little eccentric, but we think he was animated not so much by Hughes personally as by the management of the campaign.

CHARLES E. HUGHES.

The definite announcement of President-elect Harding of his selection of Charles E. Hughes as his Secretary of State has seemingly met the universal approval of the people of the United States. Mr. Hughes is a man of the highest qualifications for the post, and his past record and experience gives assurance that the foreign affairs of the United States will be safe in his hands.

Mr. Hughes several years ago attained a position of eminence as a lawyer. He was subsequently elected as Governor of the State of New York, appointed to the Supreme Court of the United States by President Taft, and in 1916 came very close to being elected President of the United States on the Republican ticket.

The selection of Mr. Hughes for the foremost post in the cabinet of the incoming President gives assurance in advance of the other announcements that the Presidential family of Mr. Harding will be made up of the very best minds of the country.

Mr. Hughes, like President Harding, is a member of the Baptist Church.

A WORTHY APPLICANT

As closer comes the 4th of March, the nearer we approach the time when Democratic office holders will be fired and Republicans put in their places. Metaphorically speaking, this change will be the shaking of the political plum tree, and quite a few are those whom we learn will be prospective contenders for the said plums that will be shaken from the aforementioned plum tree.

One thing of particular interest that we learn from the Southern District of Alabama, is that Hon. J. Osmond Middleton is holding the bag for the job of United States Attorney for that District. Our informaion is that he is the only man in the district who is seeking the appointment. And he has the unanimous endorsement of the bench and bar of the entire Southern District.

Since Mr. Middleton is a Chilton County man, born and reared in our county, and for a long time a citizen here, we are glad to learn that he has a chance to occupy the high position of Judge of the United Sttes District Court in the Southern District of this his native State. We feel that a word of approval from us at this time will not be out of place, inasmuch as Mr. Middleton is the only man in his district applying for the job. And as he is one of our home lawyers who has forged to the tp, we are of course glad to say anything that would give him encouragement in his endeavors.

To begin with, Mr. Middleton is above all, a man of the necessary legal qualifications, and of such judicial temperament as to render him especially well fitted for the position he aspires to. He is a man of the highest integrity and a lawyer of exceptional ability. He made himself from the ground up while here in Clanton in the practice of law. He won and held the highest honor and esteem of all the people here. It was with keen regret that we saw him leave here a few years ago; but at the same time we rejoiced to see him enter a larger field of usefulness in the city of Mobile.

He was always a Republican, honest and conscientious. By his liberal views and respect for men who honestly differed with him, he has never been known to countenance bitterness and antagoism with anyone who might differ with him in politics. He has been a Republican in season and out of season; he has been a worker for the party, a powerful advocate of the principles of the party from the platform and the stump. He is that type of Republican who is alive and aggressive—not one of those perennial parasites who is a Republican only at those times when a plum tree is to be shaken.

Many a time in the past history of Chilton County, when the fight came, his voice has been heard loud and clear, calling the people to their duty, to exercise their privileges at the ballot box, thereby upholding the principles of the Republican party. Mr. Middleton, throughout his long career here, kept constantly in touch with the people. He was elected by the people of the county as their Representative in the Legislature of Alabama in 1906, the only public office he has ever held.

But with all his adherence to the Republican party, he has always proved himself to be a man who could differ with another and yet remain the friend, honored and respected, of the adversary. As a Republican his loyalty, activity, and service for the party was always measured in the highest terms of a sincere devotion to what honesty appeared to him as a worthy cause.

J. Osmond Middleton is easily the most popular lawyer with the peorle here that ever practiced law in Chilton County. His ability as a lawyer and his close sympathy and interest in the people of the county won him this honor. It is a foregone conclusion that everybody in Chilton County hopes that Mr. Middleton will be appointed as District Attorney, and if it were left to his home people here. there is not a doubt but that he would have the support of every man, woman and child.

There is not another applicant from the Southern District, and his chances for the appointment are very promising. His many friends in Chilton County are proud of the success which has crowned this honored son of our native soil.

OVER 16 MILLION RAISED TO DATE

BAPTIST 75 MILLION CAMPAIGN MAKING GOOD PROGRESS, COMMISSION REPORTS.

CASH ROUND-UP IN SPRING

Effort Will Be Made During March and April to Secure Cash on All Pledges Due to May 1, 1921.

DR. J. B. GAMBRELL
President Southern Baptist Convention, who will tour the South.

Up to December 1, 1920, Southern Baptists had paid $16,851,100.68 in cash on their subscriptions to the 75 Million Campaign, according to an announcement issued by the Conservation Commission, which is looking after all the general interests of the campaign. This sum has been apportioned among foreign missions, home missions, state missions, Christian education, hospitals, orphanages and ministerial relief, in accordance with the original campaign program.

While the receipts from the campaign have enabled all the agencies of the denomination to greatly enlarge their work the returns have not been as large as the best interests of the work demand, it is said, and the local churches throughout the South are asked to join in a movement to bring up the payments on all subscriptions due by May 1, in order that the delegates can go to the Southern Baptist Convention at Chattanooga, May 12, with a clean slate and all the general work adequately provided for.

Will Hold Day of Prayer.

Inaugurating this spring cash roundup campaign, February 27-March 6 has been designated as intercession week by the Baptist women of the South, while the entire membership of the Baptist churches is asked to join in spending Wednesday, March 2, as a day of prayer for God's blessings and guidance in the further campaign work.

After this special period of prayer the remainder of March will be given over to enlisting all the members of all the Baptist churches in the South in the matter of completing the campaign program by paying that portion of the subscriptions due by that time, and in bringing the members to see their obligation to support God's work through the dissemination of the doctrine of stewardship. April has been designated as loyalty month and during that time effort will be made throughout the South to bring Baptists to realize that their loyalty to God and His work demands the payment, where at all possible, of their pledges to the campaign.

Southwide Tour Is Planned.

In order that the subscribers to the campaign may be fully informed on what has been accomplished with the money they have contributed so far, and as to the needs for the completion of the campaign program, a series of informational ad inspirational meetings that will reach into every state in the South has been planned for March and April. These meetings will be featured by addresses by Dr. J. B. Gambrell, president of the Southern Baptist Convention, and Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, who have just returned from a six months' tour of the mission fields of Europe, and who will tell of conditions they found there; Dr. L. R. Scarborough, general director of the campaign, and other persons of prominence. These meetings will be held at central points in the various states, and from these central meetings associational and district rallies will be formed in the hope of taking the campaign message to all the people.

Large Relief Work Done.

Secretary Love of the Foreign Mission Board reports that Southern Baptists, within the last few weeks, have contributed $147,284.20 in cash for the relief of suffering peoples in Europe and China, above their campaign contributions, and that the Baptist women of the South have contributed $100 000 worth of first-class clothing for the needy families of Hungary.

AGREMENT MADE TO END MINERS STRIKE

STATE TROOPS ORDERED TO GO HOME AND CEASE DUTY IN THE STRIKE ZONE.

Settlement of the Alabama coal miners strike, in effect since the 7th of last September, which has been marked by bloodshed, heavy property losses and heated controversies between prominent citizens of the state, was assured Tuesday when written agreements, signed by representatives of the committee of the Coal Operator's Association and of the United Mine Workers of America, stipulating that terms of mediation laid down by the Governor of Alabama or a Commission named by him were presented to the executive.

Immediate withdrawal of the Alabama National Guard units from the strike zone was the first order to issue following acceptance of the agreements of the two factions, that have been at war against each other for months, by Governor Kilby, and this order went forward by telegraph to Gen. R. E. Steiner, commander of the troops from the office of the Adjutant General, Col. Hartley Moon, at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Disposal of the troops was left in the hands of General Steiner whose orders for mobilization were issued during the afternoon at Birmingham headquarters, with indications that the homeward movement of the troops will be under way by Thursday.

OUR MAYOR UP IN THE AIR

Dr. V. J. Gragg, Mayor of Clanton, was up in the air last Thursday. We mean by this that he took a ride in the air ship with Ed Stinson. The Mayor was not the only one who was up in the air that day. Many others of our citizens took trips and had a look at Clanton from the clouds.

In discussing his flight with the editor, Dr. Gragg had the following to say:

"I will begin by saying that the aerial roads around Clanton are a great deal nicer and smoother to ride over than the terrestial thoroughfares. As I made the ascent, andthroughout the entire flight, including the landing, I did not get the thrill that I have always supposed would accompany one's first trip in a plane. As I viewed the city of Clanton from above, I was made to feel proud of the nice orderly way in which the city is laid off. I had always had an idea that Clanton was somewhat rugged and disorderly outlined. But it does not show any such appearance from above It is a mighty pretty place. The appearance of the roads and highways and streets from up there is somewhat misleading. They look nice and broad and white and smooth as they lead out from the city and branch off in every direction. One who travels around here in a Ford can well appreciate the fallacy of such an impression.

"All things considered, I will say that the flight was very pleasing, and was just what I have desired for a long time. I always wanted to take my first flight straight. Now that I have had that I would not mind trying one with some curves and stunts in it."

GOING AFTER WILD-CATERS UP IN BEAT TWELVE

The following communication received from the citizens of Beat 12 would indicate that the people up in Stumps Hills have determined to go after the wild cat whiskey makers in that section. They have passed some ringing resolutions covering the subject, and it will doubtless be taken as a warning sufficient for any who may be violating the laws. Here is the resolution signed by several of the citizens and sent to us for publication:

The State of Alabama,
Chilton County

We, the undersigned citizens of Beat No. 12, Chilton County, Ala., realizing the awful condition that our section of the county is drifting into on account of wild cat whiskey, and it being a known fact that there are a great many stills in this part of the county, and recent developments having convinced us that unless something is done to correct this evil the lives of the young men and boys will be ruined and destroyed completely;

We, therefore, feel it our duty as fathers, mothers, and all good citizens, to use our influence to have the traffic of whiskey stopped, and we hereby pledge ourselves to report to the proper authorities any person that comes into our knowledge, who violates the prohibition law, and we not only pledge ourselves to report those who violate the prohibition law but to help find out who the guilty persons are.

We earnestly urge all those who are engaged in whiskey traffic in this community to quit, because we dislike to have to help prosecute our neighbors, but we pledge ourselves to help carry out the above obligations. (Signed)

ANOTHER BIG STILL RAIDED ON TUESDAY

TWO OFFICERS ROUT SEVEN WHISKEY MAKERS. SOME GUN PLAY STAGED.

Sheriff John L. Gore, accompanied by Joe Gore, broke into another big wildcat still in the western part of the county 2 miles east of Pletcher on Tuesday afternoon. The outfit when located by the officers was in full operation and being attended by six or seven men. According to the reports, when the two officers flushed the covey, times got tolerable right away. One of the men who was at the still leveled a high powered rifle at Sheriff Gore in a manner that must have looked like he was ready to declare war and begin the defense of his realm. But the Sheriff was already fixed for the occasion and his shot gun rang out before the rifle was fired. When the Sheriff's gun fired the man dropped the rifle and joined the bird gang. While all this was taking place the other men who were at the still were making their get-away. Out of the whole number the officers were able to identify five of them, and warrants are out for their arrest. Up to Wednesday evening three of them had been apprehended and placed in jail. Their names are Dolphus Ratliff, Crayton Ratliff and Ed Hayes.

The officers, after a vain effort to catch the fleeing men, returned and proceeded to destroy the outfit. They say it was one of the best arranged stills ever found in this county, and was turning out bug juice at a rapid rate. Fifteen barrels of beer and three gallons of whiskey were destroyed.

The officers had left their automobile about half a mile from the scene of the battle, and while they were engaged in destroying the still somebody proceeded to cut three of their tire casings for them. They believe they have conclusive evidence that this act was done by one of the men who had run away from the still and who has already been placed in jail.

The capture of Dolphus Ratliff brings to light another matter in which he has been concerned for the past four years. He has been a fugitive for four years past, his whereabouts being concealed from officers who wanted him for evading the army draft and refusing to answer the call of his country in the late war. This is the first time he has been located since before the work of conscription was started in 1917.

The officers got two high powered rifles that were left at the still when the operators ran away.

Elmore's policy of doing business is the best—one price, and all pay cash. At this store you don't have to pay or make up the losses on the other fellow.

INSURE

—:- ——— -:—

A further indication of the fact that no section of the country is immune from tornadoes and high winds is given in the case of the tornado which struck the little town of Gardner, near Sandersville, last Thursday, and swept it clean, besides doing thousands of dollars worth of damage throughout that s section. The large plant of the Cleveland-Oconee Lumber Co. was totally destroyed and thousands of dollars of damage done to other property in and around the little town. Last year there were a number of very destructive windstorms throughout the southern states, and no sectioin seemed to afford protection against this hazard. The fact that any season of the year seems to be the favorable season, and the further fact that the premium rates are very low only 30 and 35 cents per hundred, it appears to me that the people are overlooking their interests in not taking wind storm insurance.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

(By Ewell Robinson)

On Friday night, March 4th, there will be a joint program of the Tutwiler and Lanierian Literary Societies. The public is invited. The entertainment will be free. Sandwiches, candies, etc., will be sold. We anticipate a great attendance, especially of the patrons of the school.

We are now in the midst of our tests for the sixth month. Everybody is studying hard and making good progress with their work.

The Senior Class is preparing to give their annual Senior play. The date will be announced later.

Since our report of last week on the European Relief Fund, some additional funds have been raised. Final reports show that the Senior Class raised $12.10; the Junior Class $10.62; the Sophomore Class $12.00; the Freshman Class $9.60; making a total of $44.32.

On Wednesday, Feb. 16, our basket ball team went to Montevallo and played one of the best games of the season, winning by a score of 21 to 9. At the close of the basket ball season we find that our boys have scored 116 points to 104 of their opponents. They have made a splendid record.

The baseball team is now getting ready for practice. We have some good material, and we hope to have a good team. We have the material, so let's get the spirit. Let's go boys, and win!

MR. E. F. GREAR DEAD

Death came to the mortal form of E. F. Grear about three o'clock Monday afternoon, following an illness of some weeks duration. His death was not unexpected to his intimate friends and family.

The deceased was 67 years old and had lived in this county for many years, coming here from Elmore County. He was a very quiet though energetic character, and made many friends during his lifetime. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge at Coopers and of the Methodist Church.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Methodist Church, conducted by Rev. Pearson. After the ceremony at the church the Masons took charge of the body and with appropriate ceremony at the grave committed their comrade to his final resting place on earth.

Mr. Grear leaves a wife and two sons, Frank Grear of Madison, Fla., and Jesse Grear of Valdosta, Ga.; four daughters, Mrs. J. C. Eiland of Montgomery, Mrs. Tom Lowe of Birmingham and Mrs. M. D. Foshee and Mrs. R. L. Foshee of Clanton.

The Union-Banner, with the many other friends of the departed, extends its sympathy to the bereaved wife and children.

No person in reach of Clanton can afford to miss this oportunity of saving on our losses, at this Final Clearance Sale.—NEW YORK STORE.

Dr. J. M. Dannelly, Presiding Elder, of Montgomery, delivered a very interesting sermon on Sunday night, to a large congregation at the Methodist Church.

Miss Wesley spent the week end in Birmingham.

Mrs .Calista Williams, who is well known throughout the whole country, will be in Elmore's Millinery Department this season, and will be glad to see all her friends.

Prominent Western Man Praises Tanlac

G. W. Logan, Peabody, Kansas

"Tanlac has completely restored my health and I feel finer than in years," was the straightforward statement made recently by Mr. Geo. W. Logan, of Peabody, Kansas, one of the most prominent stock dealers in the Middle West.

"It has not only made a new man of me, but I have actually gained 35 pounds in weight and feel as well as I ever did in my life. I am telling all of my friends about Tanlac but they can see for themselves what it has done in my case.

"When I began taking Tanlac I was in an awfully run down condition. I was away off in weight, felt weak and nervous all of the time and couldn't take any interest in my work or anything else. My main trouble was indigestion. Nothing seemed to agree with me. At times I would have dizzy spells, and at other times my back would ache so bad that I could hardly get up and down in my chair. This is just the condition I was in when I began to take this medicine. It took just six bottles to make a well man of me. I now have a fine appetite, everything tastes good and my digestion is perfect.

"My wife was also troubled with indigestion at times and it relieved her the same way. You may publish my statement wherever you like and if anyone doubts it just tell them to see me."

Tanlac is sold in Clanton by Upchurch Drug Company.

Mrs. R. E. Luckie had as her guest Tuesday, Mrs. E. S. Parrish of Montgomery.

The big Final Clearance Sale at THE NEW YORK STORE will soon be a thing of the past. Better Hurry!

HARDING WILL PUSH MEXICAN QUESTION

HE IS SAID TO REGARD IT AS FOREMOST AMONG FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

Washington, Feb. 22—Concentration of the Mexican question as an issue of paramount importance in the foreign affairs of America, will begin immediately after March 4th, it was said today among those to take a leading part in the shaping of President-elect Harding's foreign policy.

With Senator A. B. Fall considered a cabinet certainty and Henry P. Fletcher virtually chosen as under Secretary of State, it is recognized here that Harding has peculiarly emphasized the importance in which he holds the relations of America and Mexico.

Fall, chairman of the Senate committee which investigated Mexican conditions, and Fletcher, former Ambassador of America in Mexico, are accepted as the men who will be Mr. Harding's chief advisers on Mexico.

A move unique in foreign relations it is learned, already is being considered as a step toward the upholding of American rights in Mexico. This move, according to the present plan, would take the form of an official statement serving notice that unless a government in Mexico recognized by the United States fully respects American interests, then the American government will guarantee these interests. Such announcement of policy, it is stated, not only would reassure Americans in Mexico, but would notify the Mexican government that the United States intended to provide adequate protection for its citizens.

Action of this nature probably would not be taken, however, until efforts had been made first to conclude a written agreement with Mexico in which that country pledged itself to adjust the existing points at issue. Attention is being given now to recent advices from Mexico which the present President Obregon as being loath to conclude such an agreement. Obregon is said to take the attitude that while Mexico is ready to fulfill her international obligations insistence that she put her promises on paper would impugn her good faith.

Conditions which the Harding administration will ask Mexico to fulfill as prelminary to recognition by this government were stated today to include the following:

(1) Reimbursement to Americans of damage suffred during the revolution, with the appointment of a joint commission to adjust the claims.

(2) The return of all American property seized by the Mexican government or individuals.

(3) An arrangement for the payment of Mexico's foreign debt most of which is owed in this country.

(4) The repeal, or at least a different interpretation, of confiscatory legislation, including the constitutional provision which nationalizes oil.

These stipulations, it is learned on high authority, already have the approval of President-elect Harding, and have been communicated informally to President Obregon of Mexico.

STATE DISMISSES CASES AGAINST THE SOLDIERS

WILKINSON SPRINGS SURPRISES WHEN COURT TAKES UP SOLDIER'S CASE.

Hamilton, Ala., Feb. 22—Charges against nine members of the Alabama National Guard, held in connection with the lynching of William Beard at Jasper on January 13th, were all quashed by the state here today, and new warrants charging first degree murder served on the defendants all of whom are members of Company M of Tuscaloosa.

A surprise second only to the arrest of the national guardsmen came when Special Prosecutor, Horace C. Wilkinson, moved that the indictment against Sergt. Glen R. Stephens who was placed on trial today in connection with the lynching of William Beard be nolle prossed.

No sooner than this motion had been made the state also proposed that the indictments against eight other defendants, including Sergt. Robert L. Lancaster, whose case resulted in a mistrial, likewise be canceled.

For a few minutes after the request had been made persons in the court room were stunned, so great was the surprise. Even the defendant had not been expecting such a move. Judge Wilkinson then announced that a warrant charging murder had been sworn out for each of the defedants, thus bringing to light the fact that the state will seek a new beginning, will seek a return to the courts of Walker county, where Beard was lynched, and will resist any move to take the new cases from that jurisdiction.

Sergt. Stephens, who was in the court room, was immediately rearrested while warrants were served on the eight other guardsmen in the Marion county jail.

Judge T. L. Sowell issued an order removing the soldiers to the Jefferson county jail at Birmingham, giving attorneys for the defense the right to choose the place of confinement.

After the court had complied with the request of the State, the full facts came out. Special Prosecutor Wilkinson declined to start the qualifying of the jury Monday because he sought the aid of Solicitor J. M. Pennington, who had been detained in Jasper by illness. At nine o'clock a coference was held between Judge Wilkinson, Solicitor Pennington and W. C. Davis, another special prosecuting officer. At that conference it was agreed that the state would go no further in Marion County, but it would start again with a new session of the grand jury new indictments and another set of trials, all in Walker county if possible.

This arrangement being made, there came a midnight ride to Walker county of the father of Baird. He reported back to Judge Wilkinson early this morning. His message was a warrant sworn by himself preferring a charge of first degree murder against each of the nine soldiers.

On the list of state witnesses were placed the names of Leslie West, the state's star witness, Clyde Springer and Guy Cannon, two soldiers who testified for the state in the trial of Sergeant Lancaster.

Not a word was given any one by the three men in conference and no one knew the plans of the state until the motion had been made. Defense attorneys declared they had expected an unusual development, but the most they had looked for was a motion to quash the venire which had been called for jury service in the Stephens case.

CHANCERY CLERK BATTLE IN COOSA

BATSON REFUSES TO GIVE UP OFFICE TO HENRY POND, REPUBLICAN.

Rockford, Ala., Feb. 22—Democrats and Republicans of Rockford and Coosa County are looking forward with interest to the quo warranto proceedings in the political scrap now under way in the question that has arisen by the appointment of H. W. Pond, Republican, as Chancery Clerk of Coosa County by W. L. Longshore of Columbiana, Republican, and Judge of the Eighteenth Judicial Circuit of Alabama.

The incumbent, John W. Batson, a Democrat, has been the Chancery Clerk of Coosa County for 22 years. Batson was reappointed four years ago by Judge S. L. Brewer.

Coosa county since that time has been changed over into the newly made Eighteenth Judicial Circuit in which Judge Longshore was elected in the November election of 1920. He recently appointed Henry W. Pond as Chancery Clerk of Coosa County. Mr. Batson refused to recognize the appointment, claiming with his party friends that his time is not out by nearly two years. Judge Longshore immediately ordered the removal of Mr. Batson and made the second appointment of Pond.

Following each notice of his appointment Pond immediately filed his bond with the Probate Judge as required by law and took the oath of office. Mr. Batson denies the validity of the appointment made by Judge Longshore and has decided to contest the validity of the same to the higher courts of Alabama.

The quo warranto proceedings will be heard Tuesday before Judge Longshore at Rockford. When Judge Longshore gave notice to Mr. Batson of his appointment of Mr. Pond, he wrote Mr. Batson: "This appointment is not made because you have proven an incompetent official, but because of the doctrine enunciated by Andrew Jackson, 'To the victor belongs the spoils.' "

Much interest is manifest throughout the county and district, and the contest is being carefully watched with interest by both parties.

Have you visited Elmore's Millinery Department? In this department you will find almost complete line of Millinery for early Spring and Summer.

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

SOUR STOMACH INDIGESTION

East Nashville, Tenn.— The efficiency of Thedford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver.

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr Parsons describes —valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Thedford's Black-Draught liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Thedford's. E 68

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

A good interest is being maintained in the general work of the church, notwithstanding the winter weather. Good services were held last Sunday with a very fair congregation present. The Ladies Aid meeting held on Sunday was well attended, and reports received from the circles showed good work was being done.

The regular services will be held next Sunday. The pastor will be present at both services. At the close of the morning service the adjourned conference will be held and several important matters will be discussed.

At the night service the second set of beautiful colored pictures will be shown illustrating "Christ and the Religious Customs of His Day." Every seat was taken last Sunday week when the first set of pictures were shown, and the service much appreciated. The service next Sunday will prove just as instructive and interesting. Come early to get a seat. Services will begin at 7:30, p.m.

The regular Sunbeam Band will meet at 2 p.m., the Junior B. Y. P. U. at 3 p.m., the Seniors at 6:30, p.m.

The week of prayer will be observed by the church commencing next Sunday afternoon. Interesting programmes are being arranged by the ladies and both men and women are invited to join us. Let us attend these services and make them count for the Cause and Kingdom.

McDonald In The Race

Mr. S. P. McDonald, president of the First National Bank, Sylacauga, and one of Talladega County's most progressive and successful business men, last Friday morning formally announced himself a candidate for Congress from the Fourth District to succeed the late Hon. Fred L. Blackmon.

Mr. McDonald is so well and favorably known through the District, and especially in Talladega County, that any effort to eulogize him would be useless. It is sufficient to say that he has been progressive in his ideas, just in his positions, fair in his dealings in private and public, thoughtful in his deliberations and successful in all of his undertakings.

He was raised in Florence, Ala., and came to Sylacauga soon after his regiment was mustered out following the Spanish-American War. He connected himself with the First National Bank here and has been continuously to the present day. As president of this institution he has built up one of the most prosperous and substantial banks in the state.

He has been actively engaged in all the municipal operations of the city, being connected with the city's administration for ten years, and voluntarily retiring after serving three terms as mayor, establishing and putting into operation many of the utilities, and assisting vitally in locating all of the industries that go to make Sylacauga what it is today. His administrations as mayor were all attended with marked success.

During the world war he was a leader in every movement to bring the community's resources to the aid of the government. In the Democratic party he has served long, loyally and most efficiently. He has been Chairman of the County Executive Committee and is, at present, a member from the state at large of the State Executive Committee. He was a delegate to the National Democratic Convention at San Francisco last spring. In this Convention he made his influence in the deliberations of that body by his usual tact, his quick understanding of developments as they arose, and his tenacity of purpose felt.

Mr. McDonald is a member of the Masonic Order, having served as Worshipful Master of his Blue Lodge, High Priest of his Chapter, and Emminent Commander of his Commandery.

If there ever was a time when our farming, commercial and industrial conditions demanded a business man in Congress, it is now, and in Mr. McDonald we have a man of direct action who will continuously drive for measures to bring relief from the present conditions. His popularity and value to the community will guarantee to him practically the solid vote of his home town and county. And his strong following throughout the District makes him the most formidable candidate as well as the most logical man to represent the District in our National Congress.—Sylacauga News. SIT DOWN A MINUTE AND THINK

IT PAYS TO HAVE GOOD HEALTH

Most Illnesses are Prevented by a Good Supply of Rich Red Blood. Take Pepto-Mangan, the Red Blood Builder.

Either you are in good health or you are not. You may think nothing of being a little run down. It may not worry you if you look pale. You may think you will be all right tomorrow or next day. But will yu?

Certain it is when you do not feel just right, you are not right. There is probably something the matter with your blood. And while you can get around and do your work you are leaving yourself open to any of the diseases that are always waiting to take possession of run down people.

When you are pale and easily tired when you cannot enjoy your meals, when you lose enthusiasm, your blood needs attention.

Take Pepto-Mangan for a while. It is a great tonic. It will build up your resistance to disease, and you will soon feel stronger. The little red corpuscles are fighters. They battle with disease germs and win out when there are enough of them. Keep your system well supplied. Then you will keep well and will enjoy life.

But be certain you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. Ask for it by the full name—"Gude's Pepto-Mangan."Some people take it in tablet form. It is so convenient. The liquid and the tablets have the same medicinal value. Look for the name Gude's on the package.—Advertisement.

You will find at Elmore's Store just the new Spring Slipper you are looking for, not at half price, but priced very reasonably.

VOL. IX. CLANTON, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, MARCH 3, 1921. NUMBER 49.

HOW MUCH IS NINE MILLION?

This is the Amount of American Cotton that will be on hand Unspun When the new crop Starts to come in next August—At Least that Much.

There is now so much cotton in the world that if one-half of all the growers could sell all their cotton the other half would be able to sell none at all; if each grower could sell half his cotton all of them would be able to sell the other half. You might feel lucky this fall to get five cents for your cotton. You may be one of those unable to sell even half of the crop. Why take such a risk?

Do you know how much nine million is? That is the amount of cotton grown in the United States that will be carried over this year—at least that much. Get someone to count this sum and see how long it takes. Multiply 9,000,000 by 500 and you will have the number of pounds of cotton, then multiply by seven and six-tenths, as there are 7.6 yards of calico in a pound, and you will get some idea of the burden that the all-cotton farmer is having to carry. At 30 cents a pound—conservative estimates of the cost of production vary from 25 to 30 cents a pound—It cost $1,350,000,000 to produce the 9,000,000 bales that will be carried over this year. That is an amount about three times the total cost of the Panama Canal up to June 30, 1918, it exceeds by approximately $150,000,000 the net public debt of the United States on April 1, 1917, when war was declared on Germany; it is approximately half as much as the United States owed at the close of the Civil War, and nearly 20 times Revolutionary War debts remaining when American independence was won; in 1851 after the Mexican War and the payment of the Texas indemnity, the public debt of the United States amounted to $68,300,000. Contrast this with $1,350,000,000. Price paid by the United States for all that vast territory included in what was known as the Louisiana Purchase, an area of 875,000 square miles, almost as great as the combined area of England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, France Germany, Spain, the Netherlands, Italy and Switzerland—was only $15,000,000. For Alaska the United States paid $7,000,000. It cost the farmers of the south to produce the 9,000,000 bales of cotton that will be carried over this year 61 times as much as was paid for the Louisiana Purchase and Alaska, both put together. If 1,350,000,000 United States treasury or Federal Reserve notes were placed end-to-end they would make a belt long enough to reach more than half way around the world. The total value—U.S. Census figures—of the largest crop of cotton ever grown in the United States—16,134,930 bales in 1914—was $625,000,000 less, including the seed, than it cost to produce the 9,000,000 bales of cotton that are being carried over this year. Do you have to ask what has become of all the money that was in circulation last year?

While you are figuring make an estimate of just what will be needed to feed man and beast on your land in 1921, and then be sure to plant amply for that.

Don't you think it would be better to crack hickory nuts and hunt rabbits all year than to plant cotton? If it cost on an average, 30 cents a pound to produce cotton in 1920, the 9,000,000 bales that will be carried over represent a loss of $720,000,000. The aggregate value on the enormous crop of 1914, including the seed, was according to U. S. census figures, $720,080,000; the value of the 16,134,930 bales of lint cotton produced in 1914 was $591,130,000 or not much more than one-third the cost of producing the 9,000,000 bales that will be carried over this year. Think of the enormous burden that falls upon the south. What are you willing to do to help out?

"The uncomfortable fact is that Europe today does not know how to use the supplies of cotton she already has, even at a price level substantially lower than that still obtaining in the United States.

"Present indications are that not more than 10,000,000 bales of American cotton will be required in 1921, to supply the world's mills, this in the face of the fact that the total American crop of 1920 was nearly 13,500,000 bales making probable a world carry-over on July 31 next, of between 9,000,000 and 9,500,000 bales. Should developments confirm these figures they will represent almost an entire cotton crop of itself, and will far surpass any surplus that the world has ever known."

The above is taken from a bulletin issued recently by the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, an organization of New England spinners. Certailly no one would be more ready to urge the south to plant more cotton than these same spinners. The more cotton there is in the world, the cheaper they can buy it. But here we have them admitting that the carry-over may "represent almost an entire crop of itself," without a single bale being raised in 1921.

A United States Department of Agriculture bulletin, published by the bureau of markets, under the date of Jan. 29, says: "At the present rate of consumption . . . . there will be an available supply of 12,457,750 bales of cotton in the world on July 31, 1921, or about 6,611,750 bales more than last year."

FRANK LINDQUIST DROWNED IN LOCK 12 POND SUNDAY

Frank Lindquist of Thorsby, a young man about 18 or 20 years old, was drowned in the Coosa River half a mile above the dam at Lock 12 last Sunday. The wa ter where the body went down is about 75 feet deep. The circumstances surrounding the unfortunate incident, according to rumors, are about as follows:

Young Lindquist and Hery Cox were engaged in putting some feed across the river using small oar boats. The waves caused by a rather brisk wind capsized the boat of Lindquist, whereupon Mr. Cox threw his cargo of hay oberboard and undertook to rescue the young man. In this attempt the second boat was turned over, throwing Cox into the icy water. By clinging to bales of hay Cox succeeded in keeping himself afloat and holding to the body of the boy until he was dead. The struggle lasted forty-five minutes before rescuers reached Mr. Cox, and he was nearly frozen to death when taken out of the water. It is said that he would have gone down too if the rescue party had been a few minutes later getting to him.

Up to this writing the body of the drowned man has not been recovered. There was talk of dynamiting the pond Tuesday in the hope that it wo uld bring the body to the surface.

LETTER FROM SHERIFF GORE

Clanton, Ala., March 1, 1921.

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me space in your paper to endorse the action that has been taken by the people of Beat 12 in regard to the traffic in and the making of whiskey in that part of the county. I want to assure the people of Beat 12 that I am ready at any and all times to meet them more than half way in putting down the moonshiners.

My experience as an officer of the law has taught me that I must have the assistance and cooperation of the good people of the cunty in dealing with the violators of the law. I am glad to see the people of Beat 12 declare openly and publicly that they are going to do their part in this work. I want to recommend the action of this Beat to the other communities in the cunty that are struggling with the evils of the liquor traffic. I cannot meet the situation and cope with it alone. If any good is to be done through the county officials it must first be instituted by the people of the communities where the evils exist.

I can get some few of the violators without the help of the people, as I have done in some instances. but a great many more of the illicit whiskey makers could be apprehended and caught if the people will help us out.

I shall welcome the cooperation and support of the law abiding people in any part of the county, and will treat all information with the strictest confidence.

Yours for a better enforcement of the law.

J. L. GORE,
Sheriff Chilton County.

J. A. SKAGGS

On January 29, 1921, the death angel visited the town of Jemison and called away one of its most useful citizens, Bro. J. A. Skaggs.

Brother Skaggs was born July 4, 1843. He joined the Baptist church in 1870 and was ordained deacon in 1880 at Anniston. He moved to Jemison in 1881, joined the church there, and spent forty years as deacon and active worker in that church.

He was made a Mason in March, 1876, and remained a member in good standing the rest of his life, his body being laid to rest by a host of his Masonic brethren.

Brother Skaggs served three years as a member of the cavalry under Gen. Wheeler, being a member of Company C, 24th Alabama Battalion.

Truly he served his Maker and country well, went the length of his cabletoe in every good work in the church and community, at the same time providing well for his family. No one ever seemed to enjoy caring for the pastor of his church more than he.

He leaves an aged wife, a son, a daughter, a brother and a host of friends who expect to meet him in a better world. Certainly Jemison Baptist church feels the loss of this nobleman of God.

All teachers and school officials in the county are requested to note this change and hereafter communicate with Miss Parnell at Clanton in regard to matters coming under her jurisdiction.

Thank you Mr. Walker.

FUNERAL OF H. W. COLEMAN

A sad funeral was held Tuesday at Lomax, when the charred remains of Mr. H. W. Coleman, who was either murdered or killed through accident in the Searles Mine on Sunday. The belief by some is that Mr. Coleman, age 25, was killed by an opponent, Mr. J. C. Dyson, age 22, a fellow workman, and then an attempt made to burn the body presumably to hide the crime. The clothes were found to be saturated with kerosene and the floor badly burned from the body. On the other hand, the relatives seem to believe Mr. Coleman met his death by accident in striking some overhead beams and causing the lamp which the miners wear on their heads to explode covering him with oil and at the same time igniting the clothing of the man and thus burning him to death.

He was a fine strapping young man well able to protect himself, which somewhat surrounds the incident with mystery, while the man under apprehension boarded with him in the same house.

Mr. Coleman was a member of the Methodist Church, and leaves behind him a widow who lost her only child a few months ago. Also a faithful mother is left to mourn his loss, one of the many deep sorrows and afflictions through which she has passed in very recent years. Whatever may be the circumstances of his death, it is a terrible incident, and to the bereaved people of Lomax and community we extend our sympathy and consolation. The remains were buried at Lomax Cemetery after appropriate serivces conducted by Rev. P. G. Carter of Clanton.

FRIENDSHIP CHURCH

Last Sunday was a busy day at our little church. Sunday School was held at the usual hour—10 o'clock, followed by preaching by the pastor, Rev. W. P. Lowery. A nice crowd attended both services.

In the afternoon about 2 o'clock the singing society met and enjoyed some fine singing for about two hours. A committee was appointed by the president of the society to arrange the programs at every meeting of the society, the same committee to hold good indefinitely. J. D. Collins, T. E. Wyatt and W. J. Miner were appointed on this committee, who shall arrange the programs in the future.

The following directed Sunday afternoon: W. O. Rich, Willie Cleckler, Jessie Jones, Alfonza Cleckler, George Wyatt, Rufus Powell and Rube Miller, fifteen minutes each. The m eeting was dismissed with prayer by Prof. W. T. Bean.

WHAT IS THE REMEDY?

Can you answer the above question, as applied to the seemingly hopeless predicament that confronts the farmers of the South, as they face the coming crop season? If you can answer it correctly and practically you have a chance to become famous. Anyone who can tell the farmers the proper course to take and then get them to do it would right now be hailed almost a second messiah.

As regards this subject we have this week a very interesting letter from Mr. H. M. Sessions, prominent business man of Enterprise, Alabama. He says in part as follows:

I have just returned from an extended trip through South Carolina, Georgia and Middle and East Alabama. I have talked with a great many farmers and business men on my trip, and I can truthfully say that I have never in all my life seen people so "up in the air" as to how they shall proceed with their farms this year.

I have studied the situation more closely than I ever have before, and I am going to sound a warning now, and if the farmers do not heed this warning they are going to be sorry for it.

There is enough cotton to run the mills of the world for twenty-four months now on hand. You will notice it has declined from 32 to 11 cents in six months, and all the cotton people say now that it will be to 8 cents by the first of May. With a big crop this year it will sell at 3 and 4 cents October next. Now, what is the use of buying fertilizer, planting another big crop and make it at a loss of more than 10 cents a pound, and not be able to sell the crop we have on hand for one-third of the cost?

What is the remedy? We have all kinds of advice, from every source, and by the best talent in all the land and yet I see on every hand evidence of big cotton acerage for this year. Nearly all the land I saw prepared was for cotton. It would be better if the land were allowed to grow up in weeds this year than to be planted in cotton.

I was talking to a gentleman in Georgia, who said he ran 12 plows. He now has on hand two cotton crops; and he has no feedstuff at all on his plantation. I asked him what he was going to do and he said he was going to plant every acre on the place in cotton, even the front yard and the garden, for he said, "this is the last year we can make cotton on account of the weevil." I told him this year would ruin him.

A comparison of our section with some of the country through which I have just traveled convinces me that all cotton will ruin any country. Here we have been diversifying for five years. You might stop the trains from coming to Enterprise, Ozark and Geneva for six manths, and we would not suffer for anything to eat.

The above statements are founded upon what we believe to be correct and reliable facts and statistics, very reasonably and pleasantly mixed with the original ideas of a business man well acquainted with conditions in the cotton states. We take pleasure in giving our readers Mr. Sessions' statement. No doubt a great many will find agreeable satisfaction in what he says.

GEN R. E. STEINER HERE.

General R. E. Steiner, Commander of the Alabama National Guard, was in Clanton Wednesday, shaking hands with his friends and also making new acquaintances. His visit to the offices of the county officials at the court house was marked by a very cordial reception for him. The General was in good spirits and seemed to enjoy the cordiality of those with whom he came in contact.

Gen. Steiner with his staff, are spending a few days outing at Lock 12 on the Coosa River, following several months of duty in the strike district around Birmingham.

One thing of particular interest coming out of General Steiner's visit here was his statement that he would beat Bill Brandon in the next race for Governor of Alabama.

The Union-Banner is $1.50 a year.

PEANUTS AND HOGS.

This statement in the letter we have from Mr. Sessions of Enterprise, concerning peanuts and hogs, strikes us very forcibly:

Peanuts wil bring a good price next fall and winter. Why do I say so? We are sure to get a 4-cent-per-lb duty on all imported peanuts, and that will stop the importations entirely. Last year the Orient shipped one hundred thousand tons of peanuts to this country, besides the oil.

If you do not want to gather your peanuts, put them into hog hides. Recent statements made to the government by the packers of the country show that we are facing a hog famine. They say we are nineteen million hogs short of two years ago, and went on to say that there is not enough meat in cold storage to last fifteen days. This being true, how do you expect to overdo the hog business? When you can get $16.00 each for a bunch of eight months old pigs that perhaps have never eaten an ear of corn, don't you think that will beat cotton at 8 cents per pound? If you let your hogs eat yur peanuts in the field you would never have to use any fertilizer at all; your land would get richer every year.

Mr. Sessions lives in a country that has passed the experimental stage of hogs and peanuts. The people in his section of the state have already proven to themselves what can be done with this splendid combination.

FARMERS CALLED TO MEET AT COURTHOUSE SATURDAY

Everybody in the county who is opposed to their taxes being raised, are urged to meet at Clanton on next Saturday, March 5.

Some of the officials of our State are asking authority to raise the valuations of the common people's property 50 per cent next year, while the valuation of the corporations of the state have been lowered from 30 to 50 per cent. Can we farmers and land owners stand for that?

Meet with us at the court house next Saturday at 1:00 p.m., and let's discuss the matter.

W. H. CONWAY.

A HOOVER DINNER

Have you ever attended a Hoover Dinner? Doubtless you have read of it and wondered what it is like. In Birmingham some of the citizens paid $100 a plate. It will be interesting to see how much the citizens are willing to pay per plate at the Hoover Dinner to be held next Thursday night March 15th following the general meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. There will be plenty to eat of a kind, and it will be optional with you whether you eat a lot or just a little. The main object if the dinner is to feed the starving women and children in Europe who are starving and dying, and famishing and languishing for food to eat, while we are enjoying good meals three times a day.

We expect the court house to be filled for the Chamber of Commerce meeting next Thursday, and then you are invited to participate in this dinner. The minimum will be 25 cents, the maxumum just as much as you want to pay for as much as you want to eat. So be sure to come to the meeting and see the pictures and hear the speakers, and then participate in the great HOOVER DINNER. YOU WILL NEVER FORGET IT!

Mr. L. K. Melton, a special sales promoter, has been in Clanton the past week getting ready for a sale of the stock of H. F. Chandler & Co., which he is opening today. Mr. Melton gives the people of this community genuine assurance of some splendid bargains in this sale. It is a bona fide clean-cut, selling-out proposition. He will move the goods and the price is no object. We think the people will find it to their adavntage to attend this big selling event.

GOING AFTER WILD-CATERS UP IN BEAT TWELVE

We, the undersigned citizens of Beat No. 12, Chilton County, Ala., realizing the awful condition that our section of the county is drifting into on account of wild cat whiskey, and it being a known fact that there are a great many stills in this part of the county, and recent developments having convinced us that unless something is done to correct this evil the lives of the young men and boys will be ruined and destroyed completely.

BIRMINGHAM MAN'S STRENGTH AND ENERGY SOON RETURNED AFTER TAKING TANLAC

I could eat no meats nor drink coffee and I had to stop smoking. My nerves becme so puset that I could never get a good nights sleep. I was cnsiderably off in strength, had but little energy and couldn't take proper interest in any thing.

"I had tried to fid something to correct my troubles but nothing seemed to reach my case. Finally I concluded to try Tanlac, and since takink it I feel like a new man. I can eat just anything, drink black coffee when I please and never have the least trouble with my indigestion. I sleep like a child and am feeling fine all the time. M. D. FOSHEE, MANAGER.

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

CHICKEN DINNER

The officers, faculty and students of Thorsby Institute, domiciled at the dormitories of the Institute, desire to express their great appreciation of the crate of fat chickens sent them for Washington's Birthday dinner by the good ladies of the Antioch Congregational Church, near Andalusia. These people seem to know exactly what is needed to lay the foundation for a substantial chicken dinner for fifty people, many of whom are of the age when stomachs are rubber. There was plenty to satisfy all. The invited guests were Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Graham and Miss Nell Shannon. At the end of the festivities all who were not "too full for utterance" stood and gave their lusty cheers for "the Ladies of Antioch."

Miss Naemi Turnquist, Reporter.

HELEN KELLAR SOCIETY.

The regular meeting of the Helen Kellar Literary Society was held at Bates Hall on Feb. 26. The program rendered was specially appropriate for the closing days of February, so often mentioned as the month of so many famous birthdays.

The first part of the entertainment included a vocal solo, a highly interesting debate and several recitations.

The last and principal feature of the evening was a February birthday pageant. February appeared, and after greeting her audience presented one by one, her famous February children. This was done through a brief review of their noteworthy achievements, and the names included religious leaders scientists, musicians, writers, statesmen and educators born in February. These, as introduced, were represented by students of the Institute who passed in review before Civilization presenting to her gifts symbolic of their fame. Selections from famous February musicians were played on the victrola, and Longfellow was remembered by his beautiful song, "Stars of the Summer Night," sang most effectively by the Fao Trio.

In the debate the points were awarded to Walton Brackin and Arthur McCrary. The negative (Stars) won the debate.

The next meeting of the Lutheran Ladies Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. J. A. M. Bosworth, on Thursday March 10th. It is hoped that all members as well as friends will be present.

Miss Carrie Billingsley gave a party on Friday night the 25th, in honor of her guests, Miss Emma Lee Pyron and Miss Geneva Gray. The guests numbered forty-four, and amused themselves with various games.

Miss Geneva Gray and Miss Emma Lee Pyron who have been visiting Miss Carrie Billingsley, returned to their home at Deatsville Monday.

Dr. Sterling C. Wood is about ready to move into his new home. The house has been under construction for some time, and is one of the many new residences that have been built recently.

Mr. H. A. Pheland of Hartford, Conn., was a visitor here for a few days. He was interested in the Institute as well as looking up old friends who had lived here in previous years. He found that the people he wanted to see had moved from here years ago, but unfortunately he had not been advised of this.

The Watermelon Association will meet again next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock when the matter of buying fertilizer and seed will be taken up.

ODD FELLOWS CONVENTION

The District Convention of Odd Fellows composed of the counties of Chilton, Elmore, Montgomery, Coosa Autauga and Pike, will meet here at Thorsby on March 14th, under auspices of the local Lodge, No. 588. This promises to be some meeting and preparations are under way for the entertainment of the visitors.

Welcome, Odd Fellows to Thorsby!

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS PARTY

The young men's class of the United Protestant Church recently entertained the young ladies' class at the home of the Reverend J. M. Graham. This party was the final result of a contest between the two classes in regard to points of excellence. These points were on attendance, collection, bringing bibles, and lesson study. The young ladies class won, and were therefore favored by the party.

A game of progressive letters furnished merriment for the first part of the evening. Then, after refreshments of ice cream and cake, impromptu stunts and speeches were called for. Everyone responded heartily and the result was just lots if fun.

The evening was very much enjoyed by everyone, and of course, the two classes are now entering into another contest which we hope will end in another party sometime next June.

THORSBY NEWS

A socil event of more than ordinary importance was the monthly meeting of the Ladies Guild of Thorsby, which met at the home of Mrs. C. R. Foss and took the form of a Martha Washington social where many of the ladies appeared in representation of costumes of that time. A very interesting number on the program was a reading by Mrs. Ethel Wright Loveland, of Thorsby Institute faculty, of a selection from Winston Churchill's "The Crisis," in which Virginia pleads with President Lincoln for the life of her cousin Clarence, condemned as a spy. Mrs. Loveland has had experience as a public entertainer of more than ordinary merit.

Two beautiful vocal solos were rendered by Miss Marjorie Fox, which were enjoyed to the fullest extent.

Mrs. Foss was assisted in serving by her sisters, Mrs. Bosworth, Mrs. Reagan and Naemi Turnquit.

The Congregational Woman's Missionary Society met Friday afternoon with Mrs. J. M. Graham.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

The house last Sunday morning was nicely filled, and a fine attendance of men was present at morning service. Many important matters were considered at the regular conference held, especially those relative to the new building enterprise. A motion that the conference request the payment of all notes due was passed by the meeting and the effort is now being made with considerable success to collect these notes. Now is the time to build, while material and labor are cheap and plentiful, and the need is so apparent, and appalling that the committee has decided unanimously to pull together and work together to that end, make a beginning at a very early date. "Paying your Vows" was the subject for the morning service, and was acknowledged by all to be plain, logical and forceful. "When thou vowest a vow unto the Lord defer not to pay it. Better thou shouldest not vow than to vow and not pay."

The 75 million campaign pledges are also falling due, and the money much needed. We trust therefore that our members will meet their obligations as far as they are now due. Brighter days are before the church, a much more united spirit is manifested among the people towards each other and the pastor who serves them.

The night service when the illustrated service on "Christ and Religious Problems" was given, brought another packed house and was much enjoyed by all.

The Sunday School had an attendance of 125 with more than $7.00 in offering. The ladies prayer meeting held on Sunday and Monday afternoon well attended and a fine spirit manifested with a very iteresting programme. Twenty-one were present on Monday. Such meetings are bound to do good for the church and kingdom. Other meetings were held on Wednesday afternoon and night, also Thursday afternoon.

Let us forget the past that may be unpleasant or any part of it; let us lay aside all of our differences and indifferences and with a Christian brotherly spirit work together and pull together in the interests of the church and by attending the services fill the old building so full that before long we shall be compeled to have larger and better buidings. All baptists are invited to join us, and the public heartily and earnestly invited to all of our services.

P. G. CARTER, Pastor.

OAK HILL

The Union Grove and Oak Hill Singing Society met last Sunday evening with Union Grove Class and did some fine singing. There was several visiting singers and directors from other places with us who did most of the directig. Among the directors present were Prof. J. L. Harris of Collins Chapel, Prof. Parrish of Liberty Hill, and Deputy Sheriff W. G. Culp of Clanton. All of the above directors did some good work leading the class and performing at the organ. Also Mr. Tom Littlejohn, another good singer from Clanton was with us but did not direct any. The rest of the time was taken up by Mr. Vernon Northcutt and A. H. Glasscock, who also did some good singing.

Come on you boys and girls who sing; you have a hearty welcome with us.

Our society voted to go to Collins Chapel on next Sunday evening to sing with that class. So all the singers will notice the time and place for the next singing.

LITERARY SOCIETIES OF C.C.H.S TO ENTERTAIN FRIDAY NIGHT

One of the hottest contests held at the high school this year is expected when the Lanerian and Tutwiler Literary Societies clash in debate on Friday night, March 4th. Not only this, but they will clash in declamations, readings, stories, etc. The stage will be beautifully decorated in the colors of the societies. VOTING STATUS OF THE EX - SERVICE MEN

A great deal has been said about the effect on the vote of the ex-service man of the recent decision of the Supreme Court invalidating the highway bond amendment. In rendering its decision on the highway bond amendment the Supreme Court inserted a statement to the effect that the soldiers poll tax amendment was not affected by their decision. An extract from the decision is quoted as follows:

"The validity or invalidity of the soldiers poll tax amendment is not before this court. Its validity or invalidity cannot be determined in this cause."

So the voting status of the ex-service men who took advantage of the soldiers poll tax exemption law that exempts them from poll tax until 1923 has not been changed by the recent decision of the Supreme Court which knocked out the highway bond amendment.

LIZZIE MANUEL,

Executrix of the Estate of J. R. Whatley, deceased. 2-24-3t.

Mr. Melton of Montgomery, the man who is handling the Chandler Sale, pays Clanton some good compliments. He was surprised first to find such a complete and well-equipped printing plant as the Banner Print Shop. Then too he says Clanton's stores and business houses are all very creditable and far ahead of what is usually found in a small town. Mr. Melton is a business man who travels over the country, and is in a position to compare us with other towns. His favrable impression should be taken as a distinct cmpliment to our little city.

INSURE

A further indication of the fact that no section of the country is immune from tornadoes and high winds is given in the case of the tornado which struck the little town of Gardner, near Sandersville, last Thursday, and swept it clean, besides doing thousands of dollars worth of damage throughout that s section. The large plant of the Cleveland-Oconee Lumber Co. was totally destroyed and thousands of dollars of damage done to other property in and around the little town. Last year there were a number of very destructive windstorms throughout the southern states, and no sectioin seemed to afford protection against this hazard. The fact that any season of the year seems to be the favorable season, and the further fact that the premium rates are very low only 30 and 35 cents per hundred, it appears to me that the people are overlooking their interests in not taking wind storm insurance.

14 NEW SENATORS TAKE THEIR OATHS OF OFFICE

REPUBLICAN RANKS INCREASED TO 59; DEMOCRATIC FORCE IS CUT TO 37.

Washington, March 4.—Fourteen new U. S. Senators were sworn in today immediately after the oath of office was administered in the Senate to Vice-President Coolidge.

The induction of the 14—11 Republicans and 3 Democrats—increased the number of new faces in the Senate since last November's election to 17—13 Republicans and 4 Democrats.

The Republican ranks in the new Senate are increased to 59, the Democratic ranks reduced to 37, as compared with the 49 Republicans and 47 Democrats in the out-going Senate.

G. O. P. Has Whip Hand.

The material increase in the Republican majority will enable its leaders, they believe, to hold the "whip hand" effectively, despite the avowed intention of a group of independents and progressives on the Republican side not to be bound by party mandates.

The three senators who took their seats in the out-going session since it convened on Dec. 4, are Frank B. Willis, Republican of Ohio, who succeeded President-elect Harding; former Gov. Frank R. Gooding, Republican of Idaho, who replaced former Senator John F. Nagent, Democrat, who resigned following his defeat in November; and J. Thomas Heflin of Alabama, who replaced the late Senator John H. Bankhead. All three start upon their regular 6-year terms today.

Fornuteen new Senators.

The 14 new Senators are: Ralph H. Cameron, Republican of Arizona, vice Marcus A. Smith, Democrat; Thaddeus H. Caraway, Democrat of Arkansas, vise William F. Kirby, Democrat; Samuel M. Shortridge, Republican, California, vice James D. Phelan, Democrat; Samuel D. Nicholson, Republican of Colorado, vice Charles S. Thomas, Democrat; Thomas E Watson, Democrat of Georgia, vice Hoke Smith, Democrat; William B. McKinley, Republican of Illinois, vice Lawrence Y. Sherman, Republican, Richard P. Ernst, Republican of Kentucky, vice J. C. W. Beckham, Democrat of Louisiana, vice Edward James Gay, Democrat; Owington E. Water, Republican of Maryland, vice John Walter Smith, Democrat; Tasker L. Oddie, Republican of Nevada, vice Charles B. Henderson, Democrat; E. F. Ladd, Republican of North Dakota, vice Asle J. Gronna, Republican; J.E. Harreld, Republican, Oklahoma, vice Thomas P. Gore, Democrat; Robert N. Stanfield, Republican of Oregon, vice George E. Chamberlain, Democrat; Peter Norbeck, Republican of South Dakota, vice Edwin S. Johnson.

Mrs. M. M. Durbin, who has been spending the winter with her daughtesr, Mrs. P. R. Reding and Mrs. W. L. Dees of Mobile, returned home Friday. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Dees, who will be the guest of friends and relatives for a few days.

MEXICO PLEASED WITH ADDRESS OF HARDING

OBREGON PLEADS PATIENCE FROM WORLD BEFORE JUDGMENT IS PASSED UPON HIS ADMINISTRATION

Mexico City, March 6.—So far as Mexico is concerned, President Harding's inaugural address contained nothing for criticism, declared President Obregon to the foreign newspaper correspondents this afternoon. He described the speech as "conceived in a splendid spirit for the people of the world; highly instructive and highly moral."

The subject of a treaty between Mexico and the United States, the President said, had never been discussed by the resent government of Mexico, explaining that recognition would not be urged by Mexico, "but must follow as the inclinations of several countries dicate."

Prenident Obregon had received no official word on the American position with regard to recognition of any Mexican government, as outlined by former Senator Albert B. Fall of New Mexico, the new Secretary of the Interior in a letter recntly made public by the National Association for the protection of American Rights in Mexico.

"Mr. Fall," he said in this connection, "can exert whatever influence he posseesses with equal power either as a senator or as a member of the cabinet."

Rumors that a British mission was on its way to Mexico was denied, but, he declared, a special claims commission, which would look after the adjustment of claims from all countries, would probably begin operations some time during the present month.

WILL HAYES THREATENED IN LETTER.

Will Hayes of beat 15, who lives near Pletcher, found [illegible] mail box [illegible] which promises considerable trouble for himself and Bud Roebuck. It is supposed by officers to whom the letter was submitted in Clanton, that the threats contained in the letter come from people who have been implicated in the making of whiskey in the community around Pletcher, some of whom have been arrested and placed in jail. The letter states that Hays and Roebuck are credited by the moonshiners with putting the officers on to the racket down there. Various kinds of threats are enumerated, one of which says "If I ever see you and Bud on my place again I will shoot you." The letter stated that the writer had come within a thought of shooting Hays once before. He says he had his gun drawn on him, and would have shot if he had known positively that it was Hays. He says in closing the letter: "You went in 50 yards of us making liquor, and we are sure to make again."

These words, in addition to the name of Will Hays, Pletcher, Ala., were written on the envelope: "You need not be suprised no night for your buildings to go up in smoke."

It seems by the letter received by Mr. Hayes that he and Mr. Roebuck have incurred the ill will of what is alleged to be a band of illicit whiskey makers in eBat 15. We would like to have published the letter verbatim, but the language is obscene and offensive.

THOUSANDS PAY TRIBUTE TO CHAMP CLARK

BODY IN STATE IN ST. LOUIS TILL LATE LAST NIGHT—FUNERAL AT BOWLING GREEN SUNDAY.

St. Louis, March 6.—Thousands of St. Louisans stood for hours in the rain to day and paid homage to Champ Clark.

The special train bearing the body arrived from Washington shortly before 4 p.m. It was scheduled to have arrived an hour earlier, but was delayed when a terminal engine jumped the tracks, killing a yardman.

The body was conveyed to the city hall, where it lay in state until 11 p. m. Departure for Bolling Green will be made at 7 a. m. tomorrow. Interment will be held at 2 p. m.

The sadness of the occasion was enhanced by the inclement weather, but the rain slackened as the casket was taken from Union station, and remained abated while the funeral procession marched to the city hall.

A double line of police vainly attempted to hold back the crowd which gathered at the city hall, and services of soldiers from Jefferson Barracks, who had acted as a guard of honor, were requisitioned to assist police.

The procession from Union Station was headed by mounted police, who were followed, in the order named, a battalion of regulars, a company of national guardsmen, the hearse, a Masonic guard of honor, a sprinkling of G. A. R. veterans and a citizens' guard of honor, headed by Mayor Gardner.

Automoblies followed the citizens' guard and carried United States Senators Spencer and Reed and other members of the congressional delegation from Washington.

Governor Hyde, detained in Jefferson City, telegraphed former Governor Francis to act as official representative of the state.

Numerous formal offerings were sent by local admirers and fraternal and civic organizations.

The military guard accompanied the body back to the train and stood watch throughout the night.

STATE HEALTH OFFICER GETS AFTER CLANTON'S CAFES

Dr. V. J. Gragg, Mayor of Clanton, is in receipt of a letter from the office of the State Board of Health, stating that an inspection has been made of the cafes and restaurants in Clanton, and that many of them are reported as lacking in some of the sanitary requirements prescribed for such operations.

The report that was made to the Board of Health by the inspector recommends certain sanitary changes and improvements, and calls upon the Mayor to detail the city marshal to see that the changes are put into immediate effect by these places.

People owing the H. F. Chandler & Co., accounts will please call and settle with our collector, T. J. Littlejohn, and avoid suit and extra cost. These accounts must be settled.

The friends of S. P. McDonald of Sylacauga are burning the woods in the interest of their candidate for Congress. There was a big lot of them in Clanton Tuesday with automobiles all decked out in gay colors boosting Mr. McDonald.

There are rumors of an interesting little war that has been declared by the Democrats of Talladega and Dallas against the Deomcrats of Calhoun concerning the race for Congressman to succeed Blackmon. It seems that there is a trade between the Democrats of those two counties to keep a Calhoun man from being elected to the place. They are actuated by the opinion that Calhoun has furnished our Congressman long enough, and now they want to shift the honor to Talladega, we presume to land Mr. McDonald.

The Republicans of the Fourth Congressional District of Alabama are entitled to a primary election if they want it, to name their candidate for Congress to succeed Mr. Blackmon. The Democrats have set Aprl 12 as the date of their primary, and the final election will be held on June 7. We don't know what means the Republicans will employ to select their candidate, but they will have one is a certainty; and the chances for electing a Republican now are better than ever before. The fact is that a Republican making a vigorous and aggressive campaign oft he district could be elected easily. But it will take scrapping. It will take more activity than has ever been put forth by a Republican in this District to win.

FELIX M. WOOD DEAD

Felix M. Wood, age 56, who was at one time pastor of the Clanton Methodist Church, and later editor of The Clanton press, died at Huntsville last week. At the time of his death he was employed by the R. G. Dunn and Co., at Huntsville.

Mr. Wood came to Clanton about 1907 or 1908, as pastor of the Clanton Methodist Church. While here he gave up the ministry and entered the newspaper business, establishing The Record in 1909. As publisher of the Record he was an ardent advocate of the constitutional prohibition amendment of 1909. When that measure went down in defeat before the people, the Record was changed to the Clanton Press which was operated as the organ of the Democratic party in Chilton County until the summer of 1919 when it suspended publication.

As editor of the Clanton press Mr. Wood was the power behind the Democratic campaign of 1910 which pulled over the election of Judge Deason for Probate Judge. He continued for two or three years later as editor of the Press.

Mr. Wood was a brilliant and likable man, but he had a weakness that pulled him down and down until he was forced to give up his career in failure. His friends here will learn of his death with sorrow.

STAFF REPORTER HERE

The Birmingham News has sent Mr. David Holt, staff correspondent, to Clanton and other points in Chilton county, for the purpose of writing a series of articles relative to present and prospective developments in the county. Mr. Holt arrived Wednesday morning.

"The News has unbounded faith in the will and ability of the people of this state to work out their problems," said Mr. Holt. "Now I am just going about and finding out what the people of this section are doing and have done; what they've got and what they hope to get. The Clanton and Chilton County stories will appear in the editions of Saturday evening, Sunday morning and Monday evening. I find here just what I expected and hoped to find expressed in the plans for the meeting of farmers and business men to be held on Thursday night, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. I expect to be there."

DEMOCRATS OF FOURTH TO HAVE PRIMARY ON APRIL 12

The following is the report of the Montgomery Advertiser of the meeting Monday of the State Democratic Executive Committee in Birmingham, relative to the election of a successor to Congressman Blackmon in the Fourth Alabama District.

Democrats of the fourth congressional district will name their candidate for congress as the successor of Fred L. Blackmon, deceased, in a special primary Tuesday, April 12, and every person who seeks to cast a vote must affirm that he voted for every democratic nominee in the last general election. Taking notice of the rapid increase in the vote of the republican party in Alabama, the state democratic executive committee in session in Birmingham Monday decided to close the gates and put up the bars. Every person in the future must prove his party standing.

The committee called the primary after having obtained a statement from the attorney general that a law of 1915 requiring the state to pay the expenses of primary elections was still in force and that the expenses of the special primary must be paid from the state treasury. As the reublicans also are entitled to a primary in the fourth district, a special sub-committee of the state committee named to handle all details of the special primary was requested to consult prominent republicans in order that both paties may have their primaries on the same date if the republicans desire one.

This special committee named by W. D. Nesbitt, chairman, is composed of L. L. Herzberg of Gadsden, Borden Burr of Birmingham and George P. Bondourant of Birmingham. It is clothed with authority to work out any plans which may be necessary, to act in the name of the full committee and hear any contest which may result from the primary the findings of the sub-committee being given the full weight as a decision of the state committee.

Each candidate who enters the race for congress must pay the state committee an entrance fee of $150 and must qualify within ten days from Monday or on or before March 17. Every indication ist hat the race will be between Lamar Jeffers of Anniston and S. P. McDonald of Talladega. The story is going the rounds since the meeting of the state committee that Dallas and Talladega counties are attempting to arrange an understanding where a united vote may be cast against the Calhoun man. According to the story, Dallas and Talladega do not want the fourth's next congressman to be from Anniston, contending that other sections of the district should have the representative some times.

The action of the state's committee in putting up the bars caused litle surprise as prominent democrats had insisted since the November election that this was necessary. It is known that in certain counties republicans entered the democratic primaries and cast ballots for the weakest condidates. The result: Republican victory in November. Each person who participated in the promary last year pledged himself to support nominees in the general election. In the future he not only must pledge himself to support the democratic nominees in the general election, but must also swear that he voted the democratic ticket in the preceding general election.

NATIONAL CONFIDENCE RISES AGAIN.

Suspicion, that one is being made a fool of produces a most uncomfortable feeling, and it has been the fear that America was being imposed upon that has made our foreign policy of late so confused. At times it has appeared that other nations must be laughing up their sleeves at Uncle Sam, and this feeling is so ntterly destructive of mutural understanding as to be a positive peril..

When we went into the war, there were groups who declared that we had been hoodwinked.

At the peace conference the same uneasy self-consciousness revived.

When America took none of the spoils of war, some questioned whether we had not been imposed upon.

Now, in our dealings with Japan, with England and with every other nation,something of the old confidence has disappeared. We imagine that while words may be fair, there is behind them the intention to take an advantage of our lack of diplomatic adroitness, or to call it by its real name, American straightforwardness. This atmosphere of misgiving and doubt is not a healthful one, nor would a sudden resolve to begin a new policy of duble dealing in order to hold our own bring improvement.

For these reasons, among others, it is a hopeful and reassuring thing that a change in administration is about to take place. And with Charles Evans Hughes in the position of secretary of state, this injurious and fantastic picture of America as a babe in the woods will soon be dispelled. —Omaha Bee.

DEMOCRATS WANT BARS PUT UP

If you did not vote for every Democrat on the ticket last November, the State Democratic Executive Committee would have you stay out of the special primary election called for April 12th to nominate a candidate to succeed Congressman Fred L. Blackmon. This action was ordered by the State Committee on Monday at Birmingham. Concerning the matter we notice the following in the Montgomery Advertiser of Tuesday:

"Taking notice of the rapid increase of the Republican party in Alabama, the State Democratic Executive Committee in session in Birmingham Monday decided to close the gates and put up the bars. Every person in the future must prove his party standing."

This attitude of the Democratic Committee is amusing. They want everybody to stay in the party of course, and they think that the way to get them to do it is by force. There were never very many Republicans in Alabama unil the present regime got control of the Democratic machinery in the state and began putting up the bars. Since that time their sheep have been jumping out so bad that there are now nearly as many on the outside as there are inside. If they do not change their methods they will continue to jump the game tillt hey will not have enough left to control the state.

The Democratic pastures in Alabama have run down. They can put up all the bars they want to, but the sheep will continue to leave their barren wastes, and jump the fence to graze in pastures that are more succulent and sustaining of those things that people are commonly expecting to find as a result of their party loyalty. They have not found much of this with the Democrats in recent years in Alabama.

A GREAT SALE HERE.

The opening of the sale of the H. F. Chandler stock of goods here last Thursday was a record breaker in the way of sales around this part of the country.

Mr. L. K. Melton of Dawson, Ga., a special sales promoter was in charge of the event, and the manner in which the sale started off and is still going is evidence of the judicious manner in which the advertising was handled by Mr. Melton for the occasion.

SHERIFF GORE COMMENTS ON LETTER TO WILL HAYES BEAT 15

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me space in which to call the attention of the good people of Chilton county to the threatening anonymous letter that was placed in the mail box of Mr. Will Hayes of Beat 15 one night last week. This was one of the vilest and most threatening pieces of work that has come to my attention since I have been in the Sheriff's office. I want to call the attention of the people to the same as showing the extent to which the lawbreakers of this county will go to protect their illicit operations.

The man who placed that letter in Mr. Hayes mail box is a self-confessed criminal. He boasts of breaking the laws by making liquor and says he will continue to make whiskey. He and his gang believe Mr. Hayes and Mr. Roebuck have helped the officers in locating some stills in Beat 15 and what he proposes to do is to place these two good citizens in such jeopardy with their lives and property that they will not dare to do anything that would tend to show up the breakers of the law.

I want to ask the good people of the county if we can stand for such actions as this? Will public sentiment lie still and allow law breakers—men who boast of vioating the aw—issue their threats against the life and the property of those who would help to enforce our laws?

I want to warn everyone here and now that the time has come when the good people must unite in a solid effort to put down the lawless element that has grown so strong in our own county. The good morals of our county demands a repudiation of such things as this. One man or a few men, nor the officers alone can do the work that is to be done. We must have the active suport of the people of the county who are law-abiding, and want to see other people respect the laws of our country.

I stand ready to enforce the laws, and shall do my best, whether I have any help or not, but I hope that I may have the asistance of the people of the county in doing so. Any cooperation from anyone in dealing with the whiskey makers or any other of the lawless practice-, will be appreciated, and I and my force of officers will stand by all who stand by us.

Respectfully,
J. L. GORE, Sheriff.

MICKIE SAYS

"BECAUSE I LOVE YOU."

The drama, "Because I Love You," will be presented by the Athletic Association of Thorsby Institute at the Bates Hall on March 19, 1921. Of this production the following statement has been made:

"Because I Love You" is probably the strongest drama of the modern romantic style ever written. The comedy element is particularly strong and consists of a humorous gypsy tinker an eccentric artist, an Irish major, a negro servant, a gypsy soubrette, an old gypsy woman and a giddy old maid. The two leading characters, Horace Verner, an artist, and Imogene Courtleigh, a dashing, romantic Southern girl, are splendid types of American manhood and womanhood."

The cast of characters follows:

Imogene Courtleigh, Lura Woods.
Horace Verner, Zell Pope.
Ginger, a gypsy waif, Pauline Gray
Nance Tyson, Birdie Hall.
Prudence Freehart, Clayton Sharp.
Dink Potts, Elliott Lyon.
Ira Courtleigh, Olaf Larsen.
Buck Tyson, a gypsy tinker, Porter Lee Music.
Elmer Van Sittert, Arthur Male.
Major Duffy, country clerk, Yancey Kelley.
Squire Ripley, Chester Maddox.
Lige, a gentleman of color, Eugene McCrary.

Price of tickets will be fifty and thirty-five cents.

BLACKMON GIVEN PRAISE BY STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

The State Democratic Executive Committee, which met at Birmingham Monday gave high praise to the late Congressman Fred L. Blackmon, of Anniston, whose death some weeks ago caused this meeting of the state committee to be called.

Deceased served for many years as a member of the National House of Representatives rrom the Fourth Alabama District. The Committee passed unanimously the following resolutions regarding his death:

"Whereas, the occasion which calls us to gether at this time is the sudden and untimely death of Honorable Fred L. Blackmon, and

"Whereas, the esteem in which Mr. Blackmon was held by all the members of the committee and the high place he ocupied in the councils of the Democratic party render it fitting that we should give official expression to our deep sense of loss, and now, therefore,

"Be it resolved that in the death of Fred L. Blackmon, Alabama Democracy has lost one who typified the finest ideals and aspirations of our party, both from the standpoint of devoted public service and exalted private character. In carrying the great objects of Democracy he was a tower of strength and incorruptible; in public affairs he exhibited the finest qualities of leadership and constructive statesmanship; in his private life and in his relationship with fellowmen he exhibited a sweetness of character and a greatness of heart which made him one of the most beloved of Alabama's sons. Alabama views with loving pride the life and achievements of Fred L. Blackmon and mourns in sincere sorrow his untimely loss."

TAX PAYERS LEAGUE ORGANIZED WEDNESDAY IN B'HAM

Would you like to see taxes reduced? If so, you are just one of many thousands of normal Alabama citizens; if not, you are the first one we have ever found who does not. A tax payers league was organized in Birmingham Wednesday. The purpose of the organization is to demand a revaluation of real estate, and a reduction of the taxes on same in keeping with present conditians for the year 1921.

General mass meetings will be held at the court house in each county on April 23 to complete county organizations and to elect delegates to a state meeting at Montgomery on April 27h, 1921.

Judge L. H. Reynolds, M. D. Foshee, G. W. Edwards, Judge S. M. Adams, J. N. Dennis and Rev. Buford Lawrence attended the Birmingham meeting Wednesday.

The movement was instituted in this meeting looking to the reduction of taxes will strike one of the most responsive chords possible with the people of the state at this time. We shall watch the outcome with interest and hope that something may be accomplished in the way of much needed relief from the burdens of oppressive taxation.

FARMERS PLAN TO RAISE TRUCK CROPS UP IN MORGAN COUNTY

Early Operations are Being Rushed by Planters in Hartselle Section.

Hartselle, Ala., March 8.—Special. The farmers of the county are working as never before to get their land prepared for the coming crop. This town has sold thousands of bushels of seed oats, much of which is now up to stand. There has also been a great demand for seed Irish potatoes, many planting acreage of them this year, where formerly they planted garden patches.

A Truckers' Union was organized here recently, officers elected and by-laws drawn up, and the organization put in business shape. The idea of the association is to increase the interest in growing sweet and Irish potatoes, strawberries, etc.

An agent of the association will attend to all selling and shipping of products thus raised. Many have already signed for quite a large acreage of these products. The absolute need for potato curing houses has been brought to the attention of the people in the county by the farm demonstration agent, and before the potato crop is ready for harvest there will be many properly constructed houses in which to cure them, it is believed.

No section of the state raises finer potatoes than this section, it is stated, the Porto Rico yams and the Doolies being the favorite varieties. Heretofore the old dirt kiln has been the manner of taking care of them, and annually thousands of bushels are lost by rotting.

My stomach trouble had been of eight years standing, sometimes so bad as to cause convulsions, followed by hemorrhage. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflamation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal a ilments, including appendicitis. One dose wil convince or money refunded. Sold by Alred Drug Co., and all druggists everywhere.

CHURCH PROGRAM

An unusually interesting community Church Program was rendered at Bates Hall last Sunday evening, when Rev. J. M. Graham, after a short sermon by Rev. J. W. Davenport, presented in moving pictures the biblical story of the "Good Samaritan." The Hall was packed, and all stated that the sermon was made most effective by being presented to them in story form on the screen.

Needless to say, that if Rev. Graham will but offer to the people here more of these services, he will find himself unable to provide a hall large enough to hold the audience. When another picture is announced on biblical topics, be sure and come, for if you do not you will surely miss something

SILVER WEDDING

A very pleasant social event for Thorsby was the celebration of their Silver Wedding, on Thursday, March 3rd, by Mr. and Mrs. John H. Goddard, who are well known through their prominence in church and fraternal society activities. There was no ostentatious display in decoration of house or people, but in the well chosen words of Rev. J. M. Graham (one of the guests) it was a sincere effort to expression by the people of the community the quiet but efficient service in varied lines which Mr. and Mrs. Goddard have made an essential part of their lives, in humility following in the footsteps of The Master, who went about doing good.

A beautiful dinner was served at noon, Mrs. Goddard being assisted by Mesdames Robert Johnson, Charles S. Peterson, Charsel S. Howard, A. K. Horn. Other guests were Rev. and Mrs. James Davenport, Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Graham, Rev. and Mrs. C. F. Owen, Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. C M Williams, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Peterson, Mr. Sam Goddard, Mr. and Mrs. J L Winslow, Mr. and Mrs. J K Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. C S Howard, Mrs. T W Robinson, Mr. and Msr. Neal, Mr. and Mrs. J P Sorenson, Mrs. May Hastings Nottage, Mr. and Mrs. R A Turner, Mrs. Vera Peterson Robinson, Miss Helen C. Jenkins, Miss May Stoddard.

After appropriate remarks by Rev. James Davenport, the following original poem written by Mrs. May H. Nottage to Mr. and Mrs. John H. Goddard on the occasion of their Silver Wedding anniversary was read:

Silver and Gold.

Silver and gold I have none to give,
The apostle says of old.
But such as I have I give to thee,
And his gift was more than the gold.

The silver was given by you to us,
In the metal of words and deeds;
And the gold lies deep in the loyal hearts
And the lives that the world can read.

So we give you back on your wedding
A word that rings silver true,
And the golden glory of lives well spent
And the love we bear to you.

And we pray that the Father will keep you both
In His gracious care a part,
Till the silver shines in the bride's soft hair,
As the gold in the bridegroom's heart.

THORSBY CITY SCHOOL

It may interest some of our readers to know that the boys and girls in Prof. William's room at the City School have a literary society which gives a good program each Firday afternoon. On Feb. 25th they had a very interesting "Washington Program." The members of the society are divided into the "Lees" and the "Jacksons" and there is good natured rivalry between the two sides.

The present officers are: President, Coy Gibbons; Vice President, Olaf Dahl; Secretary, Lois Prim.

WAS LUCKY FOR DEONIS HE SAYS

CHATTANOOGA MAN STATES TANLAC OVERCAME HIS TROUBLES.—CAN'T SAY TOO MUCH FOR IT.

W. F. Dennis, 203 Lyerly St., Chattanooga, Tenn., formerly of Mobile, Ala., makes an interesting statement regarding Tanlac.

"It certainly was lucky for me," said Mr. Dennis, "that I got hold of Tanlac when I did, for I was just about down and out. Off and on for three years I have been down with malaria. For ten months on one occasion I was confined to the home most of the time.

"As I usually spent my winters in Chattanooga, I came back here last September to spend the rest of my life with my daughter. When I arrived here I was in a very weakened condition, for the malaria was fast getting the best of me.

"I had no appetite, felt weak and tired all the time and had pains in my stomach that were completely upsetting my nerves. I contracted a cough along with other complications, slept very little and got up mornings nearly exhausted. In fact I was just about all in and kept getting worse.

"Five weeks ago I got Tanlac and my apetite picked up with my first bottle. Soon I was able to sleep all night and felt like a new man. I eat any kind of food set before me and enjoy it. I have gained several lbs. in weight and feel better than I have in five years. Tanlac has saved me money and given me health, too. and I can't say too much for it."

Tanlac is sold in Clanton by Upchurch Drug Comnapy.

PRESIDENT'S POLICY ON THE ARMY AND NAVY

Mr. Harding's Statements Show Him Well Acquainted with Lessons of Our History.

By his pronouncement as to the value and indispensibility of a navy, Senator Harding shows that he has assimilated the lessons of history and the teachings of our own American Mahan.

What is sufficient sea power is a practical question, dependent upon temporal circumstances. The immediate practical considerations Senator Harding indicates; the navy is to be a defensive and not an offensive force; and until more definite international understanding is had, we shall be wise to continue upbuilding the navy.

The implication of a sufficient navy is as small an army as is practicable. So far from shrinking from this implication, Senator Harding fixes 150,000 men as the limit of the regular army, an even lower figure than Congress proposes. The Harding figure looks good.

It provides that organized nucleus around which can be formed the great citizen emergency army, volunteer or conscripted which twice now has rendered the public triumphant. It is too small to constitute that thing, hateful to our traditions, a great standing army, a burden on the Treasury.

There is need of stressing Americanism and of organizing to secure Americanism, as the advocates of universal military training argue. This question is open for future consideration, but not so our naval policy. that must be settled now.—Minneapolis Journal.

People owing the H. F. Chandler & Co., accounts will please call and settle with our collector, T. J. Littlejohn, and avoid suit and extra cost. These accounts must be settled.

HARDING HITS AT A WORLD LEAGUE

Inaugural Address Declares for Absolute Independence of Action by America.

WANTS UNION FOR COUNSEL

Our Supreme Task, Says New President, Is Resumption of Our Onward, Normal Way, Recognizing the Changed Economic Order—Much Help to Be Expected From the Women.

SALIENT POINTS IN THE INAUGURAL

The recorded progress of our republic, materially and spiritually, in itself proves the wisdom of the inherited policy on non-involvement in old world affairs .... We do not mean to be entangled. We will accept no responsibility except as our own conscience and judgment, in each instance, may determine.

We want to do our part in making offensive warfare so hateful that governments and peoples who resort to it must prove the righteousness of their cause or stand as outlaws before the bar of civilization.

We are ready to associate ourselves with the nations of the world, great and small, for conference, for counsel.

If war is again forced upon us, I earnestly hope a way may be found which will unify our individual and collective strength and consecrate all America, materially and spiritually, body and soul, to national defense.

We can reduce the abnormal expenditures, and we will. We can strike at war taxation, and we must.

Washington, March 4.—President Harding's inaugural address was as follows:

My countrymen—When one surveys the world about him after the great storm, noting the marks of destruction and yet rejoicing in the ruggedness of the things which withstood it, if he is an American he breathes the clarified atmosphere with a strange mingling of regret and new hope. We have seen a world passion spend its fury, but we contemplate our republic unshaken, and hold our civilization secure. Liberty—liberty within the law—and civilization are inseperable, and though both were threatened, we find them now secure, and there comes to Americans the profound assurance that our representative government is the highest expression and surest guaranty of both.

Standing in this presence, mindful of the solemnity of this occasion, feeling the emotions which no one may know until he senses the great weight of responsibility for himself, I must utter my belief in the divine inspiration of the founding fathers. Surely there must have been God's intent in the making of this new world republic. Ours is an organic law which had but one ambiguity and we saw that effaced in a baptism of sacrifice and blood, with union maintained, the nation supreme and its concord inspiring. We have seen the world rivet its hopeful gaze on the great truths on which the founders wrought. We have seen civil, human and religious liberty verified and glorified. In the beginning, the world scoffed at our experiment, today our foundations of political and social belief stand unshaken, a precious inheritance to ourselves, an inspiring example of freedom and civilization to all mankind. Let us express renewed and strengthened devotion, in grateful reverence for the immortal beginning, and utter our confidence in the supreme fulfillment.

Progress Proves Wisdom.

The recorded progress of our republic, materially and spiritually, in itself proves the wisdom of the inherited policy of non-involvement in old world affairs. Confident of our ability to work out our own destiny, and jealously guarding our right to do so, we seek no part in directing the destinies of the old world. We do not mean to be entangled. We will accept no responsibility except as our own conscience and judgment, in each instance, may determine.

Our eyes never will be blind to a developing menace, our ears never deaf to the call of civilization. We recognize the new order in the world, with the closer contacts which progress has wrought. We sense the call of the human heart for fellowship, fraternity and co-operation. We crave fellowship, and harbor no hate. But America, our America, the America builded on the foundation laid by the inspired fathers, can be a party to no permanent military alliance. It can enter into no political commitments nor assume any economic obligations which will subject our decisions to any other than our own authority.

I am sure our own people will not misunderstand, nor the world misconstrue. We have no thought to impede the paths to closer relationship. We wish to promote understanding. We want to do our part in making offensive warfare so hateful that governments and peoples who resort to it must prove the righteousness of their cause or stand as outlaws before the bar of civilization.

Association for Counsel.

We are ready to associate ourselves with the nations of the world, great and small, for conference, for counsel, to seek the expressed views of world opinion, to recommend a way to approximate a disarmament and relieve the crushing burdens of military and naval establishments. We elect to participate in suggesting plans for mediation, conciliation and arbitration, and would gladly join in that expressed conscience of progress which seeks to clarify and write the laws of international relationship, and establish a world court, for the disposition of such justiciable questions as nations are agreed to submit thereto. In expressing aspirations, in seeking practical plans, in translating humanity's new concept of righteousness and justice and its hatred of war into recommended action, we are ready most heartily to unite, but every commitment must be made in the exercise of our national sovereignty. Since freedom impelled, and independence inspired, and nationality exalted, a world super-government is contrary to everything we cherish, and can have no sanction by our republic. This is not selfishness, it is sanctity. It is not aloofness, it is security. It is not suspicion of others, it is patriotic adherence to the things which made us what we are.

Today better than ever before we know the aspirations of human kind, and share them. We have come to a new realization of our place in the world and a new appraisal of our nation by the world. The unselfishness of these United States is a thing proven. Our devotion to peace for ourselves and for the world is well established. Our concern for preserved civilization has had its impassioned and heroic expression. There was no American failure to resist the attempted reversion of civilization. There will be no failure today or tomorrow.

Rests on Popular Will.

The success of our popular government rests wholly upon the correct interpretation of the deliberate, intelligent, dependable popular will of America. In a deliberate questioning of a suggested change of national policy, where internationality was to supercede nationality, we turned to a referendum of the American people. There was ample discussion, and there is a republic mandate in manifest understanding.

America is ready to encourage, eager to initiate, anxious to participate in any seemly program likely to lessen the probability of war and promote that brotherhood of mankind which must be God's highest conception of human relationship. Because we cherish ideals of justice and peace, because we appraise international comity and helpful relationship no less highly than any people of the world, we aspire to a high place in the moral leadership of civilization; and we hold a maintained America, the proven republic, the unshaken temple of representative democracy, to be not only an inspiration and example, but the highest agency of strengthening good will and promoting accord on both continents.

Trade Ties Bind Closely.

We must understand the ties of trade bind nations in closest intimacy, and none may receive except as he gives. We have not strengthened ours in accordance with our resources or our genius, notably on our own continent, where a galaxy of republics reflect the glory of new world democracy, but in the new order of finance and trade we mean to promote enlarged activities and seek expanded confidence.

Perhaps we can make no more helpful contribution by example than a republic's capacity to emerge from the wreckage of war. While the world's embittered travail did not leave us devastated lands nor desolated cities, left no gaping wounds, no breast filled with hate, it did involve us in the delirium of expenditures, in expanded currency and credits, in unbalanced industry, in unspeakable waste and disturbed relationships. While it uncovered our portion of hateful selfishness at home, it also revealed the heart of America as sound and fearless and beating in confidence unfailing.

Amid it all we have riveted the gaze of all civilization to the unselfishness and the righteousness of representative democracy where our freedom never has made offensive warfare, never has sought territorial aggrandizement through force, never has turned to the arbitrament of arms until reason has been exhausted. When the governments of the earth shall have established a freedom like our own and shall have sanctioned the pursuit of peace as we have practiced it, I believe the last sorrow and the final sacrifice of international warfare will have been written.

Our Supreme Task.

Our supreme task is the resumption of our onward, normal way. Reconstruction, readjustment, restoration—all these must follow. I would like to hasten them, to lighten the spirit and add to the resolution with which we take up the task. Let me repeat for our nation, we shall give no people just cause to make war upon us, we hold no national prejudices, we entertain no spirit of revenge, we do not hate, we do not covet, we dream of no conquest nor boast of armed prowess.

If, despite this attitude, war is again forced upon us, I earnestly hope a way may be found which will unify our individual and collective strength and consecrate all America, materially and spiritually, body and soul, to national defense. I can vision the ideal republic, where every man and woman is called under the flag, for assignment to duty, for whatever service, military or civic, the individual is best fitted; where we may call to universal service every plant, agency or facility; all in the sublime sacrifice for country, and not one penny of war profit shall inure to the benefit of private individual, corporation or combination, but all above the normal shall flow into the defense chest of the nation. There is something inherently wrong, something out of accord with the ideals of representative democracy, when one portion of our citizenship turns its activities to private gain amid defensive war while another is fighting, sacrificing or dying for national preservation.

Unity of Spirit and Purpose.

Out of such universal service will come a new unity of spirit and purpose, a new confidence and consecration, which would make our defense impregnable, our triumph assured. Then we should have little or no disorganization of our economic, industrial and commercial systems at home, no staggering war debts, no swollen fortunes to flout the sacrifices of our soldiers, no excuse for sedition, no pitiable slackerism, no outrage of treason. Envy and jealousy would have no soil for their menacing development, and revolution would be without the passion which engenders it.

A regret for the mistakes of yesterday must not, however, blind us to the tasks of today. War never left such an aftermath. There has been staggering loss of life, and measureless wasteage of materials. Nations are still groping for return to stable ways. Discouraging indebtedness confronts us like all the war-torn nations, and these obligations must be provided for. No civilization can survive repudiation. We can reduce the abnormal expenditures, and we will. We can strike at war taxation, and we must. We must face the grim necessity, with full knowledge that the task is to be solved, and we must proceed with a full eralization that no statute enacted by man can repeal the inexorable laws of nature. Our most dangerous tendency is to expect too much of government, and at the same time do for it too little. We contemplate the immediate task of putting our public household in order. We need a rigid and yet sane economy, combined with fiscal justice, and it must be attended by individual prudence and thrift, which are so essential to this trying hour, and reassuring for the future.

Reflection of War's Reaction.

The business world reflects the disturbance of war's reaction. Herein flows the life blood of material existence. The economic mechanism is intricate and its parts interdependent, and it has suffered the shocks and jars incident to abnormal demands, credit inflations and price upheavals. The normal balances have been impaired, the channels of distribution have been clogged, the relations of labor and management have been strained. We must seek the readjustment with care and courage. Our people must give and take. Prices must reflect the receding fever of war activities. Perhaps we never shall know the old levels of wage again, because war invariably readjusts compensations and the necessaries of life will show their inseparable relationship, but we must strive for normalcy to reach stability. All the penalties will not be light, nor evenly distributed. There is no way of making them so. There is no instant step from disorder to order. We must face a condition of grim reality, charge off our losses and start afresh. It is the oldest lesson of civilization.

From Destruction to Production.

The forward course of the business cycle is unmistakable. Peoples are turning from destruction to production. Industry has sensed the changed order and our own people are turning to resume their normal, onward way. The call is for productive America to go on. I know that congress and the administration will favor every wise government policy to aid the resumption and encourage continued progress. I speak for administrative efficiency, for lightening tax burdens, for sound commercial practices, for adequate credit facilities, for sympathetic concern for all agricultural problems, for the omission of unnecessary interference of government with business, for an end to government's experiment in business, and for more efficient business in government administration. With all of this must attend a mindfulness of the human side of all activities, so that social, industrial and economic justice will be squared with the purposes of a righteous people.

With the nation-wide induction of womanhood into our political life we may count upon her intuitions, her refinements, her intelligence and her influence to exalt the social order. We count upon her exercise of the full privileges and the performance of the duties of citizenship to speed the attainment of the highest state.

Prayer for Industrial Peace.

I wish for an America no less alert in guarding against dangers from within than it is watchful against enemies from without. Our fundamental law recognizes no class, no group, no section; there must be none in legislation or administration. The supreme inspiration is the common weal. Humanity hungers for international peace, and we crave it with all mankind. My most reverent prayer for America is for industrial peace, with its rewards widely and generally distributed, amid the inspirations of equal opportunity. No one justly may deny the equality of opportunity which made us what we are. Due concern for making all citizens fit for participation will give added strength of citizenship and magnify our achievement.

If revolution insists upon overturning established order, let other peoples make the tragic experiment. There is no place for it in America. When World war threatened civilization we pledged our resources and our lives to its preservation, and when revolution threatens we unfurl the flag of law and order and renew our consecration. Ours is a constitutional freedom where the popular will is the law supreme and minorities are sacredly protected. Our revisions, reformations and evolutions reflect a deliberate judgment and an orderly progress, and we mean to cure our ills, but never destroy or permit destruction by force.

I had rather submit our industrial controversies to the conference table in advance than to a settlement table after conflict and suffering. The earth is thirsting for the cup of good will. Understanding is its fountain source. I would like to acclaim an era of good feeling amid dependable prosperity and all the blessings which attend.

Protection of Industries.

It has been proved again and again that we cannot, while throwing our markets open to the world, maintain American standards of living and opportunity, and hold our industrial eminence in such unequal competition. There is a luring fallacy in the theory of banished barriers of trade, but preserved American standards require our higher production costs to be reflected in our tariffs on imports. Today, as never before, when peoples are seeking trade restoration and expansion, we must adjust our tariffs to the new order. We seek participation in the world's exchanges, because therein lies our way to widened influence and the triumphs of peace. We know full well we cannot sell where we do not buy, and we cannot sell successfully where we do not carry. Opportunity is calling not alone for the restoration, but for a new era in production, transportation and trade. We shall answer it best by meeting the demand of a surpassing home market, by promoting self-reliance in production and by bidding enterprise, genius and efficiency to carry our cargoes in American bottoms to the marts of the world.

An America of Homes.

We should not have an America living within and for herself alone, but we would have her self-reliant, independent and ever nobler, stronger and richer. Believing in our higher standards, reared through constitutional liberty and maintained opportunity, we invite the world to the same heights. But pride in things wrought is no reflex of a completed task. Common welfare is the goal of our national endeavor. Wealth is not inimical to welfare. It ought to be its friendliest agency. There never can be equality of rewards or possessions so long as the human plan contains varied talents and differing degrees of industry and thrift, but ours ought to be a country free from great blotches of distressed poverty. We ought to find a way to guard against the perils and penalties of unemployment. We want an America of homes, illumined with hope and happiness, where mothers, freed from the necessity for long hours of toil beyond their own doors, may preside as befits the hearthstone of American citizenship. We want the cradle of American childhood rocked under conditions so wholesome and so hopeful that no blight may touch it in its development, and we want to provide that no selfish interest, no material necessity, no lack of opportunity shall prevent the gaining of that education so essential to best citizenship.

There is no short cut to the making of these ideals into glad realities. The world has witnessed, again and again, the futility and the mischief of ill considered remedies for social and economic disorders. But we are mindful today as never before of the friction of modern industrialism, and we must learn its causes and reduce its evil consequences by sober and tested methods. Where genius has made for great possibilities, justice and happiness must be reflected in a greater common welfare.

Service the Supreme Commitment.

Service is the supreme commitment of life. I would rejoice to acclaim the era of the Golden Rule and crown it with the autocracy of service. I pledge an administration wherein all the agencies of government are called to serve, and ever promote an understanding of government purely as an expression of the popular will.

One cannot stand in this presence and be unmindful of the tremendous responsibility. The world upheaval has added heavily to our tasks, but with the realization comes the surge of high resolve, and there is reassurance in belief in the God-given destiny of our republic. If I felt that there is to be sole responsibility in the executive for the America of tomorrow, I should shrink from the burden. But here are a hundred millions, with common concern and shared responsibility, answerable to God and country. The republic summons them to their duty and I invite co-operation.

I accept my part with single mindedness of purpose and humility of spirit and implore the favor and guidance of God in His Heaven. With these I am unafraid, and confidently face the future.

I have taken the solemn oath of office on that passage of holy writ wherein it is asked: "What doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God." This I pledge to God and country.

CHILTON COUNTY ABSTRACT CO.

M. D. FOSHEE, MANAGER.

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

Abstracts of Title Promptly Prepared at Reasonable Charges.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

Mr. Harding's Selections for His Cabinet

ELIHU ROOT ASKED TO SHAPE POLICIES ON A LEAGUE OF THE WORLD

HE PROBABLY WILL GO ABROAD FOR HARDING AT HEAD OF MISSION

NEW PRESIDENT HAS HIT SNAG ALREADY IN SENATE

Colombian Treaty Promises to Develop Lively Quarrel, It Seems.

Washington, March 9.—President Harding has asked Elihu Root to assist in shaping the policy of the United States toward Europe, particularly in connection with the association of nations.

Whether Mr. Root will go abroad as head of a special mission or will stay on this side as the American delegate to an enternational conference of diplomats is undetermined, but the chances are that Mr. Root will sail for Europe just as soon as the Harding administration is ready to take the European governments into its conference.

While this kind of negotiation ordinarily would be conducted by American ambassadors and ministers abroad, all of these were appointed by the Wilson administration and it is not feasible to put into the hands of the new appointees such a delicate task until they have had a chance to be on the ground long enough to familarize themselves with European conditions.

Root Is Qualified.

Elihu Root, on the other hand, spent many months in Europe last summer in connection with the making of the international court of justice, and he already has all the background and knowledge necessary to negotiate with foreign governments. Not only has he been secretary of state, but he represented the United States at the second conference at The Hague and is perhaps the best equipped American today to deal with international lawyers, diplomats and treaty experts.

Mr. Root has not sought office nor is he eager to accept any permanent post abroad, as has been urged by so many or his friends, but he told Mr. Harding he agreed to render any assistance he could in matters of foreign policy. There is a close friendship between Secretary Charles Evans Hughes, of the State Department, and Mr. Root, and there is every assurance of co-operation between these two distinguished statesmen.

Friendly to League.

Of course, Mr. Root is friendly to the existing League of Nations and while he never did subscribe to the covenant advocating reservations similar to those proposed by Senator Lodge, he does believe that much of the machinery of the present league can be maintained.

Mr. Root, moreover, wrote the Republican national convention's platform on foreign policy, pledging the Republican administration to an agreement with other nations covering the same general purposes as were sought by the covenant.

The appointment of Elihu Root, therefore, to negotiate with Europe is merely the logical sequence of events in Republican policy, and while Mr. Root has not changed his opinons in any way concerning the need for international cooperation through some such istrumentality as the covenant, he would endeavor to obtain an agreement with Europe that would relieve the United States of any obligations, direct or indirect, to take up arms in European questions or that will plunge the United States into the maelstrom of European politics.

His Real Task.

In other words, the objects expressed by Mr. Harding in his inaugural address would be a chart of principles by which Mr. Root would be guided. To him would be entrusted the task of making an agreement with Europe that would square in detail with those principles.

There are those who believe Mr. Root would be able to frame an entirely new association of nations and reconstruct the whole machinery of international intercourse on political questions as differentiated from judicial questions, but on that point no body here can do any more than conjecture, for the opinions of European governments are being held in reserve, waiting, indeed, to examine the American proposals.

The sending of Mr. Root, along with other distinguished Americans, is expected to be a much more informal errand than was undertaken by the American peace commission of which President Wilson was a member.

Object of Commission.

The Harding Commisison would investigate the opportunities for coming to an understanding and would bring back for the approval of the chief executive all the data necessary to formulate American policy, which in turn would be submitted to the Senate before any agreement would be finally closed with the other governments of the world.

Meanwhile, the desire to sidetrack for regulation questions and handle domestic problems is for the moment not suceeding very well. President Harding discovered today that he had quite a fight on his hands to get the Colombian treaty through the Senate. The friends of Theodore Roosevelt, who boasted that he "took Panama" and talked about it afterwards still feel that the payment of any indemnity to Colombia is a slap at the Roosevelt action.

Lodge for Ratification.

On the other hand, Senator Lodge, an intimate friend of the late President Roosevelt, is pressing for the ratification of the treaty and he has certain document showing that Mr. Roosevelt in his last years felt that some settlement such as is proposed in the treaty might well be made for the benefit of good relations. He did insist on the elimination of any clause expressing apology or regret and, this having been done, the friends of the treaty see no reason why the Rooseveltian group should not come into line and give the Harding administration a considerablt credit for a beneficient act in Latin-American relations.

The opposition however, is not large enough to defeat the treaty, for the Democrats stand committed to it, having tried to secure ratification when President Wilson urged it.

Mr. Harding was prevailed upon to send a message to Congress to remove all doubt as to his own insistence on the need for patching up all controversies with the nations to the south of us.—David Lawrence in The Birmingham News.

NO LEGAL PROCESS FOR REVALUATION OF PROPERTY.

Assistant Attorney General Hugh White has handed down an opinion that there is no legal process for revaluation of property throughout Alabama by the state this year. Harding's Advent is Regarded As a Good Omen By Business; German Indemnity Is Question

New York, March 6.—(Special.) seldom does a week include two events of such importance to the worlds business at the London conference German reparations payments and the inauguration of a new President of the United States.

The begining of Mr. Harding's administration may be disposed of in a few words. Any specific improvement which a change of policy may effect probably has been discounted, and few of our industrial leaders believe that legislation will have an important innfluence on the fundamental course of business. Nevertheless, all observers can testify that many business men view the inauguration as th e commencement of a better era, and any event which creates such confidence where it has been noticeably and unjustifiably lacking must be set down as very highly favorable factor in the week's developments.

The outcome of the reparations conference, in so far as it may be predicted at this writing, is in effect an entry on the opposite side of the world's eldger. Germany is defiant and clearly has much more to gain than she can possibly lose by protesting against the indemnity payment of 226,000,000,000 gold marks fixed by the allies. Her counter proposal has been rejucted, and though another offer is expected, the difference between the two viewpoints is so great that there appears little likelihood that it will be bridged or that an extension of the occupied zone in Germany can be averted, involving added expenditure by the allies and a further postponement of payments which they badly need.

FOREIGN CONDITIONS

The European exchange, strangely enough, have advanced in the face of this uncertainty. Sterling sold at $3.90½ on Friday, compared to $3.86½ a week provisions. The dullness and the downward tendency of both European and American stock markets are to be attributed partly to other causes. The effect of the continued unsettlement on the outlook for foreign trade, however, is serious, and is emphasized by the unexpected slowness with which subscriptions to the $100,000,000 Foreign Trade Financial corporation, organized under the auspices of the American Bankers association, are being received. The delay in the rehabilitation of Europe, which is the fundamental cause of the decline in our January imports to $209,000,000, compared to $474,000,000 in January 1920, has made the test of the promoters dubly hard, and the support they have received has not been as great as the value of foreign credit to the whole country entitles them to expect. This word is inserted in the hope that it may persuade some of those who are curtailing production of goods which the world badly need to lend their support instead to the opening of foreign markets.

Our export trade has been astonishingly well maintained, but the recent drop in our imports is mononous. The Jauary export excess of $446,000,000 is more than our customers can continue indefinitely to liquidate through private credits or through the invisible means of payment represented by shipping and insurance service, remittances from the United States to foreign countries and expenditures of Americans abroad. The decline in our trade is represented strikingly by the increase in the number of idle steel cargo boats of the shipping boards fleet to 492. If the 283 wooden ships withdrawn from trade some months ago are added the total becomes more than half of the entire Goverment owned fleet.

BUSINESS TIMID

Although the public still seems to lack courage to take advantage of the many bargains in the securities markets, and in consequence they continue more responsive to bad news than than to good, I have observed on reason to change my view that business is on the upgrade and should become steadily better. For one thing, the machinery and tool trade is improveing , a sure forerunner of increased activity, and the New York manager of the Westinghouse Electric and manufacturing company says that the planners of industrial expansion are busy making calculations and estimates which are turning into inquiries and eventually will become orders. Plants are increasing operations throughout the great lakes district. The New York market continues flooded with an unusual number of buyers who, while conservative in their purchases, report that the outlook in both the west and south appears more hopeful. Western dry goods jobbers are pressing eastern manufacturers of fabric for immediate delivery, indicating that the retailers shelves are bare, and the federal reserve boards trade figures so far available indicate that though January's sales were slightly below last year in dollars, the decrease in stocks heretofore noted continued throughout the month.

Following the successful opening of several of the American woollen Company's fall lines have been offered at prices which, though a third lower than a year ago, are 5 to 10 cents a yard higher than recent open market quotations. Of the earlier offerings one line of dress and cloak goods has been sold up to capacity and withdrawn. The Cotton Finishers Association reports that stock held by its members are decreasing rapidly. Raw cotton last week dropped sharply to the lowest it has reached since the war time slump, middling cotton selling at 10c in Dallas. In New York at least its cheapness was quickly recognized, and from several of the cotton exchange houses I learned that inquiries for information as to its investment possibilities are coming in from individuals and companies who have not been in the market for months.

SOUTHWEST STRONG

Steady improvement is reported from the automobile centers. J. G. Culbertson, president of the Wichita Motors Company, of Wichita, Tex., wrote me last week as follows: "Business conditions are steadily improving and I believe that March and April will be better. Our foreign business is showing a healthier tone. We have received considerable business from Mexico and inquiries from all parts of the world indicate betterposiblities. Our demestic trade has shown remarkable recovery during the past ten days I look for steady improvement."

It would be possible to carry this catalog of favorable barometric indications to greater length, but there are evidences that in some quarters readjustment did not come early enough to keep pace with the leaders in liquidation and the situation is uneven. City prices evidently still lag behind country bying power, for the February sales of the leading Chicago mail order houses showed declines not only from February, 1920, but from January, 1921, also. The United States Steel corporation is being widely criticised for its failure to reduce prices, and the steel market naturally remains dull because everyone knows that further readjustment must be made. This delay helps in turn to postpone building, thereby starting a little vicious circle of decreased employment and lessened purchasing power which is duplicated in some other industries. The coal trade is another in which depression centers, for the so-called shortage last summer was so well advertised and so stimulated buying that stock in consumers hands are now reliably estimated at 100,000,000 tons against a normal of 50,000,000, and prospects of early recovery are not rosy.

GENERALLY HEALTHY

Business distress, everything considered, is modcrate. Failures reported by Dun's in February totaled 1,641, much greater than during the corresponding month of the boom years, but comparing to 2,278 in February, 1915. The strength of our financial system and the work of the banks in preventing greater distress is just being appreciated; for example, in the fur trade, where it is generally that heavy bank borrowings were involved, a bankers committee has so regulated the liquidation of stock that prices at the St. Louis auction during the past fortnight have recovered 10 to 25 per cent from the levels prevailing at the New York auctions last fall.

The liquidation of bank loans goes on steadily, the total loans of the federal reserve banks are now approximately 20 per cent under the peak received in October. Of the total loans of the New York clearing house banks it is said that only 1 per cent represents "distressed" credits which had to be extended when they fell due. Bankers are showing increased confidence in the investment market by bring out more new issues, and the $10,000,000 loan at 8 per cent to the state of Sao Paulo, Brazil, has sold well.

Reductions in the pay of their unskilled laborers are contemplated by the eastern railroads. The number of unoccupied freight cars in the country on February 23 had had reached 423,193, but it is evident that this figure is not a true measure of the amount of freight moving for the cars in use are being moved so much more rapidly than they were a few months ago that they are the equivalent of possibly a 50 per cent larger number. The weeks bank clearings reported to Bradstreet's also show well is being maintained, for even at present day prices they are only, 19.1 per cent less, in dollars, than a year ago. When the European uncertainty is settled and the confidence replaced which foundamental conditions justify, the recovery of both our foreign and demestic trade should be rapid.

HEAR THESE SPEAKERS TO-NIGHT — THURSDAY

At the mass meeting of merchants and farmers to be held at the court-house tonight, Mr. W. F. Black, who is the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Montgomery, and Mr. Herron will speak. Mr. Black, as secretary of if this great commercial organization in Montgomery, has initiated many great movements for our capital city, and manages a very large concern in the Chamber of Commerce of which he is secretary. He is a great authority on these matters and an interesting speaker. Mr. Jesse Herron is that unique character of a man who built the great bridge at Demopolis with roosters. The bridge cost $100,000, all of which was raised by the auctioning off of fine roosters, one of which was sent by Lloyd George of England and the other by President Wilson.

As a farmer it is useless and valueless for you to raise cotton this year with more than nine million bales surplus amount. Why not raise sweet potatoes and other crops which are profitable. We want you to hear these speakers tonight on this and other important subjects. Admission is free. Come; it will prove to be for your own persnal benefit.

CLANTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

Two interesting congregations were present last Sunday, the largest audience being at night when the church was about two-thirds full. The sermon in the morning on "Making brick without straw" proved to be very interesting, and the one at night on "The Argument of Experience" very logical. Next Sunday the regular services will be held. It is uncertain at the time of going to press whether the next set of pictues will be here in time for Sunday night; they seem to have gone astray in transit. Announcements will be made in regard to this on Sunday morning, but in any case regular preaching services will be held.

Next Wednesday afternoon and evening two services will be held in the interest of the Loyalty Campaign, and Bro. W. D. Ogletree of Montevallo Church, where he is pastor, will be present to address the meetings. We are hoping there will be large attendance at these meetings.

We would like to see a record Sunday School next Sunday which will mean 150 in attendance. We will use the court house when we cannot accommodate them in the church bldg. Come yourself and bring someone else with you.

We cordially invite everybody to our services.

SOME IMPRESSIONS OF HARDING AS SEEN BY A SOUTHERN DEM.

From a personal interview with President-elect Harding we are satisfied that there are a number of things he has not yet learned.

He has not yet learned to be pretentious. One would think from his manner that he has not been reading the newspapers and has not yet learned that he is soon to become the premier among the rulers of the earth. We do not like the word "rulers" and Mr. Harding would resent being referred to as one; but we use the word as descriptive of the heads of governments, and many in that class who will look far up to him and to the great union that confers on him whatever of power God did not give him are classed as rulers, so we use the term as descriptive of the majority of the class.

One would not think from conversing with Mr. Harding that the notification committee of his party had done its duty, for surely a man who was honored even by the nomination of one of the great parties would seem somewhat different after from before.

In the first speech after he was sure of his election Mr. Harding described himself as a plain ordinary man, and he isn't one. We do not challenge his sincerity in making the statement, for he impresses us as being absolutely sincere. But a plain, ordinary man would not feel so very plain and ordinary after being elected to the presidency. He would feel that he was some pumpkins. It is the fine, extra-ordinary man who feels just the same after such an honor has been thrust upon him as he felt before. The man who, with such a high position within his grasp, feels that he isn't a plain, ordinary man, may be one, but this is certain: the man who feels that he is one isn't.

Mr. Harding has not learned to play to the grand stand. In fact we are not sure he knows anything about the grand stand. We do not consider his ignorance on this matter at all calamitous. It has been so many years since any attention has been paid to anything except the grand stand that it is well for a while to have a player striving only for results in the game and ignoring applause.

We doubt whether Mr. Harding is a "forward looking" man. At any rate he doesn't talk about it. He seems to be rather of the class that is so busy doing things right today that he doesn't dream much of tomorrow. We are ready to bet on his foresight, but think he is one of those who do not pemit the work in hand to be obscured by "vision."

From Senator Harding's manner, one would not infer that he had heard that he was soon to be President; but from his knowledge of public questions we might conclude that he had been President for a long time. But he hasn't quit learning and is willing to get ideas from the men who voted for him and the man who voted against him. Either because of the fact that he had several votes to spare or just because he is built that way, he shows as much consideration for the men who voted against him as the men who voted for him could expect for themselves. He is going to work for both—for the America that fills his heart so completely that there is no room in it for a divided affection.—Florida Times-Union.

WAS READING one.

President Refuses to Lend Official Support To Ireland Question

HARDING MEETS PROBLEM FOR FIRST TIME AND TAKES FIRM STAND

Impertinent Telegram Answered by Christian.—Soldiers and Sailors Will not March in Parade.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—President Harding has had his first taste of the Irish problem, and has met the issue squarely by declining to premit the United States Government to be drawn into any action that might be construed as a recognition of the "Irish republic."

Mr Harding received a telegram couched in terms so displeasing and so caustic that he did not answer it in person, but directed his secretary to sign the reply. The message which was sent by John F. Harrigan, state president of the Massachusetts council of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic read as follows:

"To President Harding:

"Gen. Ruckman and Admiral Dunn in press statements today say that to permit troops to march in partisan demonstrations, especially one unfriendly to another nation, would be a serious breach of international amity. Evacuation day, March 17, is a local demonstration of loyalty and patriotism that no devotee of Toryism, no matter how exalted his position, can stop. Are these officials Americans or satellites of foreign Governments? Ruckman and Dunn asked the officials of the evacuation day parade if the American Association for Recognition of the Irish republic intends to participate in the parade. When they were told 'yes,' they warned against the parading with them of men in United States uniform whether in service or reservists. Are they autocrats or is this a democracy? They said no authority can revoke this decree. It is for Washington to say whether they are supreme. As Americans we demand action in the name of 125,000 citizens of our state, now and then revocation of orders from Ruckman and Dunn."

White House Reply

The White House gave out the text of the foreign message and also this reply by Secretary Christian:

"Your telegram has been called to the attention of the president and he directs me to say in reply that Army and Navy commanders have authority to direct the forces under their command. The Government raises no issue about the fitness of your celebration of evacuation day and the spirit of St. Patrick's day is felt thruout our country, but the naval and military forces of the nation can have no part in any demonstration which may be construed as influencing the foreign relations of the republic."

The sending of the Harding message to Mr. Harding was the subject of a long conference after which President Harding decided that it was time to make clear the position of his administration on the Irish question. He himself feels the warmest sympathy with the aspirations of the Irish people, and were he in any individual way without official responsibility for the conduct of foreign relations he would gladly speak his views or even participate as he pleased in any demonstration in behalf of the Irish cause.

But the President of the United States in charge of foreign relations and obliged daily to deal with the government of Great Britain with which the United States is at peace, he cannot permit anything to happen which the British might make a subject of official complaint.

Weeks in Agreement.

Secretary Weeks, of the War Department, who hails from Massachusetts and knows the Irish influence in that state, joins with Secretary Denby, of the Navy Department, in upholding the action of Gen. Ruckman and Admiral Dunn in refusing to permit American soldiers and sailors to march in a parade where the flag of any unrecognized country was flown. Mr. Harding during the last campaign was regarded for a time as likely to take an active part when elected in furthering the aspirations of the Irish sympathizers. He did not hesitate, however, when the issue was put before him in October to state that he regarded the question of Irish freedom as a matter between Ireland and Great Britain, and he held that it was not within the province of the United States government to interfere in any manner.

Gov. Cox on the other hand, said he would agree to take the Irish problem for settlement before the League of Nations, and would, if elected, bring it officially to the attention of the foreign governments. This was however, not regarded by the Irish as of any importance because they were ranged against the League of Nations itself. Notwithstanding Gov. Cox's statement, the great body of the Americans of Irish decent left the Democratic party and voted the Republican ticket. If by their votes they hoped to influence Mr. Harding into taking a stand when president that he was unwilling to take as a candidate today's statement from the White House may be construed as dashing to the ground any such ropes. Mr. Harding has made it clear that he will not depart from the policy pursued by President Wilson of refusing to make an official issue of the Irish question.

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY OF CHILTON COUNTY, ALA.

The Grand Jury of Chilton County, which was impanelled on Monday, March 14th by Judge Leon McCord, completed their investigations on last Thursday, and rendered a report to Judge McMorris. The following is the report in full as rendered to the Court:

To the Honorable B. K. McMorris, Judge of the 19th Judicial Circuit of the State of Alabama:

We, the Grand Jury, duly impanelled for the January term, 1921, submit this our final report.

We have examined thirty-six alleged violatnons of law and herewith return to your Honor's Court twenty-one true bills, and have continued four cases on our docket.

We have examined the county poor house. We find the sanitary condition very poor and some of the buildings in bad need of repair.

We have examined the County Jail and find it well kept and in good state of repair.

We herewith attach the report of the county treasurer and mark it exhibit "A."

We have examined the records of the county superintendent of education. So far as we were able to ascertain in our limited time, we find his records neatly and correctly kept. He reports that there is much difficulty in enforcing the compulsory attendance educational law. We wish to give this as a warning that in the future there must be a more strict compliance with this law, otherwise prosecutions and convictions will follow. We herewith attach his financial report, which is marked exhibit "B."

We have examined the fee books of the Probate Judge and find them correctly kept. We find that the county court has been held in compliance with the law. We also find the pension list correct. The bonds of the county officials are ample.

We regret that a majority of the cases that have come before this body are for violations of the prohibition low. It is the duty of every law abiding citizen to give a thorough and hearty co-operation to the county officials in order that this law may be enforced. It has come to our attention that throughout the county there have been violations of the prohibition law in selling exracts and other substitutes containing alcohol to be used for beverage purposes.

It is our belief that Chilton County is not receiving adequate returns from the money expended on our roads and that our county commissioners and superintendents are not giving the personal service and co-operation to which the people are entitled.

Having completed our labors, we ask Your Honor that we may be recessed until such time that it may be necessary to recall us.

Respectfully submitted,
E. A. NORRIS,
Foreman.

SINGING AT PROVIDENCE ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The writer had the pleasure of attending a very enjoyable singing at Providence Church, Beat 16, last Sunday afternoon. The singing was opened with prayer by W. H. Robinson about 2:00 o'clock, after which a chairman and a program committee were chosen for the occasion. Mr. W. H. Robinson was chosen chairman and R. M. Robinson, T. G. Wyatt and O. R. Robinson, program committee. The following directed the singing: W. H. Robinson, J. W. Cleckler, Riley Robinson, G. C. Powell, T. L. Robinson, Lee Robinson, C. H. Robinson and O. R. Robinson. Miss Alice Wyatt, Lee Robinson and C. H. Robinson served as organists.

The leaders did not use the 1921 song books; the books they used were new books however, but comprised mostly old-time gospel songs and even some old minor pieces. None of those fire-eating, go-yonder compositions were used, such as you hear at most singings now-a-days, but they just sung the good old songs of Zion in the good old time way. Several of the leaders were old frosty-heads, and their soft mellow voices just exactly suited the old-fashioned melodies.

Old Brother M. J. Parrish was there and was so impressed with the songs that he just had to say something about it. He got up and make just a few appropriate remarks and told them to go ahead with the good work.

A closing hymn was sung by the chairman, and the service was brought to a close with prayer by Mr. T. L. Robinson.

FRIENDSHIP

Sunday School last Sunday, and prayer meeting at night. The night service was conducted by Mr. J.B. Farley, and was enjoyable.

GULLEDGE FAVORS ROAD BONDS.

Editor Union-Banner:

See letter of Hon. W. S. Keller in Sunday's Advertiser relating to reenactment of $25,000,000 bond law and its ratification by the people. Hope and feel sure you do faver it. Why should Alabama sit still and let the other states not only get their quota of the U. S. government road fund, but what Alabama should have as well.

I, as a liberal tax payer, am not afraid of being taxed extra for it, except on my two automobiles. That I will always pay willingly even if raised again. The state is and will be pledged not to tax property higher for road purposes.

We should at once call a mass meeting on this subject, enlighten the people on it and mould sentiment in its favor. Am suprised to see just a few (glad to say) who are writing or have written in opposition to the bond issue. This is not because they do not know better, but just because they are "agin the goverment." Such you will find in all good moves.

Yours truly,
F. A. GULLEDGE.

Longshore Nominated By Republicans for Congrsss from Fourth

The Republican Executive Committee of the 4th District at a meeting in Anniston last Saturday nominated Judge A. P. Longshore of Columbiana as the Republican candidate for Congress to succeed the late Fred L. Blackmon.

Judge Longshore needs no introduction to the people of Chilton County and the Fourth District. He is one of the most prominent Republicans of the state, former Probate Judge of our neighbor county Shelby, and at present the representative of that county in the Alabama legislature. He was the Republican candidate against Mr. Blackmon in the last general election.

There will be no Republican primary, according to the action of the Committee last Saturday. Mr. Longshore will go before the people of the district against the Democratic nominee on June 7th in the final contest which will decide who our next congressman will be.

The only Democratic candidates out are Mayor Lamar Jeffers of Anniston and S. P. McDonald of Sylacauga. The Democratic primary will be held on April 12.

SMALL POX CASES

Acting upon reports and suggestions of Dr. V. J. Gragg, Chairman of the Chilton County Board of health, Sheriff Gore has quarantined a dozen or more families in the county, who have small pox. Most of the cases so far reported and quarantined are at Lomax. The disease made first appearance last week, and has developed with marked rapidity.

AEROPLANE LANDING FIELD

The Clanton Chamber of Commerce has under consideration at present the matter of obtaining a site near town which will be made into a permanent landing field for aeroplanes. Three or four different locations have been submitteed to the Board of Directors and the matter is now up for selecting the most suitable field. The location of Clanton is in the direct air ship pathway between Birmingham and Montgomery, and the town proposes to maintain a permanent landing field, and make it known to all air voyagers who come this way that they are invited to alight and put up in Clanton when they wish The place most likely to be selected is on the farm of Butler Lowe, one mile north of town, on the east side of the L&N Railroad.

LIBERTY HILL

The Liberty Hill singing society met Sunday afternoon March 20th. The attendance was good.

Directors for the afternoon were: C. C. Parish, Glover Smith and Miss Claudie Smith. Organists. Mrs. Zelma Littlejohn and Miss Lillie Smith.

After singing we were dismissed in prayer by Bro. B. J. Sessions, Sec.

NOW WHAT YOU GOING TO SAY

It begins to look like us fellows who raised so much sand about President Wilson appointing Catholics to office are going to have to turn our guns loose on Mr. Harding too. We see now and then some news items that indicate that he is straying from the straight and narrow path in this respect.

We sure do like Mr. Harding a whole lot, and we regret so awfully much that he should be the victim of the Catholic conspirators as Mr. Wilson was. Maybe he will not be so bad. But if he persists in giving the Catholics the plums, we will just have to give him a little raking over now and then.

DEMOCRATIC FUNERAL AGAIN

Washington, March 22—Final obsequies upon the Democratic party have been pronounced by Senator Reed, of Missouri, himself a Democrat. He says:

"All the funeral orations which have been pronounced since the obsequies over Abel have never put life into a corpse, and all the efforts to revive the League of Nations by oratory in the Senate will be equally futile. This is a government of the people. If the people have anything to say in the Government of the United States, then the League of Nations was condemed to death and executed on the second day of last November; and the Democratic party came very near suffering the same fate at the same time.

"From a party which had polled a popular majority of, I think, over a million votes only four years before, which had been in charge of the excutive depatment of the government during a great and successful war, we ended, or are in a few hours to end, our grip or control of the executive department at the mandate of more than 7,000,000 above a majority of the people.

"Gentlemen may expend all of the time and energy they possess in seeking for other causes for this defeat, but he is blind indeed who does not know that the Democratic ship went on the rocks because its captain was trying to steer us into the false harbor internationalism."

ATTENTION FARMERS

An interesting meeting is announced for Monday night next at the court house to make and complete arrangements for handling a profitable crop of potatoes next year. A farmers co-operative Association is soon to be organized that will handle all your potatoes as much as 10,000 bushels, ship them for you to satisfactory markets and get you probably not less and sometimes more than 50 cents a bushel for those you raise.

Why plant cotton this year and starve, when you can get such big prices for your potatoes through this organization! Now, what we want to do at this meeting is to get as many farmers together as possible who will agree to raise so many acres of potatoes so that we can ship them in carload lots and thereby be able to assure you of a splendid price. Cullman shipped through such an organization last year 100 carloads of potatoes, and the farmers received fine prices for them. Why not Clanton? We can if you will raise them for us. The Chamber of Commerce is working out the details now. Your part is to raise the potatoes and deliver them in Clanton. Your job ends there and our job begins. You get your money for the potatoes, we take the risks. BE WISE this year and lay aside cotton and raise potatoes—some acres of them, chickens—hundreds of them, hogs—dozens of them or not less than half a dozen of them, perhaps tomatoes and other vegetables, but specialize on potatoes.

If you want to get dollars and cents in your pockets this year, attend the meeting on Monday night at the court house, and we will show you how.

CITY MAIL DELIVERY

According to announcement from Washington Wednesday, Clanton is soon to have a free delivery of United States Mail in the City.

TRACTOR DEMONSTRATION

Mr. J. Dudley Collins informs us that, provided the weather is favorable and the ground in shape for plowing, the Clanton Motor Car Co., will give a Fordson Tractor Demonstration at his farm on the Lock 12 Highway next Friday (tomorow). All who are interested in farming and modern methods of cultivation are invited to visit Mr. Collins farm on this occasion and see a practical demonstration of the things that can be done with the Fordson.

We believe the Fordson Tractor in its line of work is just what the Ford Car is in its line. We believe that in a few years many of our southern farms will be cultivated with this machine, and when that time comes we will see a better day for southern agriculture.

NO REPUBLICAN PRIMARY

There will be no Republican Primary election for the nomination of a candidate for Congress in the Fourth District. The action of the District Committee at Anniston last Saturday in nominating Judge Longshore of Shelby for the place takes the place of a primary. Therefore the Republican voters will not be called upon to vote in the Primary on April 12. That will be a Democratic affair strictly.

According to the mandate of the State Democratic Committee, only those who voted a straight Democratic ticket last November can vote in the primary on April 12. The Democrats don't want any backsliders in their flock. They want their fellows to go the whole hog or none.

The Republicans will just let them have their scrap on April 12 all to themselves between Jeffers and McDonad. Then on June the 7th, we will go to the polls and beat either one of those Democrats with Judge Longshore.

In the general election last November Judge Longshore received 2,270 votes and Mr. Blackmon 989 in Chilton County. We will do as well or better for Longshore again on the 7th of June.

CALLAHAN ASSAILS ROAD BOND PROPOSITION

The following communication is reproduced from The Montgomery Advertiser of Tuesday, March 22. The writer makes some impressive points regarding taxation and bond issues for road building.

Editor The Advertiser:

It begins to look like "the people" are going to "force" the Governor to call a special session of the legislature to re-submit the good roads bond proposition, and thus spend nearly one hundred thousand dollars of money that might be put into some mudholes in the roads. It reminds me of the way the Eighteenth Amendment was forced through. A few soft-tongued gentlemen who have wished themselves into high salaried offices are in the lead, and just at present are earning their salaries. So it was with the prohibition amendment. We have not reached the end yet with this amendment, but we have gone far enough for the country to be flooded with high salaried officials, spent enough money to nearly pay the national debt, and it has become about as common for a "deputy" to shoot down a poor devil who is feeling for his life as it is for a farmer to kill a hog. I cannot yet predict what will be the outcome of this road bond business, but I do not like the way it is started. The propagandists would make it appear thtat the way to bring about prosperity it to collect enormous taxes and pay w hat does not stick to the promoters' pockets back to the people for working the road. We have all heard of the snake that swallowed its tail. When it got through there wasn't much snake left. May the Lord and the people keep the snake's tail from its head.

Another sample of the "reasons" for this scheme is that the automobiles will pay all the taxes. As if it were not a tax if it were shifted! Why not tax the automobiles, even a little less, and turn it back into the treasury so that the poor farmers will not have to carry such an enormous load—shift it from the chickens and old shackly wagons to the liberal automobilists? And save the interest and official salaries to make roads. Just be sensible, sincere and plainly honest.

Another sample is that the Federal government will pay as much as we do, just as if we are not part of the Federal government. And taxed, at that, by Congress to the final limit and the smartest men we have are now at work devising new methods of taxation to keep the treasury from showing a deficit in current expenses, to say nothing of reducing the enormous debt or even paying the interest. It does not seem to me good policy to accept an enormous gift from such a friend, in such circumstances.

I wolud feel better if the Legislature would pass a resolution asking Congress to turn all this great sum back into the National treasury and not to appropriate any more that way.

WE CAN'T AFFORD NOT TO USE FERTILIZER THIS YEAR

(Progressive Farmer)

With fertilizer at its present high prices, can we afford to use it this year?

This is the uppermost fertilizer question in the minds of the farmers in the fertilizer-using sections of the South. The Progressive Farmer has gone thoroughly into this question from every angle, and the deeper we go the more convinced we are that our farmers can't afford not to use fertilizer to make their 1921 crops. The per acre cost will be increased, but the per bushel or per pound cost will be reduced, and it is the bushels and pounds that we must sell at a profit.

This is not time to plunge on fertilizer in order to get phenomenal yields, or to experiment with new mixtures. Use safe amounts of the kinds of fertilizer that have given paying results on your types of soil. Not only should the farmers who have heretofore used fertilizer continue the conservative use of it, but there are farmers in every community who have depended solely on their own efforts and the original plant foods in poor soil to make their crops, who should now supplement these things with added plant food, at least on a few acres, and get away from unprofitably low yields. We cannot afford to farm at a loss again this year, and yields of 15 to 20 bushels of corn or a fourth to a third of a bale of cotton an acre will not pay for the labor, seed and use of the land and leave a profit. It is essential, then, that our yields be raised well above the average, and the only practicable means of doing this for this years is with fertilizer wisely used.

Yields, Economy and Fertilizer

(Southern Ruralist.)

To make the crops of 1921 larger and more economical than they would otherwise be even on reduced acreage there can be no doubt that the judicious use of fertilizers is to be recommended.

A great many people are arguing with particular reference to cotton that we should not try to increase our yield per acre because that would increase the total production. That is like arguing that a man should make two trips to town, hauling a half-load at a time, when one trip would do the job.

We should buy co-operatively in car lots, paying cash if possible, and insist on the better grade materials. Pe unit the plant foods in the better grade goods come cheaper. Like the argument against increased yields, there is not one single sound argument in favor of low grade fertilizers. Buy whatever gives best results on your soils.

Fertilizer Situation

(Progressive Farmer.)

It is an accepted fact that when the prices of crops are low, higher yields per acre must be striven for. Fertilizers have been the chief dependence of the Southern farmer for pushing up yields in the past. This year he would, of coure, like to have fertilizers so cheap that he could use them to the limit. But it seems that fertilizers will not be sold as cheaply as they have been in the past.

On the part of the fertilizer manufacturer there is a claim that they cannot possibly get back to pre-war prices this year. One reason given as to why this cannot be done is, that the industry is carrying a very heavy load of farmers' accounts that came over from 1920. In order to carry these notes the manufacturers have been forced to borrow heavily. Yet, in spite of this, losses have already occured on 1920 accounts. In addition there was considerable material bought at peak prices last summer for use in manufacturing mixed fertilizers this year. On this they stand to lose.

The fertilizer industry is underwriting the farmers of the South to the extent of about $150,000,000. Had the fertilizer manufacturers closed in and collected all the farmers' notes when they fell due it is probable that there would have been widespread financial disaster.

Instead of a ruthless policy, tolerance has been accorded the farmer This policy has burdened the manufacturer so heavily that it is claimed that fertilizer prices cannot be reduced any further during this season.

Every man in the class knew the answer

PROFESSOR HASKINS.
WAS A kindly soul.
BRIGHT ON some subjects.
BUT SO absent-minded.
THAT ONE day at the barber's.
HE TOOK off his collar.
TO GET shaved.
AND FORGOT where he was.
AND KEPT right on.
TILL THE cash-girl screamed.
AND A barber stopped him.
HE WAS a great smoker.
BUT HE'D often put.
THE BURNT match in his mouth.
AND THROW away.
THE CIGARETTE.
HIS STUDENTS loved him.
HE WAS so full.
OF FUNNY surprises.

ONE DAY he had a tube.
OF RADIUM and he told.
THE STUDENTS all about it.
AND FINALLY, by mistake.
INSTEAD OF the tube.
HE PULLED out one.
OF HIS cigarettes.
AND ASKED the class.
"WHAT IS the one thing.
WHICH DISTINGUISHES.
THIS MARVELOUS substance.
FROM ALL others on earth?"
AND THE class roared.
"THEY SATISFY."

WHAT is it you've always wanted a cigarette to do? You know the answer. Chesterfields do it—they not only please your taste, they satisfy! It's all in the blend—a secret blend of fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos. It puts Chesterfields where none can touch them for quality and value.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

We were pleased to have two splendid congregations at the church last Sunday, especially a large number of our Methodist friends who worshoipped with us, there being no services at their church. We extend to them a hearty welcome to come back again. The services next Sunday will be of an interesting character. At the close of the Sunday school period there will be a special program rendered by pupils of the school in recognition of Missionary Day that is being observed all over the South. The sermon will also be of a missionary character. At night the next series of pictures on the life of Christ, entitled, "Christ in the Garden," will be shown. Very large audiences have been present at all these services so far. We expect to have a capacity house if the weather is fine.

Under the leadership of Mr. Murphy as Superintendent, the Sunday school is building up, and with some new innovations should prove very interesting as well as profitable. Shall we have 150 next Sunday, a record attendance? All teachers and pupils are urged to be on time as far as possible. Bids are now being received for the new building, which we hope soon to begin and finish in the near future. Therefore if not yet paid, pay thy vows now due unto the Lord.

The W. M. U. was well attended at the residence of Dr. Hayes, and was much enjoyed by all.

We welcome all visitors to our services.—P. G. Carter, Pastor.

WHAT you lose thru baking failure must be added to baking costs—it has to be paid for.

Calumet Baking Powder will save you all of that. Because when you use it—there are no failures—no losses. Every baking is sweet and palatable—and stays moist, tender and delicious to the last tasty bite.

That's a big saving—but that isn't all. You save when you buy Calumet and you save when you use it.

Pure in the can - Pure in the baking

It is reasonable in cost and possesses more than the ordinary leavening strength. You pay less and use less. You get the most in purity, dependability and wholesomeness.

In every way—it is the best way to keep down baking costs. That is what has made it the world's biggest selling baking powder—has kept it the favorite of millions of housewives for more than thirty years.

Good wholesome bakings can be made only of good materials, no other way, so use only good baking powder and good plain flour (not self-rising flour).

THORSBY NEWS
Miss Naemi Turnquist, Reporter.

On Saturday morning March 19th. Rev. Arthur Holt D. D. social service Secretary of the Congregational Education Society, with headquarters at Boston, Mass. arrived in Thorsby unannounced and spent Saturday and Sunday inspectig the properties and activities of organizations which are under Congregational auspices located at Thorsby.

Dr. Holt is a member of a committee appointed by the National Council of Congregational Churches at the last meeting to make a careful survey of the more than eighty secondary schools and colleges throughout the country, which receive aid and support from the Congregational National Benevolent Societies which are charged with the distribution of many millions of dollars contributed annually as free will offerings by the constituent members of the denomination and friends.

Dr. Holt's chie interest in visiting Thorsby was to know, at first hand, as much as possible of the student body faculty and board of trustees, the field covered, the environment, the constituency, the physical properties and the plans and purposes for the future of Thorsby Institute.

The Congregational National council will meet during the coming summer at Los Angeles, Cal. At which time the report of this survey emmittee will be received and serve as a basis for the educational budget then to be adopted for the denominational activities for the ensuing two years. Dr. Holt is a man who knows schools and deals with people who demand efficient services as a basis for co-operation, but in his estimation based on a well known character established during the fifteen years of its existence, and what he learned by close cntact during his visit he will report Thorsby Institute as one of the secondary schools of the denomination worthy of all the support that can be given in a wise distribution of funds available. He approves enthusiastically of the efforts being made to enlarge accommodations for students and faculty and an equipment commensurate with the scope and character of the work planned which although under denominational auspices is and always will be strickly non-sectarian.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since . . . I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too.

Bean are the members of the District Committee for Chilton County, and under this order are therefore the campaign committee which will manage Judge Longshores campaign in Chilton County.

The Chilton County delegation in the meeting at Anniston last Saturday pledged $150 for Chilton County Republicans to help Judge Longshore defray the expenses of his campaign. We feel sure that Chilton County will gladly give this amount and get right up behind Judge Longshore, and help to put him over on June 7th.

If this campaign is managed right and the proper effort put forth, the Fourth District of Alabama will have a Republican in the next Congress of the United States. But it will not be done by half hearted work. We can win if we will put up the right kind of a fight. We know that Chilton county stands ready to do her part. So does Shelby. It remains to harness up the Republicans of the other counties of the District properly, along with the Democrats that may be persuaded to jump over the bars, and the job will be done.

SEVENTH GRADE EXAM., FOR CHILTON COUNTY

Fertilizer Prices Cut

Until now we have not felt justified in taking orders for Fertilizer as we believed the prices were too much out of proportion with farm products. While we feel that prices are still high, yet we do not believe that we can afford to work much of our lands without using fertilizer to help make economical yields. We have made arrangements to order fertilizers for the farmers in our county for cash as follows:

Nitrate of Soda	$55.00	delivered.
16% High Grade Acid Phosphate	16.00	"
15% Kainit	22.00	"
10-2-2 High Grade Guano .	26.00	"
8-3-3 High Grade Guano . .	33.50	"

As many farmers may club together as is convenient and have all shipped in same car. Your business will be appreciated.

M. D. FOSHEE, MANAGER.

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

Abstracts of Title Promptly Prepared at Reasonable Charges.

PASTORS AND WORKERS CONFERENCE MEETS

A meeting of this organization for the Chilton county and Unity Baptist Associations was held at Chestnut Creek Church Coopers on Monday March 14th, which was of an interesting and profitable character. The subject of the Distribution of Baptist Literature into the homes was discussed by Rev. J. D. Hughes and other brothern who emphasised the distribution of various tracts that are obtainable from the Baptist Sunday School Board, also the sending of the Home and Field and the Alabama Baptist Magazines into the homes. A systematic distribution of such literature by districting the churches was strongly recommended, or the grouping of a certain number of families together and placing a key man or a woman in charge who will distribute such literature into these homes. Another important question was the "Sacredness of the Marriage vow and the right for Civil Marriages." The discussion was led by Rev. P. G. Carter who stated that marriage was a divine institution, therefore, should only be performed by men authorised by the churches to perform the devine ordinances of the church and to execute the divine appointments. In this way more importance will be attached to the marriage vows taken in matrimony, and less divorce would be the result. Since marriage is a divine institution or appointment it should only be performed by properly ordained ministers. Such a step would also help to prevent undesirable marriages and the uniting of unscripturally divorced couples. An interesting discussion of the subject followed in which Rev. B. C. Hughes, J. D. Hughes and others took part.

After a splended dinner spread by the ladies of the church, The Loyalty Campaign in the interests of the 75 Million Campaign was freely discussed and led by Rev. D. D. Head of Marbury who is the Keyman for the Unity Baptist Association.

The next meeting will be held at the Clanton Baptist Church on Monday April 11th.

P. G. Carter, Cecretary

MRS. ADDIE MIMS

FOR CONGRESSMAN

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Congressman from the Fourth Congressional District of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held on April 12, 1921.

S. P. McDONALD.

THE ISSUES AND THE MAN

In every race for political preferment there are developed various political and economic issues on which the voter is asked to pass in making his choice for a candidate. These issues are present; they are familiar to all thinking people; they have been masticated by the public opinion; and there is but little doubt what attitude the candidate is going to take when he confronts them in office. Popular sentiment has crystalized them into concrete form, and there is but little likelihood of any candidates misconceiving the will of his constituents regarding them. The choice of candidate is immaterial so far as these known problems are concerned.

But what of the countless new and complicated propositions which must come up after the race is over? Here the voter is not in a position to dictate his sentiment. He cannot be absolutely sure that his representative even understands it Futhermore these problems often arise so suddenly and must be disposed of so quickly that the voter has neither time nor opportunity to furnish the solution. The representative must act in these cases on his own initiative. He must use his own judgment, and discretion. And, since problems existing during a period of candidacy are insignificant besides untold issues which must arise during a term of office, it is when the office holder faces these new problems that his ability as a capable public servant becomes manifest.

The question of selecting a representative, therefore, cannot be based primarily upon what he will do concerning problems which face us now and which we know—we can be relatively sure as regards them—but how will he serve us when we must rely solely upon his own discretion in interpretating our needs and supplying our necessities.

There is therefore but one way to judge the candidate—by his past record of achievement. As he has met and solved problems in his business life, just so will he handle the public business in the future. If he has shown ability to cope with various exigencies as they have arisen and emerged a successful man, it is but logical to suppose he will handle those which confront him as a public sevant in a similiar fashion. Neither he nor any man living knows what will arise. But if he has shown ability in the past, if he is intelligent, resourceful, broadminded and progressive, if he is honest and successful,the voter may have no qualms as to his ability to take care of his constituents.

Such facts should be kept in mind in considering the candidacy of S. P. McDonald for Congress. His past record of enviable achievement, his financial success, his value as a citizen, his proven ability to handle civic and business problems quickly and sucessfully, and his clear business judgement combine to make him a candidate in every way fitted to meet and cope with every issue which may confront him in congress to the best interest of his district and of his country.—Sylacauga News.

GEN. LEONARD WOOD MAKES APPEAL FOR NEAR EAST RELIEF

Says Two and a Half Million Starving Armenians Need Help at Once.

Ft. Sheridan, Ill.—Major General Leonard Wood, commanding the Sixth Corps Area, has issued a Lenten sacrifice appeal for funds to save the Armenians from annihilation by starvation and disease. "I feel that however many and however worthy the other appeals which are being made to the great heart of America these days may be," he says, "this cry from the little children cannot remain unanswered."

The Near East Relief, 1 Madison avenue, New York City, which has been charged by Congress with the American relief work in the whole Near East, has formed a special "Lenten Sacrifice Appeal Committee," of which Major General Wood is chairman, Charles V. Vickery secretary and Cleveland H. Dodge treasurer, to put before the American people the desperate need of the Christian populations of the Near East, who have suffered and are still suffering the horrors of war.

MAJ. GEN. LEONARD WOOD

Among the prominent members of General Wood's Committee are Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, Mrs. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson, sister of the late President Roosevelt; ex-President W. H. Taft, Mary Garden, President John Grier Hibben of Princeton University, Bishop-Elect William T. Manning of New York, Dr. Henry van Dyke, David Belasco, Samuel Gompers, Frank A. Munsey, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, John G. Milburn of the American Bar Association, Miss Elizabeth Marbury and Mrs. Medill McCormick of Chicago.

General Wood's Appeal

As Chairman of a Special Committee of representative men and women of the country, charged with placing before the American people the desperate need of two and a half million Armenians, the remnant of the oldest Christian nation, whose sufferings through sixteen centuries seem to have brought them no nearer peace, liberty or security, I beg your personal co-operation and influence to forward an appeal for a Lenten Sacrifice Offering to enable the Near East Relief to go on with its work of mercy.

Over one hundred thousand little children who have been kept alive by American generosity for the past three years are absolutely dependent upon the support which America gives them through the Near East Relief.

I feel that however many and however worthy the other appeals which are being made to the great heart of America these days may be, this cry from the little children of the land where Christ gave his life for mankind cannot remain unanswered.

Will you help to save this martyred people?

Leonard Wood

Leonard Wood,

PRESIDENT ENDORSES THE NEAR EAST RELIEF APPEAL

Washington.—President Harding has given his hearty endorsement to the appeal being made by Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood on behalf of the Near East Relief, 1 Madison Avenue, New York City, for a nation-wide Lenten Sacrifice Offering to save the starving Christians of the Near East.

The President's letter reads:

"There ought to be no cessation or relaxation of our sympathetic American efforts to be of service to these stricken people. One can well believe that they will not survive if we withdraw the relief which has heretofore been so generous from the private American purse. It has seemed to me that all we have done has borne dividends tenfold in the consciousness that we have done an humane thing for a people well deserving our generous sympathy.

"I wish you the very greatest success in furthering the great relief movement to which you are now giving your attention.

666 is a prescription for Colds, Fever and LaGrippe. It's the most speedy remedy we know.

H. W. BORING, a well-to-do Kansas farmer, says he has gained 20 pounds and is in better general health than he has been in years, since taking Tanlac.

"Since Tanlac has overcome my troubles I have gained twenty pounds in weight and am in better general health than for years past," was the straight-forward statement made a few days ago by H. W. Boring, a prominet and well-to-do farmmer living at Overland Park, Kans.

"During the two years I suffered I tried every thing I knew of to get relief, but nothing seemed to reach my case until I tried Tanlac. My appetite was poor and my digestion was so bad I could hardly retain my food. Nothing seemed to agree with me; in fact, I was almost a confirmed dyspeptic. My whole system seemed to be out of shape. I would have pains across the small of my back so bad at times I could hardly move around

"My nerves were all unstrung and I would become upset at the least little thing. I seldom slept well at night and finally, became so weak and run-down that I lost weight rapidly. I was also troubled a great deal with catarrh and of mornings had to spend a half hour or more clearing up my head.

"This is just the condition I was in when I began taking Tanlac and it certainly has been a blessing to me. It just seemed to be made especially for my case. I improved from the first. My digestion now is perfect and regardless of what I eat I never suffer any bad after-effects.

"The pains across my back have entirely disappeared. The catarrh has left me, too, and my head is perfectly clear. I am no longer nervous and rest well at night. I have regained my lost weight and am feeling better and strnger than I have in years. I am going to keep Tanlac in my house so it will be handy at all times."

Tanlac is sold in Clanton by Upchurch Drug Co.

TEACHERS' QUALIFICATIONS

To Superintendents and Principals of Alabama:

In view of the fact that for the last two years the State Board of Education has found it necessary to issue provisional certificates to recent graduates of standard high schools in order to relieve the shortage of teachers in the several counties, I am writing to request your co-operation for the enlistment of recent graduates of standard high schools in the work of teaching by suggesting to them the ways in which they can qualify to receive teachers certificates.

Conditions do not seem to be such in Alabama as to warrant the discontinuance of the third grade certificate by examination as was authorized by the Legislature at its last session. For this reason the State Board of education has announced that examinations for third grade certificates on the same basis as heretofore will be given in April and July of the present year. No announcement has yet been authorized as to what will be done about third grade certificates by examination after that date, though it is the intention of members of the Board to discontinue the issuance of this certificate as soon as conditions will warrant.

If any recent graduate of a standard high school desires to qulify to teach with examination, he may do this through the satisfactory completion of a course of study for a period of six weeks at a class A normal school upon the recommendation of the president of the school in which the courses are taken and the county superintendant who desires to employ the person to teach. The certificate to be issued is the one known as the pre-normal certificate of the second class, and will be valid for the period of one year. It will have the same rank as a second grade certificate by examination. It is the suggestion of the Department of Education that you encourage persons who take these courses this year to do regular credit work in the normal schools looking to graduation and the receipt of elementary professional certificates, class A, on the basis of their normal school diplomas.

It is the wish of this office not to be called upon by employing authorities to issue certificates next year to those persons who have not engaged in some activity for academic and professional improvement. To enable us to carry this purpose into effect, we invite your cooperation in helping high school graduates who are worthy and capable to qualify in one of the ways suggested above.

Yours very truly,
JOHN W. ABERCROMBIE, Supt.

IN MEMORIAM

William Evan Vinson, who was killed in an accident near Birmingham on the 9th of February, 1921, was one of the best men our county affords. Evan was a Christian gentleman, always willing and ready to do the right thing. His father was killed in an accident when Evan was a small boy. He grew up to be a noble and trustworthy man, caring for his mother so tenderly. He was a devoted son.

He leaves his mother, wife and small baby to mourn his loss. All who know Evan loved him. We can not see why such a noble man, so good to his family and friends, was taken, but God knows best. Let us all try to live so we can meet him in Heaven. A FRIEND.

The Height of Musical Joy

YOU get the height of musical joy when you hear a great living artist. But you get equal joy when you hear the same artist on the New Edison.

The proof of this is convincing, conclusive and concrete.

The NEW EDISON
"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Convincing—for Mr. Edison himself said in a recent interview: "The emotional effects and consequent benefits of music are well known. Through the agency of my new phonograph, I can produce the same effects as would result from the original music."

Conclusive—for you can score, on a Mood Change Chart, the effects of the New Edison's realism on you. Come in and listen to this test of realism.

Concrete—for we will show a big book of proof, that there is no difference between RE-CREATED music and the original music. This proof would be good in any court of law.

THOUGHT MAN WAS CRAZY

"I have suffered from stomach and liver troubles for years; the last two years people have been calling me crazy. The doctors could not do any thing for me. The awful bloating of gas seemed to press against my brain and I could not think clearly. Three months ago a friend advised taking Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and it has worked wonders in my case. All my bloating and suffering is gone and I feel as though newly born." VOL. IX. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 1921. NUMBER 1.

ALBERT GORE SHOT BY 16-YEAR OLD SON, ARTHUR

Albert Gore was shot and killed Friday morning by his sixteen year old son, Arthur. The tragedy was enacted at the home of the dead man just across the Coosa River in Coosa County, about a mile from Lock 12.

Only meagre details were reported to the Sheriff of Chilton County. It was said that Gore was in a rage with his son, and was pursuing him with an axe, threatening his life. When the boy had eluded his father as long as possible he gained access to a 22 calibre rifle and shot him twice, death resulting instantly.

After the shooting the boy went to the Lock 12 plant of the Alabama Power Company and informed Superintendent Benziger what had happened and asked him to wire the officers here.

Albert Gore has been a somewhat notorious character in Chilton County for several years. He only recently completed a sentence in the state penitentiary upon a conviction for alleged maltreatment of his family.

His body was brought from Coosa Friday night to the home of his mother at New Salem where burial took place Saturday.

The boy who confessed to the shooting of his father went to Rockford Sunday to give himself up to the Coosa County authorities.

MAJOR JEFFERS HERE.

Friends and supporters of Major Lamar Jeffers, in his race for the Democratic nomination for Congress express great delight at the impression he made in his speech at the court house last Saturday. They say Saturday was a victory day for Jeffers in Chilton County. Some even venture far enough to predict that Jeffers will get two to one over McDonald here.

Of course it is not necessary to state the position this paper holds in the Congressional scrap. We are for Longshore straight out, which fact every body knows. But as we look upon the Democratic contest for the nomination, we can't help but hope the Democrats will nominate Jeffers. This too in the face of the fact that we know Jeffers will be harder for Longshore to beat than McDonald would be.

But here is the way we figure this business. The Fourth District is going to elect a Congressman on June 7th. That man to be elected is going to be either Longshore, Jeffers or McDonald. Our first choice is Longshore. But if the Republicans can't put Longshore over, then we hope the Democrats will put in the best man they have, which we believe is Jeffers.

LONGSHORE HERE

Judge A. P. Longshore of Columbiana, Republican candidate for Congress in this District was in Clanton last Saturday shaking hands with his many friends here. He says he is just waiting to see which of the Democratic candidates he is going to have to beat on June 7th. When he finds out whether it is to be McDonald or Jeffers he will load his gun with appropriate ammunition and start the fireworks. Meanwhile he is preparing preliminary plans for the campaign.

SINGING AT SHILOH

The singers of this and other communities of the county met at Shiloh Church last Sunday for our annual Easter Singing.

At 10 a.m. the house was called to order by our Sunday School Superintendent, R. P. Busby. We had a very interesting lesson, after which our pastor, Bro. S. L. Crouch delivered an inspiring sermon, using for his text the 16th verse of 16th Matthew. The committee for the afternoon's program was named—Messrs Lorenza Cobb, Ed Glass, Splawn and R. P. Busby being named chairman and Mrs. Sarah Crim Secretary. After singing one song we were dismissed for dinner for one hour and a half.

At 1:30 the house was called to order by the chairman, and singing was taken up again.

Directors for the afternoon were R. H. Murphy, Flossie Cobb, Mr. Splawn, Claudie L. Murphy, Mr. Collins, Lester Cobb, V. Hutton, Vester Campbell and A. H. Glass. Organists for the afternoon were Misses Cobb, Murphy and Mrs. Crim.

We enjoyed having the many visitors with us, and we invite you to come again.

WE ARE OUT OF EUROPE

Washington March 28.— "This country is speedily returning to normalcy, a change that will be felt not only in our domestic affairs, but in our foreign relations as well," declares the Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "Normalcy demands that we return to Pre-war relations with Europe and the rest of the world. That is precisely what we are doing, and there is no danger that President Harding will be turned from that course by the cunning wiles of European diplomats.

"It is rumored that the allies have, for the present at least, abandoned their interest as to whether the United States will eventually adopt the league of nations, and are centering their hopes upon hearing from this country an indication of sympathy with the plan of reparation that they are applying to Germany. It is further stated by writers upon the subject that payment of that reparation would be expedited were announcement to be made of the stand of the United States in the matter. It is said that a word from America supporting the allied claims would cause Germany to cease her obstruction tactics and take measures to pay the indemnity in accordance with the allied terms. Allied diplomats apparently have chosen to interpret President Hardings inaugural address as an assurance that Germany can expect no sympathy from the United States, and they seem to have arrived at the converse of that policy by assuming that officials American sympathy will be bestowed upon the course pursued by the allies.

"The statement of Europe should undeceive themselves. While Mr. Harding assures the nations of the world that the United States stood ready to counsel with them in part in directing the destinies of the Old World.' It is a far cry from participating in a conference with foreign governments to showing sympathy for one former belligerent or the other engaged in the interpretation of a treaty into which both have entered. That is what the suggested action amounts to. Nothing more nor less than the assumption of the role of interpreter of a treaty between countries of the Old World. Could there be a more flagrant departure from the policy proclaimed by President Harding in his inaugural address?

"The controversy over payments by Germany is to be left solely in the hands of the parties to it, so far as intervention by the United States is concerned. We are out of Europe. It requires only the formal announcement of that fact, through a treaty or resolution of Congress, to restore precisely the same conditions of peace that prevailed before the war. Nobody would have suggested before 1914 that America project itself into a controversy between the countries that afterwards entered the war, and the events that have transpired since that date must not be permitted to blind our eyes to the proper relations the United States should bear to the rest of the world.

ARTHUR GORE SET FREE BY COOSA GRAND JURY

Arthur Gore, 16-year old boy, who shot and killed his father, Albert Gore in Coosa County last Friday returned to Clanton Monday, after the grand jury of Coosa County refused to indict him. The jury took up the investigation of the details, and after thirty minutes decided to dismiss the boy. Many prominent citizens of Chilton County, including several of the county officials, accompanied the boy to Rockford to tell the grand jury what they knew of conditions in the Gore family. The man who was killed in Coosa County, had for a long time been a resident of Chilton County, moving to Coosa only a few months ago.

SHOULTS

Farmers are very busy planting corn. They seemed to be a little behind with their work, as we have been having so much rain.

Our Sunday School is making rapid progress under the careful management of Mr. H. L. Oden as superintendent. We are glad to see the young men take such an interest. They have organized their class and say they are going to show people what they can do. Good for them!

Rev. J. D. Martin preached an excellent sermon Sunday, which was enjoyed by a large crowd. Had many visitors with us from other communities. Glad to welcome them with us. We have the welcome on the door as well as on our face.

We had a good lively singing Sunday afternoon. A little more practice and we can have better singings.

Misses Myrtle McAfee and Eva Hall entertained their Sunday School class at an egg hunt Saturday afternoon. The one of the intermediate class, Miss Eva's class, finding the most eggs, won a prize. Miss Daisy Nichols won the prize which was a delicious chocolate cake. Miss Myrtle served candy to the little folks after the hunt. They all seem to enjoy it.

We are real proud of the baseball team Shoults has. Lawley team came over and played them a game Saturday p.m., Shoults winning by 11 to 8. Lawley has challenged them to come over there and play them next Saturday. Come on boys, and lay them down to defeat again.

Miss Alice Sewell also entertained her class at an egg hunt Sunday afternoon near her home.

NEW YORK STORE ENLARGING THEIR BUSINESS QUARTERS

The New York Store of Clanton is at present engaged in the work of remodeling and enlarging their store house, which when completed, will contain not only the most modern and complete stock of goods, but will also be fitted up with the latest ideas in fixtures and arrangements.

The New York Store began business here in October, 1918, occupying half of the Tipton Mullins Building. By strictly adhering to the best known principles of merchandising, catering to the trade in the most acommodating manner, this store, under the management of Messrs Manas and Lande, has enjoyed a period of successful achievement. In the short space of 19 months the New York Store has become a fixture in the business circles of Clanton and Chilton County. The present plans of enlargement will include renovating and remodeling of the former quarters and the addition of the other half of the Mullins Building. The two houses will be thrown together and made into what will be one of the most up-to-date and elaborate merchandising houses in this section of Alabama.

In talking about the plans of his house Mr. Lande says:

"We attribute our success in Clanton mainly to the fact that we came here to conduct a store upon the fairest and squarest methods known to the trade. We stuck to our policy and our reward has been ample. We wish to thank the people of Clanton and Chilton County for the co-operatin given us. We appreciate our customers, and wish to assure them in the future that our efforts to serve them shall continue with even more determination, if such be possible."

McDONALD ---the man

IF YOU ARE A FARMER, and wanted to employ a representative to manage your farm, market your crops, regulate tax rates, build your roads, what kind of a man would you choose?

If you are a merchant, and wanted a General Manager for your store, one whose duty it was to employ and discharge help, buy and sell goods, extend and withold credit, and further the interests of your business, what kind of a man would you choose?

If you are a laboring man, and wanted someone to represent you and your co-laborers in working out the problems of better living conditions, consult with your employer as to wages, hours, and sanitary working places, and otherwise assist in adjusting misunderstandings and differences, what kind of a man would you choose?

If you are a professional man, and wanted to employ a representative to investigate and advise you as to the best and most scientific methods of carrying on your profession, what kind of a man would you choose?

If you are a woman who has the cares of a home and family on your heart and are interested in having the best environment thrown around your children and loved ones, or if you are interested in having laws enacted for protection and betterment of your sex as well as for the community in general and wanted a representative to further these desires, what kind of a man would you choose?

If two men applied for the job, wouldn't you make some inquiry as to their respective fitness, and employ the one best qualified?

On April 12th you will be called upon to choose a man who will be your representative in the biggest business in the world, the United States Government. You are and should be interested in the men who will direct its affairs. You have a right to and should know the qnalifications of the men who are seeking the office as your representative in Congress from the Fourth District. S. P. McDonald is one of these men.

Selecting a Congressman is just like choosing your representative in any other line of business. Whatever may be your occupation, vocation or profession, if you need a representative in that particular line, you want a man who has been a success—who has accomplished things.

The man who has been successful in all his undertakings, who shows a fighting spirit, good judgment and the ability to handle difficult situations would be your choice.

McDONALD BEGAN LIFE FIGHTING FOR HIS VERY EXISTENCE— AND WAS A WINNER.

In civic affairs he began first as City Clerk of his home town, performing the duties of the office at night. Later he became Mayor of his city and served with marked success for three terms, voluntarily retiring at the end of the third term.

As Mayor, he built one of the first hydro-electric lighting systems in the State, and did it when many financiers advised him that it was impossible to put it over. This same plant is furnishing current to a community of ten thousand people today at a cost which is less than half of what the same service could be obtained from any other source.

He was a winner in this, as well as every other civic undertaking which he started.

In church affairs he was chairman for ye ars of the official board. In Masonic and other fraternal organiaztions he has held the highest offices in the gift of the fraternity.

In the Liberty Loan and War Savings Stamps drives he was chairman in his County and put over each drive with the highest percentage of any committee in his section of the State.

In business affairs he has gone to the top in every ogranizaztion with which he has been connected.

In the Democratic party he has been chosen by large majorities for every position for which he has offered, receiving the highest vote in the District as a candidate for membership on the State Executive Commitee, and later as a Delegate from the Fourth Congressional District to the National Democratic Convention.

In fact he has been a winner from the time he began his fight for existance, as a youth to the present moment.

As to his ability to help the farmer.—He was reared at Florence, Ala., right in one of the best farming sections of the State. His father owned and operated lands in the Tennessee valley up to the time of his death. Thus it will be seen that S. P. McDonald grew up close to nature and was directly and indirectly connected with the farm until he was grown. He saw every phase of it; the share-cropper, the renter, the small farmer operating his own farm, and the man who owned and operated large farms. Sinse he started in the banking business he has had intimate relations and dealings with all classes of farmers from the least to the greatest and knows the farm and the farmer through and through, having been with him in all is ups and downs for the greater part of his life. Even now he owns farming interests and studies them with his fellows in these perplexing times. If there is a man who has been tried in all points and found competent to help the farmer in the Fourth Congressional District, that man is S. P. McDONALD.

FOR CONGRESSMAN

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Congressman from the Fourth Congressional District of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held on April 12, 1921.

S. P. McDONALD.

HUNDREDS FROM EVERY PORTION OF COUNTY PLEDGE HIM THEIR LOYAL SUPPORT AND RECOMMEND HIM TO VOTERS THROUGHOUT THE FOURTH ALABAMA DISTRICT.

One of the outstanding features of the present congressional campaign in the Fourth District has been the unswerving loyalty with which the voters of Talladega County have espoused the political cause of S. P. McDonald. From the moment of his announcement these voters who know him best, who have long been familiar with his private and personal life, and who are most competent because of an intimacy with his record of achievement, and a thorough knowledge of his qualifications as a man, to judge him critically, have flocked to his standard in a manner seldom equaled in political history. They have toured the district in his behalf, and, singly and in groups, they have taken his cause directly to the individual voter. Furthermore, above their signatures as printed below, they have recommended him to their fellow voters as a man in whose keeping the representativeship of the Fourth Alabama District would be carefully, intelligently and faithfully guarded.

Such loyalty is susceptable only of the explanation that Mr. McDonald's record has been so clean, his business and private life so free of smirch and so marked with ability, and his qualification for the office to which he aspires so evident that those best in position to judge him critically see in him the man best fitted at the present time to protect the interests and advance the progress of the Fourth District in Congress.

Such a sweeping indorsemen is almost without precedent. It is too universal in its appeal to admit of the conception that it is based upon personal favoritism or of political influence. Among the hundreds of names gven below are found all classes of voters. They represent every variety of business life in Talladega County. And it is but logical to assume that their appeal is going to have a marked effect on the primary election on April 12.

The indorsement follows:

We, the undersigned, hereby endorse the candidacy of Hon. S. P. McDonald for Representative in the Congress of the United States, from the fourth Congressional District, pledge to him our support and take this method of recommending him to the voters of the other counties cmposing the Fourth District, and the chairman of the McDonald campaign committee of Talladega County, may use our names, if it is deemed expedient, as a member of said Committee. SOCIETY AND PERSONALS

MRS. R. E. LUCKIE, Editor.

SUPRISE PARTY

A suprise party was given by Mrs. Thos. A. Curry on last Friday afternoon in honor of Mr. Curry's mother. A number of intimate associates of other days came in to spend the happy hour with the honoree.

Mrs. Curry showed no surprise what ever upon the assembling of her friends; for she cherished the recollections of their having assembled in like manner, time and again, to pay her homage.

In her accustomed manner, Mrs. Curry conversed lightly with her friends while busily engaged in her fascinating finger-work.

Presently, all were invited out to the dining room for refreshments. It was at this juncture that Mrs. Marion Gore whispered: "Big mama, this is your birth-day party."

The dining-room had been carefully arranged for the occasion by Mrs. Marion Gore and Miss Roberta Curry. Chief-de-resistance of the decorations was the table's center piece; a prettily embossed cake fashioned in the form of an Easter hat, with trimmings of chrysanthemums in blending shades. This handi-work was designed and executed by Mrs. J. Renfro Curry of Wetumpka; and was presented by the artist as a birthday remembrance. Light was subdued by a sheen of filmy green; while vases of carnations and roses, and pots of pink geranium were used to advantage.

Mrs. VanDerveer took the initiative in the expression of goodl wishes. Mrs. Callen gracefully followed by crowning the toast that the honoree "might succeed in climbing to prosperity's heights and meet no friend coming down." Other toasts followed. It was a happy occasion and "Big Mama Curry" will never forget the celebration of her seventy-sixth birth-day.

Those in attendance upon this occasion were: Mesdames J. P. VanDerveer, W. I. Mullins, Hugh Foshee, Marion Gore, C. V. Heath, W. T. Callen, W. G. Curry, Thos. A. Curry, Miss Roberta Curry and Mrs. J. Renfro Curry of Wetumpka.

"The Greatest Question," Love, Thrills, Mystery woven into a subject of profound interest to all mankind.

WOMANS FAITH HELPS HUSBAND

"I owe my good health to my wife who had faith in a newspaper ad she saw of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I was down so badly with stomach and liver trouble after 15 years of suffering and trying every known remedy that I had no faith in anything. This medicine has ce rtainly been a Godsend to me." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Oe dose will convince or money refunded.

Wednesday Card Club.

A delightful meeting of the Wednesday Card Club was held at the home of Mrs. V. J. Heard on last Wednesday. The apartments were decorated beautifully for the occasion, the Easter idea prevailing in decorations and score cards.

After a spirited game the hostess served a two-course menu.

S. S. Class Entetained.

The members of Mrs. Neighbors' Sunday School class enjoyed a lovely party given by her on last Thursday night at her home. The apartments were appropriately decorated with cut flowers and pot plants. Music and games were enjoyed until late when delightful refreshments were served to about twenty-five.

Embroidery Club Entertained.

Mrs. Philip Horn proved a charming hostess last Thursday when she entertained the members of the Emboidery Club.

The home was prettily decorated in spring flowers and ferns. These meetings are delightfully informal, the form of entertainment being left with the hostess. After a social hour the hostess served a two-course luncheon.

MRS. J. M. CRAIG, of Los Angeles California, says no one can feel more grateful for what Tanlac has done than she does. Has gained twelve pounds and health is better than in years.

"Of all the people who have taken Tanlac I don't believe there is anyone who feels any more grateful to it than I do," said Mrs. J. M. Craig, of 675 1-2 E., 40th St., Los Angeles, California.

"I suffered from nervous prostration and was so weak that I could not even sweep the floor and during the day I would have to lie down four or five times. I tried to walk, but found out that half a block was all I could stand before I would give out. Nervous spells came on me often. Finally my husband urged me to try Tanlac and I am indeed glad he did, for it proved to be just what I needed.

"The first two bottles did not seem to help me. I guess it was because I was so bad off, but on the third bottle I could tell I was improving and that gave me more hope than ever of getting well. My improvement from then on was rapid and by the time I had taken five bottles I was better and stronger han I had been in years.

"It enabled me to sleep soundly at night and I have gained 12 pounds. That was sveral months ago and from then until now I have been in as good health as I ever was i my life. I have told all my friends and reatives what a wonderful medicine Tanlac it."

Tanlac is sold in Clanton by Upchurch Drug Company.

The Helen Keller Literary Society will hold their regular meeting in Bates Hall Saturday night, April 2.

It is needless to say that Miss Peterson and Miss Grinley report a very pleasant time.

Tired

"I was weak and run-down," relates Mrs. Eula Burnett, of Dalton, Ga. "I was thin and just felt tired, all the time. I didn't rest well. I wasn't ever hungry. I knew, by this, I needed a tonic, and as there is none better than—

CARDUI
The Woman's Tonic

. . . I began using Cardui," continues Mrs. Burnett. "After my first bottle, I slept better and ate better. I took four bottles. Now I'm well, feel just fine, eat and sleep, my skin is clear and I have gained and sure feel that Cardui is the best tonic ever made."

Thousands of other women have found Cardui just as Mrs. Burnett did. It should help you.

All of the Billingsleys enjoyed an egg hunt Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Billingsley.

Miss Leona Goodgame spent Sunday visiting in Canton.

Last Friday night a hike was enjoyed by a number of young people. They went out about a mile out of town to an ideal picnic spot, where they enjoyed numbers of games and a delightful lunch was served by the ladies, after which all gathered around a big fire and enjoyed a Marshmallow Toast. The young people were chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reagan.

Mrs. P. K. Villadsen returned last Thursday, after visiting her sister in Birmingham, and her son in Corona, Alabama.

Next Saturday night the Fidelis Class of the Baptist Church will give an ice-cream supper in the park. This supper will be given for the benefit of the Baptist Church. All are invited to attend.

The usual meeting of the Baptist B. Y. P. U. was held at the church Sunday night; it is said that an unusually large crowd attended and a splendid program was carried out.

Miss Vivian Bentley of Birmingham spent several days in Thorsby last week visiting with Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Bentley. She returned to her home on Thursday morning.

Miss Alpha Bentley returned Sunday evening from Birmingham where she has been visiting for several days.

On last Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Howard were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Diefenderfer. They celebrated in honor of of Mr. Krahman, it being his 83rd birthday.

Last Friday afternoon Jemison came down to play ball with Thorsby, and they must have come this time with a determination to win, for they walked away with the game. They were a long time beating our boys, so Thorsby finally decided to give them a game to kind of encourage them a little, so they won't quit coming.

A very interesting and helpful series of special meetings were held during Holy Week, at the Congregational Church, conducted by Rev. Jas. W. Davenport, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Chas. T. Rogers, Congregational Home Missionary Superintendent for Alabama, who is an eloquent and forceful speaker. Rev. Rogers not only preached at the evening and Sunday services, but spoke at Thorsby Institute chapel service each morning and at the daily morning prayer meetings at the church.

While the result of these meetings have not been a great showing of new converts, there has undoubtedly been a spiritual awakening and a re-consecration that will prove effectual for years to come in the development of Christian character and service that will be a help to many for a better understanding of Christian living.

The Thorsby Parent Teachers Association will have a meeting at Bates Hall Friday, April 1st, at 7:30 p.m. at which time there will be shown several reels of moving pictures illustrating subjects of interest to people interested in modern educational affairs.

You Just Try NR For That Indigestion

Get your organs of digestion, assimilation and elimination working in harmony and watch your trouble disappear. NR does it or money back.

One Day's Test Proves NR Best

The stomach only partly digests the food we eat. The process is finished in the intestines where the food is mixed with bile from the liver.

It must be plain to any sensible person who realizes this, that the stomach, liver and bowels must work in harmony if digestive troubles are to be avoided or overcome.

This fact also explains why sufferers from indigestion, also suffer more or less from headaches, biliousness and constipation.

If you are one of the many unfortunate persons who cannot eat without suffering afterward, if you are constipated, have bilious spells, headaches, coated tongue, bad breath, variable appetite, are nervous, losing energy and feel your health slipping away, take this advice and get a box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) right today and start taking it.

Give it a trial for a week or two and just see how much better you feel. See how quickly your sluggish bowels will become as regular as clock work, how your coated tongue clears up and your good, old-time appetite returns. See how splendidly your food will digest and how your energy, "pep" and "ginger" revive. Just try it.

You take no risk whatever for Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is only 25c a box, enough to last twenty-five days, and it must help and benefit you to your entire satisfaction, or money returned.

Five million boxes are used every year,—one million NR Tablets are taken by ailing people every day—that's the best proof of its merits. Nature's Remedy is the best and safest thing you can take for biliousness, constipation, indigestion and similar complaints. It is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

CLANTON, - ALABAMA.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

Last Sunday was a splendid day for this church. A record day for the Sunday School with 150 or more in attendance and over $21.00 collection for missions. The program rendered by the children under the direction of Miss Williams was splendid, considering the short time they had for practice. The church was well filled. Mrs. Plier's class lead in the number in attendance. The adult mens Bibe class and the Barracca class taught by Mrs. Renfroe Mullins tied in collections.. Three other classes tied in attendance of fourteen each. Next Sunday we begin a new system of records which helps the pupils to earn 100 per cent. The per centage consists of six points: Attendance, being on time, bringing their Bibles, offering, studied lesson and attending preaching service. All those getting these six points make 100 per cent. At the end of the year awards will be given to those getting 100 per cent or 75 per cent accordingly. The class that gets the highest percentage as a class will be awarded the banner each week, and at the end of the year a certificate will be given to the class earning the banner the highest number of Sundays in the year.. We will appreciate the cooperation of the parents and members in helping us to carry out this system of grading, by encouraging their children to take their Bibles, study their lessons, and attend the preaching service of the church.

A large congregation was present at the night service and the splendid attention of the people showed that the sermon was well received.

Another step forward was taken by the church after the morning service when it endorsed the action of the Trustees to secure money from the banks on the notes falling due July 1st to make it possigle to start at once the new building. As soon therefore as a contractor can be secured the building will begin. We hope not later than thirty days.

Next Sunday the services will be held as usual. At the night service the next set of pictures will be shown illustrating Christ with the twelve disciples. If the weather is fine we anticipate a fine audience. We are pleased to say that the work of the church is growing nicely in general interest with almost house full of people every Sunday night. We cordially invite you to all these services, and if you are baptist living in Clanton, urge you to be faithful to your covenant and place your membership and interest with us. With the new church building soon to be erected there is a bright future before the Clanton Baptists of which every member will have reason to be proud. Let us work for 200 in Sunday school and a full house at both of the preaching services. Come and worship with us and let us be of service to you.

ATTENTION FARMERS

The Clanton Chamber of Commerce is now making an honest effort to get the farmers to plant a certain number of acres in sweet potatoes this year instead of in cotton. By securing the cooperation of a number of farmers raising a large quanity of potatoes not individually but collectively we then market them in a cooperative way by the car load and assure the farmer of a good price for their potatoes that will far exceed any possible price for cotton this year. Cullman last year through the truckers Association shipped 100 cars of potatoes, and this by no means includes all that were raised or shipped. The farmers are making in that section from $250 to $300 per acre on potatoes alone. Through the truckers association these potatoes are marketed by its manager who keeps in touch with all the best markets east and north. The farmer gets the benifit of these prices the very highest paid, and only pays 6 per cent on his sale and 1 per cent at the bank for the handling of his account. The rest of the money goes to him. It is easy to see that a t a very fair average of $1.50 per bushel for cured potatoes the farmer can receive about $1.40 for the first grade potatoes that he raises, and a very fair price for the second grade potatoes he raises. The balance of his potatoes can be profitably fed to his hogs, cattle and stock. Now farmer you are looking for the dollar you can make this year. Why labor six long days in the week raising eight to ten cent cotton when you can make so much raising potatoes if you will do it right. The Clanton Chamber of Commerce is standing behind you and expects to ship through a Truckers Association or a similar organization that will be affected several carload of potatoes this year if you will raise them and grade them. Fifty acres of potatoes has already been assured us. One hundred farmers raising on an average of one acre of potatoes would make it possible for us to ship about 25 carloads of potatoes. This ought to be an easy matter to secure. If you are willing to raise one or more acres of potatoes this year, after reading this write to the secretary, P. G. Carter, Clanton Chamber of Commerce, Clanton, Ala. and let him know just how many acres we can depend upon you raising for the purpose of cooperative marketing when the proper time comes. Let us hear from you. Do it now; we'll assist you in securing the plants, and the Porto Rico kind are the best recommended.

Potatoe Meeting Saturday

The meeting held on Monday last was adjourned until Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. for the purpose of securing further cooperatin in the raising of a certain acreage of potatoes this year. We would like to see every farmer at that meeting on Saturday. This is to your personal interest. Come and bring some body with you.

JEFFERS THE LOGICAL OPPONENT OF LONGSHORE FOR CONGRESS

JEFFERS FOR CONGRESS

While The Anniston Star has been inclined to lend its support to the representative from Calhoun in the race for congress from the Fourth district to succeed the late Fred L. Blackmon, it was deemed the better part of wisdom to refrain from making a commitment until the lists were closed. The entrance limit was reached on last Thursday at midnight, with only Major Lamar Jeffers of Calhoun and Hon. Sterling P. McDonald of Talladega in the race. The Republicans have nominated Judge A. P. Longshore of Shelby to oppose the Democratic nominee, and it therefore becomes a duty for this paper, along with all good Democrats, to make a choice of the man to support against the Republican nominee.

The Anniston Star entertains a very high regard for Mr. McDonald. He is a man of fine character and of amiable disposition. He has the interests of the district at heart and would serve conscientiously if elected, in the opinion of this paper. However, The Star does not believe Mr. McDonald can overcome the strength that has adhered to Major Jeffers since his last campaign against Mr. Blackmon, and it is the opinion of this paper that all good Democrats should now get behind Jeffers and allow no grass to grow under our feet in our determination to roll up the biggest Democratic majority in the old Fourth this year that any candidate yet has been accorded. It will be a hard fight, but Jeffers is a man with whom we can win.

Major Jeffers comes of the very best stock the South has produced. His distinguished father gave the best years of his life to the cause of the Confederacy and to the reconstruction of the land that he loved. He came to this city with the early pioneers and was one of the foremost figures in the early days of Anniston. The fact that he died when Major Jeffers was but a lad made it necessary that the son fight his own battles in the struggle for an education and a place in the business life of the city. This he has done with credit to himself. For eight years he earned his living as an employe in one of the pipe plants here, thus giving him an intimate understanding of the problems that concern Anniston's foremost industry. He left this position to enter business for himself and was for some time engaged in the printing vocation. But Major Jeffers has never been content merely to live for himself. The public weal has always been close to his heart. Hence, he early dedicated his life to the service of his community. As a leading member of the Young Men's Business League, he is more responsible than any other one man for the building of the cement bridge between Anniston and Oxford, the one redeeming feature of that road today. As a member of the city council, he vigorously opposed the raise in telephone rates in Anniston, an injustice that was championed by some of the attorneys who are opposing him here today, because they were defeated in that fight. Following his retirement from the council, he offered as a candidate for the office of circuit clerk and was elected over two of the most popular men in the county. This was an unusual honor for one so young, and it offered a considerable financial reward; but Major Jeffers had previously joined the state militia and had been elected captain of his company, one of the best in the state, so when war with Germany was declared he waived all exemption as a married man or as a public servant and placed his life on the altar of his country. Entering the training camp on an equal footing with hundreds of other young men, he came out with a commission as first lieutenant, was soon promoted to the grade of captain and so conducted himself on the field of battle that he was given the Distinguished Service Cross and was promoted once more to the command of a battalion. As a soldier, he was not only brave but was considerate of his men, and in fighting for their comfort and protection he gained an experience that will serve him well when he goes to Washington to contest for the interests of the Fourth congressional district.

The point has been made that Major Jeffers is too young to send to congress, but let us see about that. Oscar W. Underwood, probably the most influential Democrat in congress today, was but 33 when he was first elected, and had been a failure as a lawyer until then. Fred Blackmon, Mr. Jeffers' predecessor, was but 36; Henry Cabot Lodge was 36; John C. Calhoun, 30; Henry Clay was appointed senator when but thirty and was elected to congress at 34, while Jabez Lamar Curry was only 32 when he first went to congress. Furthermore, this is a young man's day, and the enthusiasm, energy and aggressiveness that have characterized Major Jeffers in private life will be in his favor as a public servant.

It has been said also that he has not made a business success and is too hot-headed to send to congress. It is not to his discredit that he has not made money-making his chief goal in life, but rather to his honor that he chose to serve his country while some of his critics were taking advantage of the war to feather their nests; and as for the other charge, The Anniston Star believes that any man who maintained his mental aplomb under stress of the hell-fire of the Argonne, the Meuse or Chateau-Thierry may be relied upon for equanimity in any battle of words that may stir the halls of congress.

Indeed, whether we consider Major Jeffers in his civic work, in his work in secret orders or in his religious work, we must admit that he has invariably shown qualification for leadership; for he has always gone to the top in any body of men with which he has associated himself. He is a free thinker and cannot be controlled, and this may account for some of his opposition; but this is the sort of man we need in congress today, for in the next few years there will be a stupendous struggle to decide whether Republican party and the partisans of privilege or the free and untrammelled people shall control the destinies of this republic. Believing, therefore, that he is honest and unpledged; that he is a friend of the farmer as against the cotton gambler; that he will have an open mind in the conflicts between capital and labor; that he will stand for true Americanism and for the end of warfare, the untold suffering of which he has experienced, The Anniston Star has concluded that Major Jeffers is the man we should support for congress, and that his nomination will insure the defeat of A. P. Longshore, the Republican nominee.—Editorial from the Anniston Star, March 20th. 1921.

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD

The Editor of The Union-Banner takes pure and unadulterated pleasure in announcing to his friends that the editorial family is now brightened with the presence of a fine baby girl who made her arrival very successfully about eight o'clock Monday night, March 28th. Will Hodges, Hance Alred, Billy Holmes and John P[illegible]e have been strutting around t[illegible]n here of late, as if they were the only pebbles on the beach. But judging from the way yours truly felt as he paraded up and down the avenue Tuesday a.m., piloting a big nickel cigar, and reveling in the envious glances of the lesser lights, we imagine the aforementioned gentlemen promptly turned green with envy and faded into utter oblivion.

A GOOD LISTENER

It is satisfying to hear that Harding is a good listener. It has been obvious for a good while that this President of ours is not one of those cocksure persons ready at a moments notice to give a final opinion on everything and anything. The good listener usually gets a good deal more than the insistent talker. It is a good thing for this country that it is to have a President who listens and weighs.—San Francisco Chronicle.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

As a subsantiation of the argument that it pays to advertise, we cite the case of the New York Store of Clanton. That institution opened up in Clanton in October, 1919. They started out by adding plenty of printers ink to their determination for fair and square business, and that policy being pursued continuously has caused them to out-grow their old quarters. They are now engaged in remodeling and enlarging their store to take care of their ever-growing trade.

We are proud to be able to point to the fact that The Union-Banner has had a part in the growth and establishment of the New York Store. Our advertising space has been used by these people liberally, and their success assures us that our sobscribers have been taking advantage of the opportunities thus afforded them.

Mr. Lande says: "You can tell 'em it pays to advertise in The Union-Banner."

THE PUBLIC APPROVES

There will be hearty public approval of the policy adopted by the War and Navy forces to participate in a parade in which the flag of the so-called Irish Republic would be carried. There are many citizens of the United States, and other residents of the United States who are not citizens, who are in sympathy with the Irish Republic movement and who can very properly participate in a parade as a demonsration of their sentiments. Other people not in sympathy with that movement may just as properly, if they choose, participate in a parade with the opposite purpose in view. There may be doubt as to the good taste shown by the participants in either demonstration, but no one will question their right.

But an entirely different matter is presented when it is proposed that units of the American Military and Naval forces shall participate in such a parade in uniform. The movement for the establishment of the Irish Republic is a controversy involving a nation with which we are now at peace. For American soldiers and sailors to follow the flag of the Irish Republic in uniform would be an official act of discourtesy to Great Britain which no good citizen of the United States should ask his nation to commit.

Secretaries Weeks and Denby are to be commended for their good sense and their courage in refusing the demands of those who asked them to overrule the orders of their subordinates. President Harding has clearly stated the policy of the United States—that this Country will have no part in settling the controversies of the Old World.

TO THE VOTERS OF CHILTON CO.

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me space in your paper to call the attention of the voters of the county to the editorial of the Anniston Star, which is printed elsewhere in this issue of your paper, in support of Major Lamar Jeffers in his race for the Democratic nomination for Congress from this District.

I have knwn Mr. Harry Ayers, the editor of the Anniston Star and the writer of this editorial in support of Mr. Jeffers, for many years. He was a personal friend and former supprter of Mr. Blackmon. He is a Christian gentleman and a man of convictions. His editorial herewith reproduced from his paper expresses his sentiments and the sentiments of a large majority of the people of Calhoun County.

It is my hope that the voters of Chilton County will carefully read what Mr. Ayers says about Major Jeffers and his candidacy for Congress, as I believe a logical study of the situation from the viewpoint taken by Mr. Ayers will be convincing evidence of Mr. Jeffers' fitness to be the nominee of the Democratic party to represent the Fourth District of Alabama in the United States Congress. Respectfully,

J. L. JOHNSON,
Clanton, Ala., March 30, 1921.

GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS

The nation has not waited long for the keynote of the Harding administration. While the inaugural address of the new president was very properly couched in general terms, [illegible]re is obvious concentration of the ther[illegible]inistration, even at this early new admi[illegible]ils. We see now some date, upon deta[illegible]f counsel, of the thing of the utility o[illegible] the minds of Harding habit of taking [illegible] and the country into his confidence [illegible] of discussing with able and competent men the proposed methods for getting the nation back to the much desired "normalcy." Mr Harding consulted and advised with his fellow citizens for almost a year before he was called upon to take up his duties. It is fair to presume that the nation and its problems had a thorou discussion before Mr. Harding and his administrative assistants acquired the obligations of their respective offices.

It is not surprising that the entourage of the new administration, with their cheif, wasted no time once the formality of oath taking was over. Washington dispatches inform us that there was no confusion, no interruption of business; that each department head slipped quietly and easily into his official work, and that the great machinery of government did not even hesitate. Mr. Hoover's remark upon assuming office was significant of the attitude of the new administrative force. Immedately he had taken the oath of office he turned to his divisional cheifs and executive staff and said: "Well, lets get down to business." And that was the attitude of the new administration from the chief down through every member of the cabinet.

It is apparent that we are to have a cessation of impractical idealism and lip service and an increase in the volume of practical, constructive work from the new administration. The season of discussion, of tentative theory, of diagnosis, of argument as to remedies for the crippled body politic, has passed. The case has been diagnosed by experts, and the new public servants have agreed upon, and the new public servants have taken off their coats and gone to work in behalf of a cure. The attitude of the new officials has even impressed the Democracy. The whole country has absorbed confidence from these practical men, whatever the Republicans may say. The great organ of Democracy in the South, the Louisville Courier-Journal, admits its optimism for the future. Of President Harding it says:

May he meet the great responsibilities of his office, as evidently it is his sincere wish to meet them, in a way that shall promote the well being of the country and deserve the grateful commendation of the American people. For the country, looking to the next few months to indicate what manner of president he is to be, there is hope in his good intentions and his devotion to party government. There is plenty of ability and patriotism * * * in the Republican party to direct his administration wisely.

And this, in the large, is perhaps the attitude of the sound Democracy, as it surely is of patriotic Americans in all parties. And an administration that takes off its coat and "gets down to business" with the celerity and good faith of the Harding regime is deserving of it.—Seattle Post-Intel.

LONG GREEN CROP FOR SPRING OF '23

Washington, March 29—(Special correspondence)—Soldiers bonus legislation will doubtless come up again for attention when the special session of Congress meets. The plans presented call for an expenditure of at least a billion and a half and probably two gillions, represented by bonds which the public will be asked to buy. In considering the question we should remember one or two highly important facts. One is that on December 31, 1920, the new debt of the United States was $23,778,000,000. Another is that between now and spring of 1923 $7,560 000,000 of that debt falls due and must be paid.

ECONOMY THE CRY

The most recent issue of Treasury certificates, amounting to $400,000,000, has been largely oversubscribed. The banks are still loyally supporting the Government in its needs for short term loans. But the ease with which the money is forthcoming must not blind us to the necessity of wiping out the floating debt of two and a half billion dollars at the earliest possible moment. The call of economy sounded by Secretary of the Treasury Melon must be heeded if we are to emerge from the debt burden that is upon us. It is certain that Congress and the executive will cooperate to effect every possible saving, and and every citizen must do likewise.

FRIENDSHIP

Preaching Sunday and Sunday night were well attended. Rev. W. P. Lowery preached, and we can safely say that we have never heard a sermon that headed either of them. Bro. Lowery is not much of a flowery preacher, but he certainly lays it down straight. It would not be time lost if even some of the people of Clanton would go out and hear him some time. He will tell you something you probably never have heard before.

Sunday School was fine and enjoyed by a large attendance.

There will be Sunday School next Sunday at 10 o'clock and prayer service at night. We invite everybody to come who wants to do good, but if you just want to raise sand, we warningly advise you to go elsewhere.

Oh How Glorious to Be Free From Rheumatism's Tortures!

Just suppose you could be free from your deepseated, agonizing rheumatic aches and pains, your stiff joints and unsightly swellings! Wouldn't you give anything to get rid of them?

You have doubtless rubbed on outside treatments; most rheumatism sufferers have. Some of these take the edge off the terrible pains for a few hours, but they do not strike at the cause, which nearly always lies in the poisoned, impoverished blood.

When this is so, you need an internal remedy, one that will take out the impurities that are torturing you, one like famous S.S.S., which has relieved thousands of cases of rheumatism all over the country just this way.

CONTROL OF MUSCLE SHOALS

Editor Birmingham News:

If you allow me a little space in your valuable paper I would like very much to express myself in regard to the Muscle Shoals project.

I think if ever there was a time when we should all speak out and use every bit of the influence we have both as individuals and as organizations now is the time. Secretary Weeks has let it be known that he favors the operation of same after completion by some great corporation that will guarantee the government a reasonable return on its investment.

I too think that the government should have a reasonable return on its investment, but I am opposed to this great plant being under corporate control and I fear the excessive charges for products of this plant will render it absolutely of no benefit to the farmers of the South, the ones who it was designed to help.

It is reasonable to suppose that the corporation that takes over this plant for operation, like all other corporations employed in the manufacture of commercial fertilizer will immediately become affiliated with all the combinations and trusts that already govern the commercial fertilizer industry. On the other hand, if the government will complete operation of said plant, plus a reasonable profit, a profit that will insure the government of a return of the initial investment in 30 years, and guarantee the government 5 per cent annually on its investment. Even on this plan it would mean untold benifits to the farmer. The average farmer doesn't seem to realize what benifit he will derive from it. If he did he would be clamoring for it, and would get among his neighbors, form some kind of an organization, write his congressmen and senators and use everymeans at his disposal to get the government plant completed. It will mean as much to the farmer as all the appropriations that the government will make in the next hundred years and then some.

If the farmer realized that with the use of the products of this great plant which will only cost them a nominal sum, that in place of one-half of a bale of cotton to the acre it will enable him to raise two bales and a half on the same ground with the same labor, that instead of 10 bushels of corn to the acre he can raise from 50 to 100 bushels on the same amount of land with less labor, and instead of eight bushels of wheat he can make on the same land 40 bushels of wheat with the same cost of production.

Then why dont you get busy Mr. Farmer, this is the only project in existence that was designed to help you, and it should have the co-operation from the one-horse tenant farmer to the largest farm owner in the South, each will get his proportionate share of the benefits.

Write your congressman and senator and your farm organization today and tell them to get busy and strike while the iron is hot for the completion of this great plant.

The same applies to all civic organizations, business men's clubs, chambers of commerce and to all organizations to promote industry, agriculture and commerce. Get on record to day as favoring the completion of this great plant. Don't let the fertilizer trust kill this project. Lets show this country that honest farmers are in the majority and that they stand for the things that mark progress and will be of inestimable benefits to this and all future generations.

DIVERSIFICATION PAYS

A study of the average value of farm crops in Alabama shows that a number of crops are more profitable than cotton, especially when we take into consideration the amount f work and fertilizer used in producing and harvesting the several crops.

The averages of some of the crops per acre are as follows, as shown by the Department of Agriculture for the 1920 crop:

Cotton,	$21.40
Corn alone,	15.00
Hay,	19.95
Cow peas,	18.05
Soy beans,	25.00
Corn and velvet beans,	26.35
Oats alone,	18.40

The above averages show the folly of trying to grow cotton to buy any of the above crops that can be used on the farm.

Now is the time to plan for plenty of hay crops as well as for other feed crops and to get a good supply of seed for planting after all small grain that is not to be used for pasturage during the summer. It is not too late to put in some Lespedeza to be grazed yet. Let's make all the hay and feed we can this year.

CLANTON ENTERS "CLEANEST TOWN CONTEST" TO WIN

Clanton has entered the "Cleanest Town in Alabama" contest, and entered to win. This campaign is to be conducted by the Alabama Federation of Womens Clubs. Members of the State Board of Health will be the judges. Mrs. J. P. Hayes has been appointed general chairman of the Clanton campaign, and at a very enthusiastic meeting at her home on Tuesday the slogan, "Clean up, paint up, plant up, and keep it up," was chosen. Other ladies of the town, members of the federated clubs, are actively engaged in pushing the campaign, and all citizens are being urged to co-operate with earnest enthusiasm and real work in order that the campaign may be made a success.

Dr. V. J. Gragg, Mayor of Clanton, is highly interested in the efforts of the ladies to put Clanton ahead in the state contest. He has accordingly issued the following proclamation relative to the campaign:

"A wise custom having been established in this state of taking extraordinary precaution to prevent disease, and to promote and inoculate wholesome ideas relative to sanitary conditions through the setting aside of a certain period during which all citizens are expected to devote special attention to the removal and destruction of waste materials, dirt and filth so that breeding places for flies and disease germs may be destroyed, now, therefore, I V. J. Gragg, Mayor of Clanton, in order to encourage and promote a better observance of such a worthy effort, do hereby designate and set aside the week beginning April 11th for the opening of the "clean up, paint up, plant up, and keep it up' campaign. In this worthy movement we urge each citizen to do his or her part to make of Clanton a clean healthy, thrifty, safe, and beautiful place of residence."

If the streets are clean, the lawns well clipped, flowers in the yard, the air sweet, the water clean, one does not require wealth, taste or culture to enjoy that. Consciously or unconsciously every person gets some sort of pleasure from a town of that sort. It makes people want to stay, and when people want to live in a town they find ways to do so.

View the houses in our town and see which one you would like to live in. If yours is not as attractive, make it so.

Abraham Lincoln said "I like to see a man proud of the place he lives in." So do your neighbors. Are your chickens etc., a menace to your neighbors?

BOY ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Ernest Arant, young son of Mr. M. B. Arant, was at the Clanton Infirmary Tuesday morning for treatment of a gun shot wound in the right foot. Ernest stated to the Union-Banner that he was at Mr. Jones's where he and some other boys were preparing to shoot some pigeons. As he was holding the gun till the other boys got ready, it accidentally discharged in some way unknown to him. The load went through his foot between his first and second toes.

FOR CONGRESSMAN

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Congressman from the Fourth Congressional District of Alabama, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary to be held on April 12, 1921.

S. P. McDONALD.

THE ISSUES AND THE MAN

In every race for political preferment there are developed various political and economic issues on which the voter is asked to pass in making his choice for a candidate. These issues are present; they are familiar to all thinking people; they have been masticated by the public opinion; and there is but little doubt what attitude the candidate is going to take when he confronts them in office. Popular sentiment has crystalized them into concrete form, and there is but little likelihood of any candidates misconceiving the will of his constituents regarding them. The choice of candidate is immaterial so far as these known problems are concerned.

But what of the countless new and complicated propositions which must come up after the race is over? Here the voter is not in a position to dictate his sentiment. He cannot be absolutely sure that his representative even understands it Futhermore these problems often arise so suddenly and must be disposed of so quickly that the voter has neither time nor opportunity to furnish the solution. The representative must act in these cases on his own initiative. He must use his own judgment, and discretion. And, since problems existing during a period of candidacy are insignificant besides untold issues which must arise during a term of office, it is when the office holder faces these new problems that his ability as a capable public servant becomes manifest.

The question of selecting a representative, therefore, cannot be based primarily upon what he will do concerning problems which face us now and which we know—we can be relatively sure as regards them—but how will he serve us when we must rely solely upon his own discretion in interpretating our needs and supplying our necessities.

There is therefore but one way to judge the candidate—by his past record of achievement. As he has met and solved problems in his business life, just so will he handle the public business in the future. If he has shown ability to cope with various exigencies as they have arisen and emerged a successful man, it is but logical to suppose he will handle those which confront him as a public sevant in a similiar fashion. Neither he nor any man living knows what will arise. But if he has shown ability in the past, if he is intelligent, resourceful, broadminded and progressive, if he is honest and successful,the voter may have no qualms as to his ability to take care of his constituents.

Such facts should be kept in mind in considering the candidacy of S. P. McDonald for Congress. His past record of enviable achievement, his financial success, his value as a citizen, his proven ability to handle civic and business problems quickly and sucessfully, and his clear business judgement combine to make him a candidate in every way fitted to meet and cope with every issue which may confront him in congress to the best interest of his district and of his country.—Sylacauga News.

Dear Comrades:-

Hon. Sterling P. McDonald of Sylacauga is a candidate for congress from this District, subject to the action of the April Democratic Primary. A vast majority of the ex-service men of the District do not know Mr. Mc Donald personally and it is from this view point that I am writing you in his behalf.

I have no word of disparagement for his opponent, Major Jeffers, whom I have personally known for as long a time as I have known Mr. McDonald About twenty years—but, aside from being my close personal friend, I know that Mr. McDonald is a shrewd and highly efficient business man, with all those qualifications which are essential to the proper representatiion of the interests of the District.

Mr. McDonald is a veteran of the war with Spain and has the best interest of all ex service men at heart. He is liberal in his views on those subjects which are of greatest impor tance to the country at this time.

Using the vernacular of the old West, when he goes after anything, he, "Rides hard and shoots straight."

It gives me pleasure to urge your support for Mr. McDonald and I know that you can't go wrong in doing so.

Yours very truly,

LORENZO D. COKER,

FENN JONES GETS A PRESENT.

When Mr. C. Fenn Jones returned to the hardware store from dinner last Saturday he chanced to walk around to the little house back of the store where he keeps his truck and he noticed therein in addition to his truck, a brand new Ford Coupe. His suspicion was aroused and upon closer investigation he found attached to the door of the coupe a card bearing this inscription: "Ride and enjoy yourself, for to-morrow you may die," and signed Buck, Green and Higgins. Mr. Jones in an exultation of joy and pride, called the editor of the Union Banner and showed us what he had found. His big old bachelor heart was overflowing with pride and joy, and we could almost see tears come into his tender eyes as he expressed fatherly pride in the kind remembrance which the boys had shown him. Buck and Green and Mr. Guy Higgins wanted Mr. Jones to relax from his labors and take some enjoyment in life, and thought that he ought to have a car with which to spend his few idle hours. We noticed Sunday that Mr. Jones was taking full advantage of the gift he had received. He and his lady friend were out to ride, and joy was upon their faces in full bloom. Bright and early Monday morning he left town headed for the river to spend the day fishing.

Quit Laxatives, Purges; Try NR

NR Tonight — Tomorrow Feel Right

It is a mistake to continually dose yourself with so-called laxative pills, calomel, oil, purges and cathartics and force bowel action. It weakens the bowels and liver and makes constant dosing necessary.

Why don't you begin right today to overcome your constipation and get your system in such shape that daily purging will be unnecessary? You can do so if you get a 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one each night for a week or so. NR Tablets do much more than merely cause pleasant easy bowel action. This medicine acts upon the digestive as well as elimminative organs —promotes good digestion, causes the body to get the nourishment from all the food you eat, gives you a good, hearty appetite, strengthens the liver, overcomes biliousness, regulates kidney and bowel action and gives the whole body a thorough cleaning out. This accomplished you will not have to take medicine every day. An occasional NR tablet will keep your body in condition and you can always feel your best.

Try Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and prove this. It is the best bowel medicine that you can use and costs only 25c per box, containing enough to last twenty-five days. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

East Nashville, Tenn.— The efficiency of Thedford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver.

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr Parsons describes —valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Thedford's Black-Draught liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Thedford's. E 68

To the Voters of the 4th Congressional District

In a very few days now you will be called upon to vote for a man who will be your representative in Congress. He with his colleagues, will have in charge the biggest business in the world: that of the United States government. This is your business and it must be transacted according to the laws made by Congress.

This being true, you want a man to represent you who is a business man. You want one who has already been tried in all points of ability and found efficient and faithful, and not a novice who has never been tried and whose ability is problematical.

If you agree in the above statements then you come unavoidably to the conclusion that, of the two candidates, Mr. S. P. McDonald is the man.

Among the important business questions that we know now will come before the next Congress is the agricultural question. The two features of most vital importance are Credit at a low rate of interest and fair and open markets for all farm products and manipulations and holdups by speculators and middlemen. The farming business can not exist unless the credit and market conditions are remedied soon. Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas says, "There is not a living market for farm products in thte United States today—the fall in prices of farm products the past year means a loss to the farmers of more than six billion dollars." Lack of credit is sending breeding animals to market in trainloads, is throwing thousands of acres of fertile land out of cultivation and forcing a depression that borders on a panic.

The War Finance Corporation ought to operate at once. There is no other way to market the 12,000,000 bales of cotton of the last crop and our other great surpluses. Congress should see to it at once that the farmer is afforded equitable credit accommodations, and there is no reason why a solvent farmer should not have credits as cheaply as any other business man.

The nation's greatest industry is agriculture. Therefore the prosperity of the nation depends upon the prosperity of the farmer. Make it possible for the farmer to succeed and all other industries will succeed. This being the case, the government's first consideration should be its agricultural interests. The Federal Farm Bank Act has been declared constitutional. Mr. McDonald favors now the cutting away of all red tape so that money can be made available for the farmer, on long terms, at the lowest possible rate of interest, and at the earliest moment.

He also favors better transportation and marketing facilities for farm products. A year's crop is gathered in a few months, but it requires a year in which to consume it. Foreign markets for farm products should be studied and made available. The world is starving and shivering today while we have surplus of grain and cotton which can be sold only at ruinously low prices.

Another important question which will come up for settlement in the next congress is the industrial situation that confronts the nation.

If our mining, manufacturing and transportation industries are disturbed or idle, business stagnates, prices go down, working men are thrown out of employment, public confidence is lost, values shrink, differences arise between men and women become dissatisfied and restless and the whole country suffers. To avoid these conditions we must have competent men in congress, men who have foresight and ability to see and apply the remedy.

The solution of most of the problems that are inseparably bound up with the life of the nation rests with congress. The expense of all this must be paid, and congress has to work out the plan by which it will be done. Mr. McDonald favors a schedule called a budget, for safeguarding the expenses of the government. It is estimated that between four and five billion dollars will be spent by the government this year. Whatever it spends must first be collected from the voters in the form of taxes. If the government spends more in any one year than it has collected, it simply collects more from the voters next year. This is easy for congress but mighty hard on the voter and tax payer.

The budget system, favored by Mr. McDonald, through which the government fits its expenditures to its income, is simply a good business plan to finance the interests of the nation without loss or leakage, and at the same time meet adequately and promptly all the demands of the people.

Perhaps the most important question that confronts the American people today, one that is engrossing the attention and inerest, one that is enlisting the active co-operation and support of all aspiring progressive people, is the educational question. Mr. McDonald favors better educational facilities for all people. And whenever and wherever any question looking to the better equipment for life of the children of Alabama comes up he will give it such support as will guarantee the greatest opportunities and the best facilities.

The above and other questions of importance will be coming up in our next congress, and it is of most vital importance that we have there as our representative a man who can accomplish the will of the people and meet their needs.

In S. P. McDonald you have a candidate who has done things in private life and will know how to do them in public life. Having worked for twenty-one years with the people of his district and achieved success in every undertaking, he is thoroughly familiar with their needs and will be capable and competent to cope with the situation which will arise in congress. eH is a man whose method of campaigning is too clean and statesmanlike to seek your vote by stooping to ridicule the personal appearance of an opponent or or his supporters, or by seeking to prejudice you by references to a railroad which doesn't even pass through the town where McDonald lives and to another business interest which is a rival to a similar business with which Mr. McDonald is connected. Mr. McDonald will represent the needs of the Fourth District in congress as honestly, faithfully and capably as he has served his family, his business, his community and his state. He will know how to handle your problems in congress, and will be the servant of all the people of the Fourth District. He is a Democrat, a gentleman, and a business man of experience, and will represent you most creditably in congress. He will appreciate your vote on April 12th.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

Protestant Ministers Rebuke Jeffers

CRUDE ATTEMPT TO SLANDER HIS OPPONENT SHOWS THE CALIBRE OF THE MAN

Read This:

The following is a quotation from an advertisement by Mr. Jeffers, which appeared in the Anniston Star, Sunday, April 3:

"So that completes the line-up backing McDonald. We have already seen that certain interests are backing him, and now we have it complete—Ring Politicians, Railroad Lawyers and Roman Catholics."

Sylacauga, Alabama, April 4th, 1921.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE FOURTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT:

We, the undersigned ministers of all the Protestant churches of Sylacauga have read in the Sunday's issue of the Anniston Star the political advertisement of Mr. Lamar Jeffers, in which he attempts to connect Mr. S. P. McDonald as supporting the Catholics against the Protestants. We can see no purpose in such an untrue and unfair statement except a deliberate attempt on the part of Mr. Jeffers to deceive the voters of this District by playing upon the prejudice of those who are not informed with such a ridiculous insinuation.

Mr. McDonald is not only a MASON and a SHRINER but is a STEWARD of thte FIRST METHODIST CHURCH of Sylacauga. He is a true CHRISTIAN GENTLEMAN, a man of ABILITY, and is no more in sympathy with the Catholic cause than one of us. We do not relish entering into political affairs, but when a candidate for Congress makes such a false charge aginst an official and ACTIVE MEMBER of a PROTESTANT CHURCH we feel that it is our Christian duty to refute it.

Very Respectfully,

REV. U. G. LACEY,
Pastor First Presbyterian Church, Sylacauga, Ala.

REV. T. M. FLEMING,
Pastor First Baptist Church, Sylacauga, Ala.

REV. F. L. ALDRIDGE,
Pastor First M. E. Church, Sylacauga, Ala.

R. W. ANDERSON,
Presiding Elder, Sylacauga District.

S. P. McDonald has conducted a clean campaign, free of mud-slinging and worthy of a candidate capable of representing the Fourth District in Congress. He has been before the voters and told them just where he stands, and given the reasons why he believes he is better fitted to represent you in Congress. Not once has he referred to Mr. Jeffers in his advertisements or literature. Repeatedly, however, has his opponent sought to mislead the voters by making statements which are not only untrue, but slanderous. His latest attempt at petty politics is to fasten upon S. P. McDonald the charge that he is being backed by the Catholics and is in sympathy with their cause. Such tactics should be enough to change the vote of every thinking man in the District. Any man who would attempt to ride into office by playing upon the prejudices of the voter through misleading and untrue charges is certainly not capable of representing the whole people in Congress. Mr. Jeffers' crude attempt to say that Mr. McDonald is the tool of corporation lawyers, ring politicians and Catholics, simply shows the calibre of the man and the desperateness of his position. If you believe the Ministers of the Gospel you will readily say that his last charge is false. As to being the tool of any other interest, such a charge is equally false. It is no discredit to Mr. McDonald that twenty-five of the twenty-nine lawyers in Calhoun county are supporting him. These lawyers evidently came to the conclusion during the time Mr. Jeffers was acting as circuit court clerk that he is not capable of holding a place of great responsibility.

His pose as the friend of the farmer is ridiculous. Born and reared in a city, it is doubtful if he knows the first principles of farming. The people of the Fourth District want to know the abilities of the man who is seeking the office. Instead of criticising and mud-slinging, let him come before the people and tell them what he has done that qualifies him as their representative.

WE DENY THE CHARGE

We learn that the young tinhorn lawyer who spoke for McDonald at the court house in Clanton Tuesday made the charge that the Editor of The Union-Banner, and other Republicans in Chilton County are supporting the candidacy of Mr. Jeffers—which charge he and everybody else knows is not true. Anybody with a grain of sense and an ounce of fairness knows and will readily concede that such an argument is the height of fallacy.

But we have not heard of this young Moses leading his hearers into the light of the past political history of McDonald's campaign manager in Chilton County. If this young fellow had desired to present his side of the case fully—to have told the whole truth and nothing but the truth—he might have enlightened his hearers by telling them that the man who is managing McDonald's campaign in Chilton county (another lawyer, mind you) once ran for Probate Judge of Chilton County on the Republican ticket. And further, that because the Republicans turned him down he chose to join the Democratic party, where the pastures appeared more succulent, and the supply of milk and honey was made more promising.

We want to warn our Democratic friends right now that they had better quit worrying as to whether the Republicans are for McDonald or for Jeffers. They will find out on June the 7th that the Republicans are not for Jeffers nor McDonald, but for Longshore; and there are going to be enough of them for him to send him to Congress. The Democrats seem to take it as damnation now for a Republican to be for one of their candidates, but bless your sweet life, when the Democratic primary is over and Longshore gets in behind them with his heavy artillery, they will be glad to find Republicans who would say they are for McDonald or Jeffers as the case might be.

The real fight is going to get started in dead earnest when the Republicans set in motion the machinery that is going to extract the Congressional seat from the anatomy of the Democratic party in this District on the 7th of June.

LONGSHORE HOPEFUL.

Judge A. T. Longshore, of Shelby County, Republican candidate for Congress in this District, was in Clanton Monday attending Circuit Court. He visited the Union-Banner office and talked over the Congressional situation at length.

"The chances for my election," said he,"are the best we have ever had before. There is a good chance for the Republicans to beat either of the Democratic candidates. As soon as the Democratic primary is over, I shall issue a challenge to the nominee to go with me over the district in joint debate. You can tell the voters of Chilton County that I am going to make the fight of my life to win this district for the Republicans. I appreciate the majority this county gave me last November, and I believe it will be bigger this time than ever before."

We were glad to see the Judge so hopeful of his chance. We predict that Chilton County will, as he said, give him a bigger majority than ever before.

SEVENTH GRADE EXAM., FOR CHILTON COUNTY

County Superintendent of Education Howard L. Foshee announces that the Chilton County Seventh Grade Examinations will be held on April 15th and 16th. He has the questions already prepared and arrangements made for holding the examination. This plan of Examination is the connecting link between the county rural schools ad the County high school. All pupils who are this year completing their seventh grade in rural schools have the privilege of taking these examinations, which if passed successfully will entitle them to entry in the county high school at the beginning of the next session.

Jeffers Reveals Deceptions Practiced by His Opponents

Quotes the Smith-Towner Bill Itself to Show Its Meaning. Measure Unanimously Indorsed by the Alabama Educational Association and the Masonic Orders, but is Opposed by McDonald and the Knights of Columbus.

In an advertisement appearing in the Anniston Star of Friday, April 1, published in behalf of the candidacy of S. P. McDonald, by the McDonald Campaign Committee, there appeared a paragraph concerning an educational bill now pending in Congress. In the paragraph this statement is printed:

"The Federal Government never appropriates money except where it is spent under its direct supervision. This will mean that if the state of Alabama receives its pro rata share of the funds, our schools will be under the supervision of the Federal government, and the Federal Government knows no color line."

That insidious suggestion is a crude attempt on the part of the publisher of that advertisement to try to prejudice the minds of the people against the measure. They simply make that statement, leaving that sneaking hint, and do not make clear to the people what they are talking about at all. That has been their style all along,—they are not dealing frankly with the people—they are not bringing out their candidate that he may discuss things freely with the people. If the man who wrote that advertisement read the bill in question before he wrote the advertisement then he knew when he wrote it that he was publishing incorrect information. Their desperation is shown by the tactics to which they are resorting.

Perhaps they thought I would not know what they were talking about. But I do know, and I will give the people the exact information. The bill in question is the Smith-Towner educational bill. It provides for government assistance to our school facilities, especially our rural school facilities, and provides that it shall be strictly under State supervision and control. Here is the extract from the bill itself, taking care of our state's rights in language that cannot be misunderstood:

"Section 13. In any state accepting the provisions of this act, the state treasurer shall be designated and appointed as custodian of all funds received by said state as apportionments under thte provisions of this act, to receive and provide for the proper custody and disbursement of the same, such disbursements to be made in accordance with the legal provisions of said state, on warrants duly drawn by the state's chief educational authority designated to represent said state in the administration of this act.

"Section 14. Provided, that courses of study, plans, and methods for carrying out the purposes and provisions of this act within a state shall be determined by the state and local educational authorities of said state, and this act shall not be construed to require uniformity of courses of study, plans, and methods in the several states in order to secure the benefits herein provided; and provided further, that all the educational facilities encouraged by the provisions of this act and accepted by a state shall be organized, supervised and administered exclusively by the legally constituted state and local educational authorities of said state, and the secretary of education shall exercise no authority in relation thereto except as herein provided to insure that all funds apportioned to said state shall be used for the purposes for which they are appropriated by Congress."

The rights of the state and local authorities to regulate the plans and methods, etc, are clearly protected. So it can be plainly seen that the malicious suggestion that this bill would mean the mixing of the races in the schools is simply a bit of old-time political demagogy of the lowest type. Stooping to an attempt like that to try to play on the feelings of the people is insult to the intelligence of the people of this good county and the district. I am straight Southern blood and stand absolutely and clearly for white supremacy, and for states rights.

Alignment On the Bill

Since they have brought it up, let us now go a bit further and see what people have gone on record as favoring the measure, and also those on record as being against it:

The bill has the emphatic endorsement of educators all over the United States. The Alabama Educational Association in session at Montgomery recently endorsed it unanimously.

VOTE FOR JEFFERS
For Congress.

This Association is composed of every WHITE educator and school teacher in Alabama. (Would they be for mixing the races in the schools. Of course they would not.)

The St. Petersburg Shriners' Association, of St. Petersburg, Florida, on January 14th, 1921, wrote as follows:

"Senator Hoke Smith,
"Washington, D. C.

"Dear Senator: The St. Petersburg Shriners' Association, Composed of Shriners' respesenting 88 temples, from 88 cities throughout the United States, unanimously endorse the passage of the Smith-Towner bill. These 88 temples have a membership of over 1,000,000 of the best men in the United States, and their winter representative in St. Petersburg have just gone on record as above stated.

"Yours truly,
"H. L. ERMATINGER, President."

Would the Shriners want negroes and whites in the same school. Of course they would not. But they are for the betterment of our rural school facilities, and so am I.

Favored By the Masons

An editorial from the Scottish Rite Bulletin from the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Free Masonry, Southern Jurisdiction of the United States, Orient of South Dakota, Aberdeen, South Dakota, says:

"Since the 19th of May, 1919, there has been sleeping on the calendars of Congress a bill to Create a Department of Education with a cabinet officer at its head designed to give Federal aid to the educational activities of our country. (The editorial goes on at some length to set out the advantages in the bill, and one of the paragraphs is this:

"It requires that all educational activities receiving any of the money provided in this bill, shall be under the direction of the state authorities, and that the public state schools are to be the exclusive agencies through which these authorities are to work—a boost, in fact, for the American schools of our country. The Smith-Towner bill is designed to accelerate the acomplishment of this much desired end and no Un-American protestations should be permitted to bluff the membership in Congress into allowing it to die in the hands of the committees.". (The Un-American protestations might bluff some Congressmen, but they won't bulff Jeffers, as he has already gone on record for good and all as being "for American principles, American institutions, and for the separation of Church and State.")

Now, who is against the bill? We shall see:

From the Congressional Record this extract is quoted:

"Mr. Gronna: I present a memorial from the Knights of Columbus, of Minot, N. D., protesting against the enactment of the so called Smith-Towner Bill, and ask that it be referred to the Committee on Education and Labor.'"

So the Knights of Columbus are against it! That only makes me think more of the bill. They are against all our American public schools. They want us to live and die in ignorance. Evidently, the supporters of Mr. McDonald think the people of this country and district are ignorant fools now, when they come out with such propaganda as this in their advertisement of Friday, April 1st.

Opposed by Catholics

Again from the Congressional Record:

"Resolutions of the General Board of l'Union St. Jean-Baptiste d'Amerique protesting against the passage of the Smith-Towner bill: (This is a long resolution from a Catholic organization in Woonsocket, R.I., and says in part): We deny that the knowledge of spelling and writing is essential to good citizenship; in this connection we unhesitatingly invite an investigation of the literary attainments of those of our citizens who died during the late war on the battle fields of Europe." Resolution signed by Elie Vezina, Gen. Sec'y.

Now, where does the writer of McDonald's advertisement stand. Does he stand on the same side of the WHITE school teachers and Educators, with the women of the land who are looking to better educational facilities for our children, especially rural school facilities, with the Scottish Rite Masons, with the Shriners of the country, or does he stand with the Knights of Coulmbus, and the l'Union St. Jean-Baptiste d'Amerique of Woonsocket, R. I., I do not say, of course, that McDonald is a Catholic, because I know that he belongs to a Protestant Church, but the Catholics of this District are working now for him, since they know that Jeffers would be for this education bill which provides for better school facilities, strictly under state supervision and control.

So that completes the line-up backing McDonald. We have already seen that certain interests are backing him, and now we have it complete Ring Politicians, Railroad Lawyers and Roman Catholics. Voters, men and women, are you with that line-up.

The people are asking "Why does S. P. McDonald not come on the platform and tell us, man to man, where he stands. Is he afraid? Is he against the Smith-Towner bill, and on the same side of that question as the Knights of Columbus? If so, why does he not come before us and tell us about it? We are tired of getting "notices" from the Sylacauga bank; let him show up or shut up!"

(Paid Political adv. by Lamar Jeffers, Anniston, candidate for Congress, subject to action of Democratic primary, Tuesday April 12th, 1921. Don't forget the date, and please dont fail to vote.)

JEFFERS FRANK WITH THE VOTERS: HIS CANDOR IS WINNING A REWARD

The Anniston Star has observed during the last week a very noticeable turning in the political tide in favor of Major Lamar Jeffers, the Calhoun candidate in the race for congress. Major Jeffers has been frank with the voters in the expression of his views on every issue that is before the people, and this frankness is winning its just reward.

For a time some of the people here were victimized by the camouflage of Major Jeffers' opponents, who undertook to place him on the defensive by labeling him as a labor candidate. The Anniston man very cleverly refuted this charge, however, and in counter attack showed that the Talladega candidate is the one who will be under obligation to a special interest in the event of his election, with the result that the friends of McDonald are now attempting to explain away the railroad and other corporate interests behind his candidacy.

The latest attack on the Calhoun county candidate results from his championship of the Smith-Towner bill, which proposes federal aid for public education. It is claimed that this measure would tend toward the breaking down of the color line in the South, a charge that is absurd on its face; for the State University, Auburn and the agricultural schools of the state have been receiving federal aid for many years, and their control is still vested in the State Board of Education.

The stock argument against Major Jeffers, however, is that he is a poor man, his business experience having not been as profitable as that of the Talladega banker. But happily the people of the United States do not select their public servants merely because of the money they have been able to accumulate. In the last presidential election there were several millionaires in the race, but the people chose a small town newspaper man for the highest honor within their giving, and in referring to his office recently President Harding said:

"A man is not elevated to the presidency for what he has done. No man may hope actually to earn that high reward. He is elected by the faith the people have in what he can do. To justify this faith he must consecrate the four years of his administration to unswerving, devoted, conscientious, patriotic service. . . Complete self-effacement seems to me almost the first requisite."

Who understands better than a veteran of the World War, a man who placed his life on the altar of his country, this ideal of self-effacement? Who is in better position to consecrate himself in "devoted, conscientious, patriotic service?" Certainly Major Jeffers understands what this means, and by the frank manner in which he is taking his fight direct to the people speaking to them face to face on the issues and giving them a chance to speak back, he is building daily for himself a faith in what he can do for himself faith in what he can do for the people of the Fourth Congressional District.

In like manner, the McDonald cause is suffering because of his sphinx-like silence. He has not accepted the Major's challenge for a joint discussion of the issues, and the people are loath to elevate one who speaks to them only by proxy. They like to see the man for whom they are to vote and to hear the ring sincerity in his voice; for vicarious promises do not commit a candidate for suffrage as strongly as the words that issue from his own mouth.

Thus, because he is far removed from any suggestion of "invisible government," because he is relying more upon his own energy and intellect than upon political combies to get him votes, Major Jeffers is assured as the Democratic nominee,—the man with whom we can win in the race against the Republicans; and it is particularly pleasing to The Anniston Star to note that his home people of every walk in life are coming from behind the smoke screen laid down by his opponents and solidifying behind their fellowtownsman. He will thereby become the representative of all the people, and no one faction will feel that they have a particular claim on his attention,—a predicament that is always embarassing and most unfortunate for any public servant.—Anniston Star.

NEWPORT MAN HAS GAINED 20 POUNDS

"I DONT BELIEVE I COULD FEEL ANY BETTER THAN I DO NOW," SAYS KELLEY

"I have gained twenty pounds by taking Tanlac and don't believe I Could feel any better than I do," said John T. Kelley, 485 East Tenth St., Newport, Ky.

"My troubles started about two years ago and kept increasing until it looked like everything was wrong with me. My stomach was all out of order and nearly everything I ate soured and caused gas to form. I lost my appetite and couldn't eat enough to keep up my strength. I lost twenty-two pounds and got so weak that it was risky for me to walk in the street alone.

"My nerves were shattered, I couldn't sleep to do any good and in the morning I felt so weak it was hard for me to get out of bed and dress. I was constipated all the time and had headaches and dizzy spells nearly every day.

"I was in Cleveland, Ohio, about three months ago, and a friend recommended Tanlac to me. Before I finished the first bottle my appetite had come back and my food was agreeing with me. From then on I picked up fast and to-day I'm in as good health as I was the best day of my life.

"I am no longer constipated and don't have headaches or dizzy spells any more. The nervousness has all gone and I sleep sound every night. I feel as well as I could ask and am able to go to work."

How a prospective mother prepared for baby's coming

Of all the vital adventures in life, the birth of a baby is the climax of nature's most wonderful evolution.

During this period, nature is supposed to be preparing the internal organism of a woman for a safe and speedy delivery; but it is more the exception than the rule when nature, unaided, performs her part at the crisis in a manner to relieve pain and contribute to comfort.

"I was afraid," writes a prospective mother, "until an experienced mother told me about MOTHER'S FRIEND,"

"—but now I cannot recommend MOTHER'S FRIEND too highly for I know it helped me wonderfully, and I can almost say my baby was born without pain. At the present time I am using it again, as I do not want to go thru the ordeal without it."

Three generations of prospective mothers have used MOTHER'S FRIEND. When gently applied, during the period of expectancy, it soothes the fine net-work of nerves, lubricates the broad, flat, abdominal muscles and prepares the way for an easier, quicker and practical delivery.

JEFFERS for CONGRESS

Don't Fail to Go to the Polls Next Tuesday April 12th, and Vote for Lamar Jeffers, As the Choice of the People of the District

Read What the Boys Say--- Read What a Mother Says--- Read What the "Old Man" Says---

Read Carefully What the American Doughboys Say:

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE 4TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT OF ALABAMA:

Having heard, thru one of our number, that Lamar Jeffers (more familiarly known to us as Capt. Jeffers) is making the race for Congress, to represent the Fourth Congressional District of Alabama, we offer for your consideration, our endorsement of him. We do this not only voluntarily, but gladly.

We appreciate the fact and are grateful to know, that he is not trying to inject his war record into the campaign as an appeal to the voters, nor appealing thru any organization of ex-service men. We do not submit this endorsement as members of any organization, but as citizens, who, while we were soldiers, served under his command, both in the camps on this side and while overseas.

We leave his war record to the official historians, but we want you to know that which is not recorded in any history, but is impressed indelibly upon our hearts. We know him not only as our captain, but as our friend. He gave us, as enlisted men, a square deal, treating us like white men and as American soldiers ought to be treated. We want you to know that, happy and jovial in disposition, he cheered us when we needed a word of encouragement and a smile; sympathetic in nature, he sympathized with the least of us when our spirits were low, and there was no man who would not go to him with his private troubles; patriotic and able, with a fighting spirit when aroused, he fought anywhere and anytime for what he thought was due and coming to the men under his command. In looking after the welfare of his company or the battalion, under trying conditions, he often went far beyond what duty actually required.

He is the natural champion of the little fellow, or the fellow who is not getting a square deal. Hating unfairness, he will try to see that justice is done. He will fight for principle against any odds, and he will fight for you, as your representative in Congress, the same as he stood up for us.

He is a man born to lead—not a follower. One thing the boys always said was that he would never ask you to go where he would not go himself.

We want you to know that Capt. Jeffers, later Major Jeffers, not only made good with his superiors, but he made good with us. And he will make good for you if you give him the opportunity.

With great interest we will await the result of the race, hoping for the nomination of Lamar Jeffers.

Respectfully submitted,

STATE OF ALABAMA,

I have this day checked the original signatures of the above named men and hereby certify that they agree with this published list.

WILLIAM Z. KIDD, Notary Public.

Consider the Statement of One of the Mothers Who Knew Him:

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Since women are allowed a voice in affairs of state, I would like to say a few words concerning Major Jeffers, as I understand he is in the race for Congress. I had the pleasure of meeting (then Captain) Major Jeffers at Camp Gordon when visiting my son there, and his manly bearing and courtesy to me, and to those around him, made a splendid impression on me, and after talking with my son and other boys in his Company, I found all of them held him in high esteem because of his uniform kindness to them in all of his relations to them.

I am sure if the other mothers of the boys under him at Camp Gordon and over-seas have the opportunity, they will unite with me in wishing to see this man of such splendid abilities have a seat in Congress, where his broad minded decisions and other noble qualities are so necessary in a representative of the people.

Major Jeffers is a man not afraid to do right at any cost and my confidence in him as a leader is beyond question.

Each mother of the boys under him should do all in their power to send him to Congress.

Respectfully,
(Signed) MRS. E. M. FULLER.

Some Have Said: "Jeffers is not strong and capable." Please Read This from One Who Has Seen His Strength of Leadership and Ability Proven Under the Test:

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Major Lamar Jeffers came to my command, the 326th Infantry, at Camp Gordon, Ga., on August 29th, 1917.

He had been selected for a Captaincy over several hundred competitors, and after an interview and careful consideration of his record, he was assigned to command "G" company, and as such, to be 2nd in command in the battalion. Equal care was exercised in the selection of the Captain in each Battalion to be 2nd in command in the Battalion as was exercised in the selection of the company commanders, the choice being based on:

1st; Natural aptitude for command,
2nd; Dignity and poise,
3rd; Training,
4th; Industry.

Frequently Captain Jeffers fell in command of the Battalion for short periods and I was thus able to confirm my opinions as to his complete fitness for promotion.

Shortly after the Regiment's arrival in France, the Major commanding the 2nd Battalion was detailed on special duty and Captain Jeffers fell into command. Almost immediately thereafter the Regiment was transferred to the American sector, making a 200 mile journey by rail, and without preliminary training, was sent into the front lines. The rapid change in the situation required executive and administrative ability of a high order on the part of the commanding officer of a Battalion of Infantry and all that goes with it, and I am pleased to state that the 2nd Battalion under Captain Jeffers was always in splendid shape and ready for any emergency. I was so entirely satisfied with Captain Jeffers' handling of many difficult and delicate situations of both combat and supply that I there and then recommended him for promotion to a majority. Later, in all the long and honorable combat experience of the Regiment in the St. Mihiel drive and in the Argonne-Meuse offensive, Captain Jeffers continued to show qualities of leadership and executive ability of a high order, and never once was I disappointed in the result of any task, no matter how difficult, entrusted to his care.

As to his personal gallantry and devotion to duty, I may safely leave that to the official records of the A. E. F., and to the history of the 82nd division.

To sum up then: I found Captain (later Major) Jeffers an able administrator; an admirable leader of men; a loyal subordinate; possessed of judgment, dignity and tact; and of unswerving and fearless devotion to duty. One thing more I will mention: he had the admirable quality of being able to command the respect and at the same time enjoy the loyalty and devotion of his men. His constant and unremitting care for the men in his command evolved a spirit of loyalty in his unit that was marked. The men were with him.

I take extreme pleasure in thus testifying to the good fortune that permitted me to include Captain Jeffers in my Regiment.

In the race he is now making for Congress, I wish to say that it is my opinion that the voters of his district will make no mistake in picking him as being a man of clean type and with capability and personality to represent the people in the National Congress.

JOHN C. MacARTHUR,
Colonel, Inf., U. S. A.

Lamar Jeffers, the "Choice of the People" Has Stated That:

(1) He opposes compulsory military service;
(2) He is for American principles and institutions and that he believes in the separation of church and state:
(3) He will represent the WHOLE PEOPLE, being always especially attentive to the interests of the farmers of the district; realizing that their prosperity means the prosperity of all;
(4) He is for the strictest possible immigration regulations;
(5) He would favor every possible economy and would bitterly oppose any further taxation;
(6) He would favor the abolishing of the excise tax on wearing apparel, etc., thereby relieving the business man, to whom these collections, and intricate system of reports and returns are burdensome, and also relieving the citizen against whom this tax is applied. The overhead expense of collecting these excise taxes is so heavy that the government doesn't get much profit out of it, anyway;
(7) He is for less freak laws and more practical legislation; and for more democracy and less autocracy;
(8) He would use his best efforts for all possible National aid to the good roads movement for rivers and harbors development; and for assistance for our rural school facilities, strictly, of course, under state supervision and control;
(9) He is a native son of this district, pure Southern blood, and stands as clean a champion of white supremacy as there is in all our Southland;
(10) HE WANTS YOUR SUPPORT AND WILL APPRECIATE IT.

Jeffers made the race last year for this same place. He came mighty near winning then. We was not the candidate then of the "ring" politicians and is not their candidate now. He is the candidate of the people. Since he made the race last year, spent the time and money, had the ambition then that he has now, made a clean campaign before the people, the sentiment of the people all over the district is that "Jeffers is the man this time." Jeffers will carry every county in the district unless it is Talladega county, and he is going to push the Sylacauga man mighty hard even in Talladega county.

Vote next Tuesday, April 12th, for Lamar Jeffers, your next Representative in Congress from the Fourth Congressional District. He wants your support and will appreciate it.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

We appreciated two large audiences last Sunday both morning and night. At the morning service the violin music and the vocal solo rendered by Mrs. Clint Jones and Miss Roberta Curry added much to the service. At the night service the singing was spirited and lovely, and greatly enjoyed by all. The Sunday School had an attendance of 131, accorded with over $7.00 in offering. The Sunbeams are doing fine work, frequently having as many as 25 present.

The servives will be held next Sunday as usual. At night we fully expect the next set of pictures on the Life of Christ, which have been delayed in transit, will be here for the service Sunday night.

If you are a Baptist living in the city we invite you to join with us and bring others with you. Come thou with us and we will do you good. We are at your service. Call on us.

P. G. CARTER, Pastor.

Mr. J. M. Grant informs us that his brother, Albert Grant of Ensley has completely recovered from his recent protracted illness, and was able to resume his position with the T. C. I. last Monday. Mr. Grant is an important factor in the organization of the Tennessee Company, holding the position of safety man for the Ensley operations. We are glad to learn of his complete recovery of health.

MAY FIFTH SUNDAY MEETING

The following churches are requested to take part: Chestnut Creek, Clanton, Corinth, Floyd, Marbury, Mt. Creek, Providence, Salem, Samaria, Verbena, White Pond, Collins Chapel, Thorsby, East View, Friendship, Liberty Hill, Highland, Maple Springs and Poplar Springs.

CARD OF THANKS

Mother, wife and children wish to extend thanks to our many friends for their sympathy and kindness in the sickness and death of our dear son, husband and father, B. E. Collum. E specially do we thank you all for the beautiful floral offering.

Signed, Sarah Collum, Mrs. B. E. Collum, G. M. Collum, Mrs. L. H. Bean, Mrs. J. W. Wilson, Mrs. P. F. Harris, Misses Ruby and Hazel Collum.

THE POTATO CROP

The farmers are now becoming more interested in raising potatoes than ever before. As the result of two meetings recently held some 63 acres have been definitely promised. It is safe to say that a good many more will raise potatoes who do not make it known at present. This will doubtless bring the amount up to at least 100 acres.

We are pleased to say that there are fine prospects of a potato curing plant in Clanton, which will be able to take care of such potatoes as cannot be marketed at the time of digging. By the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce of Clanton a co-operative system of shipping will be arranged to assure you good prices. The Porto Rico is the best brand and by all raising this brand we can better ship them in a co-operative way. Necessary information will be given later on to those who store and cure their own potatoes, that will be helpful.

JEFFERS WINS DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION FOR CONGRESSMAN IN FOURTH DISTRICT

McDONALD CONCEDES TO HIS OPPONENT BY MAJORITY OF 400 WEDNESDAY

Unofficial returns from the Democratic Primary election on Wednesay morning showed that Major Lamar Jeffers of Anniston had been nominated over S. P. McDonald of Sylacauga by a majority of 400. As additional returns were received during the day his majority was climbing, and it was very probable that the official count will give Jeffers a majority or over 500.

Major Jeffers has carried his home county by a majority of 1,383 votes with two or three small boxes in extreme parts of the county yet to report, while McDonald has carried his home county of Talladega by a majority of 926 votes, according to figures obtained from McDonald headquarters in that city.

Cleburne County has gone for the Calhoun candiate by a majority of about 75 votes. Chilton was placed in the McDonald column by 51 votes, while Shelby has gone for McDonald by approximately 100 votes.

Jeffers supporters in Anniston went wild tonight when the news of the Anniston mans nomination was flashed on the screen and over wires. A shouting serenade of voters thronged the streets around the headquarters of Chairman R. B. Carr, on Eleventh Street and gave vent to their enthusiasm upon receipt of the news.

The race for the congressional seat now lies between Major Jeffers and Judge A. P. Longshore of Columbiana, the Shelby County man having been nominated by Fourth District Republicans several weeks ago. The election will be held June 7.

Home Folks Respond.

Sylacauga, April 12.—S. P. McDonald was given practically the solid vote of his home town and environs in the congressional primary election today. Returns: Sylacauga, McDonald 636, Jeffers 16; Gantts Quarry, McDonald 71, Jeffers 7; Sycamore, McDonald 52, Jeffers 8; Talladega Springs, McDonald 40, Jeffers 5; Fayettville, McDonald 71, Jeffers 12.

Jeffers Leads.

Jacksonville, April 12—Beats 1 and 24 went 153 for Jeffers and 96 for McDonald, 65 for Jeffers and none for McDonald, giving Jeffers 132 majority.

Close at Selma.

Selma, April 12—This county gave S. P. McDonald a majority of 10 votes over Lamar Jeffers in the Fourth District congressional election today. Dallas County returns are all in except three small precincts.

The vote was: McDonald 1,063, and Jeffers 1,069, with the missing precincts conceded to McDonald by about 50 votes.

Heflin for Jeffers.

Heflin, Ala., April 12—Nine out of 14 precincts in today's congressional election gave Jeffers a majority of 62 over McDonald. Indications are that Jeffers will carry the county.

MAJOR LAMAR JEFFERS

The Democratic Candidate for Congress from the Fourth District of Alabama, who will oppose Judge A. P. Longshore, the Republican Candidate in the Special Election June 7th.

Jeffers Loses in Chilton.

Clanton, April 12.—A light vote has been polled in Chilton County, approximately 700 votes have been polled. All the beats have been heard from except three. Chilton County will give McDonald about 50 majority.

Miss Drucilla Lawrence and Mr. Herlie Mims called on Miss Ivy Bean Sunday evening.

And we are glad to say that the small pox has almost died away. Lets not forget to bring up a good Sunday school lesson Sunday.

We enjoyed having many visitors with us, and we invite you to come again.

ROBINSON HOME BURNED

The country home of Mr. J. E. Robinson, on the highway five miles north of Clanton, was completely destroyed by fire about noon last Sunday. All the contents of the building were lost, except the piano and victrola. The blaze caught on the roof supposedly from a spark out of the stove flue. The excessively high wind aggravated the flames so that any control was impossible.

"SPARKS" FROM THE CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN

Every citizen in town is behind the clean-up campaign. It is your privilege and duty to be a good citizen.

Old fly, you are doomed already, because this town is going to be made as clean as stick grease.

Read the Mayor's Proclamation in last week's Banner, and then clean up your front and back yard. Abolish all places that might breed flies and mosquitoes. Eliminate your weeds and then see what you can do on the vacant lots.

The thresholds of a town should be made inviting to the visitor, whether he comes by auto, trolley or railway train.

Many unsightly places are needlessly so. Even the poorest home can be made attractive at no cost save personal effort.

Sow morning glory seeds where you have been throwing refuse.

Do you know what the word "pep" means? Use lots of it!

If a lot owner will not clean up his lot, maybe the neighbors will club together and do it. Or maybe the town will be its brother's keeper.

Each family should burn as much rubbish as possible. It saves handling and avoids congestion at dumps.

Give the alleys attention. The alleys and vacant lots we have with us always.

All together! Get behind the clean-up campaign which has its formal opening this week. Impress the slogan on your mind: "Clean up, Paint up, Plant up, an Keep it up." Your town needs you and needs your service. Give it freely. Make Clanton, not only the most attractive place in America to live, but also the cleanest city in the state of Alabama. Help your Mayor to carry out his proclamation. Help your publicity agents by pushing the campaign. Help your block chairman to win the distinction of the cleanest block in town. This is good citizeship: "To transmit the city not less but more beautiful than it was transmitted to you."

First call issued to big committee in clean-up campaign. The start is the crucial period. Let your start be the most important one.

Empty cans are not only unsightly; They are the worst kind of mosquito breeding places. So, let's make every day a can the can day, by not only disposing of the cans but also by piercing a few holes in the bottom of the cans.

Our battle cry is "Clean up, Paint up, Plant up, and Keep it up." Get the habit!

THE PASTORS AND WORKERS CONFERENCE

The Pastors and Workers Conference of Chilton County and Unity Associations met at the Clanton Baptist Church on Monday, April 11th. The following interesting subject was freely discussed, "The Calling, Selection and Changing of Pastors," Rev. W. P. Lowery led the discussion and several of those present spoke on it. A splendid talk was also given by Miss Mamie Woods on "The Importance" of W. M. U. Work, which was full of good facts and statistics concerning the splendid work being done by this organization in the state.

The Seventy Five Million Campaign was also duly considered and their reports concerning several of the churches in meeting the pledges were quite encouraging.

The ladies of the Clanton Church served a splendid dinner at the church to whom was extended the hearty thanks of the brethren present. The brethren who failed to attend missed a very enjoyable meeting.

The next meeting will be held at Maplesville. P. G. CARTER, Secretary.

WARWOOD-OWENS WEDDING

An interesting wedding was witnessed by a large number of friends on Thursday, April 8th, at the Baptist Pastorium, when Mr. John Norwood of Decatur an Miss Era Owens of Chilton County were happily united in marriage, with a beautiful ceremony by Rev. P. G. Carter of Clanton. The bride and groom have known each other for several years and are well suited for each other.

They will make their future home on the farm of C. W. Norwood near Decatur.

FRIENDSHIP CHURCH

Sunday school was held at 10 a.m. as usual, and there was singing at the church Sunday afternoon.

The following directed: T. G. Wyatt Rube Miller, Jesse Jones, Osce DeVaughn, Tam Miller, Prof. W. M. DeVaughn. The singing was fine. The class did well, and the leaders were unsurpassed. Prof. W. M. DeVaughn led the last lesson, and was given unlimited time. He did some very fine directing and singing as well. We were very proud of our visiting singers and invite them to come to see us again. We sing every second and fourth Sunday afternoon.

Next Sunday there will be Sunday School at the usual hour, and prayer service in the evening at 7:00. All are invited.

"A CHAMBER OF COMMERCE"

What is the Clanton Chamber of Commerce? As some, perhaps, do not know, especially the farmers, just the nature and purpose of a Chamber of Commerce, it might be well to explain.

This is an organization similar to many others in various parts of the country for the purpose of improving industries, stimulating trade, locating settlers, in short, not for the purpose of making money for itself, but distinctly for the other fellow.

As it now stands it is composed chiefly of the merchants and business men of the city of Clanton, with a few farmers in it. Its purpose is not only to help the merchant but also the farmer, in every way possible. Farmers are eligible to join and to be on same working basis as the merchant.

There are many ways that we hope soon to be of valuable assistance to the farmer. Co-operative marketing and dairying industries are some of the things we are hoping soon to encourage.

The membership fee is only $1.00 a month, and all men of good moral standing can join it. As time goes on its influence will soon be felt both civically, commercially and agriculturally. Will you help us do it. We now have 59 members.

H. N. SMITH HAS GOT ENOUGH OF MODERN KIND OF DEMOCRACY

Cooper, Ala., April 12, 1921.

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me a small space in your paper to say a few words in regard to my views of the political situation in Alabama.

In the beginning I wish to state that I have been a Democrat all my life. I have voted the Democratic ticket ever since I began to vote. But I have recently reached the honest conclusion that the Democratic party in Alabama has strayed from the path of Democratic principles, and I cannot follow any further after the things that are being advocated and put over the people by the Democratic leaders. I think that it is time for the people of the state to rise up and show the leaders of the Democratic party that they will not follow them any further. I intend as for myself, to vote the Republican ticket in the future, or at least until the Democratic party gets back to the principles of old time democracy, which they have deserted and cast aside in recent years. I believe there is at present more real democracy manifest in the principles of the Republican party than there is in what was once the Democratic party.

If the people would stop following the present Democratic leaders and turn over to the Republican party, it would cause the Democratic leaders to have more regard for the rights of the people, and they would try to keep their party, in position to serve the people more. As long as we vote for the things that the Democratic party is trying to put over us, without protesting, you may expect them to grow more and more oppressive. It is time to call a halt. I for one am ready to turn back and look for the old time religion Until the leaders of the Democratic party likewise turn back and re-establish the Democratic party on the principles of real democracy, you will find me voting for the Republican party candidates. I shall vote for Judge Longshore for Congressman from this District on June 7th, and I advise other Democrats to do so, as I believe he will be a better servant of the people than anyone could be who is tied up with the present leaders of the Democratic party in Alabama.

Yours for the right,

H. N. SMITH.

JEFFERS vs. LONGSHORE.

Now that the Democratic Congressional primary election is over and the nomination made, we shall witness the opening of the real fight that takes place over the vacant seat of Mr. Blackmon. The scrap between Jeffers, Democrat, and Longshore, Republican is going to get warm and interesting.

Longshore is not going to have near the chance of beating Jeffers that he would have had if the Democrats had nominated McDonald. But we believe there are enough Republicans in this District to make it an interesting fight.

We believe that Jeffers was the best man of the two Democratic candidates for Congress. But our faith in the Republican candidate makes us hope now that Longshore may be able to put it over the Annistonian on June 7th. But anyway it may go, we are satisfied that the Fourth District will have a good man for Congress next time, whether it be Longshore or Jeffers. We fully believe that either of these men will represent the common people of the District, and stay by the interests of the common people on the floor of the national congress.

REDEEMING A PROMISE

President Harding promised that one of his first duties would be to redeem the failure of the preceding administration to provide adequately for disabled service men. To that end he has appointed a special committee to study the general question of soldier relief. The personnel of the committee gives assurance that its work will be performed with the utmost efficiency, and that its recommendations may be followed with the certainty of attaining the desired results. General Charles G. Dawes of Chicago is the chairman. His ability as chief of the supply division of the American Expeditionary Force to get results in spite of exasperating difficulties is well known. Associated with him are Col. Galbraith, commander of the American Legion, former commander D'Olier, Col. Roosevelt, and other former service men and those who have worked for their welfare. The committee will examine into the War Risk Insurance Bureau and the Vocational Education Bureau with a view to coordinating them with the other activities of the government for soldier relief.

KISSING THE ROD

Recent happenings in Europe only confirm the good judgment of the American people in keeping clear of the league of nations an Old World politics. In spite of the lofty ambitions ascribed to the lower classes of European scoiety by the former President and others, it appears that they care little for a republican form of government. The peace conference carved out a motley array of new states, a few self-styled leaders set up what they called republics within their borders, and the world was informed that monarchies were despised and abhored by the people in their new freedom.

What has happened? Greece has recalled her royal family by an overwhelming popular vote; the Hapsburg dynasty seeks restoration to the throne of Hungary; the royalist sentiment in Germany appears to be gaining strength; and it is predicted that the final evolution of the Russian situation will see a new czar in power. The trouble is the people of Europe, with one or two exceptions, have been ruled by kings and emperors for hundreds of years, and it is utterly foreign to their nature to adopt any other form of government. It was fatuous for the leader of our peace expedition and the idealists who accompanied him to think they could construct republics out of the subjects of monarchies. You can't make a purse out of a pig's ear. The European welter is at a safe distance and had better be kept there.

HARDING A CONSTITUTIONAL EXECUTIVE

Washington, April 12.—What very strange ideas some prominent democrats have of the purpose of a constitution! Here is the New York World, the leading democratic organ of the country saying, "If Mr. Harding intrusts tthe revision of the tariff and the tax laws to the Republican leaders in Congress, it is safe to predict that they will wreck his administration. Unless he determines policies and measures, chaos is surely inevitable."

Therefore, in the view of the New York World, one-man government is all that can be successful in America. The republican form of government, with its three branches, legislative-executive and judicial, is all wrong, and, in its opinion, an autocrat must be established in the White House to use Congress as a mere rubber stamp. The utterances of the World are those of one who has lost faith in representative government and believes in a temporary dictatorship. That Mr. Harding has certain responsibilities, and furthermore, has no intention of shirking them, may be clearly gathered from a reading of his utterances. Let us see what those responsibilities are.

The constitution established first the legislative department, declaring that all legislative power shal be vested in a congress, and it is particuarly specified that all bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House. Article 2 declares that executive power shall be vested in a President, and it is made his duty, among other things, to give congress information concerning the state of the Union and to recommend to their consideration such measures as he may deem necessary and expedient. He is given power to veto any measure passed by congress, which, however, may be passed over the veto by a two-thirds vote in each House.

There we have in brief form, the respective duties and responsibilities of the Legislative and Executive branches of the government, so far as legislation is concerned. In his farewell address to the Senate last December, Senator Harding said:

When my responsibilities begin in an executive capacity I shall be as mindful of the Senate's responsibilities as I have been jealous of them as a member, but I mean, at the same time, to be just as insitent about the responsibilities of the executive. Our governmental good fortune does not lie in any surrender at either end of the Avenue, but in the coordination and cooperation which becomes the two in a great and truly representative popular government.

"There spoke a true American—a man of conviction, and courtesy and courage. He seeks neither to shrink responsibilities that are his nor to usurp those that are not. He has not been intimiate by senseless twaddle about a 'senatorial oligarchy,' nor goaded to ill-advised antagonism toward the legislative branch of the government. The American form of government was based upon the theory of cooperation—cooperation among the states and cooperation of different branches of the government. Mr. Harding is a man of cooperative spirit, not an autocrat. He will recommend what he deems wise; he will give counsel when it is asked; he will give due consideration to the views of members of the legislative branch if their views differ from his, and, it may be safely asserted, he will have the courage to vote a measure if, all things, considered, he believes it unwise. He will be a constitutional executive, not a superconstitutional autocrat."

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TONIGHT

The next meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of Clanton will be in the form of a banquet to be given at the Wilson Hotel tonight commencing at 8 p.m. All members of the Chamber are enitled to be present and participate in all the privileges of the meeting. Honorary members are also invited, but it will be necessary to charge the sum of 75 cents to pay for the plate at the banquet.

Mr. O. L. Bunn, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Birmingham, will adress the meeting, and is said to be a fine and interesting speaker as well as a splendid organizer and worker. Let every member of the Chamber make a very special effort to attend this banquet, have a good time and get some inspiration to boost the organization and the city of Clanton for all they are worth. Brotherhood and co-operation a re two great things that will help to build up our city and community.

Our membership continues to grow, as 60 is now our active membership, and three honorary members. Let us work to bring the number up to 75 or 100 in the near future.

Quite a good deal of correspondence has been received lately regarding land which prospective buyers are seeking to secure, also some correspondence regarding the location of enterprises, which in due course we hope will soon come to pass. CAPITOL CHAT

Washington, Apr. 12—(Special correspondence)—Senator Charles Curtis, of Kansas, is sponsor for several measures for the establishment of complete political and civic equality for women in the United States. Among the particular measures he advocates are the following: Giving a woman naturalization rights on an equality with men, thus relieving a woman of the embarrassment of becoming a foreigner if she marries a man who is not a citizen of the United States; placing women upon an entire equality with men in the Civil Service of the United States Government; removing all difficulties now imposed upon women in the case of inheritance guardianship, etc. The Woman's National Party is taking an active interest in promoting these measures.

The Sale Tax

Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, is sponsor for a plan for a sales tax as a substitute for the present excess profits tax. "I believe that a sales tax of one half of one per cent will yield annually about $1,250,000,000," says the Senator, in duscussing the proposal. "It is the most feasible substitute I know of for the excess profits tax, which has proved to be a menace to commercial stability and a hindrance to industrial and commercial development at a time when it needs the greatest possible stimulus." The excess profits tax is paid directly by large taxpayers but many people assert that it it passed on to the consumer, so that in the end it is not only a sales tax in effect, but a sales tax in a form which permits of and encourages multiplication in the process of being passed on from one to another. In the case of a direct sales tax there could be no mistake or misrepresentation concerning the amount that should be added to the price on account of the tax.

Present The Issues

Senator Albert B. Cummins, the chief author of the act under which the railroads were returned to their owners is authority for the assertion that the railroad law contains all the legislation necessary for the adjustment of pending controversies over wages and working regulations. All that is needed, he says, is for both sides of the controversy to present their issues for decision, and then for the duly constituted authorities to act promptly. Thus far private operation has proven the more efficient, for the records disclose that in 1920 the roads carried nine billion ton-miles of traffic more than in 1918, with practically the same length of road and equipment.

There's Another Reason

It has been asserted a number of times that the housing shortage is due to high freight rates but in answer to this an official of the Interstate Commerce Commission recently called attention to the fact that the housing difficulty exists in cities that are lumber manufacturing centers and in which freight rates have no effect whatever on costs of construction so far as lumber, the chief material, is concerend.

THE SCHOOL SYSTEM

For almost a quarter of a century I have harshly criticised the school system of Alabama. And, in turn, some of the school men and women of the state have criticised me in like fashion. I have hopes of living to see the system changed. Too much of our money goes for "overhead" charges and not enough for actual benefits. There is too much theory and not enough practical work. Too few of the school men and women of Alabama are practical. Like unto many business men, the educational system of Alabama is "spread out" too much. An effort is always being made to adjust pupils up to the schools, when an effort should be made to adjust the schools down to the pupils. And then bring the pupils up. We need more common business sense and less schcool sense. So long as it requires two or three years to make one grade in a country school, education will be retarded. Alabama needs some cool, successful, level-headed business men—not schcool men—in charge of the school system of the state. Put the school system of Alabama on a sound business basis—bossed by hard-headed business men—and you will be amazed and delighted with the progress. Truth is, we're not getting any where with present methods. There should be a change.—Twinkles, in The Tuscaloosa News.

CLANTON WINS BALL GAME

The Clanton base ball team won a spirited game from the Maplesville boys on the Clanton diamond Tuesday evening. The score was 9 to 6 in favor of Clanton.

"HIRE JOBLESS MAN AND THEN REFORM HIM," SAYS OFFICER

VETERAN SALVATION WORKERS TELL HOW BEST TO APPEAL TO HUNGRY.

"Unemployment is one of the most frequent causes of crime, and that is why the Salvation Army devotes so much effort to obtaining employment for all the jobless with whom it comes in contact."

This was the preface to an interesting interview with Mrs. Brigadier L. M. Simonson, who, with her husband, heads the Salvation Army in the Dixie Division, comprising Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and northwestern Florida. Mrs. Simonson declared that "no phase of Salvation Army work is given more attention than that of employment of the men and women who, jobless and adift, are susceptible to, and easy victims of vicious and evil influences."

MRS. BRIGADIER SIMONSON, who, as the wife of Brigadier L. M. Simonson, helps her husband with his work as commander of the Dixie Division. She is thoroughly trained in all Salvation Army activities, and is keenly interested in the move now on throughout the Dixie Division, to form Community Advisory Boards, through which business men, professional men, bankers and citizens of all classes can become a strong cooperative force to promote the work of the Salvation Army along the lines being advanced in the Home Service Program for 1921 appeal.

Mrs. Simonson declared that all corp headquarters devote special attention to the employment of those with whom the organization comes in contact. "We have regular employment bureaus for this purpose," she said. "Special training in how best to get hold of unemployed men and women, who, while jobless, still have pride and self-respect, is given to our workers. The value of this training has often been demonstrated.

"Today, the Salvation Army can show by countless examples that, through obtaining employment for the jobless, and in reaching out the kindly helping hand to the unfortunate, lives have been regenerated, and good substantial citizens made of those who were temporarily shipwrecked on life's sea."

"Right at this time, the value of this work cannot be underestimated," she declared. "With depression in business in many parts of the country, unemployment on a large scale exists in certain fields. This condition can easily become a dangerous one, because it is in this way that bolshevism, anarchy and crime waves their origin.

"This is where the work of the Salvation Army comes in. Trained workers, men and women who through long experience and careful preparation for their work, know the slums and the people of the underworld, have evolved a system of handling these things that is scientifically accurate and mathematically correct. The Salvation Army knows how to deal with all the ills that come from unemployment.

"Extension of this work to include all communities is contemplated through the Community Advisory Board idea, and this idea is being advanced all over the division in the appeal for the Home Service Program for 1921."

"Through the Community Advisory Board, which is the objective of the 1921 Home Service program appeal, it will be possible to discover and report to the Salvation Army from each community such cases as are determined impossible of solution by ordinary methods, and to discover and report to the Salvation Army emergency cases requiring removal to homes and institutions other than locally provided.

"The fundamental principle is service of the highest order. This is the spirit that has actuated the Salvation Army since its formation and that makes it seek fuller co-operation in order to achieve more glorious results."

Rev. and Mrs. Pearson have as their guest this week, Mrs. Young of Selma.

LETTER FROM A "DAD."

Editor of The Tucaloosa News,

Dear Sir:—I read your editorial, "Why Girls Go Wrong." Some one seems to ask the question and a women answers thus: "Lack of education," and goes on to point out that seldom a girl with a high school or college education is arrested. That, sir, is true in itself, and why so, because the educated are generally very well fixed financially, and soon learn how to resist the laws of nature; evade the laws of man; and take chances on the laws of God.

The poor and uneducated girl sees her rich, educated sister in her mischief, and never hears much about it and she takes a chance for society's sake and gets caught. As only evil is news, everybody talks 'the evil of an ordinary girl.' While a rich, educated girl can do what she may and it is hushed up, but let the poor girl make one side-step and everybody talks about it and puts her down and even strike at her with the strong arm of the law.

I am in no wise a defender of ignorance, but feel that education is next to Godliness. I am a lover of the right and a foe of the wrong. It is by all means wrong to censure the poor and ignorant with even an equal share of the immorality that exists today.

This good woman is evidently concerned about the condition of the mortals of the present generation who are hopelessly in the dark. She seems to forget or does not know of the maternity hospitals of the big cities, where a poor and igorant girl does not dare to go for two reasons. First, expense; second, igronance of their existence, so she has to face the music.

I feel quite sure that satistics will show just as many fallen women with a high school education as without. We mean those that are immoral, and the reason lies with their parents. The parents are too busy doing society, making money, attending to other peoples business, to spend their time in making a home and rearing a family of girls and boys. Instead of teaching the girls to make bread, they teach them to "shimmy" and put them out to seek amusement for themselves. They go to dances with just about enough clothes on to wad a shotgun, and dance the modern dances which originated and are practiced in the house of illfame in the hell holes of our big cities. After about four or five hours of this "shimmy," face to face bunny hig, turkey trot, and the tickle toe, they pile in an automobile and take a ride and get home some time in the wee small hours of the morning and only too often a thing of shame and disgrace forever. Mother and dad are at home in bed and sleep. They never ask when they got home, where they have been, or who they were with, or what they did. And it looks as if they do not care. In lots of cases anything to be fashionable, and it is now the fashion to turn a girl loose to go where she pleases, and do as she pleases.

Just as soon as she is large enough to stay out of the way of cars and traffic on the street, with just as little clothing on as she can get by with—not enough to hide her person but a good substantial coat of paint to add to her conspicuousness.

And then wonder why girls go Wrong. Do not loose sight of the fact that our boys are going wrong also. Take it from one who knows.

A DAD.

OUR SKIRTS CLEAR

Last year the British trade with Russia amounted to more than $20,000,000. Now, there is a "trading agreement" between the two countries, but the presient of the board of trade admitted in parliment that it would not help trade to any extent. The real, and practically the only, effect of the agreement is to recognize the soviet government. It adds nothing to British dignity to enter into formal relations with the notorious soviets. The United States, on the other hand, is just as free to trade with Russia as Great Britain has been but American skirts are clear of any hint of recognition of the bloody regime in that country.

We have with us this week Mr. Swanson of Louisville, Ky. He is here in the interest of the L. & N. R. R. Company.

Thorsby played Calera on their home ground last Tuesday afternoon when they suffered defeat. We believe that with some more practice and team work by the home team we can turn the tables and beat Calera the next time we play them.

Mr. Peiper of Cincinnati, Ohio, arrived in Thorsby last week and will remain here during the greater part of the berry season. He is representing the firm of Sanzone-Palmisano of Kalamazoo, Michigan. He bought the first car of berries here.

COMMUNITY FROLIC

A most enjoyable party was given at Bates Hall Saturday night, April 9th, by the girls of Thorsby Institute. They decided on this plan for a general good time and to help the boys raise money with which to buy base ball suits. Ten cents admission was charged at the door and over a hundred guests assembled.

When the people gathered at 7:45 a game of beans was played. This was planned so that everyone might get acquainted. After this everyone entered the "board of trade" and played hard to "corner" eight cards alike. The winners each received chocolate as a prize.

Games were followed by an interesting program including an impromptu dramatization of "Little Red Riding Hood" by Gresham Lowery, Esther Johnson and Dorothy Rogers; a vocal solo by Pauline Gray, who also sang in a trio with Louise Adams and Beatris Stine. A reading, "Buying a Railroad Ticket," was given by Mac Ward. A real railroad ride from Thorsby to Strasburg was skillfully given by Louise Adams and Arthur Male. A great march followed the program and at the conclusion of the march the people were divided into to companies. Representatives on each side competed in a baseball game and a hand race. When all had laughed and played until they were real hungry, delicious cake and lemonade were served for ten cents. Lunch being furnished at 10:30, the older people thought it time to go home, which they did, expressing themselves as having a very delightful time. The party was a general community affair everyone joining in the games, making the evening a pleasant one for all.

The girls are able to donate to the boys the nice sum of twenty dollars. They hope to see them in their new suits real soon and they feel that the boys will show their gratitude and always win the games.

The committee in charge wishes to express their appreciation to the mothers and friends who graciousy donated cakes and other good things.

Last week Mr. C. E. Lucas was taken seriously ill with appendicitis. He was rushed to Birmingham where he underwent an operation and is reported as doing nicely. His many friends wish for him a speedy recovery.

Rev. and Mrs. J. P. Leaf and daughter, Margret of Tennessee, left on Monday morning after spending several days in Thorsby They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Foss.

THE SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Editor Union-Banner:

Will you please allow me space to say a few words concerning the signs of the times? I want to make a few scriptural comparrisons to man's ways —or our ways. We shall use the odd number for the Bible and the even number for our ways:

1. "Now, concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant."

2. Now, brethren, we are all ignorant concerning spiritual gifts.

3. "For to one is given by the spirit the word of wisdom, to another the word of knowledge, by the same spirit."

4. We get our wisdom and knowledge from man these days, for the day of revelation is passed away.

5. "To another, faith, by the same spirit; to another the gift of healing by the same spirit; to another the working of miracles; to another prophecy; to another discerning of spirits; to another divers kinds of tongues and to another the interpretation of tongues."

6. We don't need faith these days, sufficient. We don't have any gifts of healing only through the doctors, neither do we have any miracles in the church. We don't have prophets these days; we can't discern spirits. We can't talk in tongues, neither can we interpret tongues, for we don't need such things these days, for such thigs are done away.

7. "For as the body is one and has many members, and all the members of that one body, so also is Christ, for by one spirit are we all baptised into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bound or free, and have been all made to drink into one spirit, for the body is not one member but many."

8. For as the body is composed of many sects and parties who are opposed to each other and have no gifts, and being many sects are but one body, so also is Babylon; for by many spirits are we all baptized into many bodies, whether we be Catholic or Protestant, but have all drunk unto one spirit, even the spirit of Babylon.

9. "But, now has God set the members, every one of them, in the body as it hath pleased him."

10. Now we have set the members in as it has pleased us, for the body is not one sect but many.

11. "One Lord, one faith and one baptism."

12. Many sects, many faiths, and three or four kinds of baptism.

13. "Think not that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets; I am not come to destroy but to fulfil."

14. Yes, you destroyed the law and the prophets, for we have no prophets now; neither are we under the law, but under Grace.

15. "But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to the Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly."

16. When we pray we do like the hypocrites: we appear before the public and pray very loud, that we may be heard of men, although we know that God doesn't answer prayers these days, for the days of miracles has passed away.

17. "Let no man therefore judge you in meat or in drink or in respect of an holiday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days."

18. We don't only judge them in drink, but if we catch them making anything to drink and if they run, we just shoot them down and the Grand Jury don't even bill us for it.

19. "The son of man is come eating and drinking an ye say, behold a glutenous man and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners."

20. The man who takes a drink these perilious days is not a friend to the good people—Democrats and Republicans.

Respectfully to all—Cathoics, Protestants, Democrats and Repubicans.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

The cold snap on Sunday somewhat interfered with the Sunday School and church attendance last Sunday, but we believe this is only temporary. The regular services will be held next Sunday morning at 11 a.m. and evening at 7:45 p.m. It is expected that the next set of pictures will be ready but failing them an interesting pantomine representing the Holy City will be given.

At the close ofthe morning services some very important matters are to be brought before the church especially the ratification of the Trustees in securing a loan from the banks on the notes due on July the 1st. Other matters of equal importance will also be consiered. May we have a large attendence at this service.

The time for paying our campaign pledges will soon come to a close. Let us therefore meet our vows as far as possible and thus relieve the embarassment of our boards in meeting the obligations they have made.

BRIGADIER L. M. SIMONSON

Issues Statement Of Work Of Organization In Home Service Program For 1921.

"Want and misery breed bolshevism, inflame class hatred and promote violence. "Physical relief and a kindly hand will check it. "The Salvation Army knows how."
—Brigadier Simonson.

Pointing to the widespread depression in business and the corresponding unemployment, Brigadier L. M. Simonson, commanding the Salvation Army in the Dixie Divison, comprising Alabama, Tenness, Mississipp and northwestern Florida, as just issued a declaration setting forth "the imperative need," as he sees it, of broadening and increasing the activity of the Salvation Army in every part of the divison.

"I have seen depressions come and go in my many years service in the Salvation Army," he declared, "and it has always been demonstrated that periods of depression increase the need for the very work that the Salvation Army is best prepared to give.

"Take a look at the present," the brigadier continued." Just now, there is widespread crime, suicide and the multitudinous sins and ills that arise from unemployment and poverty. It is this very condition of things that makes for discontent that soon develops into active bolshevism unless checked. There is a real danger of this and we cannot afford to minimize it.

BRIGADIER L. M. SIMONSON, Commander of the Dixie Division, Salvation Army, who declares that the organization, through the Community Advisory Boards now being established all over the division during the appeal for the Home Service Program for 1921, will be able to exert its powerful influence for good in every community just as it has exerted its power in the larger cities in the past. The brigadier is actively interested in the movement now on all over his division, which will bring the representative business and professional men into close personal touch with the Salvation Army and its work. The plan is in successful operation already in 15,000 communities.

"It is in correction of this very condition that the Salvation Army finds its real functon. It can do this because its officers and workers are trained in the slums, among people of the lowest strata and those who, through crime and filth, have reached the lowest level. It is this class that the Salvation Army reaches out and reclaims. Good citizens are made of this human debris. Not only is this beneficial to the individual, who obtains spiritual salvation through regeneration, but it is something that reaches out and directly benefts the community because it removes a menacing situation and promotes the best ideals of community life by killing the cause of bolshevism and disorder."

"How do you know the Salvation Army can do this?" the commander was asked.

The keen-eyed old soldier looked smilingly across the desk at his questioner. "Just the same way that you know night follows the day—by actual demonstration," he said. "The Salvation Army performs its work with scientific accuracy because the very nature of its training makes it 100 per cent effective in doing just that. It works with mathematic exactness. Years of experience proved that it really does things for the man who is 'down, but not out,' that no other human organization does."

"Why do you think that there is greater necessity now than under ordinary conditions, for Salvation Army activity?" someone asked the brigadier.

"Simply because," he answered quickly, "there is so much unemployment, and the attending poverty, that unless the normal trend of things is thwarted by effective work now, it is practically certain that all the evils of unemployment in the past will be upon us, with the new destructive ideas of bolshevism and violence as well. Want and misery breed bolshevism, inflame class hatred and promote violence. Physical relief and a kindly hand will check it. The Salvation Army know how."

Mrs. Hinsdale Harrison of Wilton was in Clanton Tuesday.

BAPTISTS REPORT GAIN IN NUMBERS

IN LAST 14 YEARS THEY HAVE ADDED OVER MILLION MEMBERS IN SOUTH.

WILL MEET IN CHATTANOOGA

Many Matters Related to Future Work Will Come Up for Consideration at the Annual Convention May 12 to 18.

Dr.. E. Y. MULLINS

President Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Who is Touring South.

Following the close of the second year of the Baptist 75 Million Campaign April 30, several thousand messengers from the local churches are expected to assemble at Chattanooga, Tenn., for the seventy-sixth annual session of the Southern Baptist Convention. The Convention met in Chattanooga last in May, 1906, and during the interim there has been a marked growth in every department of the Convention's activities and in the numbers and work of the local churches as well. The total number of Baptists reported to the Convention in 1906 was 1,855,784, while last May, fourteen years later, when the body met in Washington, the total membership of the local churches as reported was 2,961,348, or a gain of 1,105,564. The returns for this year are not yet available, but inasmuch as it is known there were practically 175,000 additions to the local churches last year by baptism alone, there is every reason to believe the showing for 1921 will be even larger.

Growth Shown in All Lines.

At the same time there has been a marked increase in the membership of the churches, there has been a distinct advance in all departments of local and denominational work, it is set out. The total number of local churches has grown from 20,129 in 1906 to 25,303 in 1920; the total number of Sunday Schools from 11,332 to 17,686; and the number of Sunday School pupils from 857,244 to 1,835,936, an increase of more than 100 per cent. The value of local church property has mounted from 4,501,122 in 1906 to $74,273,728 in 1920, an increase of more than 1600 per cent, while contributions to missions and benevolences in 1906 were $1,501,396.67, as compared to $7,331,266.55 in 1920, an advance of practically 500 per cent. Fourteen years ago the contributions to all purposes in a year were $5,941,283.44, as against $21,327,446.67 for 1920.

Next Meeting Important.

The approaching session of the Convention is regarded as vitally important to the future of the denomination's work. It is hoped that by the Convention two-fifths of all subscriptions to the 75 Million Campaign will have been paid in cash and that the program for the completion of the remainder of the campaign task can be formulated at this time. Dr. J. B. Gambrell, president of the Convention, and Dr. E. Y. Mullins, who recently completed a tour of Europe, where they carried fraternal greetings to the Baptists of that continent, will give their impressions of Baptist opportunity in that country while Dr. George W. Truet and Dr. J. F. Love, who represented the Foreign Mission Board at the London Conference last summer when the mission fields of Europe were considered, will tell of the new territory of Spain, Jugo-Slavia, Hungary, Roumania and Southern Russia, which Southern Baptists are asked to occupy. This territory is as large as the Southern States and has a population of 128,000,000.

All the boards of the Convention will report the largest year's accomplishments in their history, the Home Mission Board being scheduled to report the completion of its million dollar loan fund for church building, in addition to the aiding of a thousand churches during the year with gifts and loans for the erection of new houses of worship. The Sunday School Board will report more than $1,000,000 in sales for the year and with collections as well as sales better than any previous time in its history.

Mrs. Irene Rasberry, who is connected with the South Highland Infirmary of Birmingham, spent the week end with relatives here.

THE DANCE

Recently a public dance was held in the city, which was largely attended by the citizens, some of which were members of both churches. Accoring to the evidence of an eyewitness, many of those present were properly and stylishly dressed, and danced decently and in order, that is as the dance of today will allow. Others were there with exceptionally low neck dresses and bare arms. In an affectionate manner some of those who danced entwined their arms around the neck of the one with whom they danced, and very serenely laid their faces on the shoulders of the one with whom they danced to the music of a Jazz Band from Montgomery. For this occasion the Exchange Hotel was tastefully decorated, which because of its splendid cuisine has become a popular hotel of the city.

Now, one of two things is right. Either dancing is right and we should have more of it, or it is wrong and it should be suppressed. If it is right let us throw open the doors of our churches and ask any and everybody to dance. Let the preacher in the same manner embrace the members of his congregation, and so make the church which is the most sacred institution on earth a regular dancing hall. Every christian person of noble thinking will agree that the thought and much more the deed is abhorrent. How many would go to hear the preacher the next Sunday after witnessing such a sight as that. Can you conceive of our blessed Saviour on the floor of a hotel or public dance hall, in such an undignified manner as that? No, not even with such chaste refined women as Martha and Mary.

The history of the dance should be enough to convince the christian that it is an emeny to the church and to the christian, as well as to the virtue of young womanhood and manhood. The dance was first instituted in a cabaret or place of ill fame over in France. The fox trot was brought out of a negro club dance. The one-step came from the slums of Paris and the slum dance halls of New York and the red light districts. The vulgar Jazz and Shimmy owe their origin to the barbarian tribes of the South Seas.

This is the thing that is being upheld by a certain class of people of our town and community, and held in one of our popular hotels. Anyone who stops to think a minute will readily agree that such a thing as this is a spiritual menace to our churches and the question for the people of Clanton to decide sooner or later is which is the most important and of the greatest value to the community, the church or the dance. If the dance, then let us not spend any more money on new buildings for our churches; rather let us build dancing halls, and employ the professional dancing masters and teachers to visit our city and teach us all how to dance the turkey trot, bunnie hug, and shimmy dances. Under such conditions it is horrible to conceive what sort of a place Clanton would soon become, and the awful immorality, social condition and lawlessness that woud exist. Not a single person who has any respect for their virtue would live here.

This then is the real issue that is facing us. This is one of the reasons why the preachers have the right in an unmistakable uncompromising manner to condemn the dance with all its attendant evils, and thus prtect your churches and community . If we are agreed that the churches are the best assets our city possesses from a commercial as well as a spiritual aspect, then ought not the citizens unitedly to join in with their preachers and the best christian people of the city in destroying the dance, and regard with disfavor any public place that fosters such a thing. We would not tolerate a brothel or house of ill fame, why then the dance which according to statistics often leads to that.—(Contributed).

THE ALABAMA SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The work of the Alabama Sunday School Association in C hilton County is making fine progress an bids fair to reach the gold star standard for the first time in he history of the county's work. About $24.00 is still lacking in making up this county's quota, which is necessary to secure the gold star. A great many schools in the county have failed to make any pledges to this work, but might perchance desire to make a contirbution. The next district convention as per the program published herewith, is to be held at Mt. Nebo Church on Sunday, April 17th, at which time we hope that several of the schools in that district will help us meet the remaining amount of the money necessary to reach the gold star standard. Several of the schools in the various districts will be visited during the next two or three Sundays, and we trust that those wh ohave been asked to visit the schools will do so, without which it is impossible for us to reach the standard which we desire.

In the matter f district conventions we almost lead all counties in the state. Now let us all pay our pledges and visit our schools right away as the state convention meets at Shefield on April the 26, when the time closes to reach this aim of the local committee for this work. A free will offering taken at the schools visited during the next few Sundays will help us to meet all the requirements.

Any funds that any one may feel disposed to contribute either as a school or as an individual, will be duly acknowledged and gladly received by P. G. Carter, Canton, Ala., Chairman of Executive Committee.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

Music's Perfect Mirror

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

The New Edison is like the perfect mirror that reflects form and feature, true to every line and subtlety of coloring. It gives you an exact RE-CREATION of the singing or playing of the living artist or artists.

Mr. Edison spent 7 years of his time and 3 millions of his dollars to develop the perfect realism of the New Edison. He has proved this perfect realism by comparing the New Edison with living artists 5,000 times before more than 5 million people. The New Edison is positively the only phonograph which can sustain this test.

We have, for you, a proof on offset paper of the famous Franklin Booth Etching of Mr. Edison, as he looks today. Size 12 x 19 inches. Bears no advertising matter; suitable for framing. Just fill out the ballot,—and bring or mail it to us.

"OBSERVER" WRITES A LETTER ON TAXATION

Mr. Editor.

Would it not be well for you to give your readers some facts in regard to the principles of our general government and the mode and manners by which it is enabled to function?

The idea seems to have grown largely popular that "The Government" is something foreign to, and apart from, the individual citizenship, and that it is sailing in oceans of money and can make untold oceans more at the drop of a hat and that only pure "Cussedness" prevents it from putting every body on easy street with nothing to do but clip cupons and grow fat.

The wheat farmer, the cotton farmer, the organized laboring man and even the autocratic autoist seem to imagine that "the government" can speak prices sky high, can regulate wages out of all proportion to the service proformed and the need of production, and can finance road building up into the billions and that, too, without cost to the citizenship.

Even so astute and far seeing a business man as Mr. F. A. Gulledge, of Verbena, seems to have lost, for the moment, his keen acumen and is almost running amuck after those fabulous millions for road building that are so temptingly promised us as a free gift.

Without some form of taxation, "the government" would not have nor could not raise a penny. Already your table is taxed, yur back taxed, your bed is taxed, and sleeping or waking, sick or well, in prosperity or adversity, without regard of race, color or previous conditions of servitude, taxes in some insidious form search you out and pinch out a part of your living, and that too, before you even get a smell.

It doesn't make any difference whether it is open and above board, direct taxation or an income tax or a tariff tax, or a revenue tax, or profit tax, it gets both great and small just the same. Whether it is paid the town, to the county, to the state or "the government" every penny of public money comes out of the pockets of the citizenship, and the truth follows, like night follows day, the more expensively "the government" is operated the poorer, by just that much, will be its citizenship.

I believe in good roads, but if Alabama is not able to build her roads alone she certainly is not able to help New York build roads, and the same applies to every state in the Union. This gambling spirit, putting up your ante with the hope of getting back more than you put in, won't work.

So far as Alabama is concerned, the setting aside f the automobile license to build state highways, or in other words, to build good roads for outoists, is hardly fair. The man with the old time rig puts up with all the inconvenience of dodging the auto in its mad rush while the other man has all the fun.

I am credibly informed that the auto tax for last year is being spent by engineers and their expensive crews and other paraphernalia making and re-making surveys and maps of roads all over the state with no definite idea in view, other than to keep them together and organized in case we need them. My way of seeing that would be "it keeps quite a number of cogs to the political machine well oiled and judiciously scattered over the state as valuable propaganists."

Extremely hard times are upon us all and will continue for several years at least, and it behooves the state as well as the general government to lop off all parasites, cut down every expense, do like "bug business" cut off the hands, get back to frugal simplicity, and function less and more to the point. Stop the ten-thousand side shows and run the legitimate circus at half price a while.

SIDE APPLICATION OF FERTILIZERS

FERTILIZERS ARE CHEAP AGAIN.

Practice of Side Application Will Be Extensively Followed This Year.

Atlanta, Ga., April.—Reports received from fertilizer companies indicate that the Southern farmer fell a good deal short of using as much fertilizers at planting time this year as usual. Several reasons are assigned. One is that the farmers waited for the price of fertilizers to fall with the expectation of using them in greater quantities than the usual amount as side applications to the growing crops.

It seems that the practice of side application of fertilizers is quite commonly followed by successful Southern farmers. In fact, the Williamson method of growing corn that is popular in the coastal plains region of the South, provides that no fertilizer be applied except as side applications to the corn crop.

On the question of side applications of fertilizers, J. N. Harper, director of the Soil Improvement Committee and recognized authority on agricultural methods of the South, says, that there are more than the usual advantages this year in favor of side applications. The reason is apparently favorable to giving good response to fertilizers.

A word of caution is, however, sounded by Mr. Harper. He says that the side applications should be made early. Late applications to cotton will only prolong the growth of the plant and favor the boll weevil. He says that it will be better to make both the side applications of complete fertilizers and the nitrogen top dressing within six weeks after planting, where the boll weevil is present.

For corn, he states that side applications are quite generally made too late to get the best results. On clay loam or heavy soils he advises a side application and nitrogen dressing when the corn is from knee to waist high. For sandy or light soils, he says that side applications can be made later, that is, when the corn is waist to shoulder high, but before it begins to bunch to tassel.

Mr. Harper says that care must be taken to use only readily available forms of fertilizer so that the growing plants can utilize them in promoting rapid growth and development of fruit.

The fertilizer should contain phosphoric acid in the form of acid phosphate. This is the main element for hastening maturity. The fertilizer should also contain nitrogen and potash in the readily available form. Nitrogen promotes the growth of the stalk and leaves and potash strengthens the plant and helps fill out the fruit.

A top dressing of sulfate of ammonia or nitrate of soda is quite commonly made, and, according to Mr. Harper, it should follow closely after the second application of fertilizer, and within the periods of cotton and corn growth which he mentions above.

AVOID MISTAKES IN POISONING BOLL WEEVIL

Weevils Can Be Poisoned With Profit.

The United States Department of Agriculture, through its boll weevil experts, Profs. B. R. Coad and T. P. Cassidy, have issued a statement, a part of which is entitled "Where It Will Pay You to Poison." This part is as follows:

It will pay to poison—

If the weevils are really injuring your crop seriously, and

If your land is sufficiently fertile to yield at least one-half bale per acre with weevil injury eliminated, and

If your farming organization is such that you feel assured that the poison applications will be made at the right time and in the right manner, and

If you are willing to spend the full amount necessary to provide an adequate supply of dusting machinery and poison.

The general gains from weevil poisoning under average, fairly favorable conditions seem to be from 200 to 400 pounds of seed cotton per acre, but, owing to variations in degree of weevil injury it is not safe to expect much more than the lower figure.

Consequently, you should not poison if the cost of the calcium arsenate, the cost of labor to apply it, and the depreciation on the dusting machines will total more per acre than the current value of 100 pounds of seed cotton.

Hand guns should be figured as depreciating 100 per cent in a season and the larger machines about 25 per cent.

Do It Right Or Not At All

Many valuable lessons have been gained from the recent expension of commercial weevil poisoning. It has again been shown that the boll weevil can be poisoned with profit if conditions are favorable and if proper methods are used, but it has been emphasized anew that unfavorable conditions and improper methods can lead only to failure. A survey of the poisoning by farmers in 1920 shows that an unfortunately large proportion were not properly informed as to the conditions under which they should poison and the methods they should pursue. As a result there were many unnecessary failures.

A HOME COURSE IN DOMSETIC SCIENCE

"Twenty lessons in Domestic Science," by Marion Cole Fisher has recently been received by us for review.

This is a complete advanced course in domestic science and home economics boiled down to meet the requirements of the housewife and the student.

The entire course consists of twenty practical lessons—one hundred pages filled with the most valuable information the housewife can possess—heretofore taught only in domestic science schools.

Do you know the relative value of food, which fruits to use for cooking, what purpose salads serve, correct use of condiments, about proper kitchen equipments, about the U. S. Government bulletins, how to reduce the high cost of living, how to promote and protect your own and your families health, how to make housekeeping simular and more economical and pleasent by utilizing modern science in the home.

This book, we note, is priced at $2.00 per copy and from what we understand it contains a complete $100.-00 college course, condensed, and it is practically FREE to every interested housewife.

Write the Home Economics Department of the Calument Baking Powder Co., 4100-28 Fillmore St., Chicago, Illionis, for full particulars regarding the book and how to secure it.

HORRIBLE RELIGIOUS PRACTICES IN NEW MEXICO

Uncle Newt Calloway brings us a letter which he received from a niece in New Mexico, and we find that it is of sufficient interest to merit publication in order that people here may know something of the horrible practices that are carried on under the guise of religion.

The Letter Follows:

Dear Uncle Newt:

I feel urged to write to you this morning and tell you of the religious conditions I find here. Would that it were God's will that I might come and talk to you.

Most of the people here are Catholics and worship as such. You know as well as I that the Catholics represent the beast in the Bible. Some of the people are "penitenties." I never heard of them till I came west. On Friday before Easter they began to fast and never ate anything till Monday. On Sunday (Easter) they stripped themselves of all clothing and took cactus and beat over their backs till the blood ran off their heels. While they did this thtey marched around a circle moaning and yelling. My neighbor's boys were there. The police tried to arrest the nude ones, and two of them were shot.

At another time of the year they feed one of their babies to a huge snake. This snake they have in a pen, and they draw lots to see who will give the baby. The mother feels herself highly honored when it falls her lot to give the baby to the snake to be eaten aive.

Now, I know you can scarcely believe this, living as you have among Christian people and never coming in contact with anything like it. But as God is my judge, I stand before Him to tell you that it is true.

I am doing all I can to teach the people here that Christ gave himself once for all that our sins might be forgiven; and that we are not under the law of Moses, but under the grace of Jesus Christ, and His grace is sufficient.

We have a church here, but there are very few real Christians. We owe $1,700 on the church.

The way we reach these people is to go from house to house and in our poor Spanish tell them that Christ died for them, and urge them not to serve idols but the living God. We print tracts in Spanish and give them. It takes money to do all this, and we are poor here like people are there. But I would feel condemned if I didn't tell you people about it so you can have a chance to help; for those who turn many to righteousness shall shine like the stars; and those who stay at home and keep the fires going, their work is as great as those who are on the battle front.

Another thing we have to contend with among the intelligent people is the "Jesus Only" doctrine. They preach about the same religion that the Baptists do, only that there is no God or Father or Holy Ghost, just Jesus only. He is all three, and that they must be baptized in Jesus name in water, and their diseases will be cured. I went to one of their baptisms, and the minister prayed for the angels to come down and trouble the waters of the pool that the diseases would go.

Now, we know that is the devil's work. Some of my very best friends were baptized in Jesus' name only. They are ones I love, and it takes courage to see them led by the devil.

Oh, how we need help at this place.

You may read this to your church if you think best, and ask them to help us all they can, and to pray for us especially.

Your niece,
LUCY L. HART.

Alberquerque, N. Mex.

THE DANCE

In this issue, there appears what purports to be a reply to the article that appeared under this caption last week. The writer of this reply seems to have overlooked the immoral tendencies of the dance, which are recognized by all the leading evangelists, churches, preachers and other moral agencies that are working for the welfare of the people. Like all forms of sin, it has its fascinations, and no doubt its pleasures, but the fact remains that the community and churches of Clanton cannot afford to tolerate such things and risk the virtue of their fair daughters. As to the comparison of the dance of today and that of many years ago, the latter were models of purity compared to many that are taught and practiced today. When the Methodist churches of the North placed a ban on the dance among their people because of its corruption, the dancing masters agreed to remove the objectionable features if the church would remove the ban from the dance.

Recreation is all right when it is wholesome and ennobling, but the embrace of a man and women in the undignified position of the dace cannot be said to be either of these.

So far as the Exchange Hotel is concerned, nothing was stated in the article against the cleanliness and general management of the hotel, but rather was complimentary of its splendid cuisine. The objection stated was the use allowed of this building to foster and encourage something that undermines the moral and spiritual welfare of our churches and community. As a hotel the Exchange is excellent when used exclusively for such purposes.—(Contributed.)

There will be an all day singing at this place on Sunday, the first day of May. Showalter books will be used. Everybody invited. Bring baskets for dinner. O. L. DeVAUGHN.

DEFENDING THE DANCE

Recently a dance was held in the city, and later an article appeared in this paper concerning this "public dance" as it was called.

Although this dance was not sarictly private, it would give the impression to one not informed that it was a public affair, judging from the negroes, "eye-witnesses" and other people who peered in from the outside.

Though the dance was largely attended by ladies and gentlemen of this and other cities, still if anyone was so eager to see the dance, there was room for the gentlemen on the inside so that they could have seen better and not be blocking the sidewalk; for there was nothing done that anyone would be ashamed of. Also this dance was well chaperoned, tho this was unnecessary, for all present were ladies and gentlemen.

Also this article attacked the Exchange Hotel. We wish to say for ourselves and others who have stopped there that the Exchange Hotel has gained its popularity by its cleanliness. We have been stopping at hotels all over Alabama for the past six years, and none of them excel the Exchange Hotel in Clanton for cleanliness and hospitality. These dances which we all enjoyed, were some of the examples of the hospitality and courtesy shown us, for which we are duly grateful.

We agree with the writer of the former article that if dancing is wrong it should be stopped; but because same people are prejudiced against, or don't care for it, is no cause whatever for abolishing it. Some people do not care for, in fact cannot stand olives, but this is no reason why anyone who enjoys them should not eat them whenever the opportunity affords.

Probably if the dances and other social gatherings were more frequent it might be a greater help to the city. For it would give the people healthful recreation, and give us a chance to meet our neighbors more. And as we all know, meeting other people prevent us becoming narrow minded.

As for the origin of the dance, we are not as well versed in the history of it as our former writer. But we cannot see where the former history of the dance has any bearing on the dance of today. Darwin says that man evolved from the monkey. That is no cause for alarm. It is merely up to us to see that we do not return to monkeys. Admitting that the dance originated in the slums if the better class of people are going to use it for recreation, it is very natural to suppose that they would make it a clean pleasure, which they have done. A man's daughter is better taken care of at a dancing school than she is in receiving company in her own home; but a lady will be a lady under any circumstances. And even if the dance did come from the slums, let us who use it now strive to keep it a wholesome, uplifting recreation, for the fact that it came from the slums has no bearing whatever on the dance of today. For were not some of our great preachers and evangelists once some of the greatest drunkards that ever darkened a barroom door? And the fact that they came from lowly families and were once vile and disreputable does not injure the good work they carry on today.

If we can see no evil effects derived from dancing, and our conscience tells us that there is none, then why should we not still enjoy it and still be as good, or better church members than ever. But if a person's conscience tells him he should not dance, then he most certainly should not; and if he does we should not be so narrow minded as to prevent us from giving him all credit for following the guides of his conscience and should respect his opinion, for everyone has a right to his own opinion. —(Contributed.)

STILL IS CAPTURED NEAR TEMPLE CHURCH

The deputies from the Sheriff's office on Monday went into the neighborhood of Temple Church about 3 or 4 miles east of Clanton and located a wild cat still in full operation out in an open field near the home of Tom Mims. The outfit was being attended by Oscie and Washie Mims, and the bug juice was pouring out of the iron pipe when the officers conducted the raid. Among the utensils that composed the outfit were a 60-gallon gasoline tank, an ice cream freezer, and several feet of iron pipe running through a trough of water.

The officers stated that anyone passing along the road near the field would have thought that the men were burning stumps or carrying on some kind of work connected with the farm. It was located out in the open, with no obstructions for several hundred yards on either side. The field was being cultivated, and showed signs of having been plowed recently.

The two men arrested were brought to Clanton and placed in jail; they were later released on bond of $1,000 each. Four gallons of whiskey was brought in from the stil.

Only as recently as Monday morning Ocie Mims plead guilty in the County Court to a charge of violating the prohibition laws, and in less than six hours the officers had him arrested at the still.

The planting of about an average acreage to cotton is progressing nicely this week.

The more feed we grow and save, the more stock we can afford to keep and the less our fertilizer bills will be. Therefore, less cotton will be needed regardless of what is is bringing this fall.

The cold snap of Sunday and Monday did considerable damage to the young garden truck in this locality, but a close study of the blackberry crop shows they are still safe. Let us all be duly grateful.

More dairy cows means more prosperity in Alabama. More dairy cows mean more pigs and chickens. More pigs and chickens mean more ready cash every day in the year. More ready cash every day in the year means more happy and contented farmers. More happy and contented farmers means greater progress along every line. For permanent prosperity Alabama must look to the soil. Commecial progress is only a side line—the spice in the cake—the cream in the coffee—and the match to the cigar.—Tuscaloosa News.

WANT STREET LIGHT

Quite a strong petition from the western section of the city is before the councilmen this week for a street light at the intersection of Second Avenue and West Street. A light there is badly needed and we hope they get it.

The banks of all the nearby creeks and branches are already worn smooth by the ardent devotions of the local piscatorial artists who have to render their service on foot. Now and then a minnow rises to the lure and happiness reigns.

Will DeShazo of Mulberry was in Clanton Tuesday. He said the rain at his place last Saturday was so hard that it strangled all the toad frogs.

W. T. Herrod of Plantersville was a visitor to Clanton Tuesday. He reports that a few farmers out his way had a stand of cotton up and got the same killed in the recent cold snap.

Mr. Felix Woodyard and family are spending a few days with relatives and friends in Chambers County. They made the trip over there in Mr. Woodyard's new flivver, piloted by the hand of Si Euell.

Hon. J. Osmond Middleton of Mobile, passing through Clanton Tuesday, stopped off for the night to see his friends and breathe a breath of the good old home atmosphere which he says lingers with him whithersoever he goeth.

M. D. Foshee is having his home remodeled. When completed the new structure will be a modern two story bungalow, and will be one of the best looking homes in Clanton.

ECLIPSE OF MOON TONIGHT

Germany is trying to act as if May 1st were no more important to her than the first of any other month.

WOLF! WOLF!

You all remember the story of the boy that shouted wolf when there was no wolf, and finally lost his pet lamb. It will be too late to cry wolf after July 1st. when the government makes the acreage report on cotton for if there is n reduction the cotton bears will eat us up again.

You alsow remember how spinners from twenty-three countries held the famous or rather "infamous" world cotton conference at New Orleans in the fall of 1919 and how they spread the propaganda in news stories that the world was naked and needed fifteen million bales of American cotton last year and that they would pay a good price for it. Our farmers thought they were telling the truth and tried to grow the fifteen million, even sacrificing growing food and feed crops to produce forty cent cotton. But, alas! it was sure enough wolf-wolf. Today we have our eyes open. We have no forty cent incentive. We have no market for seven million bales unsold cotton. If thirteen million bales are grown again this year it possibly will sell for five cents a pound and unless there is a big reduction in acreage thirteen million bales can easily be grown if weather conditions are favorable and if ere is slight bollweevil damags. So the safest plan for Alabama farmers is to stick to their diversified farming. Fill every barn or crib and smoke house and cellar and pantry with feed and food crops and with our gardens, truck crops, orchards, eggs, chickens, hogs, cows, milk,butter, iron, steel, coal, lime, graphite, gravel and mica industries and with our stores, banks, factories, furnaces shops, mills, rail roads and various trades operating in Alabama, we can easily see that a golden opportunity is provided for those who do not put all their eggs in a cotton basket.

About fourteen counties in South East Alabama that grew peanuts on a scale this year are as hard hit on peanuts as are the cotton farmers, as there is no market for peanuts. Congress has passed the Emergency Tarriff which places a duty on oriental oils and nuts. Therefore, it looks like there will be a better market for peanuts that are grown this year. In any event it will pay every farmer in Alabama to have some movable fences and grow some peanuts for his hogs. There is no crop that will excell them for hog feed, and farmers throughout Central and North Alabama can buy seed peanuts in southeast Alabama very cheap. Buy the runners for hogs.—M. C. ALLGOOD, Commissioner.

TAXATION IN ALABAMA

Editor Tuscaloosa News:

The older citizens of Tuscaloosa county well remember that, painted on the wall back of the Judge's desk in the county court room of the old court house that occupied the site of the present Alston building, and at such height as to be always seen over the head of a presiding Judge, the blindfolded figure of the Goddess of Justice. The right hand upholding a drawn sword, the left holding high a scale beam with its two suspended pans hanging even and level, and a scrool overhead bearing the Latin legend which, being shouted in English is "Let justice be done though the heavens fall."

Is there any justice in the State Tax commission, through the mouth of the Attorney Generald of the state trying to impress on the minds of the taxpayers of the state that the assessments of 1920 can not be reduced during 1921? According to published items in several of the dailies of the state, he has made that assertion. Is it a fact? Just take Sec. 884, which fixes the law. It says: "Whenever any assessments of real property shall have been made by adjuster, after personal inspection thereof, the value shall remain for two years, unless a re-valuation and equalization shall be made by order of the State Tax Commission, * * * or unless there shall be a change in the value of such real property, etc., in which event the assessment shall be increased or reduced to the extent only of the value of such increase or reduction ."

Will any man in the State, Official or what not, deny that there has been a very great reduction in all values since the assessment of 1920? You will find no man who has the cheek to write himself down as such an ass.

Should not our state officials act honestly with the taxpayers, or shall they continue to make them"sweat blood" untill they drain the last drop, and leave many of them a corpse.

The State Tax Commission has the power to order the county adjusters or board (as the case may be) to readjust the values to conform with present conditions. Will that commission do so? That depends on their patriotism, or on their amount of common sense. If they won't do that, each taxpayer can force a reduction by stict compliance with the methods laid down by the law itself. First, appeal to the adjuster, and if necessary, from him to the board of revenue, then to circuit court and jury and if necessary from circuit court to supreme court.

If the State Tax Commission will do the right thing they will get the applause of the people for being just. If they won't they will finally get what they well deserve.

"JUSTICE"

CORINTH

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me a space in your paper to say a few words from this place. Health of this community is fine at present. All the farmers seem to be "getting busy" with their farm work.

There will be singing at this place every second and fourth Sunday afternoons. We invite all lovers of music to come and be with us. We have Sunday School at nine o'clock every Sunday morning. We did not have a very large attendance at Sunday School last Sunday. Hoping we will have more next time.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson motored to Wetumpka Saturday.

Mr. B. J. Goss and family from Georgia is visiting their parents and daughter this week.

Rev. E. A. Norris and wife were visitors to Collins Chapel Sunday. We missed their presence in Sunday School.

Mr. W. B. Jones went to see his brother, Thomas Jones Saturday.

Let's don't forget the singing next Sunday.

OAK GROVE

Health here is good, except Mr. John Martin, who has been sick some time. We hope for his speedy recovery.

While Sunday was cold and there were chilly winds, we met and warmed our hearts in singing praises to Him from whom all good things are given. It was rumored that our singing was called off, yet we had a large crowd. Directors were, L. F. Grant, Grady Headley, J. B. Northcutt, B. A. Barnett, B. F. Murphy. Organists were Mr. Arkie Martin, Miss Flossie Cobb, and Miss Claudie Murphy. Singing was not called off, if it ever is you will see it in The Union-Banner.

There will be an all day singing at this place the Third Sunday in May. Come and bring your 1921 books.

We thank our Jemison friends and all others for their presence and assistance. Everybody is welcome at all times.

FRIENDSHIP NEWS

The farmers here are looking very sad now, as some of them have cotton up and it is mostly all killed by the cold weather. We are very glad to say there is no one on the sick list this week.

Our Sunday School and Prayer Service were excellent Sunday and Sunday night. On account of the cold weather, there were not many out Sunday night. Service was conducted by Mr. Clark, whom we were very glad to have with us. We invite him to come again.

Misses Mary Duke, Ressie Minor and J. D. Collins, Jr., attended the singing at Liberty Sunday P.M.

Miss Hazel Gore spent Sunday with Miss Myrtle Teel.

We want to announce that next Sunday and Sunday night are the regular preaching times here. Also the singing society will meet at 1:30 in the afternoon. We cordially invite each and every one to come and be with us, most especially those who come for the benefit of it.

Thanking the Editor for this space I will close.

BUSINESS HOUSES TO MOVE

According to present plans there are to be a number of changes in the location of prominent business houses in Clanton right away. Downs Hardware Company is moving into the old Pinckard Building, formerly occupied by H. F. Chandler & Co. The Smith Grocery Co., is moving into the building to be vacated by Downs Hardware Co. Fox's Auction House will move into the place to be vacated by Smith Grocery Co. The Boston Shoe Shop will move into the place of Fox's Auction House.

JUDGE REYNOLDS TO SPEAK

Judge L. H. Reynolds has accepted an invitation to speak before the Alabama League of Women Voters in Birmingham on Monday night, April 25th. His subject, of his own selection, is "The Necessity of Two Political Parties in Alabama."

In extending the invitation to Judge Reynolds to speak on this occasion, the officers of the League volunteered the information that they had learned Judge Reynolds would be a candidate for Governor of Alabama in the next campaign. Judge Reynolds does not state whether or not the ladies were correctly informed, but he will speak to them on what he regards as the most vital question touching the future of Alabama.

CLEAN UP CAMPAIGN

Now that the opening week of the Cean up Campaign has been so successfully launched, let no citizen be guilty of lagging in the follow-up. Are you a hindrance to your town? Or, are you doing all in your power to help those untiring women serving so faithfully on the various committees? See what you can do to help them. Give a word of encouragement and lend the helping hand. Clanton is your city and remember "one good example is more eloquent and more helpful than precept piled upon precept." And if you, Mr. Business man and Mr. Citizen are asleep, how can Clanton ever awaken to her wider opportunities?

Remember last week was the opening week of the clean up campaign. This week and the ones that follow are the "keep it up" weeks. If there is nothing around your own premises to be done, go and render your services to the "city clean and beautiful" committee. At any rate don't let the inspectors come and find us napping.

SINGING AT PROVIDENCE

The Christian Harmony Singing Convention convened at Providence, near Wessington Sunday. Attendance was good, but for the heavy rain on Saturday, wrecked bridges, washouts and swollen streams, the attendance would have been much larger. A goodly number of directors were present, the music was interesting. We noticed with interest the directing of two little boys, sons of Mr. J. E. Cobb and Mr. W. R. Scott. They bid fair to become noted music directors.

The dinner provided by the ladies was just fine. We noted with appreciation the lovely flowers placed in the church, which spoke volumes of appreciation for the singers.

At eleven o'clock Rev. Honeycutt delivered a good sermon.

From all viewpoints, the convention was good. Good will and interest abounded. A nice collection was secured for the Birmingham Music Auditorium.

It was announced at the close that Miss Jackson of Birmingham, Secretary of the State Convention, is expected to be at Cedar Grove the 1st Sunday in May.

SOCIETY AND PERSONALS

MRS. R. E. LUCKIE, Editor.

Shower for Bride to be.

Mrs. Grady Broadhead entertained on last Wednesday at a linen shower in compliment to Miss Haden Gullahorn of Birmingham, whose wedding was an interesting event of that city Saturday.

Quantities of flowers were placed throughout the apartments which were thrown into one for this occasion. The color scheme of pink and white predominated.

A unique feature was the showering of the gifts by the little bride, Mary Courtney Jones and Hal Broadhead who entered to the wedding march played by Mrs. Clint Jones. A contest, "The Wedding of Flowers," afforded much amusement, and Miss Roberta Curry having the most correct answers, was awarded a beautiful hand painted powder puff.

In the dining room pink was the color motif. Silver candelabras holding pink tapers were placed advantageously. The table was covered with a magnificent maderia cloth centered with a beautiful embossed cake which contained the heart of good wishes for the bride to be. Here a delicious plate luncheon was served.

Now that everything in town has commenced to take on a new appearance from the vigorous campaign being waged, not only that Clanton will be the most healthy town on the map, but also capture the prize, let us all commence to lay plans for permanent as well as visible results.

Spend the Day Party Given.

One of the loveliest as well as the most deightful of the early spring social functions was the beautifully appointed birthday luncheon at which Mrs. R. E. Luckie entertained on Friday. The fragrance and brightness of many spring flowers was an added attraction to the interior of the home for this occasion. Covers were laid for eight and a delightful five course menu was served. A pretty cut glass basket of cloth of gold roses graced the table. Games were enjoyed until late afternoon when the guests reluctantly took leave of their gracious hostess showering her with heartiest congratulations and good wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Reynolds and children went down to Montgomery Wednesday.

Miss Leona PipesEntertains.

Get Ready for Hot Weather
By Purifying the Blood

Many people simply melt in summer. They can't work or enjoy life. They lack vitality. Ten to one their blood is impoverished.

Rich, wholesome blood is the basis of vitality. If you have it, you sturdily withstand summer temperatures. But if your blood is poor, loaded with poisons that should be cast out, you are limp and useless in "shirt-sleeve" weather.

THIS WOMAN HOLDS ONE OF WORLD'S BIG JOBS.

EVANGELINE BOOTH.

daughter of the founder of the Salvation Army and who commands the organization in the United States. The Salvation Army began as a scorned bunch of street preachers and became one of the world's greatest religious and welfare bodies. Ex-Vice-President Marshall recently said of Miss Booth: "She is the greatest woman I ever met."

JAILED, MISS BOOTH PLEADS OUR CASE

COMMANDER OF SALVATION ARMY IN AMERICA BOOSTS PROGRAM FOR 1921.

With reports coming into headquarters of the Dixie Division, Salvation Army, daily, telling of the advancement of the 1921 home service program appeal all over Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and northwestern Florida, the attention of citizens of this section has naturally turned toward Miss Evangeline Booth, commander of the organization in the United States.

This unusual interest in her personality, it is said, was probably responsible for the revival of the story of how, when a young girl, she was arrested at Eastbourne, a wild, reckless seaport town near London, where she was doing some relief work in company with her father, the founder of the Salvation Army. She was imprisoned, and a young lawyer who had been attracted to her and who had offered to defend her broke all precedent by having her appear in court and plead her own case. She was discharged and released from prison.

It is said that her service, which at this time was characterized as exceedingly brave, has always remained the same, and her great popularity over the country is largely ascribed to her strong resolute will power and her faculty for making and holding friends.

Just now, Miss Booth is keenly interested in the 1921 home service program appeal, which is embodied in the community advisory board plan. Already many hundreds of communities have established these boards, and others are rapidly falling in line. The boards are described as "comprehensive committees of responsible citizens who associate themselves together to represent the Army and the public in the solution and remedying of those difficult social welfare problems that are impossible of solution by local methods and by minds untrained in this class of work." The board also attends to the adequate financing of the organization.

This practical community board plan, which brings the best citizens of a community together to aid the Salvation Army in the prevention of vice, crime and evil, as well as in treating and curing the evils already created, is being received with enthusiasm, it is reported from all parts of the Dixie Division. The boards function by discovering and reporting to the Salvation Army those cases determined impossible of solution by ordinary methods, locating emergency cases requiring attention of Army specialists and probably Army institutions, and in countless other ways.

Every form of service, from preaching the gospel to those who would not otherwise hear it, to reaching out kind, helping hands to the unfortunate women and girls, salvaging the man who is depraved and despairing, and placing a gentle corrective hand on the man who, unemployed and discontented and hungry, might become a community burden or a criminal, a' these things are included in the scope and range of Salvation Army practice.

Altogether, the work of the organization is listed as "sixteen major activities." The list is compresensive, including a panacea for every conceivable physical and spiritual ailment.

It is these things that Miss Booth is especially eager to promote, and this is what brings her so much to the forefront of attention at this time.

ALABAMA CONVENTION OF LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Arrangements have been completed for the annual convention of the Alabama League of Women Voters, meeting in Birmingham April 25th and 26th, and all women, whether League members or not, are invited to attend.

Railroads are offering special rates for ten or more from the same place, and the following hotels also offer special rates to Convention visitors: Tutwiler, Hillman, Molton and Morris. Hotel reservations should be made immediately.

The speaking before the League members and the general discussion by the gubernatorial candidates for the next campaign will be an interesting feature of the convention.

HARDING'S ADDRESS

Washington, April 18—"The very favorable impression made upon the public mind by the President's inaugural address has been very greatly strengthened by his first message to Congress," declares the Republican Publicity Association, thru its president, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "From various sources there come in recent weeks an effort to create the feeling that the President was wavering in his attitude toward the League of Nations—the issue upon which his election was chiefly determined. His message is not only a re-assurance to the country in this respect but it confirms the earlier conviction that he is a man of stable mind who can be depended upon in the Government.

"The President very properly relegated the League and Peace Treaty to the last place in his message, for they are among the very least of our national problem. Reduction of the burden of Government was treated in a most practical manner, for the President sets forth the only possible plan for reduction of taxes—reduced appropriations combined with diminished expenditures. He seeke to shirk none of his own responsibility for curtailment of the cost of the Government.

"The country will heartily approve not only his utterance on that subject but also his declaration that while the Government must not interfere with legitimate business neither can it tolerate restraint of trade or maintenance of prices by unnatural methods. He very appropriately called attention to the fact that reduced cost of basic production has been recorded but high cost of living has not yielded in like proportion, and that the maintained retail cost of perishable foods can not be justified.

"If any have entertained the fear that in an effort to encourage restoration of normal business conditions unfair practices would be overlooked, their fears are allayed. There will be no class favoritism in the Harding Adminstration. Rich and poor, labor and capital, organized and unorganized, will be accorded equal opportunity and held to similar responsibilities

"The Government is to be supreme over selfish interests and the rights of all to be protected from the encroachments of a few.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BANQUET

The Chamber of Commerce Banquet was pronounced by all as a great success when 40 of the members sat down to a splendid three-course meal served by the Wilson Hotel. The spirit of enthusiasm and cooperation, good fellowship and brotherhood ran high, and bespeaks for the future of this organization a very bright outlook.

Two important matters were considered last night as urgent business: The stopping of train No. 1 going south, and the consideration of building a road to the dam which is soon to be erected. In connection with these two matters the following resolutions were passed:—Whereas, there is a need and a sufficient patronage for a fast train leaving Clanton for the city of Montgomery, and Whereas No. 9, is a local train leaving at 8:09 a.m., and is the only train south from Clanton for the entire day; Therefore, we, the Clanton Chamber of Commerce, composed of 67 of the representative men of the city and county, do hereby heartily endorse an effort now being made and awaiting the decision of the supreme court to have train No. 1 made a flag stop at Clanton and respectfully request the authorities of the L. & N. Railroad Co., to make this change in their schedule as soon as possible. We desire also to express our desire to heartily cooperate with the L. & N. for the building up of Clanton and the mutual interests of both parties concerned.

The motion was moved by Mr. V. J. Heard and seconded by Mr. J. Watts Moore, and unanimously carried. A motion moved by Judge L. H. Reynolds and seconded by W. M. Adams met with the approval of the meeting that a committee be appointed to wait upon the L. & N. authorities with his resolution as representatives of the Chamber of Commerce.

In regard to the proposed road to the site of the new dam, Dr. Arthur Johnson moved and Mr. W. W. Fox seconded:—

That, in view of the proposed dam to be erected shortly by the Alabama Power Company, we the members of the Clanton Chamber of Commerce, endorse a systematic effort to build a road from Clanton to the site of the dam and recommend the appointment of a committee to have the road surveyed, cooperate with the commissioners, and investigate the possibilities of such an undertaking. The motion was unanimously carried by the Chamber and the following committee appointed:—C. F. Jones, W. T. Bean, M. D. Foshee, J. P. Lawrence, M. A. Gore, Grady Broadhead, J. B. Downs.

The address of Mr. O. L. Bunn, manager of the Birmingham Traffic Association and secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of that city, was much appreciated by all. For the proper establishment of the local Chamber of Commerce on a self-supporting basis, Mr. Bunn suggested some of the following things:—The appointment of an assistant to the Secretary, the organization of a traffic department, to audit the expense bills of the merchants, and file the freight rates, and secure for the merchants refunds of all overcharges in freight which are now probably being paid by the merchants.

The bringing of industrits to the city was touched upon by the speaker and the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce with the agricultural interests of the community, some of which are now being carried out. The strength of the Clanton Chamber of Commerce was highly commented upon by Mr. Bunn, which now stands at 64 paid up members and three honorary members. Others contemplate joining in the near future.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

The cold snap on Sunday somewhat interfered again with the attendence at Sunday School and preaching services but considering the weather they were very good. We were pleased to have Dr. Quisenberry of the Foreign Mission Board with us in the morning who spoke on the conditions in China under the influence of the heathen religions, and spoke of the many tragedies that he saw when visiting in that country. Baby girls killed and eaten by the dogs, and the feet of the girls bound exceedingly small, making it neccessary for them to use a stick to help them walk. His appeal in the light of the terrible conditions existing there was a strong one for the payment of our pledges to the campaign that are now due. With the Sunday School and congregation the church was well filled. At the conference afterwards the action of the Trustees in securing a loan from the banks on the notes in July was ratified by a standing vote, which makes it possible for us to proceed at once with the new building.

Three months leave of absence was also granted the pastor to visit his relatives in England whom he has not seen for over twelve years. He therefore expects to sail about the first week in June.

The pictures at night illustrating Christ with the Twelve Disciples were much appreciated.

The services will be held next Sunday as usual, Morning at 11 a. m. and Evening at 7:45 p. m At night the next set of pictures will be shown illustrating "Christ in Gethsemane." If the weather is fine we are expecting a crowded house as usual.

Visitors are always welcome to our services, and we invite those who have not yet joined to unite with us and help in the great undertaking before us, and enjoy the new building soon to be completed.

Washington.—President Harding, in his first address to Congress, announced that he would approve "a declaratory resolution" by Congress, "with qualifications essential to protect all our rights" which would "end the technical state of war against the Central Powers of Europe."

"The President added, however, that "it would be idle to declare for separate treaties of peace with the Central Powers on the assumption alone that these would be adequate because the situation is so involved that our peace engagements cannot ignore the old world relationships and the settlements already effected, nor is it desirable to do so in preserving our own rights and contracting our future relationships."

Although declaring unreservedly against "the existing League of Nations," the president said:

"The wiser course would seem to be the acceptance of the confirmation of our rights and interests as already provided, and to engage under the existing treaty, assuming, of course, that this can be satisfactorily accomplished by such explicit reservations and modifications as will secure our absolute freedom from inadvisable commitments and safeguard all our essential interests."

An association of nations, the president said, could not be founded until the world was at peace."

Foreign Relations.

No separate peace with the Central Powers "on the assumption alone that this would be adequate."

"The wiser course would seem to be. . . to engage under the existing treaty, assuming, of course, that this can be satisfactorily accomplished by such explicit reservations and modifications as will secure our absolute freedom of inadvisable commitments and safeguard all our essential interests. . . . No helpful society of nations can be founded on justice and committed to peace until the covenants reestablishing peace are sealed by the nations which were at war."

Taxation.

Readjustment of internal taxes and revision or repeal of "those taxes which have become unproductive and are so artificial and burdensome as to defeat their own purpose."

Tariff.

Instant tariff enactment, "emergency in character, and understood by our people that it is for the emergency only."

Railroads.

Efficient operation "at a cost within that which the traffic can best bear.

"Railroad rates and costs of operation must be reduced."

"The remaining obstacles, which are the heritance of capitalistic exploitation, must be removed and labor must join management in understanding that the public which pays is the public to be served and simple justice is the right and will continue to be the right of all the people."

Good Roads.

"The strengthening of laws governing federal aid."

Merchant Marine.

"The United States means to establish and maintain a great merchant marine."

Communications.

Private monopolies tending to prevent the development of needed facilities should be prohibited. Government-owned facilities, wherever possible without unduly interfering with private enterprise or government needs, should be made available for general usages."

Aviation.

"Regulation by the federal government and encouragement of aviation for development for military and civil purposes."

Servicemen.

"The American people expect Congress unfailingly to voice the gratitude of the republic in a generous and practical way to its defenders in the World War."

The immediate extension and utilization of government hospital facilities "to bring relief to the acute conditions most complained of."

Public Welfare.

"Coordination of various government agencies now working on the subject and endorsement of the pending maternity bill."

Lynching.

"Congress ought to wipe the stain of barbaric lynching from the banners of a free and orderly representative democracy. A proposal for commission with representatives of white and black race to study and report on the subject, the president said, "has real merit."

Army And Navy.

Early consideration of pending appropriation bills was urged. "The government is in accord with the wish to eliminate the burdens of heavy armament," said the president. "The United States will ever be in harmony with such a movement toward the higher attainments of peace. But we shall not entirely discard our agencies for defense until there is removed the need to defend. We are ready to co-operate with other nations to approximate armament, but merest prudence forbids that we disarm alone."

National Finance.

"The staggering load of war debt must be cared for in orderly funding and gradual liquidation. We shall hasten the solution and aid effectively in lifting the tax burdens if we strike resolutely at expenditure."

Administration.

Enactment of a national budget system and general reductions by efficient management of the cost of government.

Business.

"Less of government in business, as well as more business in government. . . . There is no challenge to honest and lawful business success. But government approval of fortunate, untrammelled business does not mean toleration of restraint of trade or of maintained prices by unnatural methods, anxious as we are to restore the onward flow of business it is fair to combine assurance and warning in one utterance."

Agriculture.

"The maintained retail costs in perishable foods cannot be justified. . . . Reduced costs of basic production has been recorded, but high cost of living has not yielded in like proportion. . . . Without the spirit of hostlity or haste in accusation of profiteering, some suitable inquiry by Congress might speed the price readjustment to normal relationship, with helpfulness to both producer and consumer. A measuring rod of fair prices will satisfy the country and give us a business revival to end all depression and unemployment."

These were the principal subjects touched on in the address, which was about 7,500 words in length and a large portion of which was devoted to the related subjects of peace, the League of Nations and the country's foreign policy.

The president's discussion of the peace question opened with a definite declaration against the existing League of Nations.

Peace Question.

"In the existing League of Nations, world-governing with its superpowers," said the president, "this republic will have no part. There can be no misinterpretation and there will be no betrayal of the deliberate expression of the American people in the recent election, and settled in our decision for ourselves, it is only fair to say to the world in general and to our associates in war, in particular, that the league covenant can have no sanction by us. . . . Manifestly the highest purpose of the League of Nations was defeated in linking it with the treaty of peace and making it the enforcing agency of the victors of the war. . . . There can be no prosperity for the fundamental purposes sought to be achieved by any such association so long as it is an organ of any particular treaty or committed to the attainment of the special aims of any nation or group of nations. . . In rejecting the league covenant and uttering that rejection to our people, and to the world, we make no surrender of our hope and aim for an association to promote peace, in which we would most heartily join. . . . In the national referendum (the last election) we pledged our efforts toward such association and the pledge will be faithfully kept. In the plight of policy and performance we told the American people we meant to seek an early establishment of peace. The United States alone among the Allied and Associated Powers continues in a technical state of war against the Central Powers of Europe."

Should Correct Condition.

"This anomalous condition ought not to be permitted to continue. To establish the state of technical peace without delay, I should approve a declaratory resolution by Congress to that effect with the qualifications essential to protect all our rights. Such action would be the simplest keeping of faith with ourselves and could in no sense be constructed as a desertion of those with whom we shared our sacrifices in war, for these powers already are at peace.

"Such a resolution should undertake to do no more than thus to declare the state of peace which all America craves. It must add no difficulty in effecting, with just reparations, the restoration for which all Europe yearns, and upon which the world's recovery must be founded. Neither former enemy nor ally can mistake America's position, because our attitude as to responsibility for the war and the necessity for just reparations already has had formal and very earnest expression.

"It would be unwise to undertake to make such a statement of future policy with respect to European affairs in such a declaration of a state of peace. In correcting the failure of the executive in negotiating the most important treaty in the history of the nation, to recognize the constituted powers of the Senate, we would go to the other extreme, equally objectionable if Congress or the Senate should assume the function of the executive. Our highest duty is the preservation of the constituted powers of each and the promotion of the spirit of co-operation, so essential to our common welfare.

"It would be idle to declare for separate treaties of peace with the Central Powers on the assumption that these alone would be adequate because the situation is so involved that our peace engagements cannot ignore the old world relationship and the settlements already effected, nor is it desirable to do so in preserving our own rights and contracting our future relationships.

The Wiser Course.

"The wiser course would seem to be the acceptance of the confirmation of our rights and interests as already provided and to engage under the existing treaty, assuming of course, that this can be satisfactorily accomplished by such explicit reservations and modifications as will secure our absolute freedom from inadvisable commitments and safeguard all our essential interests.

"Neither Congress nor the people needs my assurance that a request to negotiate needed treaties of peace would be as superfluous and unnecessary as it is technically ineffective, and I know in my own heart there is none who would wish to embarrass the executive in the performance of his duty when we are all so eager to turn disappointment and delay into gratifying accomplishment.

"The weariness at home and the disappointment to the world have been compensated in the proof that this republic will surrender none of the heritage of nationality, but our rights in international relationship have to be asserted; they require establishment in compacts of amity, our part in readjustment and restoration cannot be ignored, and must be defined.

"With the super-governing league definitely rejected and with the world so informed, and with the status of peace proclaimed at home we may proceed to negotiate the covenanted relationships so essential to the recognition of the rights everywhere of our own nation and play our full part in joining the peoples of the world in the pursuits of peace once more. Our obligations in effecting European tranquility because of war's involvments are not less impelling than our part in the war itself. This restoration must be wrought before the human procession can go onward again. We can be helpful because we are moved by no hatreds and harbor no fears. Helpfulness does not mean entanglement and participation in economic adjustments does not mean sponsorship for treaty commitments which do not concern us and in which we will have no part.

Peace Must Be Sealed.

"In an all-impelling wish to do the most and best for our own republic and maintain its high place among nations and at the same time make the fullest offering of justice to them, I shall invite in the most practical way the advice of the Senate, after acquainting it with all the conditions to be met and obligations to be discharged along with our rights to be safeguarded. Prudence in making the program, and confident cooperation in making it effective, cannot lead us far astray. We can render no effective service to humanity until we prove anew our own capacity for cooperation in the coordination of powers contemplated in the construction, and no covenants which ignore our associations in the war can be made for the future. Moreover no helpful society of nations can be founded on justice and committed to peace until the covenants reestablishing peace are sealed by the nations which were at war. To such accomplishment—to the complete reestablishment of peace and its contracted relationship to the realization of our aspirations, for nations, associated for world helpfulness without world government, shall address ourselves fully mindful of the high privilege and paramount duty of the United States in this critical period of the world."

I HAVE A MESSAGE FOR YOU

Please Read, and Govern Yourself Accordingly.

Dear Editor:

Please allow me space in your paper for this little message.

I had something of a vision the other night, and it repeated itself tonight; and I rise to write. The deception of the world was rolled before me in my vision, and something seemed to say, "If you keep silent and the people are lost, I will require their blood at your hands, but if you warn them you will be clear of their blood." I said, "Lord, they will not believe my report," and He said to me, "You are not responsible for that. Teach them to observe all things, and Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end."

The Lord says the people are blind; they do not know how much hypocricy they have. The deceitfulness of riches has come up and is choking out the Word. The people are trying to save their own lives, and they are going to lose them. They are robbing me, trying to save themselves. Will a man rob God? But ye have robbed me. Please read the third chapter of Malachi. God says, "The people have robbed me, yea for these many years, and I have stretched out my hand with a bloody war and collected millions after milions of dollars from them, and stained the soil of France with the blood of their sons until their fathers and mothers this country over were wailing and bathing their pillows with tears, and I looked in compassion upon them as they promised not to rob me any more. While this as going on I turned into the hands of common laborers from three to five, ten and even more dollars per day, and they wasted it and learned to live and spend it lavishly and let my cause suffer." Even now they dress in gay clothing; the cold drink stands are running over with money. Some have paid from seventy-five cents to one dollar and a half for just a bouquet of flowers, who perhaps have not paid that much in the church in two years. If you ask them for money for the church, they say they have not got it. The Devil says, "I can tell you how to get it. Put on a little side show; raffle off something, or else get the boys to bet on who is the prettiest girl." The Devil has substituted a way to get it, and let it make no difference whether they love the Lord or not.

I am expecting the Lord to turn over some more tables again. You would be surprised to know just how much of a hypocrit we are sometimes. Ananias and Sapphira were not struck dead because they kept back part of the price of their lands, but because they lied to God. They were practicing deception. You may ask men if they believe that the church should be ahead of everything, and they will most readily answer yes. Then some men will turn right around and put everything else ahead of the church. We have many different lodges and some of them are good. I will admit, if kept in their place. But we find in them men who will go to their lodge at night, pay up their dues and stay up until ten and eleven o'clock. Then on Sunday morning excuse themselves from going to their church and Sunday School, or paying anything into its treasury saying they feel too bad or they haven't any money. I wonder what their children think about "dad's" religion? Men will pay forty and fifty dollars a year for life insurance or on their property, and yet leave their souls without any insurance at all. That is saying nothing at all against insurance; yet men will say the church should be first. Do we prove it?

If we have a political, good road, or cotton association meeting, the court house is full, and the churches empty. If we have and Perachers and Workers meeting, anywhere from six to one dozen attend. Still we acknowledge that the Lord and His cause should come first.

This, my brother, is enough to cause you to stop and think a while—think who you are, where you are, and where you are going, for this is the very condition of many of our people, but not all, I'm glad to say.

A brother said the other day that he hadn't paid his pastor anything yet, but hoped to just as soon as he possibly could. He said he thought it would push him to have enough money to carry him though and it was so embarrassing to ask for credit these days; at the same time his Pastor was laboring under the very same embarrasment. This is a big dose but you need not take only your part of it. The directions says: eat a light supper, before retiring enter into your closet, shut the door, and take it while upon your knees. It may make your heart a little "shakey" but don't get scared for it is intended for the heart. You may be a little restless for a night or two, but if you get the desired results you won't have to take another dose like this. Only a little tonic to recover your strength.

If this escapes the waste basket, I may come again, if you wish.—(One who desires the prosperity of God's Kingdom.)

EXPLANATION FROM MR. GOSS

Editor Union-Banner:

Please publish the following in your paper for me.

There seems to be some misunderstanding or dissatisfaction caused by my announcement of the Fifth Sunday Meeting at Samaria Church, to be held May 28th and 29th. It seems to have been intended to have separate meetings entirely for the Unity and Chilton Co. Associations, which I know nothing of. So I announced the Samaria meeting through this paper, together with a list of churches in both associations that were in reasonable reach of this church. There had been talk of a meeting at New Salem for the Chilton County Association, but I could find out nothing about this meeting, not even from their pastor. So, I took it for granted that that meeing was not going to be held, but unfortunately and purely by accident, one of two other churches not many miles away and New Salem were left out of the published list, which as I say was purely an accident, and did not mean that they were not wanted, for any church or individual are perfectly welcome to attend and participate in any way they desire.

If the Chilton County Association wants a meeting it is perfectly satisfactory with us, and I think their churches should support it. And there are enough churches to furnish an overflow congregation at each meeting.

I hope the matter is clear and that no church or individual will think they have been slighted, for they have not been. I also hope that both meetings will be well attended and profitable.

Fraternaly,
W. A. GOSS.

TANLAC PROVED GLAD SURPRISE

HAS ENTIRELY RESTORED HER HEALTH—SHE FEELS LIKE A NEW WOMAN, SHE SAYS.

"I have taken many medicines, and spent hundreds of dollars looking for relief, but it was only when I got Tanlac that my troubles disappeared," said Mrs. A. Worley, of 111 Fifteenth St., Ashland, Ky.

"I had no appetite and my stomach was in such bad condition that gas would form, causing a terrible depression around my heart and almost shutting off my breath. I would become so nauseated that I could scarcely retain the little I did eat, and at times I had such awful headaches and dizzy spells I could hardly see.

"My kidneys don't bother me any deal and my back pained me so I couldn't bend over without suffering agony. I was almost a nervous wreck and at night sleep was almost impossible.

"Tanlac has certainly proved a glad surprise to me, for it has taken only two bottles to overcome all my troubles. My appetite is wonderful and I never feel a sign of indigestion or gas. My breathing is free and easy and I no longer have those dizzy spells or headaches.

"My kodneys don't bother me any more and my back is entirely free from pain. My nerves are in such good condition that I don't wake up during the night, and I'm so much better in every way I simply feel like a new person."

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

Don't Prod Your Liver to Action

NR Quickly Overcomes Biliousness, Constipation, Sick Headache. No Griping or Pain. Guaranteed.

The organs of digestion, assimilation and elimination—the stomach, liver and bowels—are closely allied, and the proper action of any of these organs is largely dependent upon the correct functioning of all the others.

"Whipping" your liver into action with calomel or forcing your bowels with irritating laxatives or strong cathartics is a great mistake. A better, safer plan is strengthening and toning the whole digestive and eliminative system with Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), which not only brings immediate relief, but genuine and lasting benefit. It acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys, improves digestion and assimilation, overcomes biliousness, corrects constipation and quickly relieves sick headache.

Get your system thoroughly cleansed and purified for once; stomach, liver and bowels working together in vigorous harmony, and you will not have to take medicine every day—just take one NR Tablet occasionally to keep your system in good condition and always feel your best. Remember it is easier and cheaper to keep well than it is to get well.

Get a 25c box and try it with the understanding that it must give you greater relief and benefit than any bowel or liver medicine you ever used or no pay. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

"OBSERVER" DIFFERS WITH GOV. KILBY

URGES PEOPLE OF CHILTON TO ATTEND MEETING AT THE COURT HOUSE HERE ON NEXT SATURDAY.

Mr. Editor:

I hope that the tax payers of Chilton County will turn out in force to the mass meeting called at the court house for next Saturday, for the purpose of discussing the tax situation in Alabama, and also to elect a delegation of citizens to attend the state meeting in Montgomery the week following. This matter is in no sense a party issue, but is of vital and urgent importance to every citizen of this oppressed commonwealth.

I also hope that some one will have on hand the communication from Gov. Kilby, printed in The Birmingham News of Sunday, and let it be read before the meeting.

Evidently he is getting somewhat wrought up over the fact that the tax payers are presuming to question the infalibility and justice of his rule and are preparing to institute an organized and systematic investigation of the tax situation in Alabama. He broadly intimates, in a rather paternal or imperialistic manner, that the people have no right to kick in the first place, and in the second place, they are all liars, imbeciles and numbsculls, banded together to rob the state of what justly belongs to it. He says that he and his sattellites have figured out the whole thing with absolute mathematical precision, and that while the people give in their tax under oath and then the equalizer raises it to the limit of his conscience, still, the property in Alabama is NOT assessed but 35 per cent of its valuation, while the law demands a 60 per cent value.

Can any sane and reasonable person suggest any plan of geometrical, algebraic, or other mathematical process of figuring that will enable a person to say to a farmer in Chilton or any other county, who had owned and lived on his farm for years, perhaps, that "you don't know what your place is worth; you don't know what interest it pays you on the investment; you don't really know anything about your own home. We have figured it out in Montgomery and it is worth as much again as you say it is, and you must not dispute our word about it." That is not only a reasonable, but a legitimate conclusion, to be drawn from his statements.

But he goes even further than that in his remarkable arraignment of the tax payers of Alabama. He grows almost vitriolic because, he says, some tax payers have actually questioned his wisdom in adding on so many extra feeders at the public crib—extra cogs in the political machine. He holds that that is none of the tax payers' business; and listen please, to the reason he gives why it does not concern the tax payers. Not one cent of their tax money goes into any of these extra salaries, for they are paid with money derived from convict labor. Will you kindly digest that statement? What machinations of circumstances has separated the tax payers of a state from being the state itself? If the convict department is a paying investment, in the name of liberty and democracy, who are entitled to reap the benefits of that investment? Is that just an emolument to be lavished at will by the administration on its friends and favorites, or is it money justly belonging to the state—the tax payers—and should be economically dispensed in reducing the burden of government borne by them?

Thousands of dollars are paid in yearly to the state as a license on motor driven vehicles, but not a dime of it goes into the general fund of the state to aid in making lighter the general burden borne by the long-suffering tax payer. Why? Because the "powers that be" without even a "by your leave" to the tax payers, have "set it aside" for road building, and, as most of you know, the only road building we are getting or likely to get out of it is a lot of plans and profiles of swamps and pig trails all over the state, many of them located in places where there will probably not be a road built in fifty years—or perhaps never. Still that motor vehicle license money keeps on coming in, but, not being a direct tax, according to Mr. Kilby's position, it like the convict money, is just loose cash, and as such, he has a perfect right to pay it out among his friends and, he infers, that he considers it the very summit of impudence and presumption for a tax payer to question his right to do what he pleases with it.

But, enough! Get the article up and have it read at the meeting in the court house next Saturday. That's all for this time.

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 6, this place. "I kept getting headaches and having to go to bed," continues Mrs. Williams describing the troubles from which she obtained relief through the use of Cardui. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me.

"I saw after taking some Cardui . . . that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person.

"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me . . . My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments.

DISTRICT SUNDAY SHOOL CONVENTION.

Last Sunday the Sunday School Convention of the Mulberry district had an interesting convention in the Fairview community at Mount Nebo Methodist Church.

Miss Della Williams of Verbena, Ala. who is the county Secretary of the Chilton Sunday School Association was present and made an interesting on "How to Make the Lesson Interesting." Miss Williams is a specialist in Sunday School work.

"Developing the Missionary Spirit in the Sunday School," was ably presented by Prof. J. C. Pattillo of Verbena.

Rev. D. M. Pearson pastor of the Clanton Methodist church discussed the subject, "The Teacher as a Soul Winner," in a very interesting and instructive manner. In fact, he rendered valuable assistance in making the day quite a success.

The state worker not being present, several impromptu talks were made on the subject, "An Efficient Sunday School."

Rev. P. G. Carter of the Clanton Baptist church arrived in time to do the subject justice on, "An Efficient Sunday School Teacher."

The people of the Fairview community never do things by halves. Those who could have been present missed a treat by not being with us, and sharing in the hospitality of the day and occasion.

LETTER FROM CHILTON BOY IN ATLANTA, GA.

Mr. D. O. Manning of Maplesville was in Clanton last Saturday and brought The Union-Banner a letter from one of his sons in Atlanta, and ask us to publish same in this week's paper in the hope that it might be of some benefit to other yong men. It is a good letter. The sentiments expressed by this young man would be becoming to any young man who goes out from his paternal fireside to make his mark in the world.

The Letter:

Dear Father:

Since returning to Atlanta I have made it a regular Sunday practice to attend Sunday School and preaching, and have also gone to several revival services. In each of these services I have been constantly reminded of my boyhood days when I went to church with you and mother, because the church I attend sings the same good old hymns that I used to hear you sing. This morning as we sang "I am Bound for the Promised land," I was especially touched, because in my imagination I could hear you singing; it was then that I determined to write you as a word of encouragement.

It is true that I have been taught a great deal about God and His love since I left home, but it was back at home when I used to go to church with you that I got my foundation for a Christion life. Since I left home I have had an opportunity to live both kinbs of life. The sinful life appears to be the happier of the two. But I have learned that a sinful happiness comes only from the surface, and when this surface is worn out it is a sad soul left bare. True happiness comes only from the soul of people who know God.

Just at this time I believe it stands with me to either make or break myself. I stand a good chance for promotion as soon as my time comes. It remains with me to be ready or stay where I am. Just a word of encouragement from you and your prayers mean a great deal to me. So remember that your prayers have not been in vain, and when the real testing time comes it is back to your fireside and those good old revivals attended with you that my mind finds sweetest peace.

I have already remained in Atlanta longer than I expected, but think now I shall be here severl weeks longer. I find my work more interesting all the time, but have the objections of having to move often. Had planned on settling down during the summer, but am very undecided right now.

We are having some wonderful weather over here now. Just the kind that makes me like to turn my footsteps toward the farm.

Your son,

RALPH

COMMENCEMENT AT THE COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL

The Chilton County High School will close a very successful year Friday, May 20th. Plans are being made for a very elaborate commencement. On Sunday, May 15, the commncement sermon will be delivered by Dr. Richard Hall, Vice-President of the Judson College. Thursday evening, May 19th the undergraduate play will be rendered. Friday evening the graduating class will have charge. Dr. J. S. Thomas of the University of Alabama will deliver the graduating address.

The tax payers of Chilton County held an enthusiastic meeting at the court house last Saturday and arranged for twenty-five delegates to attend the meeting in Montgomery Wednesday. W. B. Corley was elected chairman of the meeting Saturday, and opened the discussion with a pointed statement as to the purposes of the gathering and the things hoped to be accomplished. He was followed by Judge Reynolds in a short but very impressive speech on the subject of taxation. At the close of the meeting sixteen men present volunteered to go to the state meeting in Montgomery.

REPUBLICANS WORKING TO ELIMINATE NEGROES

NATIONAL COMMITTEE EXPECTED TO REQUIRE BONA FIDE VOTERS FROM SOUTH.

Harding Will Select Only High-Class Southern Office-Holders.

Washington, April 19.— The Republican party, acting officially,' is about to make a momentous decision as to the insitution which for 60 years has been a scandal,going by the name of " the Southern Delegates." The official action will be taken some time within the next few weeks.

There is not yet unanimity of opinion in the national committee. In fact the issue is the subject of controversy. But, if, as is most probable, the action is taken which represents the wish of the more moderate thinking leaders, including President Harding, some historic consequences will follow. The unrepresentative and otherwise undesirable "Southern Delegate" will disappear completely.

A scandal which in some degrees or another has been the subject of cynical comment in nearly every Republican national convention for a generation will end. Most important of all the Republican party in the South will stand exactly on the same ground as the Democratic party as regards the method of selecting delegates to national conventions. The end that is confidently expected, both by Republican national leaders and by representive men of both parties in the South, will be that the South will become a normal political section with two parties, the same as the North.

The step which will bring this about and which is expected to be taken will be the adoptionof a rule of the Republican national committee to the effect that no delegate will be received in any national convention who is not himself a qualified voter and who has not actually voted in his home state; and further, that no delegate will be received in whose selection, by primary or convention, any person has taken part who is not a qualified voter of the state, or who has not actually voted in any election under the laws of the state.

This rule of course, will be of universal application, but its inmmediate effect will be felt almost wholly in the South. In most of the Southern States there are state laws which prevent certain classes of negroes and others from voting unless they fulfill certain qualifications. These laws have been confirmed and declared constitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States.

The decision of the Republican national committee, if it is adopted, will be to stand squarely with the supreme court and prevent any man or group of men from taking part in the Republican machinery unless he is a qualified voter and has actually voted under the laws of his state. If a man is not a voter and has not voted and cannot vote in the election of his state he cannot be a delegate to the Republican national convention, or take part in giving a commission to any one else to be a delegate.

What has happened in the past is that just preceeding the Republican national conventions northern agents of candidates for the presidential nomination have gone into the South, usually with money; have inspired scandalous local conventions of negroes and others not voters under the laws of the state, and have thus acquired "packed" delegates. All that will end

A further step in the same direction will be to limit the whole number of Republican delegates from any state to a number fixed in proportion to the number of persons who actually can vote and do vote the Republican ticket in the state. This rule if adopted will reduce the present number of Republican delegates from the South from 121 to about 70.

After the new regime, if it goes through, it is confidently expected, both by Republican national leaders and also by representative men in the South, that a Republican party under local white leadership will quickly take root in the South and grow; as this genuine Republican party, made of legally quelified voters increases in the South, the number of delegates will of course, increase.

There is opposition to the proposal on the part of several "Old Gard" leaders who for many years have operated with Southern delegates on the old basis. But the determination to get away from the old scandal is unmistakable.

It is reflected, among other ways, in the easily apparent fact that the recommendtions to post-offices and other public positions in the South now being made to President Harding by Republican leaders who see the new light are confined to the kind of representative men who will be acceptable to the communities in which they will hold office.

They know that President Harding will not appoint any other kind. The old apprehension under which the South has lived for 60 years, that a Republican victory will be followed by the appointment to Southern offices of large numbers of locally unacceptable negroes and the sort of white men who trade upon the negro's position, will not appear in President Harding's administration.

It is a fact in spite of some recent insolated events, that the position of the negro in the South is steadily improving. In proportion as he acquires property, education and those other qualities which commend him to his white neighbors, he is permited to vote, to hold office, and otherwise to rise in the world.

This process has always been held back by the Republican policy that made political capital out of local preferable for unscrupuious whites to corrupt the less desirable class of negroes and use them as pawns. The evolution of the negro toward a better condition will be helped by the new Republican policy.

The formal action of the Republican committee in this matter will be decided sometimes within the next few weeks. Its political importance to the South and to the country generally will be historic.—Mark Sullivan in The Birmingham News.

MORE SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Editor Union-Banner:

Will you allow me space to say a few more words in regard to the signs of the times?

Now, we know that there is something exceedinglyl wrong. Let God's Word be true, if it makes every man a liar.

Now, His Word says: "The love of money is the root of all evil." It also says "The wisdom of this world is foolishness with God, for it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness, and again the Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain." Now, if God's Word be true, which we must admit that it is, we have located the trouble. On these two hang our law and the present gospels — quite different from the old law and the prophets.

Here is the two great commandments, on which all law the and prophets hang: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul and with all thy mind, and thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Quite a contrast between the old and the present. It is true that there are two kinds of wisdom—the wisdom of man and the wisdom of God. Both are essential, but we have followed after the wisdom of man too far. It has complicated our laws; it has caused us to bear burdens grievous to be borne. This wisdom is why we love money and lust after the flesh; but to fear God and keep His commandments is the beginning of spiritual wisdom, for which we should first seek. If we had spiritual wisdom, we would not have such love for money, which is the root of all evil. It is for the love of money that truth and righteousness don't prevail. It is why we have 26,000 people in Alabama at the point of starvation; it is why the state is filled with convicts; it is why we have so many widows and orphans left to bear the burdens of life with no one to care for them.

No wonder Governor Kilby can make his brags about what the convicts are paying into the state treasury. I favor a law, that when the state convicts a man for a crime, the state should become responsible for his wife and children, and put the profit of his labor for the support of his wife and children, after paying the cost of the court. But I am afraid the love of money will prohibit such laws. We have omitted the weightiest matter which is: faith, judgment, and mercy.

Respectfullly,

J. H. JACKSON,

Lomax, Alabama.

FIFTH SUNDAY MEETING AT NEW SALEM CHURCH

There will be a Fifth Sunday Meeting at New Salem Church, three miles east of Thorsby, May 28th and 29th, 1921, if the Lord wills. The brethren will take due notice and govern themselves accordingly.

I have been trying to hold up the Fifth Sunday Meeting for 25 years, and ever since the Chilton County Association was oragnized I have encouraged the thought of co-operation in the Chilton County and the Unity Associations. I don't remember of ever holding a meeting when both the associations were not represented, for which I was proud. I am always mighty glad to meet the Unity brethren. So, let's dismiss the thought of separate meetings and only think of two meetings for the on-going of the Kingdom in both associations. When it is convenient for the County brethren to visit the Unity meeting, do so, and when it is convenient for the Unity brethren to visit the County do so, and by so doing each meeting will be helpful to the other.

T. J. DEASON.

ANNUAL SINGING AT SALEM

A CARD FROM LAMAR JEFFERS

Editor The Union-Banner:—

Through the columns of your valuable paper allow me to express to the people my real and sincere appreciation of the honor done me in the recent Democratic primary.

I appreciate the kind and courteous treatment received from those who could not give me their support in the race, as well as from those who were on my side.

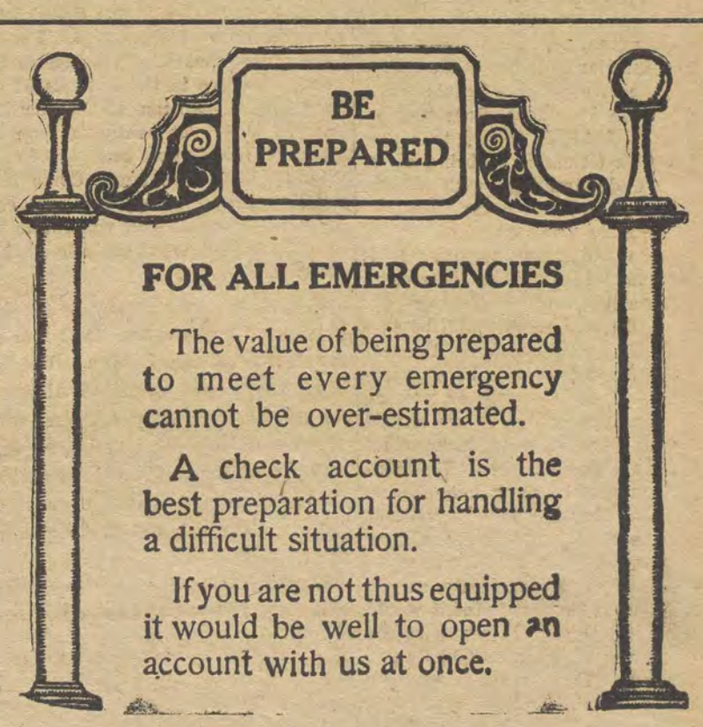
It is impossible for me to adequately express my heartfelt appreciation of the generous support given me. I shall certainly try to justify the expectations of the people of this district.

I can truthfully say that there is no illfeeling on my part toward anyone who could not give me their support. Every voter has a perfect right to choose between candidates, and I do not blame the friends of my honorable opponent for supporting him. Now however the primary is all over and done with, and I trust that all will come together in perfect accord for the special general election on June 7th. I hope every voter will consider it his or her individual responsibility, and that we may cast a full vote on that day. I will appreciate the support of every voter.

The newspapers of the district were fair and square, I thought, and I appreciate that attitude on their part.

Again thanking everybody, and with good wishes to all, I am,

Faithfully and cordially,



LAMAR JEFFERS,

Democratic Nominee for Congress.

Just received a fresh shipment of Jacobs Exquisite Candies.—Johnson Drug Company.

LONGSHORE GET BUSY!

The editor of The Union-Banner is of the opinion that the time is at hand for Judge Longshore to begin his campaign for Congress in this District. The Democratic primary is over and the nomination made. Now it is up to Longshore and Jeffers, Republican and Democrat. There is nothing to be gained by a further delay of the final contest. It is not long till June 7th, and a few days lost now will bring the election upon us.

We believe that Judge Longshore has a good fighting chance to win Blackmon's seat in the national Congress, and we are anxious to see him put up a scrop for it. He can make the fight. He has got all the argument on his side, and he has got the ability to make the people see his advantages. We call on him to do it and do it now. Get busy and stay busy until the 7th day of June.

The Fourth District of Alabama by all means ought to have a Republican Representative in the Congress of the United States. We have a chance to put one there if the proper work is done to win a few more voters to the Republican standard. We certainly cannot hope to win if we do not get into the fight and press our claims with the voters.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE

We have a few inquiries as to when the subscription price of The Union-Banner would be reduced. In answer to anyone who may be wondering about that, we are obliged to say right now that we do not see any prospects of an immediate reduction in the price of the paper. The costs of producing the paper compel us to maintain the price of $1.50 a year, if we get out a paper that is worth having. And that shall be our governing motive for the future.

We shall keep the price at $1.50 a year, and make the paper worth that price. If conditions arise that give us any margin in the cost of producing the paper, we had rather take up that margin in added improvements to the paper rather than use it in reducing the price. We feel like anyone who wants a county paper had rather pay $1.50 for it and get a paper worth the money than to have a cheaper paper at a cheaper price.

In the future we shall accept subscriptions to the paper under the following scale of prices: $1.50 for one year; $1.00 for eight months; 75c for six months; 50c for four months.

ROOSEVELT FOR TREATY

Washington, April 25.—Secretary of the Interior Fall has made public a letter received when a Senator from the former President Roosevelt on March 21, 1917, in regard to a new treaty with Colombia to bring about better understanding with Latin-America. The letter says:

"I greately liked your statement about the Colombian treaty. It is very strong. I, of course, most earnestly hope that your negotiations for a new and proper treaty will be successful. The propcsition on the last two pages seem to me to be eminently right. I feel exactly as you do about the type of treaty we should have with these Latin-American countries. He is going down to Washington, I understand, not long hence, and I think that it would be well for you to see him if possible. You keep in touch with Lodge and Kellogg, do you not? If some such treaty, as you suggest, could be negotiated,it would be a capital thing. It seems to me that Lodge and Kellogg could help you work it out. They feel very strongly that the administration may get through a new treaty if some of the objectionable matter is eliminated, and, of course, I would have much prefered some kind of a treaty that was good enough to warrant our supporting it—as would be eminently the case of your suggestions were adopted."

THE NEED OF TWO POLITICAL PARTIES IN ALABAMA

The Birmingham News, in reporting the speech of Judge Reynolds before the Alabama League of Women Voters in Birmingham Monday night, has the following to say:

Judge Reynolds' address on the need of two political parties in Alabama almost resolved the meeting into a joint debate. Col. Graves, the Democratic speaker, who opened the discussion, had drawn in somber colors the health, educational, and taxation problems of Alabama. As a result, he walked right into the argumentative net of the Republican speaker, so Judge Reynolds in opening his remarks said:

"Ladies, every time you see and hear a Democratic candidate for office in this state, the need of two political parties in Alabama is clearly demonstrated. Alabama has been in the hands of the Democratic party for more than 50 years, and yet Col. Graves tells you that one-third of our young men called for military duty in the late war were physically unfit for service. The reason those men were not physically fit is because you did not have two political parties in Alabama."

Loud applause greeted the opening statement of Judge Reynolds and as he warmed up to his discussion and illustrated his subject with stories from his political experiences, he very apparently won his audience because his talk was repeatedly interrupted with spontaneous applause from his auditors.

"We started 25 years ago with $2,000,000 taxes and ever since then we have elected a governor on a platform of retrenchment and economy. Taxes are now in the neighborhood of $10,000,000. How long have candidates for the governorship in this state talked about taking the convicts from the mines? Every time election comes around you are promised this. The convicts are still in the mines. The trouble with Alabama is that it has gone to sleep politically under one party rule. The people know they have a government, but it is out there in the mist somewhere and they can't see it. There has been no political competition. We have had plenty of reform politicians, but none in office, and it is time for you ladies to take the first great step that will put Alabama in the forefront of states in this nation."

Judge Reynolds took up the report of the Alabama Educational Commission, authorized by the 1919 legislature to investigate educational conditions, and quoted from that report to show that the proportion of illiteracy among the white population of the state is greater than it was in 1860. The condition of illiteracy, he said, had been attributed to the negro, but the report of the commission showed that it was not confined to the negro, but was proportionately as bad among the white people.

"It is a shame on our state that it stands at the foot of the ladder educationally," said the Judge. "Here is a commission composed of the best citizens of the state, all Democrats, who tell you in their own report about these astounding conditions. What's the cause? Why are we at the foot of the ladder educationally? If I had written that report and stood here and read it many of you ladies would not believe it, because I am a Republican. But there it is written by Democrats who have ruled your state for over 50 years.

"The people of the state are ready for a division into parties. We must have it if Alabama is to advance to its proper place among the sisterhood of states. They tell you there is danger in two parties, in the Republican party because of the negro. I want to say now that I do not believe we need the negro in the councils of either the Republican or Democratic party. Don't let sentiment control your vote; don't vote because of conditions fifty years ago. Come into the Republican party, and you can make it just what you want it to be in Alabama or anywhere else in this country."

Judge Reynolds himself is greatly pleased at the reception given him by the ladies of the League. He believes the women voters of Alabama are going to be greatly impressed with the need of two political parties, and that they will readily see and realize the disadvantage that has come to the state through one-party government in the past.

FOX AUCTION HOUSE MOVED

Mr. W. W. Fox, the famous auctioneer, has moved his stock of wares into the building on Main Street formerly occupied by the Smith Grocery Company. He has a much more commodious place in his new location, and is better than ever prepared to meet the demands of his customers in what ever they want in the way of new and second hand merchandise. He will conduct his regular auctions right on at the new place, and anybody who has anything they want to turn into cash may bring it to him and he will surely do the best job of it that anybody could expect of an auctioneer.

When the editor called on Mr. Fox in his new place he, in that familiar way, lit up his old pipe and proceeded to spill forth after this fashion:

"Well, Mack, you can tell the dear people that I have moved my business over here where I could be better prepared to serve them. I have put in a good stock of new goods in addition to my line of second-hand things and I guarantee to fill the bill every time a fellow comes in here and asks for something. I want you to impress the public with the fact that I buy for cash and sell for cash; therefore I am able to name a better price on my stuff than the fellow who deals in credit terms.

"Go on and tell the people that I have groceries and things here for them to eat; utensils and vessels in which to cook it, tables and dishes with which to serve it; and beds and mattresses on which to seep after satisfying their hunger. And to be sure, the man who trades with me can rest well at night, for his conscience will surely tell him that he has made a good deal.

"Then you can add that after he has done all these things, I can dress him up in a suit of clothes to go to meetin' in on Suuday."

Lastly Mr. Fox cautioned us to tell the people with tears in our eyes (tears here) how much he appreciates their patronage of the past, (and honestly we do believe he appreciates it really); and that he is going to try even harder than ever in the future to serve those who come to his place to trade, and do his level best to save them money in their transactions over his counter.

Hereafter, friends, when you hear the bell ring, remember that you want to go to the new location down on Main Street next to the Wyatt Drug Company.

HARMONY IN CONGRESS

Washington, April. 25—Complete harmony prevails in the concils of the Republican Congress and in relations with President Harding.

This is not due merely to the fact that a great party has returned to power and is anxious to find remedy for the burdens of the taxpayers. Nor is it caused by the seven million majority by which a majority of 170 was swept into power in the House and a majority of 22 gained accendancy in the Senate.

It is considered at the Capitol that it chief cause is the simplicity and mutual esteem in the relationship between Congress and the White House. Members call on the President and are warmly greeted, instead of being coldly received in order to give orders as in the last administration. The President in turn confers with the leaders in Congress upon legislation. Before he sent his message he consulted the members of the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate. All of this is done with the idea that it is the natural thing to do. Hence the President is making headway and hence, all Republicans in both Senate and House are on the qui vive to help each other and the President in helping the country.

Dr. V. J. Gragg was elected Chancellor for the Fourth District at the Alabama Medical Association in Montgomery last week. This places Dr. Gragg on the eligible list from which officers of the State Medical Association are elected, and it will not be a suprise to see him elevated to an important post in the organization next year.

Mr. W. W. Fox informs The Union-Banner that interest in the drainage project for the swamps around Clanton is again being aroused. He stated that Bob Kenan and another engineer of the state department at Motgomery were here Tuesday looking over the drainage area with an eye to making the survey of the lands proposed to be benefitted by the drainage.

Mr. L. E. Diefenderfer of Thorsby was in Clanton Tuesday. When questioned by the editor in regard to the Thorsby strawberry crop he stated that shippers of the fruit at Thorsby this season had already realized a net amount of $17,000, and that the amount would run about $20,000 when all the crop was marketed. Mr. Diefenderfer is Manager of the Thorsby Fruit and Truck Growers Association. According to his statement, the berries have helped Thorsby a great deal. The releasing of that much money must have been quite a boost for the people and the business houses in Thorsby.

Will DeShazo of Mulberry was in Clanton Wednesday.

STATE HEALTH AUTHORITIES INSPECT THE NEW DAM SITE

Method of Control of Mosquitoes to be Prescribed After Inspection.

Dr. S. W. Welch, State Health Officer and J. A. LaPrince, U. S. Public Health Expert, Tuesday inspected the site for the new dam to be constructed at Duncan's Riffle on the Coosa River. The object of their trip, it is stated, was to look over the contour line of the ground which will be submerged by the impounded water of the river after the power dam is completed.

Dr. Welch stated that methods will be prescribed before actual building operations on the new dam begin, for the control of mosquitoes. Dr. Welch states that following the building of the dam at Lock 12 a great deal of trouble was encountered through the breeding of mosquitoes in the backwater thus created.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

DODGE BROS. CHANGE DISTRIBUTORS IN THIS TERRITORY

Patterson & Ingalls Now Accredited Dealers in Dodge Brothers Motor Cars.

Coming as no small surprise to the Automobile Dealers in Alabama was the announcement that the well known firm of Patterson & Ingalls had given up the Ford Agency and had accepted appointment as the distributors of Dodge Brothers Motor Cars in the counties of Chilton, Coosa, Autauga, Lowndes, Bullock, Macon, Elmore and Montgomery.

This firm has been continuously in the Automobile business for sixteen years and during that time have handled many different makes of Automobiles, including the old E. M. F., the White Steamer, early Hudsons, Oldsmobiles, Packard, Scripps-Booth and for the past nine years the FORD.

They have been closely identified with the owner of automobiles in this section and their name has become a by word for service.

It is their intention to carry a complete stock of all necessary parts and with their shipping facilities they will be in position to make "same day" shipment of all orders.

This firm is composed of the two original partners, Myles G. Patterson and Charles E. Ingalls, both mechanics by profession and with years of experience in the automotive industry.

Their Sales Department consists of men of state-wide acquaintance with the policies of dealers in all makes of automobiles and the Service Department is made up of the strongest aggregation of up-to-the-minute mechanics of any shop in the South.

The slogan "SERVICE" is not an empty word with them but embodies all that the name implies and with the realization that Satisfied Customers are their best Advertisement, we promphesy that their new connection will be a most satisfactory and lasting one and we bespeak for them the good will and friendship of the readers of this paper.

Relieve Your Rheumatism For 25c.

NR does it by improving digestion, assimilation and elimination---the logical way.

NR Today—Relief or No Pay

There are three vital processes of human existence,—the digestion of food, the extraction of nourishment from it and the elimination of the waste.

Let anything interfere with these processes,—let them be interrupted or improperly carried on, and sickness of some kind follows.

Poor digestion and assimilation means failure to derive full nourishment from food and that in turn often means impoverished blood, weakness, anemia, etc. Poor elimination means an accumulation of waste matter which poisons the body, lowers vitality, decreases the power of resistance to disease and leads to the development of many serious ills.

Rheumatism,—due to some interference with the process of elimination, failure to get rid of certain body poisons,—cannot be expected to yield to any medicine that fails to correct the condition responsible for it. Could any reasonable person expect to rid himself of rheumatic pain as long as rheumatic poison is allowed to remain in the body.

Think of this. It explains the success of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) in so many cases where other medicines have failed. Thousands are using NR Tablets every day and getting relief. Why pay five or ten times as much for uncertain things? A 25c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), containing enough to last twenty-five days,—must help you, must give you prompt relief and satisfactory benefit or cost you nothing.

And Nature's Remedy is not only for the relief of rheumatism. It improves digestion, tones the liver, regulates biliary and bowel action, improves the blood and cleanses the whole system. You'll feel like a new person when you've taken NR Tablets a week. You've tried the expensive medicines and doctors, now make the real test. You'll get results this time. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

Last Thursday afternoon we enjoyed a baseball game here played by Clanton and Thorsby, and believe us, it was some game. "Something" from Clanton said they didn't see why Thorsby wanted to try to play Clanton, 'cause they never could beat, and we guess that this little "something" went home with a long face, for Thorsby did beat too, the score being 9 to 5. So come again, Clanton; our boys are well organized now and they'll beat you again if you do not practice up a bit.

The Thorsby Baseball and Athletic Club is just getting shaped up for business. The new suits have arrived and the boys cut quite a figure in the new uniforms. A very interesting game was played with Clanton last Tuesday when Thorsby beat by a score of 9 to 5. Go to it boys! We are with you.

BLANTON'S HYBRID IDEA

It remained for Representative Blanton, of Texas, to add a newdefinition to the encylopedia of tarriff lore. While debating the emergency tarriff bill in the House the other day Mr. Blanton seriously declared: "I will say this, that I am for a tarriff for revenue only. It is a Democratic principle, and I am standing on that principle. But I am in favor of putting only such tarriff on any article, farm article or otherwise, as not to form a subsidization, but only to be a difference in equalization of cost as between the cost of production in this country and in foreign countries. There is not an item in this bill that covers more than that difference in cost of production."

And then Mr. Blanton serves this warning on his Republican colleagues: "I want to put you on notice now, as to every bill that you bring in here with a tarriff provision in it that seeks to place a duty higher than the difference in the cost of production between this and foreign countries, that I am going to fight against it, and you have got to keep within that rule to get my vote."

Of course the whole principle of protection to American industries, championed by the Republican party since its organization, has been postulated on that difference in the cost of production "in this country and in foreign countries." while the Democratic party has championed the policy of free trade, opportunizing now and then with talk of a tarriff for revenue only, or what the late Representative, E. J. Hill, called "free trade with a handicap." Mr. Blanton's threat will not disturb the Republicans. He is cordially invited to make it good, and the majority of the voters of his State are for protection.

Secretary Hughes dispels the last illusion by calling Russia an economic vacuum. It was at least believed that Lenine was considerable of a windbag.

The American Legion is right in opposing "drives" for raising funds for soldier relief. The United States owes it to the soldiers to "care for those who bore the battle and for their widows and orphans," and under the leadership of a Republican President and a Republican Congress, the obligation will be met. Raising and disbursing funds for soldiers through "drives" is not only unnecessary but wasteful.

General Pershing — "We demand one quality in American citizenship and that is loyalty without stint and without reservation. We earnestly protest against the debasement of our American citizenship to promote political or warfare interference with the affairs of a friendly people."

Bill Goodgame of Thorsby was in Clanton Tuesday. Mr. Goodgame is advertising nitrate of soda in this weeks paper. He also sells other fertilizers at his place of business in Thorsby.

Takes Tanlac on His Hunting Trip

EUGENE BATES, WELL-KNOWN FLORIDA GUIDE, GIVES TANLAC CREDIT.

Well, I'm leaving shortly for a five months' fishing and hunting trip through the Everglades, and as Tanlac has helped me so much already I'm going to carry a supply along with me," said Eugune E. Bates, Atlantic Hotel, Tampa, Fla., as he made a purchase of the medicine of the Economical Drug Co., the other day.

Mr. Bates is well known in Florida, having for years been in local waters acting as pilot and taking out tourist parties on hunting and fishing trips.

I had been in a badly run-down condition for more than a year," said Mr. Bates, "and Tanlac has simply made a new man of me. Before taking the medicine my appetite was very poor and my digestion so bad that what little I did eat seemed to give me no strength.

"My stomach seemed sour and upset all the time and I was seldom free of gas and heartburn. My nerves got in such a bad condition I was very easily excited, couldn't sleep well, and always felt tired and worn out.

"Well I took several different medicines without getting relief, but Tanlac has fixed me upto where I am just fine. I eat anything I want and as much as I want without suffering with my stomach, sleep like a log nights and never feel tired and worn out. I like to tell what Tanlac has done for me, and above all I like to keep some on hand all the time."

UNFITTEST SURVIVAL

"The defect of most labor organizations," says Judge Gary, "is that they are planned to protect the poor worker from the good worker and try to level down—not to level up." And in nine cases out of ten, it is the poor worker, the chap who slacks in the tugs, who is the red-eyed radical demanding government ownership and an opportunity to make the tax payers stand for a wage-scale the height of which would be controlled only by the capacity of the public treasury. The good worker endeavors to earn his pay.

ICE CREAM FACTORY

Mr. J. Martin Nix of the Clanton Chero-Cola Bottling Company informs The Banner that he has closed a deal for the necessary machinery with which to manufacture ice cream on a commercial scale. Installation of the equipment will take place right away and in about three weeks he expects to be ready to turn out first-class ice cream at the rate of 100 gallons a day.

The ice cream business will be conducted from the same building as the Chero-Cola Bottling plant.

This industry, though small, will be a valuable addition to Clanton. We hope the users of ice cream throughout Chiton County will buy it from Mr. Nix and keep alive that valuable old slogan, "Trade at Home."

REV. LOWERY SAYS DANCING IS WRONG

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me space in your paper to say a few words about the Dance Question.

After reading the article in the last weeks issue of the Union-Banner, as a reply to an article in the issue before, I feel that I could not do justice to my self, to the cause which I represent and to the writer of the former article if I did not speak out my sentiment. Although this reply was so flimsy and thin that one could pitch straws through it from bottom to top; of course, the writer is to be pitied. He did his best to defend it and failed. He acknowledges that he is not familiar with the history of the dance, which I am sure is a fact; but says, let's purify it. It will take something with more cleansing power than any soap that our factories make to render dancing a fit subject for the church or for church members to engage in.

I think the writer of this reply defending the dance brought an indictment upon the homes of this country when he said a young lady was better taken care of in a dancing school than she was when she received company at her home. I pity the home that will allow this indictment to be true. He seems to think that if our conscience would allow us to dance, it was all right. It is a lamentable fact that some men's conscience have been so badly abused that it will allow them to do almost any thing.

I am informed that the writer of this reply is already out of a job and is gone; and I will say that Clanton is no worse off by that. Clanton is naturally looked upon as a model town for our county. It has already begun to clean up to make the town a more healthy place for physical man to live in. Now, I am sure that they will not over look the importance of making it healthy for the spiritual man. The other little towns and the county at large will be greatly affected by the standard of morals followed in Clanton; and we believe that there are enough good men and women in Clanton to give us a standard of morals worthy of imitation. It seemed that there was only one man in Clanton who had the kind of conscience that would allow him to defend the public dance.

I need not have written so much, but I wanted the writer of the first article against the dance to know that he was not alone. I heartily agree with him, and I think many others might at least say "amen."

PASTOR CARTER ABSENT

It is not necessary for us to state this week that Pastor Carter is out of pocket some way. Everybody will know that there is something wrong with him because they will not see any notices about the Clanton Baptist Church and the Chamber of Commerce in the paper. We don't know where he is nor what he is doing; all the visible evidence we have left of him is one of his driving gloves. Here is hoping that nothing bad has happened to him and that he may soon return.

CORINTH SINGING SOCIETY

Please allow me space in your paper to say a few words about the first meeting of our singing society.

We met last Sunday afternoon, April 24th, at 2:30 o'clock. The first business to come before us was to get an arranging committee. Bro. A. L. Robinson, chairman, appointed E. L. Jones, Lee Robinson and N. J. Jones arranging committee. After a song by A. L. Robinson the service was opened with prayer by E. L. Jones.

The following were the directors for the afternoon, singing only three songs each: N. J. Jones, J. R. Robinson, E. F. Taylor, J. A. Jones. We had an intermission of 10 minutes, after which we met back in the house. The following directed: Columbus H. Taylor, T. L. Robinson, A. M. Jones, Lee Robinson.

After a song by the chairman, we were dismissed with prayer by E. L. Jones. Organists for the day were Lee Robinson and Mamie Jones.

The people of Corinth want to thank all of the visiting singers and the hearers for coming and helping us in this good work. I think I can truthfully say that this singing was better than the average. We invite everybody to come, even if you can't sing. Come and be a hearer. We expect to meet in the society the next second Sunday afternoon in May. Come and bring your 1921 song books and help us.

With best wishes to all,
A. L. ROBINSON, Chm.,
ARCHIE JONES, Secy.

UNION GROVE

The singing at this place Sunday afternoon was attended by a large crowd. Owing to the absence of both our president and vice president, Bro. Lige Glass was elected president for the evening, who began by singing No. 93, followed with prayer by Bro. Jim Langston. Directors for the evening were: Leonard Glass, Charles Glass, Vester Campbell, Lige Glass, Vernon Northcutt, all sang from 20 to 30 minutes each. Organists for the evening were Misses Ellen Glass, Syble Langston, Lena Glass, Myrtle Dorminey. The class did their best and the singing was just simply grand.

We were made to rejoice that we were there when we heard those beautiful songs. It makes us more determined to live for the Master, so that we may some day be permitted to walk the golden streets of the New Jerusalem and listen to angels as they sing their sweet songs throughout eternity.

About four o'clock the singing was closed with song No. 118 and prayer by the acting president.

The society meets again at Oak Hill next Sunday p.m. at 2:00 o'clock. Now, let's everybody who possibly can, go and make Oak Hill ring again with praises to God.

Jonathon Bourne, Jr. The statement continues.

"Senator McCormick and Representative Good recently engaged in a friendly dispute as to whether the budget bureau to be provided for by Congress should be directly under the President or located in the Treasury Department. Thinking to avoid a more general controversy when their bills came before Congress, they decided to put the question up to Mr. Harding. But President Harding courteously declined to act as arbiter and requested the two solons to reach an agreement between themselves, which they proceeded to do, and the indications are that the new bill will provide that the budget bureau shall be located in the Treasury Department, both its director and assistant director to be appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate. The Secretary of the Treasury will have little connection with the work of the budget bureau, according to the present plan.

"The incident shows Mr. Harding's adherence to the policy of hands off so far as the legislative branch of the Government is concerned. There is to be no coercion of the legislative by the executive, nor is the legislative branch to dragoon the executive into protesting acquiescence in its demand. That was gently, but forcibly, intimated by Mr. Harding in his first address to Congress, when he said, in suggesting a resolution which should undertake to do no more than thus to declare the state of peace.

"It would be unwise to undertake to make a statement of future policy with respect to European affairs in such a declaration of a state of peace. In correcting the failure of the executive in negotiaing the most important treaty in the history of the nation, to recognize the constitutional powers of the Senate, we would go to the other extreme, equally objectionable, if Congress or the Senate should assume the function of the executive Our higest duty is the preservation of the constituted powers of each, and the promotion of the spirit of coperation so essential to our common welfare."

"To the younger generation of Americans such language may seem strange, such an attitude constrained. Within the period of their political consciousness they are unable to recall anything like these manifestations of regard for one of the great basic principles underlying American Constitutional Government, namely, the separation of its three branches—executive, legislative, and judicial—a trinity of function with oneness of purpose the liberty of the individual. Yet that principle has been contended for since organized government marked the first stept in civilization; and since that day, over 700 years ago, when the Tyrant John bowed to the barons at Runnymede, and guaranteed the principle in Magna Charta, it has found its highest development in the governmental evolution of the Anglo-Saxon race. The three branches have frequently contended for supremacy, but the principle has never been forgotten.

"In recent years in America the struggle for supremacy has been waged between the legislative and the executive, with the vast powers of patronage of the latter ever weakening the moral fiber of the former, until by 1918 Congress was but the slinking coistril of the dictator. All this is to be changed, not by reaction, but by the restoration to each branch of its constitutional dignity. We are a Republic once more.

Organists were Misses Thelma Farley, Alice Wyatt, Mary Duke and Mrs. L. Gillespie.

We were indeed pleased to have such a young though splendid leader with us, Mr. Gresham Lowery, the 15 year old son of Rev. W. P. Lowery. He is indeed a talented singer, and a splendid director.

There was preaching again Sunday night, and another large attendance was present. Bro. Lowery delivered another excellent sermon.

VOL. IX. CLANTON, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, MAY 5, 1921. NUMBER 6.

BEYOND THE ALPS LIES ITALY

Mr. Editor:

Away back in the days when ancient Rome was undisputed mistress of the world, with no more empires to conquer and with untold millions of wealth in taxes and war indemnities following like a mighty stream of gold into her coffers, she lapsed into a mad carnival of lasciviousness and extravagance that eclipsed anything in the way of wild and reckless waste that the mind of man could imagine. They appointed myriads of unscrupulous petty rulers, tax gatherers, spies, and other ignoble and unnecessary minions, whose duty it was to hound down the common people and fleece them of their hard earnings so that these parasites might be paid to keep up their nefarious work, and that the "government" might, at all times, have at its beck and call a sufficient number of "gun men" and hired assassins to quell quickly and effectively any sign of resentment or rebellion that might show its head among the citizens who were being kept in a state of abject serfdom and peony by being forced by taxation to finance this debaunched system of empire.

One day at the forum an old and honored Senator arose to address his colleagues and with a prophetic vision that seems to have been almost inspired, he began his remarks by saying: "Whom the gods destroy, they first make mad." He gave them a scathing epitome of the wild, wicked and disgraceful record being written daily by the government in the very life-blood of its citizenry and told them that a doom of inevitable ruin would shatter that vast empire to its foundations, and that speedily, unless they returned to the paths of equity and justice. They laughed him to scorn, heeded not his prophetic appeal but went reeling on in their drunken revel of power. In a few short years vengance came sure and swift. This great world power tottered on its throne for a brief season and then toppled into the gulf of oblivion and became only a ghastly memory and a burning example of misrule and oppression for all nations to see and profit by, if they have got the honesty and brains to do so.

I don't know whether they issued "road bonds" in those days or not, but some historian, Gibbons, I believe tells us they built many excellent roads, one especially, the Appian Way, which cost over 2,000,000 lives and absolutely impoverished and made destitute one of the most important and wealthy provinces of the empire. They did a good job, however, for that road is standing in fair condition to this day.

If I can read the signs of the times at all, this great country of ours right now is dangerously near the same condition that Rome was in when that old Senator sounded his historical warning in the Forum. Our rulers have grown money mad and the pitiful cries of a people oppressed beyond endurance, have ceased to be heard at all. They have quit estimating the cost of anything since the war, and money now that counts in smaller denominations than billions is too insignificant to even attract their attention. The United States, as a nation, must either return to sanity and a real realization of what a government "of, by and for the people" is, of its own accord, or it may look forward with absolute certainey to a fate similar to the one visited upon ancient Rome.

Is it possible that freedom is a myth and that people cannot govern themselves? "Whom the gods destroy, they first make mad." The mad revel is certainly on in the United States.

But let's get nearer home. Did you ever see a cuttle fish? They are not much fighters but they are the devil on making a get-away. If you get one cornered or in a tight he exudes a great quantity of black fluid and discolors the water to such an extent that you can't see him as he hikes for safety. Mr. Kilby is like that. That Tax League Convention in Montgomery the other day got him in a tight. He came out in the papers a day or so thereafter with an attempt to muddy the water while he dodges the issue. But he has been having to do the cuttle fish act so frequently of late that his coloring matter must have been exhausted for it failed to work and his attempt at camouflage was not only ludicrous, it was pitiful. He went on to say that if the people of Alabama insisted on a tax reduction that Muscle Shoals dam would never be built. We would get no more investments from other big hydro-electric companies. We would receive no more aid in enforcing our laws, no road money, no school money etc., etc. In other words, according to his statement, the United States government would just simply kick Alabama out of the ring and disinherit us entirely. Such talk as that, to emanate from the governor of a state, is sufficient to cause a blush of shame to mantle the cheek of every adherent he has or ever did have. Talk like that would hardly fool the second grade pupils in school.

By what process of reasoning could any one make it appear that the proper adjustment of state and county taxes on real estate would militate either for or against the completion of Muscle Shoals dam, the building of the Mobile terminals, or any other government enterprise. Not one penny of that money goes to the federal treasury and it is self-evidently worse than foolish to set up such a plea.

As for assistance in enforcing our laws.—How do you like that idea? Is Alabama in a state of insurrection againsht the federal government? If not then we have no need and the general government has no costitutional right to invade our borders with an armed force to "assist" us in enforcing the law. Their presence here is direct usurpation connived at and endorsed by Mr. Kilby. My humble opinion is that this irresponsible "floating gang" of so-called law-enforcement officers have done more in Alabama to bring all law, and especially the prohibition law, into disrepute than any five hundred other causes. The brutal searchers of your homes without due prosess of law, the hundreds of innocent people who have been arrested and haled before the courts and grand juries without even evidence enough to find a bill, have justly created in the minds of the people a contempt for the organization and a disgust at a system of alleged democracy and freedom that permits such things to exist.

In regard to federal aid for schools, I have only this to say: It will be the worst thing that ever has happened to any land of freedom, both civil and religious, if ever Congress puts through a bill like that and it goes into operation, for on that day we will have surrendered in toto to Catholicism both root and branch. Catholics are pretending to fight that bill in the open, but in reality they are the very authors and instigators of it from its inception, and there are members in the House and Senate today who will bear me out in that statement privately but who fear to uncover the plot in public.

It is also argued by Mr. Kilby that if you reduce taxation in one place you will have to add it on in another. You would merely shift the burden from one shoulder to the other. All his arguments are based on the assumption that the money must come from some source.

Now, Mr. Kilby, change your point of view for once and look at it from the other man's position. We feel like the state department should economize a little. How about cutting out all these needless tax adjusters and letting the assessor, who is elected by the people and responsible to them, do his legitimate work? How about layin' off Conrad Austin and his crowd of expensixe satelites and allowing the various sheriffs to function according to law? How about calling in all this expensive surveying and engineerig crew and wait like you do at your shops until you need them before you put them on the pay roll? And so on and so on.

I will be plain with you, Mr. Kilby and tell you that the people want and expect their business at the capital to be put on a close business basis, and when that is done they know their taxes can reduce 50 per cent and still have a surplus in the treasury as a nest egg. So long.

UNCLE DOCK WELLS WRITES

Editor Union-Banner:

Will you kindly allow me space in your columns to say a few words, that I hope may be timely just now. Your paper is a source of great pleasure to me every week, and I almost always find something in it that is a benefit to me.

I was very much delighted by a communication last week from Bro. Jackson of Lomax. I feel that he did some loud preaching and I believe it was every word the truth. I know he meant what he wrote. The bible says that "the mind of the Lord will be with his people," hence, we should write our minds and thoughts together and let it be known one to another, just like those good people did in Montgomery last Wednesday in a united effort to better the times both spiritually and financially. "United we stand, divided we fall."

I for one, believe the tax league is a good movement in the right direction and will win out in the end, provided the people don't become too badly frightened at the "beast that rose up out of the sea with ten horns" for let us all remember that he finally lost his power.

For further information about the "beast" read Rev. 13th chapter.

Yours for the continued success of The Banner.

SINGING AT CEDAR GROVE

The County Convention using the Harp and Harmony Music Books was held at Cedar Grove Saturday and Sunday.

Officers were elected for the ensuing year, as follows: President, Z. J. Jones, Jemison; Vice-President, M. V. Lawley, Montevallo; Secretary, J. Lawrence Hayes, Clanton. People were there by the acres, practically from Randolph to Verbena. The music was great; social features and good will abundant. Dinner was excellent and abundant.

Among the many visitors we noted M. V. Lawley of Montevallo, T. C. Jackson of Sylacauga, Sheriff Gore, Prof. J. L. Johnson, B. L. Cobb, Tax Assessor S. M. Pate, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Crumpton, our genial young friend James Barrett of the U. S. Navy.

But the center of attraction was the singing and address of Miss Bettie Jackson of Birmingham, Alabama's great singer. She held the great audience spell bound, waves of emotion swept over the people as she sang the songs of the sweet long ago.

This session will be long and sweetly remembered. We looked for the young editor, but failed to find him in the great crowd. Cedar Grove did her part nobly.

Miss Jackson's address was about the music auditorium in Birmingham, to be used by all Sacred Music singers new and old. It is a great movement. The building will belong to the singers of Alabama, old and modern. All sacred music lovers are invited to help erect it.

Mr. R. W. Scott of Thorsby, with his wife and daughters, Miss Mattie and Mrs. Gibbons, were visitors to The Union-Banner Office last Saturday.

NEW CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH BREAKING GROUND CEREMONY

Work on the new building for the Clanton Baptist Church will begin on next Monday, May the 9th. In honor of this occasion simple but interesting services will be held on the new site behind the court house at 3 p.m. Sunday Afternoon, to which the entire public is cordially inivted. Brief addresses will be given by interesting speakers appropriate to the occasion. In this way we purpose to celebrate the beginning of a worthy enterprise that has been talked of for some fifteen or twenty five years, and which marks a very important epoch in the life of the Baptist people not only of Clanton but of the county and entire denomination. From a civic point of view the splendid building now to be erected will be a splendid addition to the city and community, and will add not only to its spiritual life ,but to its future growth and development. The building will cost from $25,000 to $30,000, and will be modern in every respect and one of the best in this section of the State. Therefore, we trust there will be a large company of people to share with us the joy and pleasure in the commencement of this great and glorious enterprise.

P. G. CARTER, Pastor.

CLEAN UP CEMETERY

Those who are interested in cleaning up the cemetery are requested to meet at the cemetery on Friday morning, May 6th, in accord with the clean up movement of the city and in keeping with our sacred duty to those who have gone before. This is part of the requirements of the clean up campaign now going on throughout the State, in which Clanton is contesting.

This is not only our duty, but it will add much to the civic pride. All are requested to co-operate in this movement.

PEOPLES TELEPHONE MEETING

The Board of Directors of The Peoples Telephone Company has called a meeting of all phone holders who have paid central fees for this year, to be at the court house in Clanton on next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. There is a matter of great importance to be considered, and it is urged that all phone holders who have paid their central fees be present.

If any line wishes to send their director to represent them, they may do so, thus avoiding the necessity for every phone holder to come.

REYNOLDS THROWS A BOMB INTO CAMP OF DEMOCRATS

His Speech Before League of Women Voters Shakes up Dry Bones of Democratic Leadership.

The best evidence of the consternation which Judge Reynolds threw into the camp of the Democratic party in Alabama when he spoke before the Alabama League of Women Voters in Birmingham last week is the editorial which appeared in the Birmingham News of Wednesday, April 27th. The News is the most powerful Democratic organ in Alabama, and the things they had to say about Judge Reynolds' speech must have caused Democrats like Nathan Miller and Bibb Graves to tremble in their boots.

We reproduce below the entire editorial of The News:

If there is anything of a political nature to be deduced from the meeting of women voters of the State, just adjourned in Birmingham, it is that the women are intensely eager to learn how they may make themselves effective as members of the body politic, and are animated by a resolution actually to be effective as such. That is the first deduction. The second is that the main body of women voters are going to be more independent in casting their ballots than are the men, if the meeting Monday night is any criterion; and the third deduction is that the leaders in the women's organization sense the fact that if the women can be kept independent in politics, swinging their strength where the best prospect of good government lies, the women can work a great rejuvenation in governmental matters.

As evidence of the fact that the women are weighing judiciously what is offered, the time-frazzled expressions about the "grand old Democratic Party," and so on, were not provocative of any amount of enthusiasm; but when Judge Reynolds, Republican, and probable candidate for Governor, walked through the gap in the fence let down by one of the speakers, he did rouse the women to a considerable degree of interest and enthusiasm when he declared:

"Ladies, every time you see and hear a Democratic candidate for office in this state, the need of two political parties in Alabama is clearly demonstrated. Alabama has been in the hands of the Democratic party for more than 50 years, and yet Col. Graves tells you that one-third of our young men called for military duty in the late war were physically unfit for service. The reason those men were not physically fit is because you did not have two political parties in Alabama."

"We started 25 years ago with $2,000,000 taxes and ever since then we have elected a governor on a platform of retrenchment and economy. Taxes are now in the neighborhood of $10,000,000. How long have candidates for the governorship in this state talked about taking the convicts from the mines? Every time election comes around you are promised this. The convicts are still in the mines. The trouble with Alabama is that it has gone to sleep politically under one party rule. The people know they have a government, but it is out there in the mist somewhere and they can't see it. There has been no political competition. We have had plenty of reform politicians, but none in office, and it is time for you ladies to take the first great step that will put Alabama in the forefront of states in this nation."

Judge Reynolds was applauded constantly and pointedly. Evidently his words found a responsive chord in the minds of many. Then he went on to criticize conditions as to illiteracy in Alabama and charged:

"It is a shame on our state that it stands at the foot of the ladder educationally," said the Judge. "Here is a commission composed of the best citizens of the state, all Democrats, who tell you in their own report about these astounding conditions. What's the cause? Why are we at the foot of the ladder educationally? If I had written that report and stood here and read it many of you ladies would not believe it, because I am a Republican. But there it is written by Democrats who have ruled your state for over 50 years.

"The people of the state are ready for a division into parties. We must have it if Alabama is to advance to its proper place among the sisterhood of states. They tell you there is danger in two parties, in the Republican party because of the negro. I want to say now that I do not believe we need the negro in the councils of either the Republican or Democratic party. Don't let sentiment control your vote; don't vote because of conditions fifty years ago. Come into the Republican party, and you can make it just what you want it to be in Alabama or anywhere else in this country."

The News is writing this editorial mainly to sound a warning to the Democrats of Alabama. It is an independent Democratic paper, and believes in the principles of Democracy, but it believes that Democracy must either meet these charges or render such charges ineffective in future.

As stated by Col. Graves, it is easy to criticize, but a good stout dose of criticism sometimes will make a party or an individual out of self-satisfied complacency. These new voters were mightily taken with Judge Reynolds' attack—he is a pleasing and vigorous speaker, convincing in his manner and militant in his beliefs. A few more like him going around over the state will do much to shake up the dry bones and create a genuine alarm in Bourbon Democratic circles.

Of course there are answers—some good and some not so good—to the charges he makes. Excuses are at best sorry answers, and "ifs" and "buts" do not carry conviction. The Democratic party in Alabama must rouse, must become really progressive, and must offer something constructive to attract the new voters, or it may be forced with unexpected strength to be polled against it under some "progressive" or other movement which does not openly call itself Republican, but which may be but first cousin to that party. It is time to face conditions squarely and the incident Monday night points to conditions which can no longer be ignored.

Platitudes and catchpenny phrases will not serve. The negro is becoming less a political bogey, because, as Judge Reynolds says, the Republicans do not need him, and certainly the Democrats do not, and if the Republicans under Harding show that they do not propose to make the party in the South one of negroes and nondescripts, then there is a real menace and a real possibility of a live Republican party in this region, with a heavy percentage of women in it.

MIDWAY HAPPENINGS

Last Saturday afternoon Judge Reynolds made one of the best speeches the people of Midway have heard for a long time, in fact we believe it was the best speech the Judge ever made. His talk was along the main issues before the people of Alabama at this particular time.

In his first remarks he took up our present tax system, the unreasonableness of it, and the main cause which led up to such conditions, viz: the one party system of our state.

Among other things the judge spoke of the general good we could hope to receive if we send Judge Longshore to Washington. He also mentioned the fact that if we send Mr. Jeffers about the only thing that we can hope to receive will be a few garden seed occasionally, because of the fact that Mr. Jeffers will be in the minority. Aud further, should the Democrats be in power, they are naturally satisfied with the Solid South, as it used to be, consequently it would be useless for them to spend any effort whatever for the benefit of our state. If Judge Longshore succeeds in going to Washington, this will be somewhat different, as it will cause some notice of the state.

We had a good many Democrats at this speaking, and the Judge made mention of the fact that he was very glad indeed for them to be present. That as Christ came to earth to save the lost; that politically speaking, he was doing his utmost to save the lost Democrats and put them on the right road.

Quite a large crowd was in attendance, and we must thank all for the splendid attention accorded the speaker. Never was better attention given a speaker.

GASOLINE NOT REDUCED HERE

Frank Culpepper says our little news item of last week about the price of gasoline being reduced has caused him to get an undue amount of "cussing." He asks us to state that it was not his company that announced the reduction. The price was lowered by the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, acording to newspaper reports. The oil business here is done under the Standard Oil Co., of Kentucky. Mr. Culpepper asks us to tell the flivverists of Chilton County that just as soon as his company authorizes a reducton in the price of gasoline, he shall lose no time in passing it on to them.

Mr. Guy Roberts is in Montgomery this week on business.

COLLINS CHAPEL

Dear Editor:

Will you allow me a small space in your paper to say a few words in regard of this place?

Our Sunday School is progressing nicely. Farmers are very busy.

The record was broken at Mr. A. J. Davis' last Sunday. Those who spent the day there were: Mr. J. D. Bean and family, Mrs. Robert Bean and children, Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Littleton, Mrs. Clara Littlefield and two children, Thelma and Rosmond, Misses Ruth and Jewell Martin and Estelle Collins.

There was a large crowd from here who attended the singing at Cedar Grove last Sunday.

Mr. Adolphus Martin and Miss Claudie Davis went to the concert at New Salem last Saturday night; also Mr. Charles Collins from Birmingham and Miss Estelle Colins.

Mr. Delbert Collins has had for his guest this week Mr. Charles Collins. They spent the week fishing and hunting.

Who ever saw cuckle-burs mature a crop before late September, or crabgrass head out in full feathers in April?

Ye old settlers with elastic memory may now hop to the front.

There has been exhibited on our streets this week samples of both with their fall-of-the-year togs on in perfect condition.

Did we have our spring and summer during the mild days of the winter solstice, and are the icy breezes that wafted May in this year grim harbingers of a winter season to stage its stunts during June, July and August?

The weather man has lost his bearings and predicts in vain. The old time weather prophet has draped his whiskers in crepe and retired in sorrow from the game. Early gardeners hold saddened caucuses on the street corners and amble away with gloom depicted in every feature.

Many inquiries are heard for the correct reference to that Scripture that says: "We will not know winter from summer, but by the budding of the trees," or words to that effect.

To say the least of it, the whole scheme of things seems to be out of joint.

Entire Line of Implements Now at LOWER PRICES

In view of the recent reduction in the price of steel, we now announce lower prices for our entire line of farm machines and implements not covered by reductions previously announced.

All lower prices take effect at once

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since . . . I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too.

SAYS TOOTH PASTE RUINS THE TEETH.

Prominent dental authorities recently found after extensive investigating that many of our most popular tooth pastes actually cause decay instead of preventing it.

Due to their abrasive nature, they report, tooth pastes and powders very often wear away the enamel on teeth allowing decay to set in and causing cavities. They also fail to penetrate the gum pockets where the germs of pyorrhea and other dangerous mouth diseases breed.

Instead of teeth-scratching, gum-tearing and inefficient tooth pastes and powders many dentists now recommend a new liquid dentrifice called Steroline, which does away with all the disadvantages of tooth paste. Being a liquid, Steroline readily gets into even the tiniest crevces, cleansng them thoroughly. In addition it makes an excellent mouth wash—a few drop night and morning keeps the mouth cool and sweet and acts as a preventiveof the many diseases contracted through the mouth. Sold and highly recommended by Upchurch Drug Co. Money back if you want it.

THORSBY NEWS

THORSBY vs. HELENA

From reports, one of the best small town games of ball wes played by Thorsby and Helena last Thursday at Helena, Ala. The second inning closed with the score of 3 to 0 in favor of Thorsby. The fourth inning brought it to 4 to 4, after which eight more innings were played without a run on either side. In the twelfth inning Helena broke the tie with one score, ending the game with 5 to 4 in favor of Helena. Thorsby was well represented with its home fans, who together with the team rode up in a large truck. They all reported a day full of excitement and fun. Helena was given the credit for showing the Thorsby bunch a good time and treating them royally. We all say hurrah for Helena, and when they come down here again we are going to entertain them right.

Mr. Chas. E. Lucas, who recently was operated on for appendicitis at a Birmingham hospital, has now returned home and is doing fine. We all rejoice to have him back with us, and hope he will soon be strong enough to be out and about.

Due to the many night burglaries in this section, the town council with the merchants, have put on a night watchman. Mr. A. V. Martin holds this position, and we think that he will prove himself a good man for this job.

Who said that Vida Lumber Company can't play ball. Well, maybe they can and maybe they can't, but nevertheless, Thorsby played them a game on their home ground last Saturday afternoon with a score of 27 to 12 in favor of Thorsby. They certainly could get around some, in fact everywhere where the ball was not. We must give the first baseman credit for being a heavy weight, and made some star plays. They expect to join the big league next year.

Mr. Aaron Vines of Birmingham spent Sunday here with his parents.

Mrs. H. M. Gerald spent several days in Birmingham last week. She returned home Monday evening.

Next Thursday afternoon the Congregational Ladies Aid will hold its monthly social with Mrs. J.W. Davenport. All members and friends are urged to be present.

The next meeting of the Lutheran Ladies Aid will be held at the home of Mrs. Marie Forsman. This is quite a way out, but we hope that all will make an effort to get there some way.

Those who enjoyed Mrs. Wood's hospitality were: Misses Bertha and Vercie Littleton, Carrie Billingsley, Gladys and Mae Parnell, Roberta Bean and Naemi Turnquist, Messrs Emmett Billingsley, Ernest Eiland, Willie Scott, Earl Leary and Walter Parnell.

Preparations will soon be under way for the coming Redpath Chautauqua, to be given in Thorsby some time in the middle of June. It will be one of the highest class entertainments ever given in Thorsby. The entertainment will last three days with programs every afternoon and night. Be sure to attend and don't miss a number.

Mr. P. J. Joseph, our jolly friend from Jacksonville, and one of our most enthusiastic baseball fans, left Wednesday for Chicago on business. Mr. Joseph is steward at leading hotels in New York and Florida, spending his winters in the South and Summers in the East. We know the girls will miss him as will also the ice cream parlors and candy stores, for he's a jolly good fellow.

Thorsby has finished a successful strawberry season, and we are now looking forward to the coming watermelon crop. It is estimated that about one hundred cars of melons will be shipped from here. The melon growers have joined the Fruit and Truck Growers Association, and will have the full backing of this organization in the selling of the crop.

You are reminded that the Eastern Star will give moving picture entertainment at Bates Hall on Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. An interesting film will be shown, after which refreshments will be served. Everybody come.

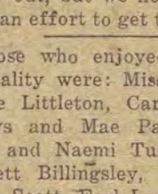
Mr. and Mrs. Eric Carlson returned to their home in Chicago last week after spending several months here with Mr. and Mrs. John Carlson.

Mrs. N. C. Peterson and Miss Nellie Shannon spent the week end visiting with friends in Montgomery and Prattville. They retured home Monday morning.

Miss Clara Soberg, who is visiting her parents here spent last week in Ensley, Ala., visiting her sister, Mrs. Walter Morgan.

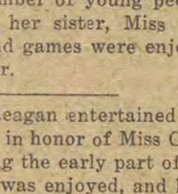
Mr Herbert Davis of Clanton was a visitor in Thorsby Sunday.

Mrs. S. C. Wood has as her guest, her sister, Miss Blanch Parnell of Selma, Ala.



Mr. W. S. Leary spent Sunday here with his family.

On last Friday night Mrs. Wood entertained a number of young people, complimenting her sister, Miss Parnell. Music and games were enjoyed until a late hour.



Mrs. E. A. Reagan entertained last Saturday night in honor of Miss Clara Soberg. During the early part of the evening music was enjoyed, and later on cards were played, after which refreshments were served to the following guests: Mesdames Howard, Foss, Bosworth, Misses Nell Werness and Clara Soberg, Messrs Howard, Bosworth, C. R. Foss, Arthur Villadsen and W. M. Parnell.

Mr. John Johnson spent Sunday here with his family.

REMEMBER to ask your grocer for Calumet Baking Powder and be sure that you get it—the Indian head on the orange label. Then forget about bake day failures. For you will never have any. Calumet always produces the sweetest and most palatable foods. And now remember, you always use less than of most other brands because it possesses greater leavening strength.

Now Remember—Always Use

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

There is no waste. If a recipe calls for one egg—two cups of flour—half a cup of milk — that's all you use. You never have to re-bake. Contains only such ingredients as have been officially approved by U. S. Food Authorities, is the product of the largest, most modern and sanitary Baking Powder Factories in existence.

Gluten gives flour a good part of its food value—the element that nourishes the body. To be sure of getting it, use only pure baking powder with plain flour, (not self-rising flour).

Calumet Columbia Muffin Recipe
—4 cups sifted flour, 4 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, 2 cups of sweet milk. Then mix in the regular way.

A very creditable play under the title of Joan de Arc, was presented last Saturday evening at Thorsby Institute under direction of Mrs. May Hastings Nottage; all the participants being members of her classes in French, composed of students at the Institute. Before the opening act Mrs. Nottage gave a brief synopsis of the play for information of the audience, all the spoken parts were in French.

SINGING AT MAPLE SPRINGS

To make a long story short, the singing at Maple Springs Sunday, as judged by the writer, was a grand success. In fact, I do not know of one that I have ever visited that I could call better. In spite of the bad weather, many of the singers had a large class, which stuck to the singing the day through.

About 9:30 the congregation was called to order, and after a song, Bro. Tom Wilson led in prayer, after which the organization was perfected by electing O. L. Devaughn as Chairman, and he selected a program committee. Directors for the forenoon were, Jesse Jones, Lee Grant, M. C. Boswell, Ralph Grant, Sammie Yates, Ammie Boswell, W. M. Devaughn and A. A. Beaird, all assigned four songs each, then adjourned until 1:30, p.m..

As for dinner, I can only say for myself, that I had plenty and some to spare.

Directors for the afternoon were R. T. Grant, L. T. Grant, R. F. Murphy, Lee Robinson, Henry Carter, J. W. Cagle, three songs each, and J. A. W. Mims, Miss Flossie Cobb, Ira Grant, Rube Miller, Blanco Durbin and O. L. Devaughn, two songs each.

We were very glad to have so many visiting singers with us and remember that you are always welcome at Maple Springs.

One among the many features of the day was the splendid lesson directed by Miss Flossie Cobb.

I would advise all young people, especially the girls, to follow Miss Cobb's example. You probably can't all direct, but we can sing in the class, or at least stay close enough to hear the songs and enjoy them.

J. Z. MIMS, Secretary.

WE'VE REGAINED IT

An eminent publicist asserts that the great issue before the American people is whether they are to regain control of their own government. Funny, isn't it? The people have just elected a Republican President by a plurality of 7,000,000, a record breaking plurality—and have given the Republican party a margin of control in both Houses of Congress so large as to be embarassing in the formation of committees. If that were not regaining control of their government by the people, we would like to know what kind of a triumph at the polls could be so construed. The gentleman who is dissatisfied with the recent election reminds us of the juror who told the judge that the jury could have agreed if the other eleven members had not been so stubborn. The late election was not an eleven-to-one victory, but it was as near as a national election is likely ever to be.

Mrs. Clyde Jones and Mrs. R. E. Luckie motored with a party to Sylacauga Sunday, and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Newt Askins.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

GETTING BACK TO NORMAL

Imports for the nine months period ended March 31, 1921, totaled $8,009,000,000 or just $750,000,000 less than for the similar period of 1919-1920. About nine months and two weeks before March 31, 1921, a Republican President was nominated, who, it was apparent to the United States and to the world, would be elected. It was equally apparent that a Republican Congress would go in with him. That meant that a protective tariff policy would be readopted at the earliest practicable moment. Hence, importers of foreign goods grew cautious and pared down their buying. So it is evident that even the moral support of a protective policy has a certain efficacy in aiding American industries.

PLAGUE SPOTS

It won't be a bad idea for good Americans to keep a pretty close watch on the activities of some of the "community centers." The socialists, the bolshevists, the apostles of unrest, are not only active propagandists but they are trained propagandists. They make agitation their business. They agitate in season and out of season, while other people are going about their daily tasks. So-called "community centers" are a good thing, but they should not be left entirely to the use of the trouble makers. Socialism uses the school rooms, the pulpits and religious organizations at every opportunity. Its proponents are scarcely to be censured for spreading their doctrines whenever and where ever they have chance, but the rest of the country ought to be on guard against surrender of these potent agencies of education to sinister influences.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

An automoble accident happened at the crossing of Eighth Street and Fifth Avenue Wednesday, when the cars of G. O. Foshee and Ed Miller bumped together. The occupants of the cars were not hurt, but the cars sustained considerable damage.

"If any other country can survive, the United States can prosper," says Chairman Gary of the Steel Corporation. Which is a bit of sound sense, the truth of which we are apt to overlook when times are a little out of joint in the United States.

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

Our report this week will cover two Sundays, as, owing to the pastor's absence from the city last week, no report was rendered in time for space in our valuable county paper.

Sunday, April 24th, was in many respects one of the best during the present pastorate, as 145 were in Sunday School and at least 250 at the morning service of the church, the largest congregation that has been present at a morning service on an ordinary occasion for several years. At night the house was again filled to witness the beautiful pictures representing Christ in the Garden, on the Cross, and His resurrection from the Tomb. The morning service of this day was quite impressive, as the church in large numbers by the hand of fellowship renewed their loyalty and support to their pastor.

We were pleased to receive three into the fellowship of the church in the person of Mr. J. Mell Martin and his wife and daughter.

Last Sunday the morning congregation was very fair, considering the many counter attractions for the morning by the singing conventions held near by and other attractions. The youg peoples organizations were real splendidly attended, there being a large number of the Sunbeam Band, Junior B. Y. P. U. and some 18 of the seniors which was reorganized under the leadership of Miss Hattie Jones. The Sunbeam Band meets at 2 p.m., the Junior B. Y. P. U. at 6 p.m. and the Senior B Y P U at 7.

Another crowded house greeted the pastor at night, and a very interesting pantomine under the direction of Miss Icelo Williams, representing the "Holy City," was very nicely rendered by seven girls of the congregation. The sermon on "Heaven" was listened to with marked attention, and the solo rendered by Miss Roberta Curry was much enjoyed.

As compared to a year ago, there has been a large increase in the attendance, perhaps nearly double, at the preaching services and a considerable increase in the Sunday School, ranging from 125 to 145 most every Sunday. This speaks well for the future interests of the church.

Interesting services will be held next Sunday morning and night, at the usual hours. Unless a visiting preacher occupies the pulpit in the morning, the pastor will follow his usual custom and preach an appropriate sermon for Mothers Day, which will be observed throughout this great country. Let us pay a glowing tribute to the one who gave us birth by our presence at church next Sunday.

Special mention is made elsewhere of the Breaking Ground Ceremonies that will be held next Sunday afternoon on the new site for the new church building, which will begin on next Monday. The foreman will be on the ground, and special addresses will be given on the ground by capable speakers. We trust the whole community will be present on this very happy occasion which is the climax of many years consideration. The service will be simple in form, but auspicious in significance.

At the service last Sunday week the pastor announced that owing to the great importance of the present issues at stake in the erection of the new building, he would forego the pleasure of the ninety-days vacation granted by the church by postponing his visit to his relatives in England indefinitely, though he has now been absent from his people more than twelve years. The hearty response of the congregation in renewing the hand of fellowship at this meeting manifested the great appreciation of the membership for the secrifice thus made by the pastor.

Owing to the absence of the editor of The Baptist Advocate from the city attending two conventions this month, and the lack of time, this publication will not be published this month. But it will be issued again during the month of June.

With eager anticipation we look forward to the future full of the brightest hopes with the erection and completion of a beautiful house of worship that will be a magnificent addition to the city and a splendid equipment for the work of the church and denomination. We heartily invite all Baptist people living in the community to join us who have not yet done so, and share with us in the blessings and privilegdes of the new church building and more congenial surroundings with which to worship God. Call on us when you need us; we are at your service.

If you want True Music you must choose

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

CONSIDER your object in buying a phonograph. It is to bring true music to your home—the living performances of great singers and instrumentalists, of great bands and orchestras.

Over five thousand times, before more than five million people, the New Edison has stood side by side with the living artist in a direct comparison test, and no one has been able to distinguish between the living performance and the RE-CREATED performance.

The New Edison is the only phonograph or talking machine that sustains this test. It is the only phonograph that has actually proved beyond question that it gives you true music.

IF you buy phonograph records, or player-piano rolls, if you play or sing, you should have a copy of "What Edison Likes in Music." It tells Mr. Edison's 25 favorite tunes,—gives his views on music,—and names 6 selections which he thinks everybody ought to own. Get your copy. It's free for the asking. Use the coupon.

A DRY SHOWER

During the absence of the pastor of the Baptist Church, who was attending the Alabama Sunday School Association Convention held at Sheffield last week, a very heavy shower that proved to be a dry one fell upon the Baptist pastorium with sich force that quite a nice quantity of sheets, pillows, towels, socks, handkerchiefs, ties, table centers, and toilet articles, hat, and even money, found their way into the house. On the pastor's return he found his four windows draped with beautiful curtains, the rooms nicely cleaned up, and a beautiful display of flowers that added greatly to the attractive appearance of the rooms. These articles were much needed and greatly appreciated by the recipient, being a glowing tribute of the friendship and high esteem which is felt towards the pastor of those who so kindly donated these things. May the blessing of God abundantly rest upon all those who had a part in this beautiful ministry of love and esteem.

COLD WEATHER IN MAY

Uncle Pete Callen suggested Tuesday morning that we tell everybody through The Banner this week that we have had a mighty cold spell of weather for the month of May. But if everybody's clothes were as thin as the editor's, it is of no use to tell them the weather has been cold, for they will know it very well any way.

OAK HILL

Our Sunday School is still progressing under the management of Supt. A. H. Glasscock, Jr., who gave us a long and interesting lecture on education last Sunday. At eleven o'clock Bro. Crouch preached an able sermon and held his hearers almost spell bound for over an hour. At two o'clock the singing society met with a large crowd in attendance, and after a song and prayer the following directors were called: Miss Myrtle Dorminey, Miss Emma Arledge, Messrs. H. V. Campbell, A. E. Glasscock, A. V. Northcutt, L. B. Glasscock, C. W Glasscock, Archie Glasscock. Organists for the evening were Misses Lena Glasscock, Syble Langston, Myrtle Dorminey, Ellen Glasscock, Emma Arledge. The singing was fine and was said by many to be the best we have had yet. A duet was rendered by A. H. Glasscock and Miss Emma Arledge. Also a quartette by A. H. Glasscock, Vernon Northcutt, E. L. Glasscock and Vester Campbell. Among the visitors were Misses Ruby and Emma Campbell, who have just returned home from Boaz, Alabama, where they have been attending school.

We were glad to see so many of our friends here, some who we had not seen for a long time. Everybody seemed to enjoy themselves and to have a good time. Come again; we are always glad to see you, and will give you a hearty welcome at all times.

The society meets again at Union Grove next Sunday evening. Let's everybody go and see if we can't make the singing still better.

Yours for the interest of music,

BAPTIST PASTORS CONFERENCE

The next Conference of the Baptist Pastors and Workers of the Chilton County and Unity Associations will be held at Maplesville on Monday, May 9th, beginning about 10, a.m. The brethren of the church at that place, with the aid of the good ladies of the church, are making special preparaions for the visit to the brethren, and are expecting a real good attendance. This is the first time that this conference has been held in or near the district of Maplesville, and was so arranged to give the brethren who live on that side of the railroad an opportunity to attend one of these gatherings. The secretary of this organization will be pleased to carry four others with him to this meeting, and it is hoped that several will attend from this side of the railroad. An interesting and profitable program will be arranged, and the folowing subjects will be discussed: 'The scriptural teaching for thte support of a pastor," by Rev. W. J. Rudlick, Moderator of the Unity Association. "The pastors' etiquette toward each other," by Rev. W. A. Goss. "Methods of choosing subjects to preach on," by Rev. Ernest, pastor of the Maplesville Church.

Opportunity will be given for others who may wish to speak, so far as time will allow. Let all the pastors and workers of these two associations help to make this meeting a great success.

WAS LUCKY FOR DENNIS HE SAYS

A CHATTANOOGA MAN STATES TANLAC OVERCOME HIS TROUBLES—CAN'T SAY TOO MUCH FOR IT.

W. F. Dennis, 203 Lyerly St., Chattanooga, Tenn., formerly of Mobile, Ala., makes an interesting statement regarding Tanlac.

"It certainly was lucky for me," said Mr. Dennis, "that I got hold of Tanlac when I did, for I was just down and out. Off and on for three years I have been down with malaria. For ten months on one occasion I was confined to the house most of my time.

"As I usually spent my winters in Chattanooga, I came back here last September to spend the rest of my life with my daughter. When I arrived here I was in a very weakened condition, for the malaria was fast getting the best of me. I had no appetite, felt weak and tired all the time and had pains in my stomach that were completely upsetting my nerves. I sleep very little and got up mornings nearly exausted. In fact I was just about 'all in' and kept getting worse.

"Five weeks ago I got Tanlac and my appetite picked up with my first half bottle. Soon I was able to sleep all night and felt like a new man. I eat any kind of food set before me and enjoy it. I have gained several pounds in weight and feel better than I have in five or six years. Tanlac has saved me money and given me health, too, and I can't say too much for it.

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT ANOUNCEMENTS

All plans have been completed for a very elaborate commencement week. The Senior Class will finish their examinations this week. The largest class in the history of the school will graduate.

The commencement sermon will be delivered Sunday, May 15, at eleven O'clock by the Rev. Richard Hall, D. D., Vice-President of Judson College. Services at the local churches for this hour will be dispensed with for this service. A splended program has been arranged. On Monday evening at eight O'clock the graduation exercises for the seventh grade will be held at the high school. Mr. P. W. Hodges of the Department of Education has been invited to speak for this occasion.

Thursday evening the undergraduates of the high school will present the play "Brother Josiah." The participants in this play are determinded to make this the equal of the splendid play presented by the Senior Class some few weeks ago. Miss Monroe who so ably coached the Seniors in their annual play has charge of the undergraduates play.

On Friday evening all activities of the school for the present year will close with the graduation exercises of the Senior Class. No efforts will be spared to make this one of the most beautiful and impressive program of the commencement. Dr. J.S. Thomas, head of the extension Department of the University af Alabama will deliver the Literary address.

All are invited and urgently requested to visit the Domestic Science Department to see something of the work of the students of this Department.

A DEPENDABLE AMERICAN

Washington, May 7.—"Republicans have read with satisfaction the report that the National Committee, with the approval of the administration and Republican leaders generally, will elect Vice Chairman John T Adams to the chairmanship to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. Hays," says the Republican Publicity Association in a statement issued today. "Mr. Adams is not only eminently qualified by native ability and long political experience but specially qualified by his service as vice chairman and as manager of the Western Headquaters during the recent campaign.

"In these days when Americanism is the dominant issue in public discussion, there is appropiateness in having at the head of the National Committee of the majority party a man whose ancestors for nine generations are buried in American soil. Although decended from New England stock, Mr. Adams is a manufacturer in Iowa where his own successful business operations have been closely identified with the prosperity of a region chiefly agricultural in its interests. Having conducted his own private business along lines that won success, he may be depended upon to manage the business of the Republican party in a similar manner and with like results.

OUR SO-CALLED EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM AND OTHER THINGS

Mr. Editor:

As you know, it is a recognized principle of political economy that "the country that is governed least is governed best." That is a text that every orator, every preacher, and every editor in Alabama should preach from with all the power and all the earnestness they possess, and without ceasing, until the empire in our state is utterly overthrown and we are allowed to return to a rational rule "of, by and for the people." As a free government contemplated and established first by our national constitution and bill of rights of our own state, Alabama has actually ceased to function, and chaos is staring us in the face. This naturally favored commonwealth that used to be ours, has been "governed" by amendments, "governed" by legislative enactments, "governed" by imperial edicts, "governed" by injunctions, "governed" by the bayonet, and by numberless other Kaiseristic methods, until today, for the first time in history, gaunt want and starvation are stalking hand in hand throughout a land that should be flowing with milk and honey. The people have been lawed-in and lawed-out, lawed-about and out-lawed, in their business, public and private, and family life, until the best man in Alabama can hardly exist for thrity-six hours without becoming a law violator, and in consequence a criminal. Isn't that so?

Realy and truly, "the country that is governed least is governed best." We are learning that lesson at the most glaring and soulless school of experience ever perpetrated on a free people, and surely its lesson will sink into our very souls until we shall be able to muster up enough of the free-born manhood of our fathers to rise up and crush this pernicious reptile of paternalism before its slimy coils encroach much further upon the liberties of our homes and the blood-bought freedom of our country.

There are so many glaring evils emanating from this paternalistic system of empire which we have become enslaved that we hardly know where to begin in urging a campaign of reform or return to reason.

Suppose we reason together a little this week about the much touted school system that we have allowed to be passively yoked about our necks. Of all the iniquitous and nefarious schemes ever devised to invade the personal rights and liberties of a people, and to perpetuate pauperism, ignorance and serfdom upon them, this octopus of paternal graft perhaps ranks preeminent. Even Kaiser Bill with all of his sublime indifference to the weal or woe of his people, did not possess the nerve to install this vile system at one fell blow, but worked up to it by gradual strides of despotism. But in Alabama is was very different. Our solons figured out the cash assets in short order, grasped the opportunity of annulling the effectiveness of the franchise and adding many valuable cogs to the political machine in process of construction, and landed it upon us at one fell swoop like an electric bolt from a clear sky.

It is not going a bit too far to say that the entire school system of Alabama, in its present shape, is a monumental farce, in so far as it relates to a practical and progressive educational institution. In the first place it is absolutely unpractical so far as it concerns the vast majority of children who grow up in Alabama.

A child enters school by compulsion at the age of seven years. Then if he chances to have a remarkable run of good health, good luck and a strong and continuous financial backing, in seven more years, or at the age of fourteen, he has made his seven grades in a preparatory school. He is now ready to begin in the high school to assemble together the rudiments of an education. In this branch of the system, like the former, providence, fortune and luck, all must smile upon him, and he must also be a first-class, all-round adept at the manly art of foot ball assassination as appied to the various and sundry ramifications of the 'athletic' department; and given all these attributes, at the end of another five years, or at the age of nineteen, he may qualify to enter college and put in six years more in this elusive race after an education. At the age of twenty-five he is supposed to have acquired a pretty fair English education, and is ready to go to work at some "white shirt and collar job"—no not job; he accepts a "position." During this 18 year period of education incubation, "father," or "the old guy," or "my old man," has to finance the clothes, the eats, the matriculation fees, the thousand and one incidental and unheard of expenses, and if he don't cough up for it all he is rated as a worthless cumberer of the ground and a rank advocate of ignorance. Now this is rather strong, but it is not a bit overdrawn, and you all know it.

The question now arises, can the average farmer or laborer meet these demands? Suppose a father has three or four or five children to provide for. Is it not the height of folly to presume for an instant that he can even put up the first ante in playing that game?

If the compulsory education law, as written on the statue books of Alabama were rigidly enforced it would pauperize half the people and land the other half in prison. That's a fact, aint it?

Some time since, in the absence I suppose, of any other way to spend the accumulated "convict" revenue, a "board" was appointed to make an educational survey of the state. They functioned according to order, and what did they report? They found that the percentage of ignorance among the white people of Alabama is greater now than it was ten years ago, or immediately after the civil war, or even back in 1840, twenty years before the civil war. This too, in face of the fact that school taxes have been doubled and thribled time after time as the years have gone by, and that the school tax today is growing by leaps and bounds, while the percentage of illiteracy among the white citizens of this taxburdened state goes higher as time tolls off the years.

Any man with as much brains as you can press out of a brick knows that a lack of financial backing is not the reason for growing illiteracy in Alabama. The people have been, and are today, more than generous in their efforts and contributions in striving to build up a high plan of educational efficiency. It is an insult to the tax payers of Alabama to say otherwise.

The trouble is a system so thoroughly shot to pieces with graft, with unnecessary expensive machinery, with hordes of salary grabbers that do evil and only evil continually, that even semblance of an effort to really educate is utterly lost sight of. If we ever accomplish anything at all in an educational way, the last vestige of this pernicious system must be thrown to the dogs or sent back to the Kaiser Bill, and a new plan adopted, based upon a real desire to educate, instead of a greed and lust for wealth to squander in making a display abroad, and in building up a political machine designed to further abridge the rights of a people who should be free to arbitrate and direct the affairs of their own state.

aPrdon me, Mr. Editor, for consuming so much of your valuable space, but this subject is so fraught with rottenness and evil that even an article of this length can only barely point the way to a discussion of its multitudinous horrors.

Yours very truly,
OBSERVER

IRONDALE ALABAMA

Dear Mr. Editor:

Well here I come again asking for another space in your paper for another dose of my Ignorance Drops, for the voters of the Fourth District. I want to say that if we ever get any relief in Alabama from taxation and all other such burdens, we have got to change from the Democratic party and elect Republicans to office to let them know that we don't approve of their leadership.

Just look, boys, what a deal Kilby gave the miners. Mr. Farmers, you know what a deal the Chamber of Commerce gave you in Birmingham last year. Everybody is aware of the fact that the Democrats have about taken away all the free privileges from us. Look how they tried to run the amendment over to stop us from voting. I want to say that the old leaders of the Democratic party has done too many dirty tricks to the people of Alabama for me to undertake to name all of them. They have robbed our treasury at Montgomery different times in the past years, which has piled up taxation on us until we can't bear it much longer. When they go down and get our dogs and chickens, it is time to call a halt, and the only way to do it is to elect Republicans to office and show the old leaders that they are not bosses. We must have two strong parties in our State before we can get what belongs to us that is respectable for the common masses of people, and until we begin to vote together and in the right way, against the evils of our state, they will grow worse all the time. Our burdens will be heavier and it will continue to be "big 'I' and little 'U'" in office.

I want to say to the voters of the Fourth Congressional District that this is the time to make a change in politics, if we are to expect any good from congress. It seems to me that if we would elect Judge Longshore, Republican candidate, that we would have more influence at Washington than Mr. Jeffers, as the majority up there is Republican, and I know that we have not got a better man in Alabama than Judge Longshore. He has been tried and found true, for I have known him for many years, and as an old section foreman now working on the L. & N., that we as railroad workers and public workers and farmers, must vote for a new party to get in power if we ever expect to have any better times in Alabama.

Now, for the interest of the South, boys, I hope you will all vote this time for Judge Longshore, so you will get square deal at Washington during this administration, for I am for relief from taxation and a voter of the Fourth District.

Yours for success,
J. N. SCOTT.

OF HOUSE MEMBERS 112 OUT OF 131 ARE FROM STATES SOUTH OF MASON AND DIXON LINE

Washington, May 7. — That the Democratic party is merly a Southern party and is entirely sectional in tone is the contention of Chairman Simeon D. Fess, of the Republican Congressional Committee. He says:

"The organization of the 67th Congress revealed the sectional character of the Democratic party. In recent years attention has been drawn to the domination of the Southern statemen when the Democratic party is in control of the government. But it was never so pronounced as it now appears in the 67th Congress. Years before the war this was not so pronounced. The race question finaly sectionalized the country and the Southern States became solidly Democratic, while the North was fairly united on Republicanism.

"In the present Congress the Republicans have 301 members and the Democrats 131. There are two vacancies and one Socialist, who acts with the Democrats. Of the 131 Democrats, 112 are from what was called the Southern States, leaving 19 from the North and West, which gives 19 members to all the vast territory above Mason and Dixon line. Of the 301 Republicans 267 are from that section in which the Democrats elected 19 members, and 34 came from the section where the Democrats elected 112 members. In other words the Republicans elected nearly double the number south of Mason and Dixon line that the Democrats elected north of the line. While in the north the Republicans elected 14 times the number of members the Democrats elected, in the South the Democrats elected but three times the number the Republicans elected. This shows the break in the solidarty of the Democratic solid South.

"The assignment of committees by the Democrats show how completely the Southern Democrats of the 67th Congress have control of the party. There are 56 House Committees. Of this number 54 are headed on the Democratic side by Southern men. Only two, the Immigration Committee and Woman Suffrage Committee, are headed by men not within that tier of States. Immigration is headed by Sabbath, of Illinois, and Woman Suffrage by Raker, of California. Sabbath has a contest. Some important committees do not have a single member from the North or West. This list includes, with others, the important committees on Military Affairs, Judiciary, Indian Affairs, Pensions, Public Building, Good Roads, Education and Banking and Currency."

A GROWING NEWSPAPER

The Union-Banner is selling for $1.50 a year because we know it is worth the price charged, and because it cannot be produced for less and show a profit to the owners. We believe the most of our readers would prefer to have a paper that sells for $1.50 a year and is worth the money, than to have one that sells for $1.00 and is not even worth that small sum.

Another reason why country newspapers are not returning to pre-war prices for subscriptions is because pre-war prices were always too low to produce a good newspaper and allow a fair margin of profit to the owners of the paper. Newspapers, like other business institutions, must operate on a safe margin of profit or go out of business. It is the paper that sticks and grows that is of value to the community.

The Union-Banner does not propose to operate at a loss and eventually have to quit business on account of not making a living. If we did not intend to try to build up the paper and keep pace with the progress of Chilton County, we would quit right here.

AT THE BAPTIST SEMINARY

The Union-Banner is in receipt of a letter from Rev. H. G. Williams, who is attending the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky. This is the completion of his first year in the Seminary, and he says his work has been more than a success in every way. He plans to be there for next year also.

"Greely" also stated in his letter that his brother, J. Toy Williams, who has been a missionary in China for several years, was awarded a degree of Doctor of Theology at the Seminary on May 3. This is the highest honor that can be attained by a student at the Seminary. Toy will go to Columbia University in New York this summer.

MAGIC BUNDLE OF OATS

As we were gone to dinner Monday there grew up in front of The Union-Banner office a magic bundle of oats; tall stalks with fully developed heads thereon; cut and tied in a bundle. There was no word of evidence as to where they came from or by whom they were brought. Tuesday morning we learned that they came from the farm of Mr. W. J. Little on Route 6. Quite a number of people have examined them and of course many opinions have been rendered. Some say they are mighty fine and pass on without much detail. Others examine them closely enough to find that the stalks and blades are of extra quality, but the heads comparatively light. Others declare that they were grown with liberal rations of nitrate of soda, and in ten minutes somebody else arrives on the scene to tell us that those selfsame oats never tasted a grain of soda in their lives. So what is a poor helpless editor to say about Mr. Little's oats under such a variety of opinions from his neighbors. We will leave the subject right here. The oats are here to speak for themselves, and if onybody can tell what they say, they can beat us.

RUNNING FOR GOVERNOR

Bill Brandon of Tuscaloosa continues his race for Governor of Alabama in spite of everything. He bobs up at every important meeting or convention in Alabama to further enlighten the people as to his platform and program. He made a speech before the Alabama Press Association in Decatur last week. We notice his name on the program of a Sunday School Convention to be at Maplesville right away.

Mr. Brandon is a dandy sort of a fellow. The only thing we have got against him in particular is that he is a Democrat. Somehow we can't help but be a bit shy at fellows who bear that standard. But anyway, we predict that Mr. Brandon is going to make a mighty hot race for Governor of our state next time.

A DISTINGUISHED SCRAMBLE

The way some Republicans in Alabama are slashing at each other in the effort to get control of the Federal patronage is a disgusting mess from start to finish. They tell us from Washington that Street and Long have split the blanket now and will proceed henceforth with each paddling his own little canoe. While our leaders are scrapping over the spoils that fall from the table at Washington the opportunities of the party here in Alabama are left unattended. The Congressional race now on in the Fourth District is being pushed aside in the wild scramble for Federal power among the covetous would-be leaders, and the result will be just as it has ever been, to-wit: Republicans scrambling over "appointments" while the Democrats walk away with the elections unchallenged. The people of Alabama trudge on with the burdens of Democratic misgovernment upon their shoulders with no prospects of immediate relief from the oppression of one-party rule.

Instead of fussing about who stands the closest to the national administration it would look much more manly for the Reublican leaders in Alabama to be at their business of taking care of the interests of the party at home. They way they are doing is a stench in the nostrils of the laity of the Republican party in Alabama and a sweet morsel in the mouths of Democrats who hope that they may never be molested by the power of Republicanism in the South.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

As Reported in "THE BANNER" in its Issue Dated May 14th, 1896.

Mrs. Robert Wilson died Wednesday evening at her home near Poplar Springs. She was 73 years old.

Deputy Marshals Dudley and Taylor captured a 45 gallon copper still in the shed room at the home of Herbert Lucas, near Montevallo.

The citizens of Jumbo publish a petition condemning the manufacture and sale of wild cat whiskey, and especially the burning of the Jumbo postoffice. The petition is signed by H. C. Young, D. H. Circuit Court of Chilton county convened Monday morning with Judge John R. Tyson in the place of Judge Denson. Our local bar was ably represented by Col. Knox, T. A. Curry, Smith and Dennis, Tipton Mullins, Adams and Martin, and W.H. Foshee.

Col. W. A. Collier of Birmingham is here attending court.

The following is the Peoples Party ticket in Chilton county: For Sheriff, James T. Cooley; for Tax Assessor, A. C. Mims; for Tax Collector, T. J. Hubbard; for Representative, L. H. Reynolds; for Treasurer, Alex G. Dake; for Superintendent of Education, J. W. Moore; for County Commissioners, R. C. Riggins, Alex Glasscock, J. G. Smitherman, and Moses Robinson.

THE CHAUTAUQUA

Our readers will notice in this issue the advertisement of the Chautauqua to be here again May 26, 27, and 28. The committee of local people back of this entertainment hope to have the co-operation of everybody in making the event a success. It will be three days of entertainment worth while.

We urge everybody to hear the address of Dr. J. S. Thomas at the high school commencement next week. He is one of the best speakers that our state affords. You will not regret it if you go out to hear what he has to say.

We learn from some of the doctors of Clanton that there is good prospects now for the organization of a hospital in Clanton with the backing of all the doctors here. We hope it will be possible for them to make the proposition a reality. It has been our contention all the while that Chilton county has as good doctors as can be found anywhere. All they need to take care of the situation is a properly equipped hospital.

Mrs. Crabit: Is your husband ever delayed at the office?

Mrs. Blabit: Only long enough to phone home and say so.

STREET AND LONG SEVER POLITICAL RELATIONSHIP

Each Trying to get Own Spoils from National Administration.

Washington, May 10.—(Special). It is reported in Washington this afternoon that O. D. Street of Guntersville and Pope M. Long of Cordova have been unable to agree among themselves as to who should be the actual dispenser of patronage in Alabama ,and that hereafter, instead of partnership, each would endeavor to secure what spoils he could as a result of his individual efforts.

This report is seemingly borne out in the fact that Mr. Street came to Washington today for the purpose of making a drive against the President to secure the appointment as internal revenue collector of Alabama for Gordon Ashley of St. Clair Springs, formerly collector of the port o fMobile. Mr. Long has indorsed the application of William Ford of Marion County.

Along with Mr. Street came Mr. Ashley. They found C. J. Allison, clerk of the federal court at Birmingham, on the scene, and with the "open sesame" that leads to the President. It is entirely probable that tomorrow J. Aubrey Thomas of Jenifer, former member of Congress from Ohio and perhaps the original Harding man in Alabama, will arrive.

In that event, Mr. Street, Mr. Allison, Mr. Ashley and Mr. Thomas will hurl themselvesa gainst the President, the Postmaster General and Attorney General. They hope to leave Washington with the official understanding that Ashley will be named. As reported some days ago, ex-Gov. Frank Lowden of Illinois has already appealed to the President in behalf of Ashley, the applicant having managed the Lowden presidential campaign in Alabama.

It is understood that Mr. Steret and Mr. Long tried to agree on men for indorsement for federal patronage, but failed in respect to the collector of internal revenue. As to whether the remainder of the state went to pot remains to be seen, but it is understood Mr. Street still supports Mr. Long for the marshalship and Mr. Long supports Mr. Street for attorneyship of the northern district. —Hugh W. Roberts in the Birmingham Age-Herald.

THREE PRESIDENTS ASK AID FOR CHINA

Harding, Wilson and Taft Appeal to Americans to Help Stricken Millions of Sister Republic.

The President and two ex-Presidents of the United States have joined, for the first time in the history of the country, in an appeal for a philanthropic enterprise. President Harding, ex-President Wilson and ex-President Taft are all in the forefront of the movement to send aid from America to the famine victims of China.

One of President Harding's first official acts after his inauguration, taken when he had been in the White House less than two weeks, was to renew the appeal made by his predecessor in behalf of America's sister republic in the East. President Harding said in part:

"At this, the earliest practicable moment in my administration, I desire to add my own to the many appeals which have been issued heretofore in behalf of the starving people of a large section of China. * * *

"The picture of China's distress is so tragic that I am moved, therefore, to renew the appeal heretofore made and to express the hope that the American people will continue to contribute to this humanitarian cause as generously as they possibly can."

In appointing the American committee for China Famine Fund, with his own immediate predecessor in the White House, ex-President Taft, as one of the members, and Thomas W. Lamont of New York, as chairman, President Wilson said in his proclamation:

"Not only in the name of humanity, but in that of the friendliness which we feel for a great people in distress, I venture to ask that our citizens shall, even though the task of giving is not today a light one, respond as they can to this distant but appealing cry for help."

Judge Reynolds has gone to Washington, D. C. It was not stated publicly what the purpose of his visit to the national capital was; but it is very likely it has something to do with the relations between national party leaders and local Republican leaders in Alabama.

A PARTISAN JUDGEMENT OVERRULED

Washington, May 10.—"The reversal of the case against Senator Truman H. Newberry in the Supreme Court was a decision generally expected by those who were familiar with the manner in which the proceedings had been conducted," declares the Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "As to the legal question involved in the constitutionality of Federal laws regulating primary elections, there was, of course, much difference of opinion but those who read of the methods pursued in the trial court were in no doubt that the rulings were prejudicial to the interests of the defendant and showed a bias not only unbecoming to a judge but constituing a serious menace to respect for our judicial system unless rebuked by a reversal in the higher tribunal.

"The decision of the Supreme Court is, of course a great relief to Senator Newberry and a cause for gratification among his friends. But these are least of the considerations in connection with the reversal of the case. It is a fundamental principle of free government that no man shall be deprived of his life, liberty or property without due process of law. Whenever that fundamental principle is successfully set aside the very name of justice becomes a delusion and a snare. If due process of law can be set aside because of the prejudices, the personal feeling, the political animosities or any other ulterior influence then it matters little to the individual citizen whether he lives an absolute despotism in the form of a monarchy or another despotism operating in the name of popular government but according to the methods of Bolshevism.

"The people of the United States are interested in the Newberry case not because of Newberry's personality, not because of his partisan affiliations, not because of his official position, but because as a citizen he was made the object of a special attack by a dictatorial Federal administration which undertook to control the sovereign citizens of a great state in the choice of a man who should represent them in the higest legislative body in the world. To all appearances the court proceeding were in entire harmony with the policy adopted by the former occupant of the White House.

"Fortunately, the American system of jurisprudence provides for appeal to an unprejudiced court where in calmness and deliberation the methods pursued by the trial court can be reviewed in order to determine whether justice has been done. The decision of the Supreme Court declaring the right of a defendant to a fair trial under due process of law is a reassurance to the people of the country that constitutional government still lives secure in the enjoyment of life, liberty and property.

"Whether the Federal government shall adopt constitutional amendments giving control over state primaries is another and very minor question."

FRIENDSHIP BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday Schol was held last Sunday at the usual hour. Quite a crowd was present, and the lesson was thoroughly discussed by the teachers. Mr. W. T. Bean, teacher of the Senior Class, made a fine discussion of the lesson, which was enjoyed by all.

Prof. J. L. Johnson of Clanton was a visitor to our school and made us a nice talk in the interest of the Unity Baptist Sunday School Association which was organized several weeks ago. The school selected three delegates to represent Friendship at the next convention of the Association, to be held at White Pond Church on the First Sunday in June. They are, J. D. Collins, Sr., W. J. Miner, and T. E. Wyatt.

On account of the all day singing at Walnut Creek, there was no singing society here last Sunday afternoon. But instead, our society will meet next Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. All singers will take notice of this. There will not be any singin on the Fourth Sunday afternoon of this month, so as to give our people a chance to go to the May Singing at Salem on Coosa River.

On the night of the Fourth Sunday Rev. P. G. Carter of Clanton will occupy the pulpit here. And on the night of the Fifth Sunday Rev. M. J. Parrish of Providence will preach for us. Everybody is invited to attend these services. Sunday School will be held every Sunday at 10 o'clock.

A DEPENDABLE AMERICAN.

"The new chairman will come to his duties with an endorsement first from his own state and then from the members of the committee from all the states. He has been three times elected to represent Iowa on the National Committee and twice elected vice chairman. In the ten years of his service on the National Committee he has won the respect and confidence of his associates and of other party workers with whom he has come in contact. Universal commendation has been accorded his management of the Western Headquarters, which had supervision of the recent campaign in all the states west of Pennsylvania.

"Mr. Adams is not widely known to the people of the country, as he is quiet and retiring in his manner and disposition. The calmness and deliberation of his methods will be an asset, however, and help to maintain the high regard in which the party is now held by the people of the country. He has been in full accord with the principles and policies of the party and is in harmony with the policies of the present administration as enunciated by President Harding.

"His selection as chairman gives assurance of satisfactory and successful management of the affairs of the National Committee."

THE WALNUT CREEK SINGING

The Singing at Walnut Creek Church last Sunday was good. It was called to order about 10 o'clock by J. A. W. Mims, and after singing a good old hymn, we had prayer by Mr. Billie Calloway. After which the organization was perfected by electing J. A. W. Mims, chairman, and he selected program committee.

Directors for the forenoon were, J. A. W. Mims, J. R. Robinson and Ralph Grant, fifteen minutes each, after which was preaching by Rev. Lembrick, which brought us up to the noon hour. We were dismissed until 1:15, p.m.

As for dinner, we all spread together and everybody ate and enjoyed themselves, and plenty to spare.

Directors for the afternoon were, Henry Carter, L. T. Gant, O. L. Devaughn, Rev. Lembrick, and W. O. Rich, 15 minutes each. Recess 10 minutes, after which the directors were, O. R. Robinson, L. N. Henderson and Joseph Headley, 15 minutes each.

Organists for the day were Ralph Grant, Henry Carter and wife, Miss Mary Duke and R. E. Powell.

We were very glad to have so many visiting singers with us, and remember that you are always welcome at Walnut.

After singing a good old song, we were dismissed by O. R. Robinson.

R. E. POWELL, Secy.

ALABAMA SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

Upon his return from the Alabama Sunday School Association a week or more ago, Rev. P. G. Carter, delegate from Chilton County, had the following to say about the meeting:

"A royal welcome awaited the delegates that arrived at Sheffield on Tuesday, April 26th to attend the great Sunday School Convention of the organized work in this state. Automobiles were at the depot to carry the delegates to their respective assignments of homes, and this was fortunate, for a heavy thunderstorm was there to greet their arrival. Some 450 to 500 visitors attended the Convention from various parts of the state, while a total of 42 counties were represented.

The general meetings were held at the new Methodist Church, and the large seating capacity of the auditorium was well filled at all of the sessions. The singing was entered into with a fine spirit and was quite an inspirational part of the Convention

Dr. Spright Dowell of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, in one of the opening addresses, spoke on the need for "A Chair of Religious Education in our Schools."

Dr. William A. Brown, director of Evangelism in Chicago for the entire work of this great Sunday School work in all the country proved to be a very interesting speaker, with a charming personality.

Another powerful address delivered by Dr. Brown was on "The Power and Possibilities of Unity."

Dr. Lang of the University of Alabama was also very helpful on "The Social Demands of Jesus."

The principles that underlie the organized Sunday School work in Alabama and other states were clearly stated by Dr. Brown of Chicago and should appeal heartily to all broad minded people regardless of whatever church they belong to.

Such a Convention as that will give any Sunday School enthusiast of whatever creed a great inspiration to do more for our fellowmen in the teaching of the Bible, and leading them to Christ."

I can be of service to you any hour of the day or night.

I have a full line of beautiful caskets from $20 up to $350, in adult sizes, the more expensive being metalic caskets. I carry also a full line of childrens sizes at prices to suit every pocket book. I fully understand the handling and the preparation of the body and am prepared to do this line of work.

I have two nice hearses, one horse drawn and a beautiful motor hearse. This hearse service is within the reach of all. For the benefit of the people living in adjoining towns to Clanton, I have made arrangements with those handling this line of business to accommodate their patronage with my hearse service. I also carry a full line of burial suits, robes and dresses.

Spent Fortune In Her Search

HUNTINGTON WOMAN DESPAIRED OF EVER BEING WELL, BUT TANLAC PROVED MERIT.

"Ten years is a long time to suffer and I am certainly thankful that I am once more enjoying good health," said Mrs. Ida Smith of 214, Seventh Street, Huntington, W. Va.

"I was getting worse so rapidly that I felt if something wasn't done soon I couldn't live much longer. I had spent a small fortune trying to get relief, but with no results. I had such a dreadful case of indigestion that I could hardly eat a thing and was slowly starving to death. Often I had cramping spells that almost drove me frantic and I suffered awfully with bloating, palpatation and heartburn.

"At times I would almost suffocate, I was badly constipated and was hardly ever free from headaches. I was extremely nervous, couldn't sleep well and was so discouraged that I almost lost heart.

"I have taken only four bottles of Tanlac and I enjoy my meals now, for I haven't the slightest touch of indigestion, no matter what I eat. I am free from constipation and headaches and my nerves are so steady that I sleep just as sound as I ever did. I have gained ten pounds, feel well and happy and recommend Tanlac with all my heart."

Breaking Ground Church Ceremony

PASTOR CARTER DELIVERED A TIMELY ADDRESS UPON THE STARTING OF THE NEW BAPTIST CHURCH.

According to previous announcement the breaking ground ceremony for the new Baptist Church of Clanton was held on last Sunday afternoon at the building site. Quite a large number of people assembled to witness the ceremony, although we have heard it intimated that there were not as many present as ought to have been owing to the importance of the occasion.

The services were in charge of Rev. P. G. Carter, who delivered a short but impressive address, especially adapted for this occasion. Following is a stenographic reproduction of his address:

"The occasion which brings us together this afternoon is a red letter day, and marks an important epoch in the history of Clanton and Chilton County, as well as the Baptist denomination and the entire kingdom of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. It is an event which some have been looking forward to for a quarter of a century, since the time when it was first anticipated. It is an event to which some who stand here to-day, a quarter of a century from now will look back to in retrospect with happy and joyous remembrance. It is an event for which many prayers have been offered during the years that have passed, and for which many who have sown in tears of disappointment and discouragement will reap with joy today. On this occasion we are making history religiously, morally, civically, and comercially.

Religious Significance.

From a religious standpoint there is no house or temple that we may erect that can be any too good for the worship and glory of God. Solomon's conception in the magnificent temple he built with the finest cedars of Lebanon, the purest gold of Ophir bedecked with the precious stones and gems of his day as an adequate expression of the majesty and glory of God whom they worshipped should be our expression and desire to-day. It has been sometimes said that the kind of building we worship in represents the amount of genuine religion we possess. This is not always true, yet certainly we should be willing to go to the furthest extreme of sacrifice if necesary, to worship at least in a desirable sanctuary wherein the presence of God is found. Thus it is the desire of the Baptist people, and we believe of the community, to erect a splendid building which we hope soon to dedicate, wherein the shekinah of God's glory and presence may dwell with His people as they seek to worship Him in spirit and in truth.

In this building which we are to erect we shall have adequate equipment for a splendid Sunday School. The auditorium will seat some 580 people. In the first story downstairs we hope that provision will be made where the young people can enjoy a social evening of recreation, and of physical culture, by the proper equipment of a gymnasium, thus to carry out what is known in the large cities as an institutional church.

Civic Significance.

Again we are making history today from a civic standpoint. Clanton has reason to be justly proud of its civic buildings. The county court house is a structure of which cities many times the size of Clanton, and counties with a good deal more of wealth would like to possess.

The splendid County High School building stands as a worthy monument to the cause of education, and to those who put their money and energy into so worthy an enterprise. The public school building is also a reasonably good building, yet in the way of educational equipment these should be but the beginning of other structures that soon must follow to meet the educational demands of the city and county.

While we say this without any undue flattery of the public buildings we possess, it must be acknowledged with no sense of pride that our church buildings are not in accord with these structures or in true representation of the splendid little city of Clanton.

Today, as the pastor of the Baptist Church, and as a fellow citizen, I rejoice with my people and with the community that, owing to their heroic efforts of recent months we are now going to remedy this condition, and erect a church house that will be one of the best structures in this section of the state for hundreds of miles. Clanton as a desirable place to live, there will be no better asset than the new church which we expect to complete about six months from now. A city with good churches, good schools and good people is a very desirable place in which to live.

Commercial Significance.

Just as this event which we celebrate today is important from a civic standpoint, it is even so from a commercial standpoint. People are not attracted to a community that is poorly equipped with churches, except an undesirable class of people, which any city is better off without. A good church building usually gives expression to a high standard of religious life in the people who take that much pride in religion. That fact in itself helps real estate to rise in value, and business enterprises of one kind and another to locate in our midst.

Future Significance.

This auspicious occasion is fraught with significance because in the building of this church we are making provision for the rising generations to come, who are to perpetuate the religious principles and doctrines for which we stand today, and to perpetuate, as Christian citizens, the lofty ideals of this great nation to which we belong, since righteousness exalteth a nation, which righteousness finds its expression at least in an organized way through the churches to which we belong

Among the people who should rejoice the most and express their gratitude the most perhaps, are the young people of our community; for they are the ones who will receive the most good. They will likely remain to enjoy its benefits, while the older people here today who are investing their money will, by reason of nature, soon pass away.

This occasion whih we celebrate today has not been attained on flowery beds of ease. Some, at least, have worked hard, and with mental distress and soul agony, put their life into the undertaking. The difficulties are not yet all overcome. Some may have to make sacrifices to meet their notes to help us to complete the building, but the greater the sacrifice the greater the blessing. Later on we hope when the time arrives that those who have made pledges for the building will be able to make provision for them, by which they can be taken care of, and the money placed into the treasury of the building fund. By faith we are confident of this that in some way or other the money will be forthcoming as it is required to complete the building. With a united front, let us work together and pull together and pray together, for the accomplishment of this glorious task.

Denominational Loyalty With Christian Unity.

In conclusion, I feel that the day has come in Clanton when we should lay aside, forget and forgive all the differences of the past which has divided us as individuals or as churches. It is in accord with human nature and individual thought that there should be different denominations. They existed in the days of Paul, they will always exist so long as time shall last. Each one of us believe that our denomination is right, and should believe that in all of them there are good Christian people, with whom we can associate and co-operate. This I believe in a true spirit of Christian unity. Not organic unity, for that can never be, but of Christian unity and co-operation for the uplift of humaity and the glory of God. It is not in the broadest sense so much what church we belong to, though I personally believe that the Baptist Church is the most scriptural, but how much good can I do for my fellow man, and where can I best serve Christ? I believe the day has come in Clanton or is fast approaching, when we are going to lay down and bury the hatchets if we have any to bury, forget and forgive the wrongs that we may have been victims of, and with a united front as brethren and sisters in Christ stand for high and lofty morals, and that righteousness which exalteth a nation and the community in which we live.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

A 3-day Whirlwind of things worth while.

The year 1921 as it goes foward reveals itself as a Year of Great Events.

New Men and New Ideas are coming foward every day.

New artists are demonstrating the powers of America Genius. New songs have been composed. New stories are being written. New thoughts are inspiring men, women and children to new efforts and ideals.

The Radcliffe Chautauqua System finds itself equipped as never before to bring its loyal, enthusiastic and enormous clientele a reflex of the work and play of the world as it is now going foward. Within a peroid of six years, the Radcliffe Chautauqua attendence has increased from a total of twenty-five thousand to more than four million. From seventy-three towns in three states, the increase has been to more than fifteen hundred towns in forty-one states. There could be no more convincing evidence of the merit and charm of a Radcliffe Program.

The human being is described by science as the only animal that laughs.

When you laugh with a Radcliffe Program, you laugh as Man, at something you can repeat and describe without question as to its taste.

TAKE A LAUGH HOME WITH YOU

It will make you a congenial neighbor.

Man is the higest development in the scale of animate nature. He is the Reasoning Animal. When you listen for a thought, let it be a good, big thought, soundly verified and uttered by an orator who knows what he is talking about, and how to say it.

TAKE A THOUGHT HOME WITH YOU.

It will aid you in your business.

Radcliffe Chautauqua (WASHINGTON D.C.)

Man is the only creature who has at command the full musical scale.

Gain new and broader acquaintance with the pleasures and benefits this great gift confers. Listen through the mind and heart of an artist.

TAKE A MELODY HOME WITH YOU

It will prevent a lonely hour.

Nearly all creatures, natural history declares, are in some degree mimics. None but man possesses the mimetic gift to the degree of the Actor's Art which makes it a perpetual delight to study and reveal the characteristic of our fellow mortals. The Radcliffe impersonators show interesting and fascinating types from diversified walks of mankind, who linger in memory as genial and cherished acquaintances.

TAKE A FRIEND OF THE IMAGINATION HOME WITH YOU

His droll but accurate philosophy will come to your relief in a moment of perplexity.

The people in the World make the World Worth While. The most magnificent edifice reared by the hands of Immortal genius is interesting, first and foremost because of theHuman Story that it tells. Not to be in touch with the World and its Finest Thought and most Skilful Endeavor is to live outside of the earth; outside of life itself.

The Radcliffe Chautauqua, with its opulence of facinating entertainment and irresistible interest translates the term, "THE JOY OF LIVING" from the language of Fancy to that of genuine Human Reality.

ARMY WAYS.

I thought a doctor was supposed to tell people what is the matter with them.

Not in the army. In the army it is up to the patient to say what is the matter with him, and it's up to the doctor to prove he hasn't got it.

JOAN DE ARC.

A very creditable play under the title of Joan de Arc, was presented last Saturday evening at Thorsby Institute under direction of Mrs. May Hastings Nottage; all the participants being members of her classes in French, composed of students at the Institute. Before the opening act Mrs. Nottage gave a brief synopsis of the play for information of the audience, all the spoken parts were in French.

Act 1.—May festival at Domremy, a small village in France. (Joan hears voices.)

Act 2.—At the court of the King, Charles VII. (Tableaux, coronation at Rheims Cathedral.)

Act 3.—Joan before the Judges and her martyrdom at Rouen.

Act 4.—At Domremy, the news of Joan's death. (Tableaux. Joan of Arc, We are Calling You.)

Closing scene entire company singing The Marseillaise, followed by The Star Spangled Banner.

The cast was as follows:
Ena Grenn, Joan of Arc.
Clayton Sharpe, King Charles VII.
Marie Flummer, Queen Marie de Anjon.
Arthur McCrory, father of Joan.
Dora Brackin, mother of Joan.
Elliott Lyon, Brother of Joan.

THORSBY vs. SOUTH CALERA

Quite a one-sided game of baseball was played here Saturday by the Thorsby and South Calera teams. The Thorsby boys simply walked away with the game, the score being 24 to 1. Some of the boys went away feeling so badly beaten that they said they never would come back, but we hope they will after they practice up a bit and get out of the Vida class.

IN MEMORY OF B. E. COLLUM

Jemison, Ala., May 9, 1921.

On Thursday morning, March 24, 1921, at one o'clock, the monster Death slipped into the home of our brother, B. E. Collum, and while the loved ones and friends kept watch, the white robed angels hovered around his bedside and said "It is enough; come up higher, to your Father's House of many mansions in the sky where the streets are paved with gold and where the River of Life flows from the Great White Throne of God and where the angelic host sings redeeming love throughout the passing years of Eternity." He was a member to George R. Ward Lodge No. 164, I O O F. He will be greatly missed in the Lodge room as well as in his home, for his seat is vacant and his voice stilled. We keenly feel our loss, but are sure that he is at the beautiful gate waiting and looking this way and beckoning us to come up higher to the land where there is no parting or pain, for he suffered greatly here, but said he was not afraid to die. It is so bad for us to have to realize that we cannot meet this dear one on earth again and no more hear his gentle foot steps and kind words for he was such a good member, true to his lodge, and his family, and we should let his good advice and influence live in ou hearts forever. Let us all pray and look toward the home of the soul, and when the end of life is drawing near and the shadows of evening fall about us, we can fall asleep in the arms of Jesus and meet our loved ones in the City of God.

After an appropriate service at the Methodist Church, conducted by the Pastor, Brother L. H. Brannon, and while the sweet strains of music from the choir still floated out on the air the remains were gently borne out and conveyed to the cemetery by the Masons and Odd Fellows of which he was a faithful member at his death. Impressive burial ceremonies were held by both lodges. Softly and kindly were the words spoken and loving hands encircled him as he was laid in his last resting place in mother earth where he sleeps beneath a flower covered mound to await the resurrection of the dead.

Now, let us as Odd Fellows and Masons, and loved ones, bow in humble submission to the Will of God and say:

Sleep on dear brother and take thy rest;
God has called thee home, and he knew best.

We had a good singing, and it was enjoyed by all who were present. The directors for the afternoon were as follows, three songs each: A. L. Robinson, A. M. Jones, Calvin Jones, T. L. Robinson, J. A. An opportunity was given for anyone to talk that wished to. T. L. Robinson, E. L. Jones, A. M. Jones, A. L. Robinson, W. A. Jones and J. A. Jones made some good talks that we enjoyed very much.

Then after song by J. A. Jones we were dismissed.

We are going to meet at the cemetery here on Thursday, May 19, for the purpose of cleaning off same. We ask all who are interested to come and help us.—Archie Jones.

UNION GROVE

We had a good attendance at Sunday School Sunday morning, and at preaching at 11 o'clock by the pastor Rev. W. P. Lowery, who seemed to be at his best and was said by many to be one of his best sermons.

The Singing Society met as usual in the afternoon with such a large crowd that the house was crowded. The president being absent, the song service was opened at 2:15 by the vice-president, Bro. A. H. Glasscock. After a song and prayer the president arrived and took charge, and the following directors were called, who were given 15 minutes each: E. L. Glasscock, with Miss Syble Langston at the organ. Then came the boys who are just entering into their teens some of their voices not yet changed, but it is inspiring to hear them sing so sweetly. First came Leonard Glasscock with Miss Syble Langston to play; second was Gresham Lowery, with his sister, Miss Stella Lowery to play; third Charles Glasscock with Miss Stella Lowery at the organ. Then we were given a recess of 15 minutes for water and rest. Then Mr. W. G. Culp directed and Miss Stella Lowery at the organ; Prof. Albert Glasscock with Miss Syble Langston; Prof. A. H. Glasscock with Miss Lena Glasscock to play; Mr. W. H. Conway with Miss Ellen Glasscock to play; Mr. Vernon Northcutt with Miss Emma Arledge to play; Mr. Vester Campbell with Miss Emma Arledge to play.

By this time it was almost 5 o'clock and after thanks were rendered to the class for their sweet singing and good order by the president a vote was unanimously cast to call off the singing at Oak Hill next Sunday evening to attend the all day singing at Oak Grove.

We are sorry the editor of the Union-Banner could not be with us, according to promise, for we are always glad to have our friends visit us. We were very glad indeed to have Mr. W. G. Culp from Clanton and Bro. W. P. Lowery with his young son and daughter from Thorsby with us.

We are planning to have an all day singing at Oak Hill the Second Sunday in June. Prof. Patton has already pormised to be with us on that day and we hope to have many other noted singers with us, whom we will announce later through the columns of the dear old Union-Banner.

With best wishes to the Banner and its many readers, I am yours for the cause of Christ.

But, Mr. Editor, before I close, permit me to say that I heartily endorse what Rev. Lowery and your other correspondent had to say about the dance and its origin and evils. Hurrah for them; but I feel sorry for the poor simp who tried so feebly to defend the dance.

I say AMEN. Go to it brothers; you are not alone. You have the better part of the churches of all denominations to back you up in fighting this social evil. Yours for a clean church, life and society.

Made by its inventor

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

THOMAS A. EDISON invented the New Edison. And in the shadow of beautiful Llewelyn Park, Orange, N. J., he built and equipped the finest, most modern phonograph laboratories in the world. There he makes the New Edison and guards its quality with zealous attention.

Think a moment! What other phonograph or talking machine is made, protected and sponsored by its inventor—by an Edison?

Mr. Edison spent three millions of dollars in research work to perfect the New Edison. Then, to prove its perfect realism, he stood the New Edison side by side with the living artist and matched its voice with the actual performance of the living artist. No one was able to detect any difference between the two. The New Edison has stood this amazing test over five thousand times before more than five million people.

Again we ask you to think a moment. What other phonograph or talking machine can sustain this test of direct comparison with living artists?

HARDING MAKES GOOD IN OPENING HIS TERM

Good nature and Quiet Determination Felt in Relation With Congress

Washington, May 19.—President Harding has made good.

This is the unanimous verdict of Washington. Members of Congress and evecutive officials outvie in praise of an administration which has gone ahead without blunders and has functioned with the case of a well-oiled machine.

Before the Republican convention last June the party was rent with the temporary dissension of a very great contest for the presidency. When Warren G. Harding was nominated those leaders who had been opposed to him awaited with confidence the impression he would make upon the country. He conducted himself during the campaign without an error. After the inauguration the Democrats expressed the hope that serious mistakes would be made, that the large majorities in the House and Senate would be unwieldy and that patronage would cause dissension. But the months have passed without mistakes, with a unity of purpose of doing away with the maladministration of the Wilson regime, and with a slow parcelling out of the larger offices on a basis of efficiency alone The result is that the Democrats are even more despondent than immediately after the election, for then they were merely defeated, and now they are without immediate hope of restoration.

The salutary change of administration is noticed especially in the attitude of the President toward Congress Mr. Wilson was arrogantly disposed, brooked no opposition and could gain no concession from an opposition determinded Americanism. Mr. Harding maintains the dignity and independence of the chief executive office in the land, but does it with a harmonious and friendly relationship with Congress, based upon mutual approachability, which heightens the effect of a rule of reason rather than of unreason. Mr. Wilson kept the gates of the White House locked two years after the war. Mr. Harding unlocked them and the crowds have daily gained admittance. Alliance with Europe have gone by the board. Uncle Sam is asserting his own rights rather than yield them to an abstraction of international amity. Extravagance and waste have ceased. Commerce is being stimulted without crippling business, after a serious financial depression brought on during the last two years of the Wilson administration. Soundness and intelligence reign in all the departments. And the President's unfailing good nature and quiet determination of character are accepted as the reliance of the nation.

SAYS IT PAYS TO RAISE THE BEST CATTLE

Tax Collector J. D. Collins, the widely known grower of fine red hogs comes out now with some figures on cattle that look good to us. He has a Holstein bull seven and a half months old that weighs exactly six hundred pounds. When this fellow was one day old he weighed 102 pounds. Since he was one day old his daily gain in weight has been two and one-eleventh pounds. Dudley says he was offered six cents a pound for the animal for beef one day last week. This offer is more than the average price of beef cattle at present. Mr. Collins says it shows that it pays to raise the best cattle, both for dairy purposes and for beef.

BUILDING NEW BAPTIST CHURCH

It begins to look like we will have to lay aside our ancient dubiousness and come clean with the admission that Clanton is to have a new Baptist Church. It is pretty hard to do, inasmuch as it has been a talked-of proposition for longer than we can remember, but the work has actually started, and there is no denying the fact. We hope there will be no interruption in the plans, and that the new building will be completed in due time.

RADCLIFFE CHAUTAUQUA

The local Chautauqua Committee desires to announce May 26-27-28 as the dates upon which the Radcliffe Chautauqua will be held here. The Bureau at Washington promises the people of our Community an unusually attractive and varied program.

PROF. JOHNSON RE-ELECTED AS PRINCIPAL GRAMMAR SCHOOL

At a meeting of the Clanton School Board on last Monday afternoon Prof. J. L. Johnson was re-elected as Principal of the Clanton Grammar School for another year. This action of the Board will meet with the hearty approval of practically every portion of the school.

Prof. Johnson has been principal of the school for five years, and under his management this institution has grown and prospered. He is a constant worker for the cause of education and a sincere advocate of the moral and civic betterment of the community where his labors are cast.

We have no doubt as to the future of our school as long as Prof. Johnson's hand is at the wheel. The children of the city are safe in his keeping. This confidence is not speculative, but is a reality, because we have tried him and found him faithful to his duties and always ready to defend the interests of the children placed under his watchcare.

PROVIDENCE BEAT 16

Editor Union-Banner:

Please give us space for report of our singing society Sunday p.m.

House was called to order by President W. H. Robinson at 2 o'clock by singing a song and prayer by Bro. R. Robinson. A program committee was appointed, G. C. Powell, R. M. Robinson and J. W. Cleckler, which arranged the directors for the afternoon as follows: W. H. Robinson, J. W. Cleckler, E. L. Powell, G. C. Powell, all 15 minutes each; recess for 15 minutes; R. M. Robinson, J. W. P. Murphy, O. R. Robinson, 15 minutes each. Organists for the afternoon were C. H. Robinson and Miss Margie Murphy.

The Ruling By-Laws for the society was read and adopted as follows:

1. This society shall be known as The Providence Singing Society. 2. This society shall be opened with prayer. 3. This society shall meet every first and third Sunday evening, unless otherwise agreed by the society. 4. None but Christian proffessors shall conduct music in this society on its regular Sunday meetings. 5. This society shall have an executive committee of three which shall arrange program etc. 6. These by-laws may be altered or amended when the society thinks necessary.

Bro. M. J. Parrish made us a good talk on "The Good of our Society," which was very appropriate.

We had some visitors from Clanton and Refuge, which we were very glad to have. We invite all singers to come to our society.

W. H. Robinson sang the closing song, God Be with You, and Bro. J. W. P. Murphy dismissed in prayer.

J. W. CLECKLER, Secy.

Mr. R. A. (Tam) Miller, Jr., and Mr. Newton Minor went up to Birmingham Monday evening to visit a sick relative.

Rev. C. D. Messer of Thorsby was in Clanton last Saturday in the interest of the Third District Conference that is to be held at Walnut Creek Methodist Church May 27, 28 and 29. Complete program of the meeting for the three days appears elsewhere in this paper.

CHILTON WINS GAME FROM THORSBY INSTITUTE

Last Friday afternoon the baseball team of Chilton County High School, in a long and laborious onslaught, succeeded in putting a game over on the team of Thorsby Institute, played on the Thorsby ground.

The players for Clanton were Scott, Foshee, Burnett, Calloway, Roberts, Hays, (Jack), Wagner (Red),and Jones. Batteries Burnett, Calloway and Sims.

The Thorsby Institute team was composed of Littleton, Sharpe, Wesley, Larsen, Leary, Giles, Male, and McCrory.

At first the Institute boys seemed to have the "deadwood" on the Chilton High, holding them down until the ninth inning with a score of 7 to 2. In the ninth inning the Chilton High rallied with a determined effort, and it was apparent to the spectators that something was bound to happen. They made five scores in the ninth inning, thus tieing the game.

The tenth inning produced the sensation of the game. Rucker Sims of the Chilton High team hit the old horse hide so far out into the field, and planted it so deep in the high weeds that the Institute boys did not find the ball until Jack Hayes had come home from first base and Sims himself had made a complete circuit and touched the home plate. Jack Hayes almost fainted from over-exertion in his desperate effort to keep the track clear ahead of Rucker Sims in his mad rush for a homer.

However, to all observers it was easy to see that the Institute boye are not to be monkeyed with in a ball game. They made but few errors in the first part of the game, and made it look rather gloomy for Clanton in the beginning

The final result of the game was Clanton 9 and Thorsby 7. TheChilton High boys feel like Thorsby will not put them in the Vida class.

"WE ARE GOING TO HAVE IT"

According to eminent astronomers and astrologists, three important planets already have their artillery playing on old Mother Earth, which they claim is the cause of astonishingly freakish weather and other peculiar atmospheric stunts being served up to us poor mortals at present.

To make the matter still more calamitous they tell us the fourth planet is putting its electrical apparatus in train and will go in the bombardment on the 28th instant.

Then, as though we didn't already have more trouble than we can conveniently digest, along about the same date an immense comet is going to hustle past and give us a few wallops with its tail.

Now, these classical gentlemen all agree that between the 28th and 31st of this month we may look out for extremely extraordinary conditions of nature, but whether these mundane disturbances will take the form of seismatic convulsions, cynic disasters, or electrical manifestations, they can not say. The only thing they are sure of is that "we are going to have it."

So, look out for trouble as the "merry month of May" passes into the discard.

BAPTIST DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

The following Sunday Schools, represented by their delegates, met at Chestnut Creek Church and organized a Baptist District Sunday School Convention:—Chestnut, Providence, Salem, Corinth, Floyd, East View. The following officers were elected: S. M. Yates, Jr., President; R. M. Robinson, Secretary. A motion prevailed that we elect a committee of three to arrange subect for our next meeting, and Rev. J. D. Hughes, Riley Robinson, and D. S. Robinson were elected. We also elected delegates to the County Convention, which will meet with White Pond Church the first Sunday in June.

We earnestly urge all of our churches to be sure and send representatives to our County Convention.

TOUGH ON DANCES

Rev. R. J. Mills, now located at Marion, Ala., but formely a resident of Montgomery and pastor of one of the local churches, has just tried out an interesting experiment.

He teaches a class of sixteen young men. He wanted to know the ideas of all these young men as to the characteristics and traits which go to make an ideal woman, the best kind of a woman and for making a busy and hard working man a good wife.

He asked all of them to write their ideas on a card in such manner as their handwriting may not be known and to send in the cards by mail without signing their names to the cards.

Sixteen of the young men— all of them—made answers.

"There was not a quality mentioned on any one of the sixteen cards," says Mr. Mills, "that would even suggest a dancer, or dancing as one of the qualities which would aid in making an ideal Christian or a good housewife."

"I had an experience even stronger than this," Mr. Mills wrote a friend who was interested in the experiment. "At the recent meeting held for men only, attended by about three hundred men a proposition was made that all of those present who believed that the modern dance had a tendency to adultery and immorality to hold up their hands. Of the three hundred present about two hundred and eighty held up their hands, and many of those who held up their hands, were young men who are said to have been dancers."

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

Rev. N. A. Dobbs last Sunday had the pleasure of marrying Mr. J. W. Smith and Miss Mary Klinner.

An Incident of 100 Years Ago.

The following item from The Montgomery Republican of March 1, 1821, will be of interest to the people of this county, since it will be found upon investigation that the boat under discussion passed down our portion of the Coosa River in making its 1,000 mile trip:

"A boat arrived in Montgomery last week, the history of which will no doubt seem incredible to a stranger. She is a keel boat 50 feet long, 6 feet beam, 6 feet deep, and capable of carrying near 100 barrels. She was built at West Point, East Tennessee, where she was loaded for this place, and proceeded 100 miles down the Tennessee to the mouth of Hawassee, thence 66 miles to the entrance of the Woco, up the latter a certain distance, when she was transported (with the cargo) ten miles by land to the Connesauga, thence to and down the Oostanaula, through the Coosa into the Alabama, a distance of nearly 1,000 miles from the interior."

The above story might have seemed incredible to strangers in Montgomery 100 years ago, and suspect that one will not have to be a stranger now to look upon the narrative with a certain degree of incredulity. Especially will those of us who know something of the boisterousness of the Coosa River wonder how the barge ever accomplished her cruise in the face of the fact that she had to pass the "Butting Ram" and Duncan's Riffles. Those are mighty ugly places now, and we suppose they were just as ugly 100 years ago. Old citizens have related to us how some of the famous skippers of the past saw their barges wrecked in attempting to run the rapids at these places.

The Mystery of the Cook's Pet Parrot

A FUNNY paper recently.
SLIPPED ME a good laugh.
WITH A wheeze about.
A FAMOUS ventriloquist.
AND WHY he had quit.
THE VAUDEVILLE stage.
IT SAID he discovered.
HE COULD make more jack.
SELLING WOODEN parrots.
SO WHEN I got home.
I PASSED the joke.
TO OUR cook, who owns.
BOTH A speechless parrot.
AND A sense of humor.
BUT SHE muffed it.
BECAUSE SHE didn't know.
WHAT A ventriloquist was.
SO I had to explain it.
AND ON the way out.

I BLEW just a whiff.
OF CIGARETTE smoke.
AT HER amusing old.
FOOL OF a parrot.
WHICH NEVER talks.
AND I said, "Poll.
HOW D'YOU like it?"
AND TO this day.
IT'S GOT me guessing.
WHETHER IT was cook.
OR THE blamed bird.
WHICH SQUAWKED back.
"THEY SATISFY."

Knows Where To Go For Help

ANOTHER NASHVILLE WOMAN BENEFITTED BY TANLAC, THREE YEARS AGO.

"Tanlac relieved me of my troubles and put me in splendid condition three years ago and I know just where to go when I need something to build me up," said Mrs. Louis E. Sneed, 1218 Fifth Ave.., North, Nashville, Tenn. while purchasing a bottle of Tanlac the other day.

"I suffered for years from stomach trouble and about three years ago I got into an awful condition. I couldn't eat a thing but what caused me to suffer agonies, my nerves were all upset, I couldn't sleep and I suffered a great deal from rheumatism. I had a dull, heavy, languid feeling all the time, with no strength nor energy, and at times my suffering were almost unbearable.

"That was my condition when I got Tanlac, and I declared the medicine just made the most wonderful change in me. My stomach stopped bothering me. I began to sleep as sound as a baby, all my aches and pains left me and was built up in every way until I felt fine all the time and I'm feeling that way yet. My faith has been pinned to Tanlac ever since that time. I am getting this bottle now to tone me up in the change of seasons when spring comes on."

WHEN you buy eggs—you judge their value by freshness and the "dozen."
When you buy silk you figure its worth by feel—beauty and the "yard."
But—how do you arrive at the value of baking powder? You can't tell by appearances—by weight—bulk doesn't mean quality.
There's only one way—and that is an oven test.
By that test—Calumet always proves itself the best.

Never Fails—Never permits waste of baking materials

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

"BEST BY TEST"

It is the most economical of all leaveners. Its price is moderate—you save when you buy it.

It has more than the ordinary leavening strength—you use less and save when you use it.

It never fails. There is no loss of baking ingredients.

So, don't guess at Baking Powder value any longer. Measure it by results.

The body needs gluten. Be sure you get it. Use only plain wheat flour and pure baking powder. Mix them yourself. No ready prepared substitute or mixture (self-rising flour) will answer the purpose.

Are YOU too worn out to succeed?

Nothing will turn ambition into ill-tempered laziness quicker than constipation. And nothing will render the body more liable to dangerous diseases than this same poisonous condition.

Don't be constipated! It isn't safe! It isn't sensible! It isn't necessary! Be well—but don't rely on ordinary laxatives to help you. Try instead the newest scientific treatment for constipation—

RICH-LAX

This preparation not only overcomes constipation, but it does away with all the nausea, cramping and deranged digestion caused by ordinary laxatives.

Guaranteed at Our Store. We are so sure that Rich-Lax will please you that we want you to come to our store and get a bottle and try it entirely at our risk. If it doesn't suit you, if it isn't the best laxative medicine you ever used, simply tell us so and we will promptly refund the full purchase price.

Upchurch Drug Company.

A 3-day Whirlwind of things worth while.

The year 1921 as it goes foward reveals itself as a Year of Great Events.

New Men and New Ideas are coming foward every day.

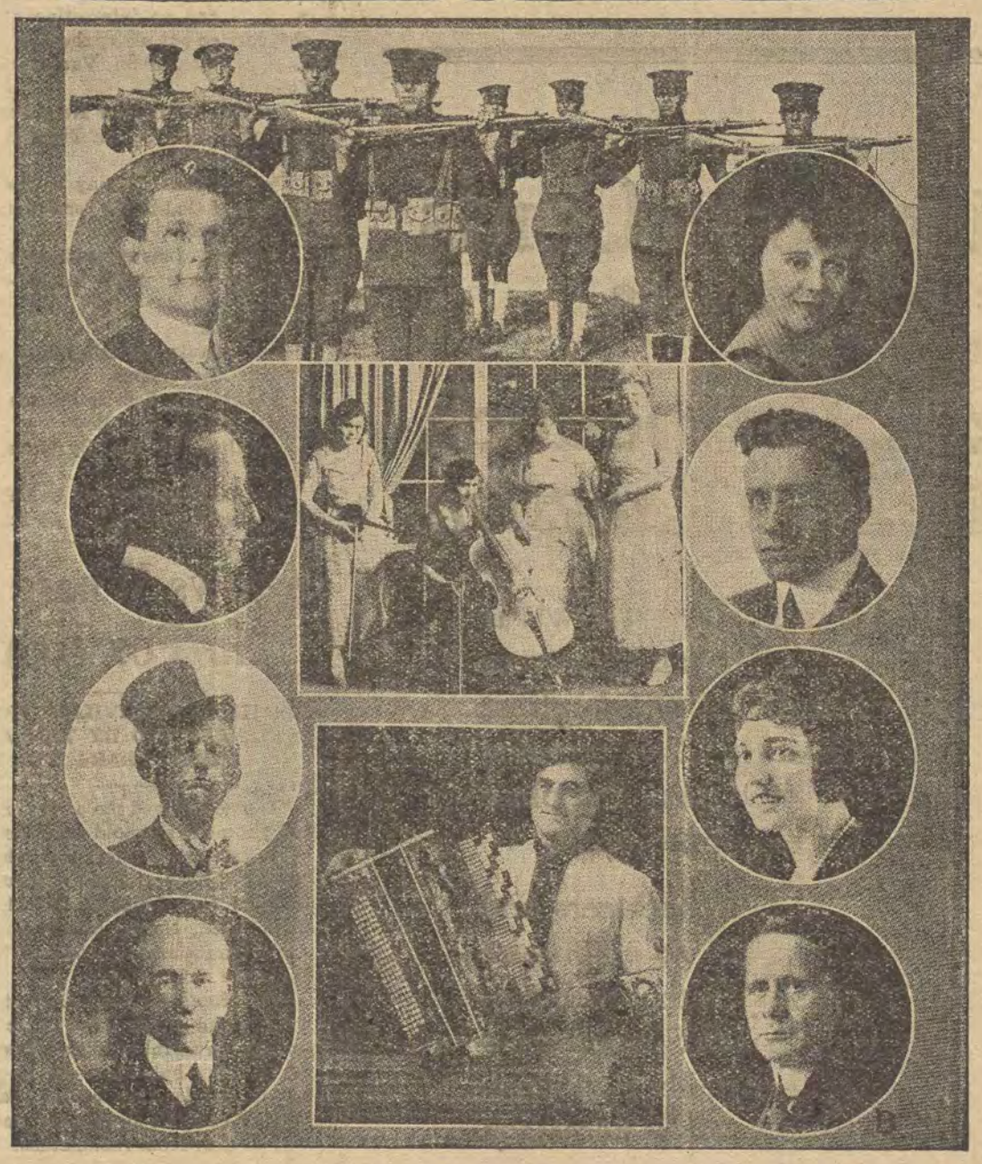
New artists are demonstrating the powers of America Genius. New songs have been composed. New stories are being written. New thoughts are inspiring men, women and children to new efforts and ideals.

The Radcliffe Chautauqua System finds itself equipped as never before to bring its loyal, enthusiastic and enormous clientele a reflex of the work and play of the world as it is now going foward. Within a peroid of six years, the Radcliffe Chautauqua attendence has increased from a total of twenty-five thousand to more than four million. From seventy-three towns in three states, the increase has been to more than fifteen hundred towns in forty-one states. There could be no more convincing evidence of the merit and charm of a Radcliffe Program.

The human being is described by science as the only animal that laughs.

When you laugh with a Radcliffe Program, you laugh as Man, at something you can repeat and describe without question as to its taste.

TAKE A LAUGH HOME WITH YOU



It will make you a congenial neighbor.

Man is the higest development in the scale of animate nature. He is the Reasoning Animal. When you listen for a thought, let it be a good, big thought, soundly verified and uttered by an orator who knows what he is talking about, and how to say it.

TAKE A THOUGHT HOME WITH YOU.

It will aid you in your business.

Radcliffe Chautauqua WASHINGTON D.C.

Man is the only creature who has at command the full musical scale.

Gain new and broader acquaintance with the pleasures and benefits this great gift confers. Listen through the mind and heart of an artist.

TAKE A MELODY HOME WITH YOU

It will prevent a lonely hour.

Nearly all creatures, natural history declares, are in some degree mimics. None but man possesses the mimetic gift to the degree of the Actor's Art which makes it a perpetual delight to study and reveal the characteristic of our fellow mortals. The Radcliffe impersonators show interesting and fascinating types from diversified walks of mankind, who linger in memory as genial and cherished acquaintances.

TAKE A FRIEND OF THE IMAGINATION HOME WITH YOU

His droll but accurate philosophy will come to your relief in a moment of perplexity.

The people in the World make the World Worth While. The most magnificent edifice reared by the hands of Immortal genius is interesting, first and foremost because of the Human Story that it tells. Not to be in touch with the World and its Finest Thought and most Skilful Endeavor is to live outside of the earth; outside of life itself.

The Radcliffe Chautauqua, with its opulence of facinating entertainment and irresistible interest translates the term, "THE JOY OF LIVING" from the language of Fancy to that of genuine Human Reality.

JUDGE REYNOLDS TELLS OF BENEFITS OF HAVING REPUBLICAN CONGRESSMAN

To the Voters in this County:

As you know, we are going to have a Special Election in this District on June 7th, and we will elect Judge A. P. Longshore or Major Lamar Jeffers as Congressman. I hope every voter will consider well the effect of his vote before he casts it, for the time has come that the voters in the South should be free and vote for the interest of all the people.

The people of Alabama have reached the conclusion that if we had two political parties of about the same strength, conditions would be much better in the State.

Now, let's be honest and vote for the man we feel like will benefit us most in Congress. If every voter would do this there is no doubt but that Judge Longshore would be elected. If he is elected Alabama will be in touch with the present administration and we will have some one to represent us at the national capital.

Texas elected a Republican last fall to represent them, and now they are in touch with the administration, and they are able to get what they want. Mr. Wurzbach, the Republican member is taking an active part in getting legislation to help the South; he has great influence in helping the cotton farmer, as he comes from a cotton State.

I have just returned from Washington and you may feel assured that the Republican party is ready to help us, if we will help ourselves. The South has been solid for fifty years, and wouldn't it be wise to make a change at least one time? I wish every voter in this District could visit Washington and see how helpless a Democratic Congressman is, and what little he can do. They have a small corner to themselves in the hall, and do not try to do anything only object to what the Republicans are doing; however, we do not have to visit the Capital City to see what a miserable failure the Solid South has been. We can look around us and ask, what we have received for sending Democrats to Congress? The only answer we can get is that we can vote and pay taxes. Look at the conditions in our own State. The common people have not any privileges left. It is all dished out from Montgomery. We are told how to run our schools, when to open and when to close; how much tax we have to pay; in fact, all orders come from headquarters, and about [illegible] have is to pay the bills.

I like Major Jefers personally, but I am sure if he is elected to Congress that we would never know the difference in their acts, but on the other hand, if we elect Judge Longshore, it will bring the District into notice and we may expect something from the administration.

President Harding says he is going to help build up a Republican party in the South and help us. The present Congress has recently passed an Emergency Tariff Bill, which will be of much benefit to the Southern farmer, and which will be signed by the President in a few days.

The negro question is out of the way. We have no excuse for not voting our convictions and if we do we will elect Judge Longshore to Congress. We can vote for Judge Longshore and elect him, which will put us on the map, or we can vote for Major Jeffers and stay in the same old rut we have traveled in for the last fifty years.

Congressman Wurzbach, from Texas, will speak in this County, June 1st. He will speak at Jemison at 10 o'clock A.M., at Clanton, at 2 O'clock P.M. and at Thorsby, at 7:30 P.M. He is a member of the present Congress and as he comes from Texas, a Southern State, he knows our needs and I am sure every voter can learn something from him, regardless of what his politics may be. I know he comes at a busy time but we can afford to lose a few hours to hear a speaker like he is.

Hon. Pope M. Long will speak at the court house here next Saturday p.m. at 2:00 o'clock. I hope every one who can will come to hear him. I think he will stay in the county for several days and speak in various places.

I hope all the men will come to the speakings, but we especially invite the ladies, as they have recently been given the privilege of voting and I am sure they will not want to vote with prejudice but will want to hear facts and then vote their convictions.

Yours very truly,
L. H. REYNOLDS.

REV. J. S. HAND WRITES FROM NEWTON, ALABAMA

Editor Union-Banner:

I have felt inclined for some time to write to my home county paper. I have been located at Newton for the last two years, and I can say to my brethren in the ministry back at home that I find real joy in sacrifice. For it is a sacrifice for a preacher to leave his home community, sell all the property that he has, in order to better equip himself for the ministry.

But the day has come when trained workers are in demand, and has brought with it no demand at all for the untrained and uncultured. The black smith to do his work well, must be trained. The farmer, to diversify his farm, must know how. The preacher, to do the best work for his Lord, needs at least some preparation of mind, and of course, he must have the divine approval of God and the Holy Spirit to lead him.

The Baptists of Alabama have located here at Newton a secondary school. To appreciate this school as you should you will have to visit it, and see what it is doing. There were twenty-four young preachers here at the last term, and there is expected to be even a greater number here next year. Dr. A. J. Lowery, who has charge of the school, is a strong and lovable man, of great ability. To be under his wise counsel and instructions is nothing less than a golden opportunity.

The two years that I have spent in the school has been well worth while. The Unity Association has helped in a small way some of our needs during this last term, for which those that received the help and duly thankful.

My pastoral work for this year is located in Dale and Barbour Counties. I would be very glad to have any of my brethren in the ministry from the Unity a nd Chilton County Associations to visit my field of labor. As I see it, we need more brotherly love, co-operation and spirituality. All of these things would make our county more desirable to live in, and would make our churches more powerful. It would enlarge the Kingdom of our Lord in the world. But without these things to accompany us, we need not be surprised if our churches go down, and the power of the evil one increases.

JOHN S. HAND.

DEDICATION FIRST WHITE HOUSE OF CONFEDERACY

With United States Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi delivering the principal address, the First White House of the Confederacy will be dedicated in Montgomery, Alabama, Friday afternoon, June 3, at 4 o'clock. This date also commemorates the birthday of Jefferson Davis. The Dedication exercises will be held on the grounds of the historic old Capitol, and be preceded by a great parade. Following the program the old "White House" will be formally opened and presented to the State. Senator Harrison, the main speaker of the occasion, comes from that section of Mississippi in which Mr. Davis lived. Senator Harrison was Chairman of the Speakers Bu[illegible] of the Democratic party in the last national campaign. His selection for this responsible position, marking one of the first instances in which such an honor has been bestowed upon a Southern man. He is well known as one of the most attractive and forceful orators of the South, and is rapidly pushing to the forefront as one of the leading Democrats in the Senate of the U. S.

The music for the dedication will be furnished by a chorus of several hundred voices, the University Glee Club, and one of the best military bands in the country.

The White House formerly stood in the business section of the city on the same location occupied by it since it was the home of the President of the Confederacy. The first thought was that it should be preserved where it stood, but it was finally decided to move the building to a beautiful lot facing the Capitol grounds. The removal was made under the care of skilled engineers, and the White House now stands more beautifully than ever on the Capitol Hill.

The building will be used as a Confederate Museum in which will be placed priceless relics now in possession of the White House Association. Among these relics is a bed room and other furniture of Jefferson Davis presented the Association by Mrs. Davis for the especial purpose, the table and writing materials used by Mr. Davis in writing "The Rise and Fall of the Confederacy," Persident Davis's sword, the compass carried by General Lee throughout the War, the silver cup from which Lee and Jackson drank, together with many other relics of great interest. It is planned to have a comprehensive Confederate Library as a part of the institution.

As Mount Vernon is to the Nation, the White House will be to the South.

THE TRY-OUT

President Harding's order placing postmasters on the merit system in appointments will be judged by results. The Wilson-Burleson system produced the worst postal services in our history. If the new order produces better service, it will be approved otherwise, there will be more cussing than ever.

CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE URGES ELECTION OF JUDGE LONGSHORE TO CONGRESS

As we are at present in the midst of a political campaign wherein the people of the Fourth Congressional District of Alabama are to choose a man to represent us in the national Congress, this committee wishes to place before you certain things in the interest of Judge A. P. Longshore, the Republican Candidate for Congressman.

This campaign, coming right at this particular time, offers an excellent chance for the election of a Republican as our Representative. We believe there are arguments on the side of the Republican candidate in this campaign that will cause the people to se the wisdom of having a Republican as our representative, and thereby reap vastly more good from the national government than we could with a Democratic representative.

Therefore, it is the purpose of this committee to urge, not only the Republicans of Chilton county, but every other voter as well, to weigh the present situation carefully, and take full and due consideration of the advantages that will come to us by the election of Judge Longshore as our Representative.

1. In the first place, the present administration at Washington in all its branches, is Republican. Then, is it not reasonable to suppose that whatever we might desire in this District, we would stand a better chance of getting it from a Republican administration through a Republican Representative?

2. Then a comparison of the abilities and merits of the two candidates, we believe, would show that Judge Longshore is better qualified by experience and preparation to serve the people than his opponent.

3. The national leaders of the Republican party certainly want to see the "solid Democratic South" broken. If we show them that we are ourselves tired of one-party rule and elect Longshore to Congress then will not that in itself place us in a position to get the ear of a political party that has many years been unable to claim the support of such a vast number of people in a great and growing section of our country?

4. One of the Texas districts has broken away from the Democratic party and sent a Republican to Congress. This Congressman has been placed on many important committees and his time at Washington has been widely appropriated for a vast service of good to his home state. He is given much recognition because he has accomplished the defeat of the Democrats in a district that has always been solid Democratic. The people of his district are getting better representation and more recognition than they could possibly get from a Democrat in a Republican Congress. Now, we have the same opportunity in this District. If we send Longshore he will step right into the councils of the national administration, and begin at once to function as a real representative of his state and District. If we send a Democrat he will be placed on a shelf in the minority side,—will be made a "wall flower" so to speak—and will virtually be a dormant figure with the real activities of the government going on all round him, and not able to step in and counsel the interests of his constituents as a Republican can do.

5. Everybody knows of the mismanagement that has been wrought by the Democrats here in our own state. There is not a single man who owns a mite of property, but has felt the burden of taxation and other forms of Democratic oppression on his shoulders. It has come to a matter of common knowledge that we would be governed better in Alabama if we had a Republican party on a basis of competition with the Democrats. Now is the time to build that competition. We can express ourselves in this congressional election, and by electing Longshore to Congress, thereby put the Democrats on notice that they give us the right kind of government in our state or the people will retire them to the seclusions of private life and turn the reins over to another party that will guarantee a more economical and popular system of government.

Judge Longshore, with the aid of many other Republicans, is waging an aggressive fight for the place to which he aspires. We call your attention to the speaking dates for Chilton county printed on the back of this letter, and urge you to come out and hear what is said.

With these brief statements on the subject we leave you to make up your own mind in the matter, and firmly believe that a careful study of the question from every angle will bring you to a conclusion that Judge Longshore can do the Fourth District more good in Congress than any Democrat that could be sent.

The election will be held on Tuesday, June 7th, and we urge you to come to the polls and vote. Let us give Longshore the largest majority ever given a Republican in Chilton county.

Respectfully yours,
M. D. FOSHEE, Chairman,
Fourth Congressional District Campaign Committee of Chilton County.

NO USURPATION BY HARDING

Washington, May 15.—"The announcement in a Washington paper that President Harding will determine the succession to the chairmanship of the National Committee upon the resignation of Mr. Hays displays one more instance of failure of newspaper writers on the metropolitan press to comprehend the change that has taken place in our national policies since the Harding Administration was vested with power," is the opinion expressed by the Republican Publicity Association in a statement issued by the president of the Association. Honorable Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "Mr. Harding is not only a constitutional president technically, but his habits of thought and action are thoroughly consistent with the spirit of popular government as it has developed under the American system. He is not a dictator either in the affairs of the Government or in the affairs of his party. He seeks neither to usurp the duties of the legislative branch of the Government nor of the controling committee of the Republican Party. He shirks responsibilities of others.

"These are characteristcs which promise to make him one of the greatest Presidents of our national history. His Administration will not be spectacular. He will not frequently force himself into the limelight; but as an Administration blessing the country with universal good feeling, steady and wholesome progress, and strengthening of the Government in the service of the people, his will have few if any superiors.

"Those who thoughtlessly represent Mr. Harding as determining for the National Committee who shall be its chairman are not only doing the President an unkindly act but giving the people of the country a wrong conception of the character of man they have elected as their chief executive. Undoubtedly if the National Committee should ask Mr. Harding's opinion he would express an opinion just as would any other good member of the Republican party. But there is a vast difference between expressing an opinion upon invitation and assuming to act as the sole authority in determining who shall be the head of the National Committee.

"It is highly important that all the people of the country get a proper conception of the new relationship which the Government maintains towards them. We are to have less Government in business and more business in Government. Not only in their personal affairs, their private business and in their political activities, their own enterprise, and their own judgement, but they are assured that so long as they transgress no law enacted for protection of the public welfare they will meet no interference no hindrance at the hands of the Government."

CLANTON BAPTIST CHURCH

Both services last Sunday were well attended, especially in view of the numerous singings around here. The morning congregation about two-thirds filled the building and was appreciative of the services. The Sunday school was not as large as usual possibly due to some leaving the city for their homes after graduation. We hope however that others will come in to take their places as there is plenty of room for a larger Sunday School. The census of the town will be planned next Sunday afternoon, and an effort made to enlist everybody in the school.

At the night service the church was packed to the doors to hear the lecture by Dr. J. Toy Williams of China, who being a home county product, always draws a large congregation. Dr. Williams has done a great work during the past eight years and will soon return to take up the supervision of the Sunday School for the entire continent. We all rejoice with him in the great things he is doing.

The new church is progressing nicely with the concrete foundation laid as we go to press. All agencies of the church are making every effort to finance the building, and pay the bills and obligations as they may come due.

Owing to the pastor preaching at the Fifth Sunday meeting at New Salem next Sunday there will be no preaching service here next Sunday morning; but there will be the regular service at night.—Pastor.

YEAST FILLS OUT HOLLOWS IN SUNKEN CHEEKS

Science finds that people become thin, weak and sickly because their food lacks one vitally necessary element called vitamines.

Yeast contains billions of vitamines and is great for building good solid flesh and muscle. ePople formerly at yeast cakes, but the best and easiest way to take vitamines into the system is to take Ironized Yeast, which contains highly concentrated brewer's yeast (very efefctive) in tablet form. It also contains iron, the great blood builder, making the work of the vitamines doubly effective. Many say that with Ironized eYast it is easy to gain as much as a pound a day. Quickly rids the skin of pimples, bleckheads, etc.

The fact that such a reliable drug store as Upchurch Drug Co., highly recimmends Ironized eYast indicates that it is well worth trying. Special directions for children in each package.

"SOME BALL GAME"

Friday afternoon a large crowd of people witnessed and enjoyed a thrilling game of baseball which was played between the Chilton County High School and Thorsby Institute.

At the end of the fifth inning it seemed that the Thorsby team was going to win, the Clanton team not having made a single score up to this time. But here the Clanton team began to score, making one score in the sixth inning, one in the eighth, and five in the ninth. This made the score seven to seven. The teams then played off the tie which resulted in the score of 7 to 9 in favor of the Clanton team. Both teams did splendid playing. As this was our last game with Clanton and maybe the last for this season, we did not like to lose it, but somebody had to lose. We hope that we may meet the Chilton High again in the future with better success.

Out of the eight games the Institute has played this season, we have won six. We have had some splendid material in the team this year, and hope that we will continue to win or go down in defeat bravely.

The W. M. U. of the Thorsby Baptist Church held their regular business meeting at the home of the President, Mrs. G. F. Harper, on last Monday afternoon. There was a large attendance. Two visitore were present and three new members were taken in. After prayer and a short program, business was taken up along the line of greater development and activities in the work. At the close of the meeting the ladies were served with the most luscious peaches that can only be found in Thorsby.

A recital by the music and expression department of Thorsby Institute will be given on Saturday night at 7:45.

On Sunday night Mrs. Fred Howard entertained a number of friends complimenting her brother, Mr. Geo. Buckner.

On next Saturday night Miss Marjorie Fox, teacher of music at Thorsby Institute, will present her pupils in recital. This promises to be a rare treat for lovers of good music. It is hoped that a good crowd will turn out.

The next meeting of the Baptist Ladies Aid will be held at the home of Mrs. J. R. Billingsley. It is hoped that all the ladies will attend.

The many friends of Mrs. Louis Howard will regret to learn that she is ill at an infirmary in Birmingham. We hope that she will recover rapidly.

Mr. M. O. Johnson of Brundidge, Ga., is here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Johnson.

HELEN KELLAR SOCIETY.

On Saturday night, May 15th, the Helen Kellar Literary Society met for the last time in this school year. Officers were elected for the school term of 1921-1922 as follows:

President, Chester Maddox; Vice-President, Clayton Sharpe; Secretary, Myrtle Arthur; Treasurer, Annie Hughes; Custodran, Pauline Gray. We trust that our new officers will be as enthusiastic and efficient in their new work as our old ones have been.

After the business there was a highly ridiculous, but well-argued debate entitled, "Resolved that a clean cranky housewife is better than a dirty good natured one." Affirmative Clayton Sharpe (Stars); negative, Chester Maddox (Crescents). The judges rendered their decision in favof of the dirty good-natured housewife.

Two compositions were read, one entitled "Stars," the other "Crescents," favoring the two sides respectively. The Stars were written up by Miss Alison Saltsman and the Crescents by Miss Birdie Hall. The decision of the judges was rendered in favor of Miss Saltsman.

The closing moments were dedicated to a jolly, old foshioned spelling match between the Stars and Crescents. The Stars stood up longest. Miss Agnes Leary (one of our alumnae) and Arthur Male (one of our Seniors) were the only ones who were not spelled down.

The contest between the Stars and Crescents is now ended. The Crescents finished in the lead by two points.

Mr. and Mrs. Reno Villadsen and children, who have been visiting with Mrs. Anna Villadsen, returned to their home in Corona last Saturday morning.

Mrs. S. C. Wood spent a few days in Selma last week visiting with her mother, Mrs. R. L. Parnell. She returned home Saturday night.

Mr. W. L. Leary was a visitor in Thorsby Sunday.

Miss Naemi Turnquist has as her guest Mrs. James E. Biggs of Athens, Georgia.

OAK GROVE

We met at 9:00 a.m. and opened song service with prayer by J. B. Northcutt, Songs led by Ellen Cobb, Jack Cobb, Carl Wilson, Ed Murphy, Paul Wilson, Lassie Northcutt. We elected chairman, R. F. Murphy, and program committee, Mack Boswell, J. W. Gothard, L. R. Cobb. Then the following directors led through the day: James Franklin, L. F. Cleckler, L. T. Grant, Ammie Boswell, Lee Grant, W. M. Boswell, R. F. Murphy, J. J. Grant, A. H. Glasscock, R. T. Grant, E. L. Glasscock, Vester Campbell; duet by James Franklin, Dovie Childress, Akins Collins and Vernon Northcutt. Organists were: Flossie Cobb, Lesta Cobb, Eva Headley, Claudie Lee Murphy, Lee Grant, Ralph Grant, Amie Boswell, Myrtle Dorminey.

We had a large crowd, and best of all, plenty of dinner for all and some left for the Editor, who missed lots of cake and chicken by not being present. Hope he will come next time. W. J. NORTHCUTT.

Uncle Moses Robinson of Beat 16 was a visitor to Clanton Tuesday.

SOUR STOMACH INDIGESTION

Thedford's Black-Draught Highly Recommended by a Tennessee Grocer for Troubles Resulting from Torpid Liver.

East Nashville, Tenn.— The efficiency of Thedford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver.

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr Parsons describes —valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Thedford's Black-Draught liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Thedford's. E 88

SAYS THROW AWAY ½ TOOTH PASTES

A recent investigation made by prominent dental authorities disclosed the suprising fact that most tooth pastes and powders do a serious harm to gums and teeth instead of helping them.

Tooth pastes contain coarse, gritty substances, it was found, which gradually wear tiny holes in the teeth where decay germs can enter. Also tooth pastes and powders break the membranes of the gums where the germs of pyorrhea and dangerous mouth diseases quickly gain foothold.

The only safe way to keep the teeth and mouth free from disease and decay germs is to use a thoroughly antiseptic liquid mouth wash such as Keroline. Being a liquid steroline gets betwen the teeth and cleanse all

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

The Price of the NEW EDISON has increased less than 15% since 1914. Mr. Edison has sacrificed millions in order to keep his favorite invention within the reach of everyone.

Would you like to know Mr. Edison's Favorite Tunes?

YOU know Mr. Edison, the scientist — now meet Mr. Edison, the music lover. Almost every day, Mr. Edison sits close to his Official Laboratory Model, hand cupped to ear, and enjoys his favorite RE-CREATIONS.

Mr. Edison has his own private collection of RE-CREATIONS. He has built it up with the discrimination of a confirmed collector.

We have just received a booklet containing 25 of his favorite tunes. This booklet is entitled "What Edison Likes in Music", and interestingly describes Mr. Edison, the Music Lover.

If you would like a copy of this booklet, together with a 12" x 19" proof of Franklin Booth's etching of Mr. Edison, please fill out this ballot and mail or bring it to us.

What other well-known person's favorite tunes would you like to know? Please write his or her name on the ballot.

Mr. Edison's love of music has made the phonograph his favorite invention. He spent over three million dollars in research work to perfect the New Edison.

Then, to prove its perfect realism, he stood the New Edison side by side with the living artist and matched its performance with the actual performance of the living artist. No one was able to detect any difference between the two. This is the only true way to prove the realism of a phonograph or talking machine — and the New Edison is the only phonograph which sustains this acid-test of direct comparison.

A Gentleman's Agreement

IF you love music, your credit is good here. Pay cash or suit your own convenience. Ask us about our Budget Plan.

FREE — In addition to "What Edison Likes in Music", you can obtain a copy of the bulletin, "What Did Edison Do During the War?" and a proof of Booth's famous etching of Edison, suitable for framing. Just use the coupon.

"Behold The Triumph of the Prussian Schoolmaster"

WHEN von Humboldt was asked how to develop a great Prussian Empire, he replied: "Whatever you would put into the life of the nation, you must first put into the schools of the nation."

This advice was followed. Militarism, the glorification of force, the idea of the German super-state, and the ethics of the jungle went into the schools. And when von Moltke led the triumphant hosts of Prussian militarism through the streets of conquered Paris, he remarked: "Behold the triumph of the Prussian schoolmaster."

Wrong Education Wrecked the World

Germany scrapped civilization by wrong education. In two generations she transformed a gentle, God-fearing, peace-loving people into a ruthless horde of war-mad fanatics.

This kind of education glorifies might and physical prowess, while it despises the gentler virtues of humility, truth, and honor. It exalts the ethics of the jungle and considers, as Neitzsche did, the ethics of Jesus as fit only for "women, and cows, and Englishmen."

Thus it trained a generation to believe that the supreme interest is the state, that war is a legitimate activity, that might—military, industrial, physical—is the final arbiter of all things. So when at last "Der Tag"—the day—arrived, the product of the Prussian schools marched across Belgium, spurred on by their preacher's declaration: "We execute God's almighty will, and he calls us to murderous battles, even if worlds should thereby fall in ruins."

Are Americans willing for the Prussian tendency now manifest in our education to become dominant?

Christian Education Can Save the World

Over against Prussianism, Christian education accepts the principle that right makes might and implants deep in the soul the fundamental principles of religion—love for God, faith in Jesus Christ, justice, humility, love.

Christian education is necessary to civilization and the world's salvation. It alone can produce a generation of men devoted to righteous principles of personal, social, national and international action. It alone can give us Christian leaders to lead the world aright. It alone can furnish men and women to do the Christian work of the world.

Germany had no Christian colleges, and she ruined the world. The Christian Education Movement of the M. E. Church, South, proposes to give America the best system of Christian colleges in the world. Will you back this program?

CATCHING RATS

The latest sport developed among the boys of Clanton is the catching of rats. Uncle Jim Broadhead has undertaken the job of financing the campaign of rodent extermination, and the boys keep him busy paying off at the rate of five cents per head.

The result of the last Sunday catch was lumped together Monday morning amounted to a total of 115, and when presented to the cashier, it sent Uncle Jim out on a scurry for more contributions to the rat fund. He soon found ready donations to keep the work going. When he paid the boys off for their prize catch, they whistled for their dogs and started off for another haul.

We hope the youngsters will keep up their interest in this sport. It is a valuable pastime, providing fun for the boys who love the chase, and doing a good service to the town by getting rid of a large number of our unwelcome rougish citizens.

BUSINESS IN GOVERNMENT

The newly appointed Public Printer Mr. George Carter, is putting the Harding economy policy into practical operation in the bureau under his control. He has refused to give credit to the various departments after they have exhausted their appropriations. It has been the practice of the government Printing Office to execute orders from the Departments even if they have exceeded the allotments made to them by Congress. The effect of that practice has been to deprive Congress of the power to limit expense for printing. Mr. Carter, who is a practical printer and a sound business man as well, proposes that the directions of Congress shall be followed so far as he has any say in the matter. When a department has exhausted its appropriation for printing,it must go to congress and get more authorization before he will do any printing for it. It seems quite certain that President Harding made a good selection when he choose a man to head one of the nations most expensive bureaus. He is such a man as Mr. Harding might have chosen to manage his private printing establishment.

OMAR REYNOLDS RETURNS FROM UNIVERSITY

Omar L. Reynolds, youngest son of Judge L. H. Reynolds, has returned home after finishing his studies of law at the University of Alabama. The young man will be in the office of his brother, Grady Reynolds here until the latter is able to be out again. It is probable that permanent plans will be made that will form the two brothers into a law partnership.

Omar comes out of school to take up the practice of law after a course of preparation that has no doubt given him a splendid foundation upon which to build his practical experience. He graduated at the County High School here in 1916. Later he completed a business course at the New Orleans Business College and went to the University of Alabama. Last year he completed his academic course there and went to Columbia University, New York, for special work. This year he went back to the U. of A. and completed his law course. His many friends in Clanton are glad of his success as a student, and hope that his career in the practice of law will be no less gratifying.

Mr. J. R. Statan of Birmingham, State field man for the Seventh Day Adventists, has rented the new bungalow of C. Reese Mullins, just completed on the Birmingham Highway in North Clanton, and will move his family here June 1st.

THAT BASEBALL GAME

The "Fats" and "Leans" of Clanton, Pull off a Classic Event Last Wednesday P.M.

Last Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock the clarion tones of Umpire Renfroe Mullins announced to the large and noisy throng of fans present that the stage was set and the great battle of the Willow between the Fats and Leans was on. The gentlemen with a super-abundance of adipose tissue went to the bat while the lanky leans took the field.

Following is the official line-up as announced before the game, which was adhered to pretty consistently all the way through:

FATS:—P. M. Pitts, l.f.; H.S. Shaw c.f.; T. H. Neighbors, 2nd b.; Van Smith, 3rd b.; Chester Mims, 1st b.; Chas. Carter, c.; Arthur Johnson, r.f.; R. C. McDavid, s.s.; Fred Calloway, p.

UMPIRES:—J. C. Jones and Renfroe Mullins.

The game started off like a real evenly balanced exhibition of the famous national pass-time, but soon, the gentlemen of excessive adipose tissue began to fag under the strenuous pace set by their attenuated opponents and the final disastrous result is told by the following official

Score by Innings:

Fats—001 - 100 - 000 Total 2;
Leans—303 - 000 - 300 Toal 9;
Time, 1:40.

Notes.

Judge Hugh Simpson adorned the mound for the Leans as the curtain went up on the initial inning and put one over, under, around and about for three successive stages of the game, but as the battig averages of his fat opponents grew up into the 1,000 per cent stage and the tongues of his fielding coadjutors began to double out from racing all over the country after bingles, flies, grounders and fouls, he gracefully retired from the firing line and fell back to first base where he shined to perfection and put every thing out that dared to move in that vicinity.

Willie Lyman, he of lumber fame and planing mill lore, relieved Simpson in the box after the third series, and after that the Fats could never see over the top any more. Lyman performs with a graceful and picturesque "wind up" but when he "unwinds" he speeds a most tantalizing ball in its way that looks perfectly easy and innocent, but some how or other no matter what pa rt of the atmosphere you saw up with your bat the ball don't happen to be in that particular spot.

It looks like if "Doc" Neighbors could hold out far enough to go where he starts to run he might develop some Ty Cobb speed. But he gets off like a big mogul locomotive and the base line gives out before he gets his pace. He is a fine piece of human machinery, but I don't think he would shine much in a hurdle race.

Everybody on the ground wanted to see Saw Mill Shaw swat that bean just one time at least. From the earnest and determined manner in which he mutilated the atmosphere with his willow, the general opinion prevailed that if he should connect with the ball it would call for an airplane voyage to recover the pellet.

Some of the Leans charged that Catcher Carter for the Fats had a practice of catching the ball before it got to the bat, and hence, their futile attempts to find it at crucial stages of the game. Carter was there with the goods all right.

So was Horace Popwell who ably handled the back stop proposition for the Leans.

The Fats tried out three moundsmen—the two Calloway boys and Van Smith. Both the garage hurlers did quite well, but it took the erratic tossing of Van Smith to rattle the Leans and put an end to their batting fest.

The exhibition was in no sense a burlesque, but was a real good game as ball games go.

The attendance was large and the gate receipts will lay a good many brick on the new Baptist Church.

Jones and Mullins handled the indicators like old times "to the manor born," though the howling of the fans reversed Mr. Jones once, making Vic Heard out at second when all the fans knew he was safe.

By the way, more of that sort of friendly play and congeniality would be a good thing for Clanton mentally, and physically during these hard times that have put everybody to wearing blue glasses.

NO CHANGE OF POLICY

Washington, May 19.—"In accepting the invitation of representatives of the Allies to send a representative of the United States to attend the meeting of the Reparations Commission and of conferences of the Allied Representatives, President Harding is not departing from his heretofore announced policy of having nothing to do with purely European problems," declares the Republican Publicity Association in statement issued today through the President of that organization Honorable Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "Contrary to the representations of many of the League of Nations advocates, neither the Republican party nor its present executive leader, President Harding, has ever advocated national isolation. 'Isolation' is a term which the internationalists have taken great pleasure in using for the purpose of creating the impression that theUnited States must choose between isolation on the one hand and membership in the League of Nations on the other. The fact is that no such choice need be made.

"Not since the Declaration of Independence in 1776 has the United States maintained an attitude of either theoretical or practical isolation. One of the first acts of the Colonial Congress was to send representatives to Europe, particularly to France. Since that day the United States has not only maintained diplomatic relations with all other nations willing to maintain diplomatic relations, but it took the initiative in incducing Japan to abandon its former policy of isolation and to open up both commercial and diplomatic relations with the other nations of the earth.

There is a vast difference, however, between designating represettatives or agents who are authorized to enter into negotiations and accepting memebership in a League of nations under the obligations of a covenant which would require the United States to surrender a very considerable part of its sovereignty and subject itself to the decisions of a League Concil or Assembly in which the United States would have a minor voice with the combined interests of the majority of the nations adverse to our own.

"Not only in his inaugural address but in his later address to Congress, President Harding made it clear that we stand ready now, as we have always stood ready in the past, to negotiate with other nations, to cooperate with them, and to aid in every way in our power to promote international welfare; but he also made it equally clear that the United States must be absolutely free to act in each particular instance upon its own judgment as to its duty and the wise course for it to pursue in promoting its own interests and the interests of the rest of the world.

"The vital principle for which President Harding contended was independence of action, and that independence is fully maintained in his acceptance of the invitation to send representatives to the allied conference."

THE SALEM SINGING

House was called to order at 9:30 by Chairman T. L. Robinson by singing a song, and read the 100th Psalm followed with prayer by Bro. R. M. Robinson. The chairman appointed a committee of three, G. C. Powell, J. R. Robinson and S. M. Yates, who arranged the following directors for the day: Jesse Jones, J. W. Cagle, Lee Robinson, G. C. Powell; recess 15 minutes; J. R. Robinson, R. M. Robinson, J. W. Cleckler, R. T. Grant. Then we had recess for dinner until 1:30 o'clock, and the following directed: L. F. Cleckler, R. Robinson, W. M. Devaughn, A. L. Robinson; recess 15 minutes; C. H. Robinson, E.L. Powell, I. D. Huett.

Organists for the day were: Lee Robinson, Mrs. Bell Cagle, C. H. Robinson, Geo. W. Anderson.

Bros. J. L. Jones and R. Robinson made a good talk on the interest of singing, which was very appropriate.

Everybody seemed to enjoy the singing, and all those who expressed themselves said that in all the 23 years, thought this was the best singing we ever had.

Closing song was sung by T. L. Robinson, "God Be With You," and Bro. S. M. Yates dismissed the congregation with prayer that touched the hearts and caused tears to flow in the eyes of many.

THINK IT SAVED HIS WIFE'S LIFE

HUNTINGTON MAN SAYS IT WAS WISEST THING HE EVER DID WHEN HE GOT HER TANLAC

"I don't believe my wife could have lived much longer if she hadn't started taking Tanlac and I give it full credit for saving her life," said M. H. Curtis, 7 Third Ave., Huntington, W. Va.

"My wife had such a bad case of indigestion that her food would sour on her stomach and she would bloat up and have awful cramping spells. Her kidneys worried her continually and she complained of her back aching nearly all the time.

"Her liver was sluggish and she was subject to spells of billiousness. She suffered from constipation, had severe headaches and attacks of dizziness, her nerves were unstrung and many a night she has walked the floor for hours. Her conditions became so critical I had to send her to the hospital, but before long she was worse off than ever.

"It was at this time that I persuaded her to try Tanlac and that was the wisest thing I ever did in my life. Today she is the very picture of health and to look at her you wouldn't think she was ever sick a day in her life. She eats whatever she likes and has picked up in weight and strength so much that she does the housework with ease and says she feels better than she has in years."

666 quickly relieves Constipation, Biliousness, Loss of Appetite and Headaches, due to Torpid Liver.

NEWS OF JEMISON

On Sunday evening, the 22nd, between the hours of 7:00 and 8:00, the death angel brought sorrow and gloom into the home of Mr. Lewis Patton, by taking from him his dear companion, and leaving him and two daughters to mourn her loss. They have our sympathy.

Mr. Lellard Robinson has been very sick with fever, but is better now and his sister Miss Retha, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the St. Vincent's Hospital on last Saturday, is reported to be doing well We hope for both of them a speedy recovery.

Singings, prayer meetings and base ball is all the go now. Our public school closed Friday, and it was a day long to be remembered by the pupils of the Jemison High School. About 9:30 o'clock a large truck rolled up and we loaded up and started on a picnic trip to Mahan's Old Mill Pond, and after a long hot drive we reached our destination. Some of the boys went in bathing, and some went fishing. Some of the girls went wading and some went boat riding. We all had such a nice time that almost before we knew it, it was 3:00 o'clock and we heard a coarse husky voice calling from the woods near by. We looked and saw the form of a great big fat man, which was a very familiar sight to all of us. It was our beloved teacher, Mr. H. A. Harris calling, all aboard for Jemison. And a little down the creek from us we saw a small form and heard a voice in gentle tones calling the little ones in. It was Mrs. Bessie Hayes, one of our faithful teachers. When we were all seated in our proper places the old truck began to move slowly with her great load of merry boys and girls. But after going along the road for several miles the load proved too great and the truck gave way in the center, and great was the fall of us all, but no one was hurt. Conveyance was soon secured for all and we soon reached our homes with glad hearts, thus ending one of the most successful terms in the history of the Jemison High School.

FRIENDSHIP CHURCH

Last Sunday was an enjoyable day at this place. At the usual hour we had Sunday School, followed by preaching by Rev. Lowery, the pastor. Both these services were well attended and enjoyed by all.

In the afternoon at 2;00 o'clock the Singing Society met in regular bimonthly session, and engaged in the singing. W. O. Rich, T. G. Wyatt, Gresham Lowery, C. T. Miller, and J. Z. Mims were the directors, and some very good singing was accomplished. Also a duet was rendered by Miss Lowery and Gresham Lowery, which was splendid.

At night, according to promise, Rev. P. G. Carter of the Clanton Baptist Church was there to occupy the pulpit. Bro. Carter delivered an excellent sermon, full of truth and very applicable to the problems of the day. After preaching, a short conference was held, after which the members of the church, together with all others who wished to partake, joined in Communion Services.

Next Sunday, after Sunday School, Bro. M. J. Parrish of Providence will preach for us. We hope to have a large crowd out to hear him.

At the Sunday School Sunday Morning the question of the Sunday School Convention for this District was brought up and it was formally decided and announced that the Convention would meet with us on the Second Sunday in June, the 12th. The Chairman, Mr. H. A. Harris, now has the matter in hand, and will arrange the details of the meeting on that day.

MACEDONIA

It is getting very dry, and farmers are well up with their work; crops are small for the time of the year. Fishing seems to be the order of the day in these parts.

Miss Etha Nix, who has been teaching in Clanton, is now at home. We are glad to have her back in our Sunday School.

Mr. J. W. Veazey of Docena was at home on a visit recently.

Dr. Crumpton of Clanton was a visitor here last week.

Mr. N. Hubbard of Bessemer is visiting her daughter Mrs. W. D. Nix.

Dr. Nix of Maplesville visited his parents here last week.

Mr. Luther Davenport and wife of Talladega, are here on a visit to the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. Watkins.

The many friends of Mrs. Nattie Watkins are in sympathy with her in the loss of little Alice, three years old, her sisters child, Mrs. Watkins having kept her since infancy, is very much devoted to the little one, and is now grieved since the mother of the little child same for it last week and took it to her home in Anniston.

Mrs. Joe Hester was in Birmingham shopping during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Macy Jones, Mrs. T. C. McSwain and Mrs. Simpson motored down to Montgomery Monday.

MR. F. A. GULLEDGE TELL OF A VISIT TO "BILLY" WALKER'S.

Verbena, Ala., May 24, 1921.

Editor Union-Banner:

Sunday morning, the 22nd inst.. my son and I paid a visit to the Walker home on Mulberry and West Chilton. Did you ever visit those good people? If you did you were fortunate; if you did not, they were. For truly it is a real feast as to both hospitality and "grub," as well as information.

The home, as you no doubt know, consists of Misses Margaret and Sallie, and "Billy," as he is familiarly called. I have visited them on several previous occasions, each of which was one continuous round of both pleasure and information.

During this visit Miss Margaret showed us her reply to certain criticisms of the South and the Democratic party by The Pathfinder, published in Washington, D. C. The paper may reply, but can never answer. In fact her communication ought to appear in your paper. It does not abuse, but reminds the people of the South and the whole country of what true Democracy is and why it is right. She cites incidents, giving historical facts from away back up to the present.

After a bountiful repast we took them in my car. (I sat between them of course.) We, together with two ladies of Maplesville, took a 30 mile "hike" down into lower Chilton and upper Dallas, during which we visited my old friend Letcher whose first acquaintance I had at the home of Mrs. Evans of Clanton in September, 1887. He, J. P. VanDerveer, then of Clear Creek, A. D. Bentley of Rockford, Coosa County, and myself, all occupied one room with two beds. Letcher and Bentley occupied one, and VanDerveer and I the other. Letcher grated his teeth so loudly that VanDerveer nor I slept one wink. In the meantime J. P. V. was loaded for bear, and told many amusing experiences he and others had in the Clear Creek-Sumps Hills country.

On our trip last Sunday we found all crops fairly good, and worked out perfectly. The people all looked to be cheerful, even happy, and in the face of 8 to 11 cent cotton showed an independence always admired by me. Not only were the farms well and neatly kept, but also the homes, including outhouses, with few exceptions in good shape.

You and the readers of your paper go down of a Sunday afternoon. Take these splendid "old maids" (too good for the average man) to ride and get acquainted with them. They have no car. They will entertain you; but they reserve the right on any and all occasions to talk Democracy, "pure and undefiled." "Billy" is clever, and the only thing I offer against him is that he will not avail himself of the right to propose. All men over 25 years, who are unmarried, should be taxed extra, say $25 a year, as is the custom in Michigan and some other states. "Billy" with his beautiful home and vast expanse of acres, should do better. When I become the regulator of social customs I will add to the right of franchise by the ladies the right to propose as well.

F. A. GULLEDGE.

P. S.—I am still for good roads, whatever "Observer" may say of me. I am not narrow, but a broad gauge. I am for all big things, hence for all the people.

MT. NEBO

Not all members having made reports An interesting feature of the evening entertainment was a report from Mrs. J. P. Hayes on the Southern Baptist Convention held in Chattanoogo recently. Late in the evening, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Minor and Mrs. Broadhead, served delicious tea and sandwiches. The meeting adjourned to meet next time with Mrs. Guy Higgins.

Miss Curry Entertains.

On Wednesday evening Miss Roberta Curry was the delightful hostess to one of the most charming parties given to her friends and class mates, and to meet an old classmate, Miss Oma Hudson of Newnan, Ga., who is her house guest. The entertainment was in the form of a lawn party. Cozy corners, Japanese lanterns, and an attractive punch table made this a scene of loveliness. A profusion of flowers added much to the beauty of this scene. Punch was served thruout the evening by Miss Sarah Luckie. Music on the Victrola was enjoyed also. Late in the evening tempting sandwiches and tea were served.

Mrs. Nabors Hostess.

Mrs. Herbert Nabors proved a most charming hostess on last Thursday evening when she entertained the members of the Embroidery Club and several guests. The home was attractive with cut flowers of the season and pot plants. The evening was spent in fancy needle work. Later a delicious salad plate was served to Mrs. Mack Wyatt, Mrs. Percy Pitts, Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Hart Mrs. Guy Roberts, Mrs. J C. Page and Mrs. Ed Plier. The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Plier on June 2nd.

Open Meeting of Study Club.

Clanton is indeed fortunate to include among its people such a large number who are especially talented. The Study Club wishing to entertain its friends, has asked a number of them to appear on the program to be given at the High School the afternoon of June 3, at 3: 30. Miss Mary Upchurch will make her first appearance and delight her friends with a number from that foremost American composer, Edward MacDowell.

If you have never heard Warrene Spigener give one of her inimitable readings you have missed a treat. An opportunity will be given to hear her at this time. Warrene does a number of things ,and does them well. Margaret Hester will play Praeludium by Oldberg. All three of these girls have studied under Mr. Powers at Judson this year, and are said to have improved wonderfully.

Mr. Percy Pitts made a most welcome addition to Clanton's musical circle. He possesses a bass voice of unusual quality. While on the University Glee Club he made a state-wide reputation. We feel elated that he will sing a solo and a duet with Miss Beverly Hester. Beverly always receives a warm welcome whether in voice selections or at the piano. Her many friends will be interested to know that she will teach piano at the Judson next year.

Miss Roberta Curry, most generous with her lovely voice, will appear.

Mr. Phillip Horn and Miss Willie Belle Sartor will contribute a duet which will be enjoyable.

The Seventh Day Adventists, the Baptist Ladies Aid, the Presbyterian Auxiliary, the Civic League, the Methodist Ladies Aid, the Embroidery Club, will have representatives who will summarize the year's work briefly. You are most cordially invited to be present. The Study Club hopes that it may welcome large delegations of visitors from Thorsby, Verbena, Jemison, Lock 12 and the communities between. Remember the time, on Friday, June 3, at 3:30, the place, the Chilton County High School.

Mrs. Arthur Johnson Hostess.

The prettiest and largest of the early summer parties was given by Mrs. Arthur Johnson at her home on Tuesday evening when she entertained a number of her friends at a lovely bridge party. The home was gorgeously decorated with a profusion of nasturtiums and sweet peas. Punch was served in the dining room from a prettily decorated table by Mrs. G. Broadhead and Mrs. Luckie. After a series of games the highest score was held by Mrs. Percy Pitts, who was presented a handsome box of stationery. Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

FACTS AND FIGURES ON QUESTION OF TAXATION

Mr. Editor:

With your kind permission, we will talk a little more about taxation this week. To my mind, the return to normalcy, or better times, is utterly impossible, unless taxation is reduced, and under the present unreasonably and foolishly extravagant system of government, tax reduction is out of the question. Hence, to get back to normal conditions of peace and plenty, we are first compelled to cut out at least 50 per cent of the enormous amount now being dumped into the insatiable maw of the government octopus.

The people at the polls will have to do this cutting off, for it is the height of folly to presume that the octopus, will of its own volition, amputate any of its members. This being the case, it is eminently essential that the people begin now to plan, discuss and organize tax leagues, or some other systematic campaign that will enable them to intelligently meet and conquer this issue frought with so much regard to their future ability to live and support their families.

Now, in regard to taxation, there is one great and deceptive truth that I wish I could stamp indelibly upon the mind of every ordinary man and woman in the United States. It is this: No matter in what form a tax may be levied, whether it is an income tax, or an excess profit tax, a direct tax, or any other sugar-coated tax, in the last analysis it is paid mainly by the poorer class—the consumer. Much of this awful burden of taxation the people are groaning under today was put upon them under the "cutest" camouflage imaginable in this way. We were told that the excess profit tax, the income tax, the inheritance tax, and so on, would not touch the laborer nor the poor man at all. Only the wealthy would have that burden to bear. Now, that looks innocent enough and all right on the face of it, don't it? But the trouble with the system is that practically all of this wealthy class have their money invested in the manufacture or handling of the prime necessities of life and, the result if this kind of "rich man" taxation has been, (just as the law devisers doubtless knew it would be), that the tax has been invariably added to the price of the commodity and passed on to the consumer. Hence, extortionate prices under which the average poor man has gone on down into absolute want. No matter whether the incomes taxed were derived from oil stock, railroad stock, packing house stock, cotton and woollen mill stock, or any other imaginable stock, the price of the service rendered has invariably been advanced sufficiently to pass the burden along to the final consumer. This fact, I hope, is self-evident to every one, but the idea is to remind the people of these things and get them to think a little.

Now, let's do some common sums in old fashioned arithmetic in reference to taxation in Alabama. In 1874 the total tax receipts in Alabama were $678,005.22; in 1920, they had increased just a wee bit, and the total was $12,178,296.34, or a very wonderful advance of 1,800 per cent. Can any of you look around and see anything commensurate with such an increase as that in the actual physical improvements of the State? But let us go a little further. Just a few years ago, Govs. Samford and Jelks san the old Ship of State for six years on a total income of $19,234,-414.87, or an average of $3,205,-769.14 per year. Gov. Kilby, the great "business governor," managed to get along some way for two years of his present term on the neat sum of $20,737.047.35, or an average of $10,368,523.67 per year. Take a little time right here to grasp the figures and let them soak in, and then listen to this. The greatest percentage of increase that his ever been made any year in Alabama taxation was the increase of 1920 over 1919, amounting to $3,619,545.33. That would seem to indicate that Mr. Kilby was quite successful in convincing his tax equalizers over the state that he must have money and plenty of it. Mr. Kilby tells us this little increase must stand for 1921, also and that no "gentleman" will complain about it either, as even that neat assessment is based on a 35 per cent valuation.

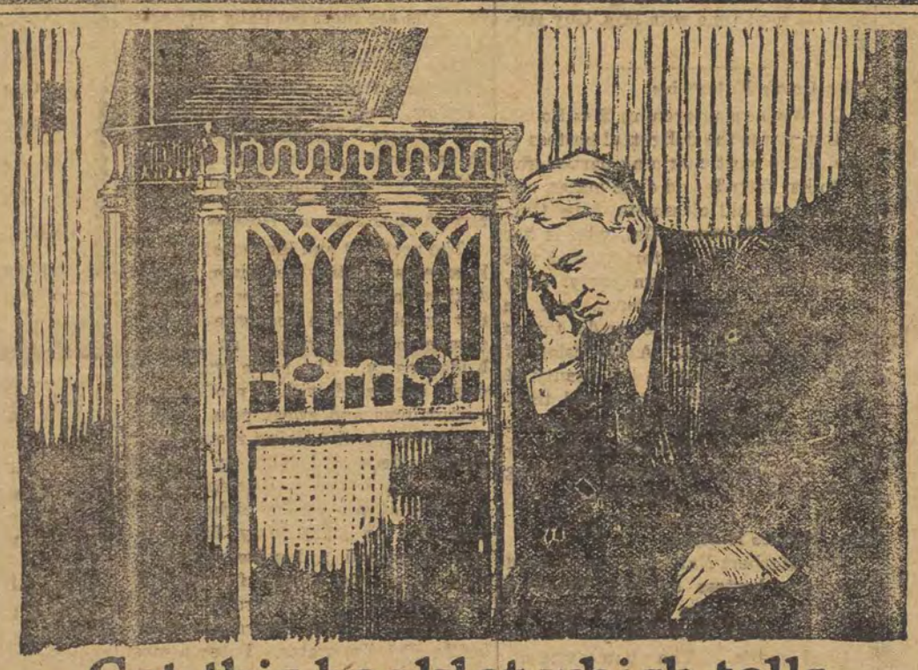
Just a few figures now in regard to the reckless extravagance of our general government. And in this connection, I am happy to state that President Harding has already located the trouble, and in an executive order last week, put every department on notice that they must retrench from the limits of flush and hurried war time expenses and must positively live within their legitimate incomes or cease to function at all.

Today, aproximately 1,000,000 persons, outside the ranks of the army and navy, are daily on the pay roll of Uncle Sam. That's much too elaborate a house-keeping outfit for even such a prosperous old guy as our Uncle Sam, especially so in these times of no work, sluggish business, and extortionate taxation. Our forefathers got along with a Federal Government that cost each citizen just 12 cents per year. Now the Federal Government costs $43 per capita, or about $215 to each family, and that is one expense that the sharpest and shrewdest scheemer in the land can't beat. The only way you can keep from paying it is to die, and then it takes one last swipe at you as you go down into the grave.

This million employees all draw good pay, as you know, and we are filling their pay envelope for them every week. Take it this way: Suppose they were billited out on the various families of the country. Every ten workers would have one of them to pay off each Saturday. You and nine of your neighbors, rich or poor, would have to meet that pay roll week by week, month by month and year by year.

How on earth our law makers can muster up the nerve to tell their constituents to economize and save more while they sit back in ease and comfort and let half a dozen secretaries and stenogs do their work, is past my comprehension.

Our governments, Federal, State, County and Municipal, should be the very first institution to cut expenses, and cut them to the red, if we look for prosperity to ever smile upon us again. It is impossible for this country even with all its marvelous resources, to carry the enormously inflated loads of an extragagance war time with a drastic process of deflation taking place and all property values shrinking to less than half of their war time values. It can't be done. OBSERVER.



Bad Blood Disfigures Young Faces With Unsightly Eruptions

The mortifying and unsightly skin and facial disfigurements on young people from 14 to 20 years old are seldom due to anything worse than impure blood. The young bodies are undergoing important changes, and the blood stream is temporarily disordered—often filled with poisonous waste matter.

In such cases only internal blood remedies can relieve. The impurities must be cast out and the vital fluid enriched before the disfigurements are cleared up. For this you naturally want an efficient, tested blood remedy—like S.S.S., the famous old herb medicine.

Start the young folks with S.S.S. today (your druggist has it), and write us about their condition, addressing Chief Medical Advisor, 841 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Georgia.

DODGING OFFICERS, CAR BOUNCES OVER SIXTY FOOT CLIFF

No One Hurt, But Two Men Get Scare of Their Lives. One is Arrested

In an effort to escape capture by federal probhibition officers, William Hudson of Shelby and John Dominie of Jemison, ran the automobile in which they were riding over a 60-foot precipice on the Montgomery highway early Saturday morning and by a miracle escaped death, according to the officers. The car crashed through trees,and landed in the bottom of the ditch, but the occupants escaped uninjured.

The federal officers were in close pursuit, but the men got away from them in the darkness. Becoming entangled in barbed wire, the men made such a racket that their whereabouts was revealed to the officers, who succeeded in capturing Hudson. Dominie escaped, but left his hat at the scene. Hudson was lodged in the county jail with a charge of violating the prohibition laws on a warrant issued by Kenneth Charlton, United States commissioner. A warrant has also been issued for the arrest of Dominie. The car was confiscated by the officers, who also brought in the liquor which they say was contained in two five-gallon cans.

The capture was made by T. C. Dews, Jr., and Jack Horton, federal prohibition enforcement officers.

WHERE WILL IT END?

John Bull appears to be as busy as a one-armed paper hanger with the hives. The coal strike having created a shortage of fuel for British industries and public utilities, Great Britain has turned to importation to help out. So the Transport Workers' Federation steps in and puts a ban on the handling of foreign coal brought to England and the railwaymen's union refuse to haul the coal. It is beginning to look as if organized labor had John Bull hogtied, and how does the spirit of Karl Marx feel about it?

REPUBLICANS SHOULD GO TO ELECTION BY ALL MEANS ON NEXT TUESDAY, 7TH

Longshore's Majority in Chilton County Should be Piled High to Match Democratic Majorities in Other Counties of the District.

This being the last issue of The Union-Banner that will be published before the special election which comes on next Tuesday, the 7th of June, we wish to urge every Republican in Chilton County to go to the polls on that day and cast a vote for Judge Longshore for Congress. And this appeal is not confined to the men alone; the women voters likewise are urged to go and vote.

This matter of getting the entire Republican strength of Chilton County to vote is one of the greatest importance. Of course, it does not amount to very much so far as Chilton County is concerned, as it is a foregone conclusion that this county will give Longshore a big majority. But we want to remember that this is a District fight and there is going to be a Democratic vote in Dallas County to match every Republican vote we can possibly put up in Chilton. Therefore, we should vote every one possible in order to offset as many of the Democratic votes in the other counties as possible.

Let us urge every Republican to use his or her influence to get other Republicans to go and vote. It is a busy time for farmers, we know, but this is a matter that carries sufficient importanec to warrant some personal sacrifice.

There is one argument, the validity of which no man can destroy, and that is the necessiy of having two strong white political parties in the State of Alabama. It is the only salvation for us. Chilton County has been the pioneer advocate of this policy in the Fourth District, and now other Counties are beginning to see the necessity of it.

We want Chilton County not only to give Longshore a big majority, but to make it a majority big enough to overcome the Democratic majority in counties that are not yet Republican.

Don't forget the date, next Tuesday, June 7th. Go to the polls and vote and urge your neighbors to do likewise. This is the most important election we have had in a long time. Judge Longshore can render his Distric a valuable service in Congress, and we must do our part in sending him there to represent us. Don't fail to go and vote on the 7th.

MUNICIPAL HEALTH OFFICER EXAMINES WATER SUPPLY

Following is the reort of Dr. T. J. Marcus, City Health Officer, submitted to The Town Council of Clanton:

Gentlemen:

I beg to submit to you report of examination of City Water, which shows the following results:—

Specimen from the Exchange Hotel showed 11 bacteria per cubic centimeter; no colon bacili.

Specimen from Wade's Ice Plant showed 850 bacteria per cubic centimeter; small percentage of colon bacili.

I think this shows that the city water is above the average in so far as purity is concerned. However, I shall keep a close watch over the water supply by having repeated examinations made, and will keep you advised as to results of these examinations.

Respectfully submitted,
T. J. MARCUS, M.D.

Why Suffer From Rheumatism?

Do you know that nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles or chronic rheumatismm, neither of which require any internal treatment? The pain may be relieved by applying Chamberlain's Liniment, which makes sleep and rest possible, and that certainly means a great deal to auy one afflicted with rheumatism.
